Dyspepsia or Indigestion has become a fashionable disease. There are very few individuals who have not at various times experienced the miserable feeling caused by defective digestion. No pen can describe the keen suffering of the body and the agony and anguish of mind endured by the Dyspeptic. Dr. La Londe, of 236 Pine Ave., Montreal, says "When I even run across chronic cases of Dyspepsia I always prescribe Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and any patients generally have quick relief."

The regular monthly meeting was held last night and was largely attended by members and their friends, quite a number of ladies also being present. In addition to the usual business, a musical programme was furnished by Bros. Hetherington and Rightmyer, assisted by Miss Hetherington and Miss Rightmeyr. Another feature of the evening was an interesting debate by Bros. J. Byers and Geo. Ames, the subject being Monarchy versus Republic, the opinion of the members was equally divided but finally the Republicans claimed one vote in their favour. The special feature of the evening was the magic lantern views kindly furnished by Bro. W. B. Tripp. The same kind of programme will be furnished for next meeting with variations and the debate will be furnished by Bros. M. A. Morrison and Geo. S. Ames.

"Virginius."

Last night Warren Conlan, the excellent tragedian, appeared in the Opera House in the title role of Sheridan Knowles' sterling play, Virginius, to a fair house. A very fine presentation of the tragedy was put on. Of course Mr. Conlan was the star of the performance. His interpretation of the character was dignified and discriminating. At times he was exceedingly powerful, especially in the last two acts, though all through the play he sustained the character in a splendid manner and won the title of being a tragedian of the first order. He was well supported by especially Mr. G. A. Duncan as Icilius, Mr. F. Richter, as Dentatus, and Miss Sayda Whiteford as the peerless Virginia. Very great praise is due this lady for her part in the play. She looked and acted the part in accordance with one's conception of the beautiful character of the guileless and beautiful Roman maiden. Her acting was naive and natural and modest as became a girl reared in the seclusion of a virtuous and refined Roman home. Altogether the audience was delighted with an excellent presentation of a grand play, and the applause was as frequent as it was deserved. It is a great privilege for the citizens to have access to high-class tragedy, well put on at popular prices. To-night "Othello" will be given, and it would be hard to find a stronger Moor than Mr. Conlan, and a more delightful Desdimona than Miss Whiteford.

THAT ILLICIT STILL

Which was Discovered out in Smith Township—The Case Enlarged Till Tuesday.

Michael Conway, of lot 4, concession 4, of the township of Smith, and Alphonse Fobert, of Chemong Park, were yesterday summoned to appear before Police Magistrate Edmison this morning, charged with assisting in operating, setting up and having under their control, an illicit still for the manufacture of spirits, contrary to the Act.

An additional information was sworn out against Mr. Conway, charging him with allowing the still to be operated on his premises.

Mr. D. O'Connell appeared for Mr. Conway, but Mr. Fobert was not present in answer to the summons. A warrant for the arrest of the latter was asked for by Mr. E. B. Edwards, on behalf of the Crown, and granted.

The still has been in existence for over a year, and on Sept. 16th last Inspector Floody and High Constable Cochrane visited the spot, and after searching along the edge of the woods for about half a mile the still was located at that distance from the residence of Mr. Conway and on his farm.

As Mr. Fobert did not appear, the Crown prosecutor, Mr. Edwards, thought it was desirable to have both defendants present on the day of the trial, the case was enlarged until Tuesday next.

The portions of the act under which the informations are laid, are as follows:

159. Every person who, without having a license under this Act, then in force—

(a) Assists in distilling or rectifying any spirits, or in making or fermenting any beer or wash in any unlicensed place, or

(b) Assists in distilling or rectifying any spirits, or in making or fermenting beer or wash in any unlicensed place, or

(d) Completely or partly sets up, or assists in setting up, prepares or partly prepares for working, any such still, worm, rectifying or other apparatus, or

(e) Has in his possession any such still, worm, rectifying or other apparatus, or any part or parts thereof, in any place or premises owned by him or under his control, without having given notice thereof, as required by this act, except in cases of registration provided for by section 125 of this act.

The penalty in case of a conviction is a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500 together with imprisonment for not less than one month and not more than twelve.

ADAM HALL.

THE CULINARY ART.

Nobody in any grade of life is exempt from having experienced at some time a practical and unpleasant demonstration of the truth of Garrick's epigram—"The Lord sends meats and the devil sends cooks." It is susceptible of proof that a large portion of domestic the unhappiness, sin and even crime, that abound in the world, can be laid at the door of bad cooking. The head of the house toils hard to provide meals for his household, and the fact of that very toil creates the necessity of that food being served up in the most nourishing and appetising manner possible. When under such circumstances, such head of a family comes home from work weary and hungry, and finds bread like the alternative bread of the Scripture parable—stone—or finds the meat cooked to a cinder, or a steak that should have a quick fire and two minutes of cooking to make it right, reduced to a condition approximating axle grease in flavour and smell, by having been sodden for an hour or more over a slow fire in stale dripping, the circumstances do not tend to sweeten his temper. And when similar conditions confront him from day to day, from meal to meal; and when, as in this case, the general cookery and general house-keeping are on the same scale, it is almost certain that the head of the house will be inclined to remonstrate. Remonstrance leads to recrimination, recrimination leads to quarrels. Then the husband instead of staying in his proper place, in a happy home, is driven abroad, driven to drink and the company of evil associates; and from these to crime the steps are few and the course by no means difficult. This may not be the fault of the wife. She may work harder than the model housekeeper, but she can't do any better because she doesn't know how. She graduated from a home of bad cooking and in her own she has improved upon her evil knowledge. No woman is fit for marriage who cannot cook. No position is exempt from this imperative requirement for a good wife. She may be the head of a home of wealth and luxury, but she must know how to direct those in charge of the culinary department. The responsibility falls upon the wife and it is more important that the wife with moderate means at command should be a good cook. In view of the imperative necessity of a knowledge of cooking for a wife, it follows that any attempt to make our girls, who will be our future wives, good cooks is worthy of encouragement. For this reason it is a pleasure to announce that there was a large attendance at the demonstration of cooking given by Miss Burnham, a graduate of the Toronto School of Cookery, last night. A large class was formed, and if thorough instruction is received, a generation of good wives will be provided in respect of the most important equipment, good cooking. Universities, colleges, technical schools, Normal schools and Schools of Pedagogy, are all right and proper, but cooking schools, as representing the greatest good to the greatest number, in importance leads them all. All the gamut of female accomplishments, without a thorough knowledge of good cooking, is but as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals.

We know the great cures of Hood's Sarsaparilla are genuine because the people themselves write about them.

Healthy Bread

Wholesome and delicious bread is a luxury on any table. Bates' home-made bread fills the bill. You can prove this by a trial. Always ask for Bates' home-made and take no other.

Washing Day.

The drudgery of housekeeping for the workingman's wife comes on washing day, when there is no washing machine or wringer in the house. It's killing on women who are raising a family, especially at this season of the year when blankets and other heavy articles of the home must be cleaned for winter. Washing and wringing makes more aching arms and tired bodies than anything else a woman can do. Husbands might be a little more thoughtful. In hundreds of cases they could buy a new washer and wringer every year for what it costs to pay for doctor's bills and servants for their tired-out wives, whose health has been run down over the washboard and washtub. Take a hint, you men, and make time to see the two kinds of labour-saving washing machines made by G. Walter Green at his pump factory on Dickson's race. If you can't make time, ring up telephone No. 92, or address box 362, and have him send one over to your house.

ALARMING!

The frequency of Heart Troubles gives Collingwood people no need for alarm. Its ravages can be stopped.

"For a number of years," says Mrs. J. W. Gardiner, Napier St., Collingwood, Ont., "I have been afflicted with nervousness and weakness of the heart. The symptoms constantly became more distressing and alarming as the disease advanced. I had violent palpitation and fluttering of the heart which naturally made me weak. My sleep was disturbed with frightful dreams and my mind wandered at night. In addition to this my blood was much impoverished, causing sleeplessness and fatigue. I became thin and lacked bodily vigor. Dizziness and weak eyesight, blurred vision, etc., added to my distress, and at times I found it difficult to breathe after slight exertion and felt always tired and weary.

"At Mr. Carpenter's drug store I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in March last, and from that time began to get better and gain in strength and weight. By their remarkable tonic action they brought my entire system to health and strength again, gave me restful, refreshing sleep, enriched my blood and restored vitality, and in every way conferred great benefit upon me. I cannot say too much in favor of this great medicine as a tonic for all forms of physical weakness caused by wrong action of the heart or nerves."

THOSE SICK CATTLE.

Personally Inspected by Hon. Mr. Fisher —Sir Oliver Mowat and the Ontario Governorship.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Hon Sidney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, visited the Experimental Farm to investigate the outbreak of tuberculosis among the cattle. He has not yet decided what disposition to make of the infected cattle. It is thought they may be used to conduct a series of experiments on the development of tuberculosis. It is desirable to find out whether the milk from cattle whose udders are not infected contains the bacilli of tuberculosis, and thus ascertain whether the disease can be communicated by the use of this milk. Dr. D. McEachran, Dominion Veterinary Inspector, has written saying that cattle should not have been introduced among the herd, as has formerly been the case, without being tested with tuberculine.

Sir Oliver Mowat will be sworn in Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario and Hon. David Mills Minister of Justice about the middle of November next.

A cotton mill, it is stated, will shortly be added to the industries of Ottawa, but as yet no site has been decided upon.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

Grain Tariff to Halifax.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The Canadian Pacific Railway has put into effect a new special tariff to Halifax, N.S., all rail via St. John, N.B., on grain, mill feed, flaxseed, oil cake, oil cake meal, and oat hulls, in barrels or bags, straight or mixed carloads. From the principal shipping points the rates are as follows, per 100 pounds: Peterboro, Toronto, Hamilton, Brampton, Guelph, Galt, Woodstock, London, Preston, Hespeler, 18 cents; Chatham, Windsor, Fergus, Elora, Blenheim, Sarnia, Walkerville, Port Stanley, 19 1-2 cents; Mono Road, Cardwell Junction, Caledon, Orangeville, 20 cents; Dresden, Wallaceburg, Port Lambton, 20 1-2 cents; Mount Forest, Harriston, 21 cents; Wingham, 21 1-2 cents; Owen Sound, 22 cents.

Point for Revising Judges.

Toronto, Oct. 28.—Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright for the Government asked the question below of Judge Moss in private chambers at Osgoode Hall yesterday. The case was a stated one from Muskoka. Judgment was reserved:

"Has a judge holding a court for the revision of a voters' list, under the Ontario Voters' Lists Act, the power to place on the list or to remove therefrom the names of any persons as voters, in respect of whom no notice has been made in the manner provided by section 13 of the said act?"

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood. A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and its continuance depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians, whose insistence upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor can unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel at Buffalo, N. Y.

JURY BLAME DR. BESSEY

They Say He Was Party to the Death of Mrs. Thomas.

HE IS COMMITTED FOR TRIAL

The Verdict Brought in at an Early Hour This Morning – Examination of the Witnesses—Full Particulars of the Case.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—At two o'clock this morning the coroner's jury summoned to ascertain the cause of the death of Mrs. Jennie Thomas, in May last, returned the following verdict: "We, the jurors, find that Mrs. Jennie Thomas came to her death by blood poisoning, caused by an abortion being performed, Dr. Bessey being party to the same."

P. C. Wm. Wallace was the first witness called. He was station duty man on the day of Dr. Bessey's arrest. The prisoner made a voluntary statement to him. He claimed he was innocent of the charge against him, but said that he had attended a woman and had performed an operation upon her. The witness also produced a note written by Dr. Bessey, while under arrest, in which he said: "I attended a woman in miscarriage last May, who had brought it on herself."

When being placed under arrest by Detective Davis, who was next sworn, the doctor, after being warned, admitted that an operation had been performed.

The next witness was Miss Mary Smith, a young lady who boarded with Mrs. Thomas last May. She recognized Dr. Bessey as the doctor who attended Mrs. Thomas at that time. From the appearance of deceased she judged that she was pregnant. At that time she was taking medicine. On Sunday, May 2, in the evening, witness saw deceased in her room, just after, as deceased said, an operation had been performed by Dr. Bessey, who came into the room while witness was present. He took what looked like a silver instrument from his pocket, and asked Mrs. Thomas a question. The deceased asked witness and May Thomas, the daughter, to leave the room. Dr. Bessey came again next day, and, after his visit the room presented the same appearance of an operation having been performed. Dr. Bessey came again Monday evening. Dr. Brown was called in on Wednesday. In conversation with witness regarding Dr. Bessey, after Dr. Brown had been called, the deceased spoke very bitterly of prisoner, and called him "an old butcher." In answer to a question by Mr. Faulds, witness said that the medicine bottles had not druggist's label on them. Mr. Faulds then proceeded to ask Miss Smith some personal questions, which were objected to by Mr. Curry. These objections were upheld by the coroner, who instructed the witness that her past or present history was none of Mr. Faulds' business.

Florence May Thomas, eldest living daughter of the deceased, aged 15 years, was the next witness. She told of having gone to bring Dr. Bessey to see her mother. She corroborated to a great extent the evidence of Miss Smith as to Dr. Besey's visits and the condition of the room. Her mother did not seem to want it known that Dr. Bessey was atending her.

The conclusion of the evidence the coroner summed up briefly, and the case was given to the jury.

TRIBUTE TO LADY SOMERSET.

Miss Willard at Buffalo—Her Annual Address to W.C.T.U.

Buffalo, N.Y., Oct. 30.—Miss Frances E. Willard delivered her annual address before the 24th annual convention of the W.C.T.U. yesterday morning. Referring to the election of Lady Henry Somerset, Miss Willard said: "She was elected in accordance with the World's constitution, adopted in 1891. If it had been left to the convention I believe she would have been elected by a majority, not that we are of her mind."

Miss Willard then paid a beautiful tribute to Lady Henry, telling of her good work, but regretting the stand she had taken."

"I believe," she continued, 'this convention would be glad to send her our cordial sisterly greetings." Speaking of the temple matter, Miss Willard said: 'No loyal White Ribbon woman wants to ignore the moral obligation incurred. We had our deliberation yesterday on the subject. It was gentle and sisterly. I went home with the matter on my mind. I did not sleep well. We are in debt to the bondholders. I shall never rest till that debt is paid.

"They tell me that my home will sell for $16,000. This and everything I have on earth is dedicated to the bondholders."

KIDNEY SENSE.

Cure-alls are out of the Question in Kidney Disorders—A Liquid Solvent—A Specific Kidney Tonic is the Only Safe Remedy.

How Many Discover When It Is Too Late that the kidneys have literally been ground out by the little solid particles which are contained in the blood of all sufferers from kidney disease, and which accumulate in these organs. Common sense says, and medical science has proven it, that a liquid solvent which will dissolve these solids and eradicate them from the system is the only sure cure for kidney disorder. South American Kidney Cure is a solvent. It has been tested in almost hopeless cases, and there is yet to be recorded against it a failure to cure when it has had a faithful trial. Pills will not do it as they are not solvents. Don't trifle. Sold by H. S. MacDonald.

NO CHANCE FOR KICKING.

Spain's New Government is Making Things Look More as Brother Jonathan Wants Them.

Washington, D.C., Oct. 28.—The Spanish reply to Minister Woodford's note concerning Cuba, which was received here yesterday, will be laid before the Cabinet at the regular meeting to-morrow. Meanwhile the members of the President's official family have not seen the message. It has been, however, talked of informally between the President and several of the Cabinet ministers, and it can be stated positively that the administration regards the note so far as the tenor is revealed by the abstract cabled by Mr. Woodford, as being conciliatory and as not calculated to breed an issue. It can also be stated that gratification is felt that the answer was forthcoming within so short a period of time after the delivery of Mr. Woodford's note, having regard to the intervention of the Spanish Cabinet crisis and change. The acts already performed by the new Cabinet towards a correction of some of the evils of which the United States Government complains in Cuba are regarded as an earnest of the intention of the Spanish Government to faithfully carry out the entire reform program, and if there should be a speedy alleviation of the frightful condition of the unfortunate reconcentrados in Cuba, through a prompt revocation of General Weyler's concentration order, it is felt that the United States Government will have little further to ask.

CONTRACT BEFORE MARRIAGE.

A Woodstock Lady Wins $20,000 in an Important Suit

Rochester, Oct. 29.—Justice Werner has rendered a decision for the plaintiff in the case of Susie M. Vanderventer, of Woodstock, Ont., against Stephen W. Vanderventer and Albert Vanderventer, both of Penn Yan. The action was brought to enforce an alleged ante-nuptial contract made in 1892, in which Stephen Vanderventer agreed to grant a certain parcel of land, and also $20,000, to Susie M. Vane (now Susie M. Vanderventer), providing she marry him within one year after the death of her mother. The plaintiff was married to the defendant in July, 1895, in fulfilment of her part of the contract, and soon after demanded of the defendant that he fulfil his part of the contract. Instead, it is alleged, the defendant transferred all such property to his son, Albert R. Vanderventer.

On the trial the defendant denied that he ever executed the contract, and testified that on the date it is alleged to have been executed in Woodstock, Canada, he was in Penn Yan. The decision rendered by Justice Werner gives the plaintiff $20,000, with interest from the time the money was demanded, and the property. It also restrains the defendant from disposing of any of the property.

GONE TO A SHADOW.

Racked by Pain, Bed-ridden, Life Despaired of—South American Rheumatic Cure was the Good Angel which Stilled the Tempest and Piloted Safely into the Harbor of Health.

"I was so troubled with sciatica that at times the pain and suffering I experienced was excruciating. I failed in flesh to almost a shadow. I was almost continuously in bed for over a year, and I had spent hundreds of dollars in doctoring. I had almost given up hope of a cure. A relative who had been cured of the same disease by South American Rheumatic cure, induced me to try it. The first dose gave me instant relief. After using three bottles I was completely cured." William Marshall, Varney, P. O., Ont. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

REFORM NOMINATIONS.

Conventions Were Held in South Grey and Glengarry Yesterday.

Durham, Oct. 28.—Much enthusiasm prevailed at the meeting of the Reform Association for South Grey, held in the Town Hall here to-day. Dr. McLean of Ayton was elected chairman for the nominating proceedings, and the following were proposed: H. H. Miller, D. Knechtel, W. Irwin, Dr. Mearns, Aaron Wenger, F. Calder, J. D. Morgan, George Binnie and Gilbert McKechnie. All nominated retired with the exception of Dr. Mearns, George Binnie, J. D. Morgan and Gilbert McKechnie. The nomination of J. D. Morgan of Dundalk was made unanimous, amidst hearty cheering.

SHE WAS A CRIPPLE.

But Four Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Put Her on Her Feet.

Hamilton, Oct. 18—Public interest centres on the startlingly wonderful recovery of Mrs. A. Waddell, 178 Queen street, N. She was a cripple for four years. To-day, through the agency of Dodd's Kidney Pills, she is sound and well. Her story is short but convincing. "For four years," she states, "I was the victim of kidney disease and lame back. I could hardly move about without the aid of a chair, on which to lean. Hearing of the great good done by Dodd's Kidney Pills, I tried them. I used four boxes and can now get along without any help. I am cured, and you may publish this for the benefit of other sufferers."

Anglo-Australian Cricket.

London, Oct. 29.—There is considerable excitement among cricketers here over the first match being played between Captain Stoddart's eleven and an eleven representing South Australia at Adelaide. In fact, it might be said that the news from the Australian cricket field is as eagerly awaited as reports from some great battle. This afternoon newspapers are issuing extras which are being sold in great numbers. The Australians went to the bat and by close play made 361 runs for five wickets.

TORPEDOES WERE HARMLESS.

Projectiles of the Greeks Would Not Have Blown up Turks.

Athens, Oct. 29.—A profound sensation has been caused here by a naval scandal of formidable dimensions. It has just been ascertained that the cartridges fitted to the torpedoes during the war between Greece and Turkey were unprovided with percussion caps and fulminating mercury. Hence, if the torpedoes had been used they would have been ineffective. The committee of investigation which was appointed to inquire into the matter has already decided that two officers named Rastopoulo and Anastasi must be tried by court martial on the charge of culpable negligence. The antient attacks on Prince George of Greece, dynastic newspapers are making violent attacks on Prince George of Greece, who was the commander of the torpedo flotilla.

The Prince, who was a great favorite with the masses previous to the war, is deeply affected by these attacks.

The Asty observes that the scandal surpasses anything that could be imagined, adding that Prince George emerges from it with diminished prestige.

THE NEW RICHELIEU BOATS.

They will be Palace Steamers, and will Make 20 Knots an Hour.

Montreal, Oct. 29.—The Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Co. is going to make things boom in St. Lawrence navigation next season. Mr. Bertram is busy with the head officials in going over the specifications for the two new boats which it is intended to build. The new boats, which will cost $275,000 each, will be modelled on the lines of the famous Priscilla, of the Fall River Line. Mr. Haggenstein, the designer of the Priscilla, will assist Mr. Bertram in the construction of the boats. They will have sleeping capacity for more than 400 people, and will be licensed to carry 1,500. The specifications call for a maximum speed of 20 knots an hour, and a minimum of 18. This means that the boats, instead of leaving Toronto at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, will swing out of the Yonge street wharf at 6 o'clock, just four hours later, and arrive on schedule time at Prescott.

The Grand Trunk Railway is now receiving tenders for the construction of 18 new locomotives. Some 10 of the most prominent American locomotive building firms have tendered for the contract. The new engines will be used on the company's lines in the States.

Lieut.-Col. F. Minden Cole, commanding officer of the Second Regiment Canadian Artillery, and commander of the Shoeburyness team last year, was married yesterday afternoon to Miss Florence Trenholme, eldest daughter of Dr. N. W. Trenholme, Q.C., former dean of McGill law faculty.

The Mother's Pay Day.

What pay does a hard-working mother of a family receive for her labor at the end of a week? The husband may bring home his regular wages. Some of the children may be old enough to earn theirs. But the mother, what is her pay for her days of toil and often nights of anxiety? Well, she is either paid in love or she isn't paid at all.

The majority of mothers are perfectly satisfied with the simple recompense of loving appreciation. If any mother doesn't receive that much, it's an awful pity.

It's a sad thing when the mother comes down sick with overwork or worry, or because some little weakness or disease has been neglected until it gets to be alarming.

It should never be allowed to get to this point. She ought to be looked after right away. She needs the help of common sense medical treatment. Of course no one medicine will cure everything. A medicine must be specially adapted to its particular purpose.

If the digestive organs or the liver are out of order Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a perfect and scientific remedy. His "Favorite Prescription" is specially devised for weaknesses and diseases of the womanly organs; and it is the most potent remedy for these troubles which has ever been invented.

Where both these conditions exist these two medicines taken alternately constitute a thoroughly scientific course of treatment, which has been marvelously successful with thousands of dyspeptic, debilitated and nervous women.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets,'" writes Mrs. Jed Lawrence, South Hero, Grand Isle Co., Vt. "My trouble was female weakness, kidney disease, neuralgia, change of life and bad flowing spells. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, seven bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery, and seven small vials of 'Pellets.' The doctors did not help me any. I could not sleep night nor day. I suffered everything before I began to take Dr. Pierce's medicines. When I began to use them I weighed 100 pounds. Now I weigh 145 pounds. I can now do all my work."

WILD RICE.

Can it be Successfully and Profitably Grown on Low Land?

Mr. F. Birdsall, President of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society, placed on view at the recent exhibition there a quantity of wild rice which had been cured for table use, also a sample of the plant itself. He is of the opinion that wild rice can be successfully grown on low wet land anywhere, or on land which is under water part of the year. Mr. Birdsall says this rice has been for years past used extensively by people living along Rice Lake as an article of food, and he can see no reason why it could not be more extensively cultivated and placed on the market in competition with the important article. Mr. Birdsall kindly gave us a quantity, which we tested and and found to be quite palatable, and if, as Mr. Birdsall says, it can be successfully grown on low, waste land, we have no doubt whatever but that soon after it was placed on the market a demand would soon be created which would make its cultivation profitable. While some housekeepers might object to using it on account of it being very much darker than the imported article when cooked, we believe that many would prefer it on account of its peculiar flavour. We are informed that many who use it constantly say they prefer it to the European rice.—Norwood Register.

CORUNDUM DEPOSIT.

The report of the Ontario Mining Bureau for 1896, gives an account of the discovery of a deposit of corundum in the township of Carlow, in Hastings County, which fact was communicated to the bureau by Dr. Geo. M. Dawson, director of the Geological survey, Ottawa, under the date of 23rd October, 1896. Under instructions of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, a quantity of mineral was taken out of the Carlow deposit, and shipped to the works of the Hart Emery Wheel Company at Halifax, where a test was made of it; but the quantity treated was not sufficient for a satisfactory determination of its value. The report, however, was quite favourable regarding the abrasive qualities of the mineral. As corundum is a substance of considerable commercial importance, it seemed advisable that a detailed examination of the deposits in the Carlow region should be made in order to gain an idea of the quantity of the mineral present, and it was thought that by careful prospecting other deposits of the mineral might be found in the district. Further, it was thought that a study of the character of the deposits and the relations to the enclosing rocks should be made, with the view of giving information to prospectors, and thus enabling them to search more intelligently for the mineral. Accordingly instructions were given to Mr. W. G. Miller, of the Kingston School of Mining, to undertake an examination of the deposits, and to search for other occurrences of the mineral, and he is at the present time engaged in carrying out this work.

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

THE SEALING CONFERENCE.

The Basis on Which Seals Have Been Fixed Beforehand. What Has Been Done.

Washington, Oct. 29.—To-day confirmation was given to the assertion that the Behring Sea conference had reached an agreement for the complete suspension of material limitation of pelagic sealing.

The proposition consists of three main features of an alternative character. The first contemplates an absolute suspension of all pelagic sealing. Another is for the restriction of such sealing within very narrow limits. The nature of the third proposition is not disclosed. The action of the conference in seeking the co-operation of Great Britain rather than inviting a breach is a special source of gratification among those interested. Canada continues to be the one influence in the way of an immediate and satisfactory agreement, which will include not only the United States, Russia and Japan, but Great Britain and her colonies. The continued absence of Mr. Macoun, the Canadian delegate, is a source of surprise and no little irritation.

Insulting to Britain.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Government officials here look upon the action of the conferees as a deliberate insult to Great Britain, France, Italy, Norway and Sweden, and Germany, the five maritime powers. The decision of the conference will, it is said, annul the whole arbitration and make any further conference unnecessary.

The Department of Marine and Fisheries said the conference now in progress was entirely between the United States, Russia and Japan. Great Britain, not being a party to it, could not be affected, and consequently Canada was not concerned. Notwithstanding the departmental view the opinion is openly expressed that the condemnation of pelagic sealing by the present conference is a deliberate attempt on the part of the United States to secure an advantage before the conference with the British and Canadian experts opens.

STRUCK BY THE YANTIC.

The Steamer Canadienne Badly Damaged by the American Warship in the River St. Lawrence.

Quebec, Oct. 29.—The American frigate Yantic, Captain Moore, from Boston to Detroit, via Quebec, Montreal, the lakes and canals, was proceeding on her way, when, at about 5.15 a.m., she collided with the American Transportation Company's steamer Le Canadienne, Captain Masson, at Point au Pizeau, some six or seven miles above Quebec.

The Canadienne, when struck, was running on her right side of the river, the south shore. The Yantic struck her across the starboard side, almost cutting her bow in two and carrying away her foremast.

The Yantic is an old-style wooden steam vessel, painted white and barque rigged, is 205 feet long and draws 9 feet of water forward and 12 feet aft. Pilot Perron, who was taking her up, was the pilot who was in charge of the Arabia, which ran ashore some few weeks ago at Cap a'Laroche.

It is estimated that the damage done to Le Canadienne, which was run down by the American frigate Yantic this morning, will reach between $6000 and $7000. The vessel will be relieved of her cargo to undergo a survey, and afterwards will be docked for repairs. La Canadienne was built in Scotland in the year 1880 by Messrs. Rob. Duncan & Co., and when launched was christened the Fox Hound. She is 227 tons register, and carries a crew of 21 hands all told. In the year 1891 the vessel was purchased by the Dominion Government for $35,000 and used as a revenue cutter, when her name was changed to its present one. The vessel was recently chartered by Messrs. R. Lindsay & Co. of Gaspe and Martin Connolly of this city. She is insured for $35,000 in Canadian marine companies.

Fatal Accident at Oakville.

Oakville, Oct. 29.—A distressing accident occurred here this morning at 11.30, whereby Willie, the 16-year-old son of David White, lost his life. The young lad was a driver for Mr. John Wales, and had gone down to the latter's warehouse, where they were loading the schooner Straubenzie with wheat. He had jumped in the bin while playing with some other boys, and at that moment the chute was opened to load the car below. The suction carried him down, and before the spout could be closed he disappeared in the 20-foot bin, containing thousands of bushels of grain. The body was taken out shortly afterwards.

Are You Losing Flesh?

Then something is wrong. To the young it always means trouble. It is a warning to any one, unless they are already too fat. Scott's Emulsion checks this waste and brings up your weight again.

Horsemen, Take a Pointer.

The approaching cold, wet weather should not find you unprepared to protect your horses. Kingscote makes all kinds of waterproof horse covers, lap covers, hoods, etc. They are strictly waterproof, and when Kingscote says "waterproof" he means it. Leave your orders early if to be made specially. A good stock kept on hand. Hunters requiring tents, waterproof covers, etc., can be fitted out by Kingscote to their entire satisfaction at 344 Water street.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicotion of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

SCALES LIKE A FISH

Terrible Condition of a Baby from a Scaly Skin Humor.

Our baby boy was born July 1, 1894. In the fall his legs became rough, from some skin trouble, from his knees down to his toes, also his arms, breast, and abdomen. We tried a great many different kinds of remedies, but without success. In the summer of 1895 it became a little better, but in the fall, and all winter, it was a sight to behold. He had scales on his body and arms like a fish, and almost black. In fact we were ashamed with it, but could not help it. We were almost in despair until we had used CUTICURA REMEDIES for about four days, when we noticed an improvement. Every time my wife washed him, her apron became covered with a scaly-like skin. To-day it is gone, his skin is as smooth as any child, and we owe it, with the blessings of God, to CUTICURA REMEDIES. If you can use this testimony, we give our full consent.

Regarding the Intercolonial's Entrance Into Montreal

THE MINISTER OF RAILWAYS SAYS

The Arrangements for Extending the Government's Line—Sir William C. Van Horne Back From the West—The Northwest Trade—The U.S. Frigate, The Yantic, Detained.

Montreal, Oct. 31.—The Intercolonial will soon come into Montreal, though not as soon as expected. Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, arrived in the city last night from his tour of inspection of the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island Railways. Accompanying Mr. Blair in a separate car were Mr. D. Pottinger, General Manager of the I.C.R.; Mr. J. M. Lyons, General Passenger Agent; Mr. Wallace, General Freight Agent, and their secretaries. These officials and the Minister had a conference with the head officials of the Grand Trunk to complete some preliminaries in connection with the coming of the I.C.R. into Montreal. The party travelled from Levis to St. Rosalie over the Drummond County road, and on the older portion thereof made a good run, covering the distance from Moose Park to St. Rosalie at a rate approaching forty miles an hour. "You can say," Hon Mr. Blair said, "that there is no hitch in connection with the proposed entrance of the Intercolonial into Montreal. There has merely been a postponement. That is all. Mr. Mitchell assures me that the work will be completed in a fortnight. As soon as it is you will see the I.C.R. trains coming into Montreal by that route. The stories as to differences of opinion concerning the agreement are utterly unfounded. We have determined upon trying the experiment, and we are going to carry our determination into effect."

NORTHWEST CATTLE TRADE.

They Have Turned Out Bad for the Past Two Seasons.

Speaking of the Northwest cattle trade this year, Mr. Robert Ironsides, who handles most of the cattle from Manitoba and the Northwest, said: "The cattle turned out bad, as they have for the past two seasons. For several reasons, notably the flies, rain and long grass, they failed to fatten up well, but I may also mention the fact that a great many of the farmers are to blame for the careless manner in which they finished the stock. During the year there was an enormous number of cattle raised in the Northwest, and there would have been a very serious glut if many thousands had not been taken across the line for feeding purposes. In fact, if this outlet had been closed, I believe that cattle in Montreal would have sold at a cent a pound, and the very same stock, too, that they are now getting two and one-half to three cents for. The shipments to the other side of the water turned out bad, and many of the consignments show losses. The United States stock, on the other hand, was found to be in very good shape, and the result is that the Canadians, owing to nothing else than the inferior quality, have been selling anywhere from 1-2d. to 1d. a pound under the Americans." Mr. Ironsides was asked if he thought the unsatisfactory results of the year's business would likely have a tendency to restrict raising in the future. "No," he said. "The farmers have found out that they can raise and fill cattle to the States for feeding purposes, and at the same time realize a very fair profit, and it is likely that they will all keep right in the business. They might," said Mr. Ironsides, "if they took the pains, finish off their cattle in good style, and there is no doubt but that they would net a price in the English market equal to anything the farmers across the line are getting."

Sir William Van Horne arrived home from the coast yesterday, and reports everything booming in the west. Mr. E. S. Clouston, general manager of the Bank of Montreal, states that the Canadian Pacific Railway have purchased two steamers for the Vancouver-Dyea route next spring, and that a hotel-keeper in Vancouver has signed a contract to provide for two thousand people en route for the Klondike. Victoria and Vancouver have sold out their stocks twice over, and expect a greater boom in the spring.

The supplies for the Kootenay district, he adds, are now mostly secured from the ranches of Alberta and British Columbia, and one man purchases 800 head of cattle and 2000 sheep every month.

Hon. Mr. Tarte has submitted a new plan to the Montreal Harbor Commissioners for harbor improvements, providing for two piers in the centre of the harbor, with wide wharves. He advises the commission to commence work on this plan at once.

The United States frigate Yantic, which arrived in port last evening, came up from Sorel at the rate of six miles an hour. She is commanded by Lieut.-Commander Moore. The executive officer is Lieut. Carter, the warrant officers are Messrs. Killany and Heady, and she carries a crew of 31 men. It transpires that the Michigan authorities decline to take over the vessel till the question of damages is settled, so the famous frigate may be here all winter.

The Liberal Clubs to the number of several hundred people repaired to the late Premier Mercier's grave to-day and recited prayers. There were none of the clergy present, and the attendance was not as large as last year. Wreaths were sent by Premier Marchand, his colleagues and many others.

GOVERNOR PINGREE

Says He Will Not Accept the Disabled Gunboat, The Yantic, Until Free of Complications.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The Navy Department has had its attention brought formally to the collision between the Yantic and the Canadian steamer Canadienne indirectly through the filing of a protest by Gov. Pingree of Michigan. This came by telegraph this morning to the Navy Department, and records the Governor's disapproval of the idea of accepting the Yantic from the Government for the use of Michigan's naval militia in her present condition.

The Governor has gathered that the ship is disabled and moreover he feels disinclined to accept any responsibility for the accident. He has instructed the agents of the State not to receipt for the delivery of the Yantic until she is repaired and these matters are arranged.

The navy officials are satisfied that the Yantic cannot be libelled on account of the collision, irrespective of who was at fault.

Canon Arnold Dead.

Niagara, Ont., Oct. 30.—The Rev. Robert Arnold, A. B., Canon of Christ's Church Cathedral, Hamilton, died at Niagara-on-the-Lake this evening. He was born at Ballynahinch, County Down, Ireland, on May 12, 1806. His earlier training was obtained at the Belfast Academical Institution, where he laid the foundation of a liberal education. Subsequently at Trinity College, Dublin, he took high honors and received the degree of A. B. in 1834. Coming to America, he settled in Halifax, N. S., and entered upon his studies for the ministry, being ordained deacon in December, 1842, and priest on July 1, 1843, by the late Bishop Inglis. On retiring in 1888, Canon Arnold moved to Niagara-on-the-Lake, where he has since resided. He was married Nov. 19, 1844, to Catharine Octavia, the youngest daughter of William James Murphy of Halifax, N. S., who survives him. He also leaves three sons and two daughters. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The Gold Hunt Horrors.

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—The stories concerning the horrors of the Skaguay Pass have not been exaggerated, according to a letter dated Oct. 10, received by Mrs. F. C. Wade, from Mr. Wade, who is now at that point. Of 6000 people who went to Dyea, not more than 900 got across, and only 200 of the 3200 horses put on the White Pass are alive now, owing to the hardships, accidents and poor food.

The Government expeditions expect to press on for Dawson City on the return of Premier Sifton and Major Walsh from Tagish.

CRIME OF A FATHER.

James Hutton Jailed for Murdering His Son John.

THE VICTIM STABBED IN THE HEART

The Only Witness of the Awful Deed in a Toronto Tailor Shop on Saturday Afternoon Was the Wife of the Murdered Man A Very Deadly Pair of Scissors.

Toronto, Nov. 1. In a little two-storey frame shanty on the corner of Victoria and Richmond streets, on Saturday night, a terrible tragedy occurred, in which a young man named John Hutton was stabbed to death, and his father, James Hutton, is now lying in the city jail, with the awful charge of murder resting against him.

Mrs. Hutton, the wife of the victim, is so upset that she cannot tell a connected story of how the tragedy, which occurred in her presence, took place, but this is as near as can be ascertained:

John Hutton, the victim, was 39 years of age, and was an industrious fellow. He made up clothing for the Army and Navy Company and for other large stores. He did his work in a small room on the first floor of the building on the southwest corner of Richmond and Victoria-streets, and it was while at his work in this room that he met an untimely death at the hands of his aged parent.

At about 4 o'clock in the afternoon old Hutton delivered some finished work to the Army and Navy store and he returned at about 5 o'clock, under the influence of liquor. A friend of the Huttons, James Black, a middle-aged man, who lives on Queen-street east, was in the shop when the old fellow returned, and he was commissioned by Hutton the younger, or Mrs. Hutton, to go to McCarron's saloon for a quart of beer. The old man was told that he would not get any of it, as he had had sufficient already. This made the father sulky. After Black had gone out the murdered man handed a coat to his father and told him that the job had to be done by 7 o'clock. The elder man said he would not do the coat unless he was helped. "Go on and do the coat," said the son, as he handed over a piece of canvas to be put in the shoulder.

"You go to h— and do it yourself!" excitedly replied the father.

The men were working at a bench right opposite to each other, and Mrs Hutton was working at a machine with her back to both of them. She turned on hearing her father-in-law's angry remark, and saw him grab a pair of tailor's long shears. He said, "Jack, you son of a ——," and then jumped forward and struck the younger man in the chest with the scissors. The son emitted a sharp cry of pain, and attempted to take the murderous weapon from his old father's hands. Both men fell upon the floor, the son underneath.

"My God! Annie, he has killed me!" gasped the dying man, as he ceased to struggle and lay prone upon the floor, a stream of blood flowing from his breast.

Mrs. Hutton thinks she grabbed the shears from the old man's hands. On Saturday she said she did, but yesterday she was not sure on this point. The crime had hardly been committed when Black returned with the can of beer. He had not been away 10 minutes. When he came in at the downstairs door he saw Mrs. Hutton at the top of the stairs with the scissors in her hand.

"My God, Black, the old man has killed Jack!" she said, hysterically, and Black rushed into the room where John Hutton lay on the floor dying in a pool of his own blood.

With all haste Black ran out and fetched Dr. Garratt of Bay-street. The medical man was on the scene quickly, but death claimed the unfortunate fellow a few minutes after his arrival. The murdered man made no statement, while the murderer stood by stunned by the results of his passionate act.

Policeman Charles Bell had been called in by this time, and he placed the old man under arrest and took him to Police Headquarters, where he was locked up, and afterwards sent to the jail. He made a statement that it was "Jack's own fault." The body of his son and victim was taken in the patrol wagon to the morgue, and Mrs. Hutton went down to some friends on Berkeley-street, where she remained all night.

Coroner Greig issued a warrant for an enquiry into the case to-night at the morgue. Yesterday a post-mortem examination was made. On the body of deceased was a cut about two inches in width in the right side of the breast, just above the right nipple. The cut was that of a stab wound, which had extended downwards through to the left side, penetrating the left lung and touching the heart. This was the wound that caused death. On the right shoulder there was another stab wound, and also a cut over the left eye.

Bringing in Rails.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Some very heavy shipments of steel rails have been made into Canada the past week by both the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk Railway Companies. Saturday morning 80 carloads of steel rails were passed through the customs. These rails, which were for the Canadian Pacific, were valued at $75,000. In all about 150 carloads of steel rails have passed the customs the past three days. These rails are all from Pennsylvania manufacturers.

WEYLER AND BLANCO.

The Retiring and Present Captain-General of Cuba Pleasantly Confer.

Havana, Oct. 31.—The Spanish cruiser Alfonso XIII., with Marshal Blanco, the new Governor-General of Cuba, on board, was sighted off Havana this morning at 5.30 o'clock. At 7 o'clock the Alfonso XIII. entered the harbor, and Lieut.-Gen. Weyler, the Marquis Ahumada, Admiral Navarro and other high military and naval officers, went in a special steamer to meet Gen. Blanco. After a long and cordial conference, Lieut.-Gen. Weyler yielded up his command to his successor.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. HICKERSON, 938 Bloor Street, West, Toronto, Ontario.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

BOTH parties in Newfoundland are said now to favour Confederation with Canada. If so, it is the first time the island has been pretty unanimous on the question, and the fact should be welcome to the Dominion.

THE Conservatives, says the St. Thomas Journal, one day call Ontario ministers czars, autocrats and tyrants, and they next complain because Mr. Hardy holds that the lumber question is too important to deal with by order-in-council, and of such consequence as to justify its being fully ventilated in the house. It is too bad, Mr. Whitney may have to declare himself in a responsible way.

THE printing account of the Ontario Government, says the Toronto Star, was reduced last year by $10,000, and if the scheme proposed by some members of the Cabinet is carried out there will be a greater saving. The proposition is to further decrease the size of the annual reports, incorporating only that which is essential. A number of reports, beneficial to members of certain professions, and to a small number only, will not be issued in pamphlet form at all. Sessional writers will typewrite these, and they will be sent to applicants. This will mean a great saving, and will keep sesional writers at work.

WHEN the Tories came into power in Quebec in 1892, says the Halifax Chronicle, they were paraded before all Canada as the financial saviours of the province. Their watchword was economy, and their pledge was purity and efficiency of administration. They probably meant well, and possibly they started well, but they wound up in a financial slough of despair. One of the features of their financial career was the making of a disastrous loan, the true inwardness of which has not yet been cleared up. In the last year of their existence they increased the expenditure by $722,654, while the revenue receipts declined $572,173, and went out of office leaving a deficit of $979,124.

THE general activity in business has been strikingly reflected in the bank returns for the month of September, says the Monetary Times, and a comparison between this year and last year will bring out the matter very clearly. The circulation increased $1,100,000 in September, 1896 (there is of course always some increase in that month) but the circulation increased in September this year $4,100,000—a striking difference, indeed, and well reflecting the great activity of the producing interest in the country during this fall season. The deposits in September, 1896, decreased $490,000; in September, 1897, they increased $1,300,000. Discounts increased in September, 1896, $2,737,000, but in 1897 they increased $4,808,000.

MR. WANNAMAKER ON ADVERTISING.

"I never in my life used such a thing as a poster or dodger or handbill," said Mr. John Wannamaker, of Philadelphia. "My plan for twenty years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up as I wanted. I would not give and advertisement in a newspaper of five hundred circulation for five thousand dodgers or posters.

"If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a gambling scheme I might use posters; but I would not insult a decent reading public with handbills. The class of people who read handbills are too poor to look to for support in mercantile affairs. I deal directly with the publisher. I say to him:

"'How long will you let me run a column of matter through your paper for $100 or $500? as the case may be. I let him do the figuring, and if I think he is not trying to take more than his share, I give him the copy. I lay aside the profits on a particular line of goods for advertising purposes.

"At first I laid aside $3,000; last year I laid aside and spent $40,000. I have done better this year and shall increase that sum as the profits warrant it. I owe my success to newspapers, and to them I freely give a certain profit of my yearly business."

NORMAL SCHOOL JUBILEE.

Rev. Dr. Dewart Preaches the Inaugural Sermon—Worth Commemorating

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Last evening the proceedings in conection with the Normal School jubilee celebration were inaugurated by a memorial sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. Dewart in the Metropolitan Church. The subject of the discourse was "The true element of individual and national progress and stability." The rev. gentleman, in the course of his remarks, referred to the Normal School as follows:

"The Normal School was not a mere local fountain. It has been a living spring, sending forth streams of salutary influence over the whole country, increasing the intelligence and quickening the intellectual life of successive generations. We must not measure the value of the institution merely by the benefits it conferred in teaching. They carried the torches that they lighted at its fires to illuminate many remote places. They did not learn what they learned for themselves, but for the youth of the country whom they were to teach. The value of the results, like that of all results in the sphere of mind and thought, cannot be tabulated or weighed in any commercial balances. When we state the large number of teachers trained and the great increase in the number of schools and pupils since 50 years ago we only touch some outward and visible signs of progress. The main thing is the improved efficiency of the teachers and the schools and the mighty influence that has been exerted by the diffusion of knowledge and the mental training of the young on the character and life of our people."

Rev. Dr. Dewart was a pupil during the first session of the school.

TROUBLE IN WEST AFRICA

The Situation Aggravated by Semi-Official Notes

London, Nov. 1.—The African situation has been aggravated by the French semi-official note made public on Tuesday last and already published. Then the situation was further aggravated by the reply of the British Colonial Office, issued the same day, declaring that there did not seem to be any reasonable fear of complications at Nikki, the capital of the Borgo territory, "provided the French Government behaves reasonably."

It was added, however, at the Colonial Office that Great Britain has determined more effectually to police her territoires, and that if the French insist in trespassing complications will naturally arise. The wording of these statements, it is pointed out, shows that both sides are inclined to lose their tempers. Even the Times says: "If the French are unwise enough to persist in carrying out the theory of effective possession constituting a title, they will find that we shall be reluctantly obliged to apply it too."

It is one of the rare occasions upon which the press is unanimous, papers of all shades of opinion promising the Marquis of Salisbury the nation's support in bringing the French filibusterers to their senses.

France, however, seems not to recede. With excitement rampant at home there is imminent danger of the roving armed expeditions meeting in Africa. The situation is brimful of dangers, and it looks as if a conflict can only be avoided by a surrender of the aspirants of one of those desirous of acquiring land in Central Africa and the Upper Nile Valley.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

MERCIER CELEBRATION

Three Thousand Liberals Take Part in the Demonstration at Montreal

Montreal, Nov. 1.—About 3,000 Liberals made their way to the tomb of the late Premier Mercier in the cemetery back of the mountain yesterday, the third anniversary of his death, to pay their respects to his memory. This has been the custom for the past three years, but the attendance yesterday was much smaller than last year, probably about one-third or one-quareer the number. The falling off is due to the cold water thrown on the demonstration by the ecclesiastical authorities of Montreal. Before leaving for Rome Archbishop Bruchesi started a new scheme by inviting all the Catholics of the city to go there on Monday, All Saints' Day, out of respect for all the dead in the cemetery, numbering some 300,000. This general demonstration of course detracted from the attendance yesterday, but the Club Nationale, which had charge of the ceremony yesterday, met with another difficulty. It had been customary to ask the Archbishop for a priest to officiate, and the usual request was made this year. But the episcopal authorities refused, saying that there would be a general demonstration the following day. The Club Nationale and the other Liberal clubs, however, carried out the demonstration yesterday without a priest. The tomb was elaborately decorated with mourning and surmounted with the British flag. The Liberal clubs, numbering about twenty, each, laid a beautiful wreath on the tomb; and there was also a handsome wreath from the Liberal Ministers at Quebec. Among those present were Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Messrs. R. Prefontaine, M. P., R. Lemieux, M. P., Ald. Dupre, M. P., Dr. Lacombe, M.PP., Lomer Gouin, M.PP., Hon. James McShane, Hon. J. K. Ward and Mr. William Wainwright. After the wreaths were deposited on the tomb a "Libera" was sung, and then the mourners gradually dispersed.

DOES MUNYON CURE?

That Seems Like a Very Untimely and Absurd Question After

ALL THE TESTIMONY

All the Tests and the Thousands of Absolute and Unquestioned Cures that Have been Made by Munyon in Canada.

Mr. W. Nelson, engineer, Evening News, Toronto, Canada, says: "I was troubled with the most severe form of catarrh for eight years. Had tried everything to get well, but without success. The pains across my forehead were so severe at night that I was unable to obtain my needed rest. I was also subject to sneezing to such an extent that I would often sneeze as often as forty to fifty times a day. At the General Hospital, where I went for treatment, I was told that an operation was necessary and burning it out the only hope. I have used Munyon's Cold and Catarrh Cure for one month and became rapidly better. I believe Munyon has done more for me than all the others and I have sent hundreds of people to Munyon."

ARHANGA PASS TAKEN

Slight Resistance Now to the Onward March of the British.

THE TRIBESMEN ANXIOUS TO SUBMIT

According to a Letter to the Ameer, Who Has Been Asked to Mediate With the British Officers on Behalf of the Afridas and Orakzias—Heavy Money Cost.

Simla, Oct. 31.—According to a despatch from Karappa, the expected advance to Arhanga Pass was made this morning. General Westmacott seized the villages covering the line of advance, and the artillery, brought into action at 8.30 o'clock, soon expelled the tribesmen from the Sangars. Only slight opposition was encountered. The crest was reached and the pass captured by General Westmacott at 10.30. The British sustained only trifling loss. Captain Searle of the Sikhs was slightly wounded.

The Mullah of Saidakbar has fled to Jelalabad, and Sir William Lockhart is now descending into the Afridi Tirah.

The Ameer of Afghanistan received a deputation of the Afridis and Orakzais at Cabul, his capital, on the 17th of the month. In notifying the British agent at Cabul of the fact, he wrote that the tribes were "full of alarm and repentance," and had asked him to submit their apology to the British Government, and to ascertain the conditions of pardon. He enquired of the agent whether negotiations were possible, adding: "If orders have already been issued for the punishment of the tribesmen, mediation is useless, as they deserve every punishment." In concluding his letter to the British agent, the Ameer warmly asserted his "undeviating friendship for Great Britain."

In a separate letter to Lord Elgin, the Viceroy, the Ameer says that he is trying to arrest the Haidah Mullah, and that if he succeeds he will expel the priest from Afghanistan. He also promises to prevent Afridis who take refuge in Afghanistan from interfering with British territory.

The Ameer has been thanked by the Government for both these friendly communications, and has been furnished with a copy of the proclamation which General Sir William Lockhart issued to the tribesmen prior to beginning the advance of the punitive expedition.

HAS COST MUCH MONEY.

But the Indian Campaign May End in a Very Short Time.

New York, Oct. 31.—The London correspondent of The Sun says: Next week will probably see the end of the British expedition to the heart of the Afridis' country, as far as actual fighting is concerned, but there will be a lot to do after that, and not before the end of the year will the bulk of the big army sent against the mountain tribesmen be back to their customary Indian quarters. Then the British and Indian Governments will have to consider the bill of costs. It will be a large one, the largest, in fact, since England was at war with Afghanistan, nearly 20 years ago.

All experts know that the Indian Treasury is in a state of exhaustion from the fearful strain imposed by the frontier warfare, and a large financial operation of some kind will be inevitable, for it must not be forgotten that the costly war was concurrent with the enormous additional expenditures of fighting famine and pestilence. The three combined must have drained the Treasury of quite $50,000,000, which means absolute depletion.

BRIMFUL OF DANGERS.

This Phrase Describes the Situation Between Great Britain and France.

London, Oct. 30.—The African situation has been aggravated by the French semi-official note, made public on Tuesday last, and already published. Then the situation was further aggravated by the reply of the British Colonial Office, issued the same day, declaring that there did not seem to be any reasonable fear of complications at Nikki, capital of the Borgu territory, "provided the French Government behaves reasonably."

It was added, however, at the Colonial Office that Great Britain has determined more effectually to police her territories, and that if the French persist in trespassing complications will naturally arise. The wording of these statements, it is pointed out, shows that both sides are inclined to lose their tempers. Even The Times says: "If the French are unwise enough to persist in carrying out the theory of effective possession constituting a title, they will find that we shall be reluctantly obliged to apply it too."

It is one of the rare occasions upon which the press is unanimous, papers of all shades of opinion promising the Marquis of Salisbury the nation's support in bringing the French filibusters to their senses. France, however, seems not to recede. With excitement rampant at home, there is imminent danger of the roving armed expeditions meeting in Africa. The situation is brimful of dangers.

Cutting Their Own Throats.

London, Oct. 31.—Speaking of the threatened cotton strike, The Pall Mall Gazette says: "The worst of it is that Lancashire is cutting its own throat and supplying textile machinery to its rivals. The cotton goods trade is already shut off in the United States by prohibitive tariffs, and Lancashire is supplying Canada with machinery almost sufficient to supply her own requirements, while India and China are fast beating it out of the natural market."

Spectator is Pessimistic.

London, Oct. 30.—The Spectator takes a pessimistic view of the situation between the United States and Spain and expresses the opinion that the chances are in favor of war, "which would gravely concern England, because of the consequent rise in the price of wheat, and owing to the extent of British shipping, dangerous marine questions in regard to privateering, the neutrality of search and the supply of munitions would arise, while Spain's insolvency would involve a grand crash in banking circles in Paris."

Parsons Will Try Again.

London, Oct. 30.—Charles Parsons, the inventor of the steam turbine which was fitted in the 100-foot torpedo boat Turbinia, giving her a speed of 33 knots an hour, is about to construct at Newcastle-on-Tyne a vessel of the torpedo boat destroyer type, with turbine engines. It is stated that she will have a speed of 36 to 40 knots an hour.

A PICNIC IN HAYTI.

Germany May Make the Little Republic Come to Time and Pay Up for an Illegal Arrest

Port au Prince, Hayti, Oct. 31.—Serious trouble has arisen between Hayti and Germany. The German Minister to this Republic, Count Schwerin, has hauled down his flag, and, according to current report, three German warships are expected here to back up the ultimatum of the Minister to Hayti, demanding an indemnity for the alleged illegal arrest and imprisonment of a German citizen named Lüders. The affair has caused considerable excitement among the native population, and loud threats have been uttered against the Germans.

A Poor Showing in Rodot's Estate Claimed a Surplus When He Had a Deficit.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—The creditors of A. E. Rondot, the Amherstburg retailer who assigned to J. G. Hay of Toronto, are not expected to get much out of the estate, which on the face of it shows a deficiency of $3452, and which will be very much increased when the bad debts are eliminated. It is hardly more than two months ago that Rondot, when examined in the witness box on a libel suit he had instituted, claimed a surplus of about $6000. The total liabilities are $24,294. The good assets of the estate are put down at $14,272, and the bad and doubtful at $6570. His lawyer has a claim against him for $826, and when he lost his libel suit against The Monetary Times the court ordered him to pay the paper's costs, amounting to over $1000. The heaviest creditors are Thibaudeau Bros. & Co. of Montreal, whose claim is for $19,108.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MCLFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 89, St. Henri, Que.

"They Suit me Exactly."

"I have had dyspepsia and stomach troubles for the past two years," says Miss Ellen Whalen, Niagara Falls, "and took various remedies in search for a cure. None of them suited my case like Laxa-Liver Pills. They suited me exactly, and removed the troubles promptly and effectually. I willingly recommend them to all who suffer as I did."

The first regular meeting for the season of the Fortnightly Club will be held in the Y.M.C.A. building Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, when Mr. Cortes Fessenden will read a paper on "The X Rays." All who wish to become members of the club are cordially invited to attend.

A Coming Concert.

The St. Paul's church choir are promising the best concert of the season in the Opera House on Dec. 9th, at popular prices. The choir will be augmented up to fifty voices and will sing some choice glees and part songs. Mr. Douglas Bird, the popular tenor of Detroit, together with Miss Jessie Alexander, Canada's foremost entertainer, are the assisting artists, and the previous good name of the choir in providing really first-class entertainments will certainly secure for them a bumper house on the date mentioned.

An Open-Air Lecture.

Mr. Geo. W. Moffatt, of St. John, New Brunswick, a blind man, gave a lecture yesterday afternoon on the market square on the subject of the past history and future destiny of the Anglo-Saxon race. He endeavoured to prove that the lost ten tribes of Scripture are identical with the early Saxons, and though his theme was not a new one he brought forward many quotations from sacred and profane history to substantiate his belief as to the origin of the English people.

A Curiosity.

Mr. David McGregor, of Ashburnham, is one of the old pioneers of the town, having been a resident of this district for almost fifty years. For a time he lived on the banks of the Gull river, in Victoria county, when that part was in a primeval condition. During his leisure time in the last few years he has made a representation of his former home—a settler's shack, with its usual surroundings—that is quite a curiosity. Deer, bears and hunters in pursuit with their rifles and dogs, all carefully carved in wood and naturally coloured, are to be seen. The Indian birch bark, with the less romantic dug-out, are lying by the side of the stream, and with strings of fish, kettles, etc., make a scene quite realistic.

It's not the cough, but what it may end in, that makes it so serious. The cough may be cured, the serious consequence prevented by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Price, 25 cents, all druggists.

THE NASSAU BRIDGE.

The First Train Went Over it This Morning on the Lakefield Branch.

A big gang of men were at work all Saturday night and Sunday in order to complete the conversion of the G.T.R. line at Nassau from the old route to the new one over the bridge which has just been erected and spans the canal at that point.

The work was finished in time to permit the first train to Lakefield this morning to pass over the new bridge, which is most satisfactory. The structure is erected on the section of the canal which is being worked by Messrs. Corry & Laverdure, and a highway bridge is to be placed just above it.

By the new route, the Lakefield trains pass directly over the site of the old Orange Hall, which has been moved to allow the laying of the rails.

PERSONAL.

Mr. C. B. McAllister has returned from a business trip to Port Hope.

Mr. Lionel King has been in Toronto for the last few days making arrangements to enter Trinity University.

Mr. Joe Cahill has been in Port Hope for the last few days superintending the fitting up of the large plate glass fronts in the new St. Lawrence Hall.

Mr. E. B. Lambe, formerly of the Canadian General Electric Works, who is now residing in the Northwest, has been in town for the last few days. He goes west to-morrow.

Dr. T. H. Bell, son of Mr. F. J. Bell, has passed his final examinations in London, taking the degree of M.R.C.S. and L.R.C.P. He is going to Dublin and Paris for further experience in hospital work.

Rev. S. J. Shorey preached in his old charge, Sherbourne street Methodist church, Toronto, yesterday. The Mail and Empire says that his discourse on "The world's false idea of manhood" was a powerful and eloquent one."

Mr J. M. Leonard, Superintendent of the C.P.R., and Mr. McMurchy, barrister, of Toronto, are in town to-day making inquiries with the object of settling the claim of Messrs. Harper and Leplante, who complain that the C.P.R. sheds shut off access to their property on Wolfe street.

DEDICATION FESTIVAL OF ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.

FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE RE-OPENING SERVICES.

Specially Appropriate Services and Sermons—The Rector Preaches in the Morning and Rev. Herbert Symonds in the Evening—Communion of Saints—Christian Fellowship Insisted Upon.

The fifteenth anniversary of the re-opening of St. John's church was observed yesterday by services appropriate to the occasion, and to the solemn festival on which the anniversary falls—All Saints' Day.

The services of the day began with a beautiful and solemn service of Holy Communion at 8.30 o'clock. A considerable number communicated at this service.

At eleven o'clock the service of morning prayer was celebrated by the Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson. Something of a subdued festal appearance was given by the quiet and tasteful decoration of the altar, chancel and pulpit with cut flowers. The hymns and Scripture lessons were special and appropriate to the day.

Rev. Mr. Davidson chose for his text Romans I, 7: "Beloved of God, called to be saints." His subject, briefly defined, was, "living saints." After referring to the beautiful thoughts which encircled us as with a halo on All Saints' day, he spoke of the inclination to include as "saints" only those who had finished their fight and had laid down their armour victorious in death. But there were living saints as well as departed ones.. The word "saint" implied not only natural goodness, but supernatural grace—a goodness which stands humbled and awe-inspired in the presence of God. The message of the text was, the preacher said, that God loved us all and in this love he called us to be something more than mere sons and daughters — good sons and daughters—saints enjoying the high life of their present home, the church. The prodigal son was then referred to as an example of selfish individualism. Though a son, he was a sorry one, but was called back to be not only a son, but a "saint." The communion of saints was a necessary feature of the saintly life. It embraced, first, fellowship with our living brethren, secondly, fellowship with our brethren departed. Under the latter head the preacher recalled those who, in days gone by, had served God faithfully in the parish of Peterborough, departed clergy, church officers, teachers, active members and workers, in all spheres of life. Though their names were not all known to man they were well known to God; though we saw them not with the outward eye, the eye of faith followed them to the Paradise of God, safe in His holy keeping, still members of that family which unites the living and the dead.

In the evening there was a large congregation, and the service was conducted by Rev. E. V. Stevenson, Rev. H. Symonds taking the lessons. He also preached the sermon.

Taking for the text I Cor. xii, 4-12 (inclusive) the preacher said that these were the words of a spiritual genius. They presented to us a conception of the fellowship of Christians, of which reformed Christendom had been too oblivious in the past. The doctrine of the "Communion of Saints" could not be more clearly expressed than it was in the words "For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that body being many are one body, so also is Christ." Mr. Symonds quoted from an article by a distinguished English Methodist, Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, who forcibly declared that the greatest need of present day Christianity was that of a clear, definite and Scriptural conception of the Church. Reformed Christendom had dwelt too much on the individual side of the Gospel, but the Gospel had two sides, and the social aspect of the Gospel was to-day the most important, because the gravest ills of our time were social ills.

In conclusion Mr. Symonds pointed out the way in which a broad application of the doctrine of the Communion or Fellowship of Saints, i.e. of all those who profess and call themselves Christians, would meet the needs of the present day:

(1) In connexion with the social discontents of the day.

(2) In connexion with the widening gulf between the rich and the poor with all its attendant ills.

(3) In connexion with the divisions of Christendom.

At the evening service an anthem was rendered arranged from the hymn, "Hark, Hark, my Soul," Rev. E. V. Stevenson taking the bass solos and Mr. Herbert Morphet, the tenor parts.

Dr. Brown attending physician for the month.

Physicians in attendance on private patients—Drs. Fife, Halliday, Boucher, Bell, Carmichael, Greer, Scott and McCullough.

The present closes a period eventful to the class of graduated nurses and a most pleasing ending to the commencement exercises was the surprise awaiting them on their return to the hospital.

In addition to the luncheon ordinarily provided upon this occasion a magnificent iced fruit cake, the gift of Mr. Wm. Vickers, adorned the table and the nurses desire to this opportunity of thanking him for his most acceptable gift, as well as to gratefully bear testimony to his kind and gentlemanly deportment during their stay here.

The other members of the staff join them most heartily in this acknowledgement and hope that when their time of training expires he may still be associated with the position he so efficiently fills.

Just received at Miss Melville's the latest pattern in Slippers. Choice designs—all ready for working.

DEATH OF EDWARD CLANCY.

Another Old Resident Passes Away in Ashburnham.

Edward Clancy, aged 65 years, died yesterday at his home in Ashburnham. He was a native of Limerick, Ireland, and came out to Peterborough county at the age of fifteen, the family settling on the present site of the village of Ashburnham.

He was married about thirty-five years ago, his wife, a daughter of Mr. P. Sullivan of Otonabee, dying last year. Thirteen children were born of the issue, and of these twelve are still living. Of his five brothers and five sisters only Mr. P. Clancy of Ashburnham, and Mrs. Allen of Galway, survive.

For the past twenty-six years he carried on a blacksmithing business in Ashburnham with his brother, Mr. P. Clancy. About three years ago he broke his leg, and since that time he has been incapicated. Bright's disease was the immediate cause of death.

The funeral will take place from the family residence, Stewart Street, Ashburnham, to-morrow morning at 8.30 o'clock, proceeding to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Mr. Dennis Hickey Yesterday Morning.

The death of Dennis Hickey, aged 75 years, took place yesterday morning at eleven o'clock, at his late residence, 139 Elm street.

The deceased was born in Limerick in 1822 and came to Canada at the age of 18, taking up his residence in Kingston. In 1846 he moved to Peterborough, where he has lived ever since. For a long term of years he was employed with Capt. Wallis, and was a sterling Reformer all his life. He has been ailing for the last year or so and during the last four weeks has been unable to take any nourishment. He leaves two children, Ellen (Mrs. R. Johnston) and Pactrick, the latter residing in Chicago. Mr. John S. Hickey, of Elm street, is a brother and Mrs. Wm. Fitzgerald, of Douro, a sister.

The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30 p.m.

The Late Thomas Workman.

The many friends of Mr. Thos. Workman, portrait painter, will regret to learn of his death, which took place suddenly at the residence of his mother in Toronto. Death resulted from heart failure caused by Bright's disease. Mr. Workman was prominently connected with the I.O.O.F. for many years during his residence in Peterborugh, though latterly he was not actually identified with any of the lodges. During his sojourn in Peterborough he made many friends, who will regret to learn of his sudden demise.

The Social and Entertainment in the George street Sunday school takes place to night. Do not miss it. A fine programme will be presented and refreshments served. Proceeds in aid of parsonage furnishing. Admission 15 cents.

Mr. Schreiber, Chief Engineer under the Dominion Government, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, arrived on Wednesday evening by the Empire. Mr. R. B. Mr. McDougall, the Auditor-General, accompanied the party and the day having been one of those peculiarly lovely autumn days, known to no other part of the world but Canada, he had enjoyed the trip beyond expression. There is no country like this Canada of ours. Canada is all right. And Ontario is the chrysanthemum of the nation.

BOYS' BRANCH.

They Elected Officers Friday Evening—An Invitation Extended to Others.

Friday night the members of the boys branch of the Y.M.C.A. held an enthusiastic rally in the Bible class room. An interesting and important feature of the evening was the annual election of officers as follows:

President—Archie Froude.
Vice-President—John Laing.
Second Vice President—Aylmer Best.
Secretary—Roy Armstrong.
Treasurer—Herbert Wood.

The officers extend a hearty invitation to all boys between 12 and 16 years of age to attend the meetings on Friday nights from 7.30 to 8 o'clock.

BATTALION NOTES.

Col. Sam Hughes in Lindsay Warder says: The 57th Battalion, Peterborough Rangers, were inspected on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday last in their home quarters. Col. Montizambert examined officers and men on company drill and interior economy on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, while on Friday afternoon Col. Otter inspected the battalion. Col. Bell and Major Edwards put the fine old corps through a series of movements which were well performed. The battalion was not at full strength, owing to the fact that many of the men have gone to the lumber camps for the winter, but there was a very good turnout. The fine bands and ambulance of the corps are also deserving of praise, while the surgeon and paymaster Capt. Max Dennistoun looked magnificent in their cocked hats and plumes. Altogether Peterborough may well feel proud of the old 57th.

THE DEATH OF REV. FATHER CONNELLY.

He Passed away at Hastings on Saturday Evening Last.

The Rev. M. E. Connelly, pastor of the Roman Catholic church, Hastings, died on Saturday last after an illness of four weeks.

The reverend gentleman had not been in good health for some time previously. A severe attack of la grippe about ten years ago left his constitution so enervated that he suffered from chronic cold. About four weeks ago he met with an accident, being thrown from his buggy and injuring one of his hips, which developed into acute sciatica, and abscesses formed near the injury, which, despite medical treatment, terminated fatally. The reverend gentleman was in his 49th year. The remains are to be conveyed to his birth place, Perth, on Tuesday for interment.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey went to Hastings to-day, representing His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, and a number of other priests from this section of the Diocese will attend the funeral to-morrow.

Rev. Father Connolly was ordained a priest on May 28th, 1872, by Rt. Rev. Bishop Horan, at Smith's Falls, Ven. Archdeacon Casey, of the Cathedral, being ordained at the same time. The deceased was in charge of the Downeyville parish for fifteen years, and during that time by his amiable disposition won the affections of his people to a remarkable degree. In 1894 he was transferred to Campbellford, and a year later was moved to Hastings, where he ministered faithfully to the wants of his parishioners.

Very few of the priests of the Diocese were able to go to Hastings this morning on account of its being All Saints' Day, but to-morrow the funeral will be attended by a great many. The remains will be driven over to Norwood and sent east to Perth on the noon train, where interment will take place in accordance with the wishes of the parents of the deceased.

HUMOUR OF THE KLONDIKE.

Some Incidents of Real Life That Lighten the Situation.

"I guess the old saying is true that variety is the spice of life," remarked Farmer Rakestraw, looking up from his reading, "but it kind of strikes me that there is a little more of that kind of spice than is just exactly palatable in the newspaper reports from the Klondike gold fields.

"I have been reading that there little or no vacant mining land left there, and that there are plenty of rich claims for all comers; statements that the reports of the fabulous finds are grossly exaggerated and that the half has not been told of the riches of that new El Dorado; that crime and violence are rampant there, and that the people are open-handed, law-abiding and hospitable; that the winters are prolonged stretches of almost unbearable cold interspersed with terrible blizzards which only the strongest and hardiest can hope to survive, and that the climate, though cold, is extremely healthful, and that when one gets used to it the exceedingly low temperature is felt hardly more than a much milder degree of cold would be; that only one man in a thousand can justly hope to win a fortune there even at the risk and probable sacrifice of his health, and that after passing through the clear pure cold of the winter, the gold seeker emerges in the spring fatter and healthier than at the beginning of the winter, ready to pick up the golden wealth which is his for the taking.

"I like variety in my newspaper reading as a general thing, but I'll have to confess that the Klondike information that I have been acquiring of late is just a little too spicy for my taste."

HIS IDENTITY.

"One day," said the returned Klondike millionaire, "we found a poor fellow with a high, bulging brow dead in the snow and frozen as stiff as a crowbar. The body was terribly emaciated from lack of food, and there were no papers or any other articles on his person to indicate his identity.

"His pockets did not contain a cent of money, but in them we found a description of a $10,000 summer cottage, a receipt for making ice-cream soda, a formula for curing gout, a newspaper clipping warning its readers against a dangerous counterfeit hundred dollar bill, a description of an ancient Roman banquet, full directions for raising orchids, an advertisement of a Florida orange grove, a clipping describing a plutocrat's steam yacht, another about the management of a thoroughbred racing stable, a small pocket map of Samoa, a price list of rare coins, instructions for detecting flaws in diamonds, a solemn warning over habitual over-eating, advice on wooing and winning a wealthy and beautiful young widow and directions for the cure of a sunstroke. There was absolutely nothing on the body to show who or what he might have been, so we decided to call him an optimist, and let it go at that.

A VARIETY OF MONEY.

"I understand that your husband returned from Klondike last night, Mrs. Jurnigan," said the inquisitive villager. "Is he about the house now? I would like to have a little talk with him regarding that region."

"I am sorry, Mr. Askington," replied the good woman, "but I am afraid you can't see him now. He is in bed upstairs suffering from what the doctor calls nervous—er—er—prosperity, I believe, it was."

"That's too bad. By the way, the report is in circulation that he brought all kinds of money home with him. Is that true?"

"Well, I don't know that he brought all kinds of money, Mr. Askington, but he certainly brought several kinds. He fetched back two copper cents, a Chinese coin that he had used for a lucky piece, a Confederate bill which he had taken along to give away to the Indians, a few pieces of Esquimau shell money, a bit of wampum, a lead nickel, and a poker chip. If he hasn't brought home all kinds of money he has certainly returned with quite a variety."

IN MEMORIAM.

MARY C. DOHERTY.

Good-bye on earth, forever,
Fair cousin, whom we love,
God grant that we may meet again
In Heaven up above.

Little did we dream
Death was so near at hand,
When thy frail form was borne
To thy Father's blessed land.

So brave was the little heart,
And so bright the little mind,
That to such a thing as death
Our senses were all blind.

She lay with a peaceful smile
Upon her fair young face,
And her white arms on her breast
Were folded in stirless grace.

Oh Mary! dearest cousin,
Will you pray for all,
That we like you be ready
When they loving Saviour calls?

Watch over each and all,
You sister and your brothers,
For we never can recall
Or replace you by another.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Rev. E. V. Stevenson commenced yesterday a series of addresses taken from 1st Corinthians, delivered before a class of young men at 4.30 p. m. on Sundays.

The collection taken up St. John's church yesterday was devoted to the augmentation of the Widows and Orphans' Fund.

The Bishop of Salisbury (Rt. Rev. Dr. John Wordsworth) has recently given expression to certain opinions which will in all probability do much to advance the cause of Christian unity. The Bishop sees no reason grounded on any principle why English non-conformists should not take a large part in the services of the established church. "The difficulty," says the Bishop, "of accepting non-conformist ministers without episcopal ordination touches chiefly the ministration of the Lord's supper, which ever since the first century has (for reasons which we can well understand) been restricted to persons specially set apart as presbyters. As far as we can judge these presbyters were ordained either by apostles or by men in an episcopal relation to the church, i.e., not simple presbyters. Supposing, however, other difficulties to be arranged, I can conceive of non-conformist ministers to be admitted to the united church to administer baptism, and to teach and preach in our churches, and to take a large part in its services."

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The weather has been delightful here the past two weeks, and is more like summer than fall.

A great many hunters have gone back north the past few days, in order to be located at the different hunting grounds on the 1st of November, when the season opens. The laws are about the same as last year and each one can only kill two deer.

Work has commenced on the pier at the locks here, which is constructed by the Ontario government.

Quite a number of partridge and duck have been killed this fall around the Point but the partridge are not as plentiful as last year.

Mr. Will Young, who has been at Chemong all summer, spent a few days at home last week.

Miss Emma Scollard was visiting friends at Selwyn last week.

Miss Lottie Kearney returned home after spending a week with friends in Peterborough.

Miss Nellie Young was visiting friends in Peterborough the past few days.

Mrs. Jas. Heard was buried last Sunday, the 24th of Oct., at the Lakefield cemetery. The funeral took place from her father's house, Mr. Andrew Wilson, and was one of the largest funerals ever seen around here, there being about ninety vehicles.

COULD HARDLY WORK.

He Was Ill—But Now is Well.

Mr. T. Sarchet, the well-known tailor, Court House Ave Brockville, Ont., got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills sometime ago. He did this because he had been seriously troubled for over a year with pains in his back across the kidneys, together with headache, dizziness, tired feeling and a general sensation of weariness and lack of ambition.

Referring to the result of the use of these pills, Mr. Sarchet says, "I can tell you that the pains in my back while sitting at work, made it almost impossible for me to keep on. I took a great many remedies, but they did me little or no good.

"When I started taking Doan's Kidney Pills I had but little faith in them. Now I have the greatest faith in them, because I believe them to be the greatest specific in existence for all kidney and back troubles.

"I say this because they have completely cured me, and I say it out of gratitude, and so that others who suffer in a similar manner may derive like benefit from a knowledge of the virtues of these pills.

"I can recommend them highly to any sufferer from kidney or back troubles, and feel that if they are given a fair trial no case, however severe, can resist their medicinal effects. 292

JAPAN'S POSITION.

How She Was Inveigled Into Taking Part in the Seal Conference

Montreal, Oct. 30.—Sir Ernest Satow, British Ambassador to Japan, who is here on his way to Japan, being asked what interest Japan had in the pelagic sealing question and how did she come to be represented at the conference which is now being held on the sealing question at Washington, without the presence of Great Britain or Canada, said: "To the first question, Japan has no interest whatever in pelagic sealing. To the second, she is in the conference because she was misled by Mr. Sherman. When Japan was invited to take part in the conference she understood that England would also participate. That was the information conveyed to her by Mr. Sherman or his representative. Upon no other condition would she have listened to the proposal. After she had sent her delegates she learned that England was not to be represented. She then said: 'What interest can I have in this conference, if England be not represented?' At the same time her representatives were on their way, and Japan was not disposed to take the step of recalling them. The account which is given of this conference in the press indicates that this was the attitude which is given of this conference in the conference as a matter of courtesy, but she clearly indicates to the conferees that without the participation of England the affair is merely academic."

TWO TRAINS COLLIDE.

An Accident on the Grand Trunk at Stoney Creek.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—There was another bad accident on the Grand Trunk at the crossing at Stony Creek yesterday. Two freight trains collided and scattered the contents of many cars over the surrounding territory. There is a spur line running from Stony Creek to Burlington, used by freight trains coming from the Suspension Bridge to Toronto, to save themselves the run into Hamilton. A loaded coal train from Fort Erie for Toronto had just reached Stony Creek and was switching off the spur line when another freight from Hamilton for the Bridge came along. The engine of the Hamilton train struck the coal freight right in the center. The engine was smashed and ten cars were piled up on the track. The damage will be heavy, as all the freight cars were loaded. The main line from Hamilton to the Suspension Bridge was blocked up a couple of hours, and the Lehigh Valley express, due in Toronto at 10.25, was detained till the track was cleared by the auxiliary train which was despatched from Hamilton. The Grand Trunk officials at Toronto stated this morning that nobody was injured by the collision.

Sir Charles Tupper In Victoria.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 30.—A large audience crowded the opera House last evening to hear the political issues of the day discussed by Sir Charles Tupper. His trip of British Columbia, Sir Charles said, was not political in any sense, but a business visit, which he hoped would result beneficially to the province.

It was, he said, a source of unfeigned congratulation to every true Canadian that the Dominion as a whole was undoubtedly entering upon an era of great prosperity. The enormous mineral discoveries of recent years, the excellent crop of the past season, the supplementary fact that wheat had more than doubled in value, and the revival of the European lumber trade, together with the improved state of affairs in the United States, all indicated the condition of Canada to be one of great and increasing prosperity.

Before I had used one bottle my health improved, and the medicine effected a complete cure.

I can highly recommend SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC for all nervous disorders. It is an Ideal Blood Purifier and will do all that is claimed for it. I will be pleased to give any information I can to any one similarly affected. Since using the medicine I have had no return of the disease. TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

In New York a short while ago a baby was born in jail. Its mother was being tried for murder. Every womanly heart gives a throb of sympathy at thought of the blight upon the poor little baby's life. But a baby need not be born in jail to be unfortunate. Any baby which is not welcomed into this world with loving hearts and ready hands is unfortunate. Any mother who is physically weak and incapable of bestowing a healthy constitution upon her baby may darken its future with weakness and disease.

A prospective mother ought to insure her baby's welfare by every means that Nature and science afford to keep her physical powers up to the very highest point.

Every expectant mother ought to know and avail herself of the strengthening and re enforcing properties of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives health and endurance to the delicate organs concerned in motherhood. Taken early during the period of expectancy, it makes the coming of baby perfectly safe and comparatively easy. It makes the mother strong and cheerful, and gives health and natural vigor to the child.

It is the only medicine of its kind devised for weak and delicate women by an educated, experienced physician.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His thousand-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" contains advice which every woman ought to read. A paper-bound copy will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth-bound for 50 stamps.

A sure and permanent cure for constipation is Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

Great Meeting in Hamilton Brought to a Close

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 30.—There was a decrease in the number of delegates at the Sabbath School Convention yesterday. At 8.30 a primary conference was held in the Sunday school room, being conducted by Miss Parkins, of London, her subject being: "In What Way Can the Children Assist in the Primary Lesson?"

The Business Committee presented the following list of officers for 1897-8, and the report was adopted:

President—A. J. Donly, Simcoe.

Vice-Presidents—D. W. Beadle, Toronto; Hon. James Young, Galt; William Johnson, Belleville; Hon. S. H. Blake, Toronto; Geo. Rutherford, J. K. Macdonald, Toronto; W.N. Hossie, Brantford; James A. McCrae, Guelph; R. J. Score, Toronto; H. P. Moore, Acton; J. A. Patterson, Toronto; John Maclaren, Toronto; and the presidents of the county and city associations.

Minute secretaries—Rev. J. C. Tibb, Streetsville; and Dr. W. E. Tilley, Bowmanville.

A series of resolutions were carried, including one approving of the stand taken by the Lord's Day Alliance to preserve the Lord's Day observance. Another was on temperance, and expressed abhorrence at the legislation of the sale of intoxicating liquor and endorsing all temperance effort.

A number of addresses were delivered on various subjects.

At the afternoon session, Mr. S. J. Duncan-Clark of Toronto conducted a "temperance lesson."

Great interest was taken in the "Normal Lesson: A Study of Acts," conducted by Prof. Hand of Chicago. Dr. Potts also spoke in an interesting manner. At the closing lesson Rev. D. C. Hassock of Toronto spoke on the "Evangelizing Power of the Sabbath School to the Homes." Hon. S. H. Blake was also present, and the convention was brought to a close by Mr. A. Donly, of Simcoe, the president-elect.

Peterboro' will likely be selected as the next place of meeting.

A serious outbreak of diphtheria has been reported from Douglass Village, in Bromley Township, Renfrew County.

THE WEAK MADE STRONG.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

A Terrible Experience

Toronto, Oct. 29.—Thomas Ludrew, 1093 Queen-street west, received injuries yesterday by being caught by a shaft and wound around it. He was laying bricks in the factory of J. H. Eckhart, 66 Esplanade-street, when his shirt became caught by a power shaft near which he was working. He was whirled around the shaft several times and then dashed to the floor ten feet away. He received terrible injuries. His body was horribly crushed, his hips injured, his head badly cut, and it is feared that he has received internal injuries of a serious character. He was removed to the General Hospital and was last night reported as doing well.

Wise Men Know

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills act easily and promptly on the liver and bowels. Cure sick headache.

The Life-giving Pines.

The breath of the pines is the breath of life to the consumptive. Norway Pine Syrup contains the pine virtue, and cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, hoarseness and all throat and lung troubles.

MRS. GOODERHAM RESIGNS.

Unqualified Esteem for Her Christian Character.

Whitby, Ont., Oct. 30.—A hard day's work was done yesterday by the Board of the Methodist Woman's Missionary Society, now in session in the Tabernacle here.

Mrs. W. E. Ross, of Montreal, was elected president, on the second ballot, to fill the place held so long by Mrs. G. K Gooderham, whose resignation, because of the now famous case of Mrs. Large, has created such wid spread interest. In touching language the new president thanked the board. Mrs. Ross is the daughter of Mr. John A. Williams, late superintendent of the Methodist Church.

Again the editorial function of the Society, as exercised by Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, who has charge of the department of the Outlook, was before the board. Mrs. Wright read a fine essay, setting forth what was being accomplished through the agency of the press, and also picturing an ideal state of affairs when the society should be independent in this regard, and have a paper all its own. Mrs Wright is master of a lucid style, and appealed strongly to the sympathies of her auditors, many of whom were visibly affected. Upon Mrs. Wright finishing, on motion of Mrs. Graham, the Christian Guardian was requested to publish the essay.

A resolution was adopted placing on record the high appreciation of Mrs G. K. Gooderham, who has been president for 15 years, of the services she has rendered to the association, and regret at her resignation. A similar resolution was also passed to Mrs. Carman, the vice-president. Kingston will be the next place of meeting.

ROUTE TO KLONDIKE.

British Columbia Government Will Aid a Telegraph Line to Teslin Lake.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 30.—The report from Mr. Hamlin, the engineer sent out by the Provincial Government to examine Hootalinqua River, states that four feet of water is the least at any point, and the river is perfectly free from obstructions. On the strength of this Premier Turner stated the Government are now ready to assist the C.P.R. or any other company who will construct a line from Telegraph Creek on the Stickeen River, to Teslin Lake, the head waters of the Yukon. This means that the entire traffic with the Klondike mines will go through Canadian territory.

THE MERCIER ANNIVERSARY.

French Canadian Liberal Clubs Will Decorate His Tomb.

Montreal, Oct. 30.—The French-Canadian Liberal Clubs, some 20 in number, are making arrangements for the annual pilgrimage to the tomb of the late Honore Mercier to-morrow, the anniversary of his death. They will march to the cemetery, where each club will lay a wreath on the grave and afterwards sing a libera together.

Two Girls' Fatal Quarrel.

Birmingham, Ala., Oct. 30.—Ella Barnes and Bessie Thomas, two 16-year-old cotton factory operatives quarrelled over their mutual regard for the same young man. Bessie advanced on Ella with a pair of scissors. Miss Barnes threw a lighted lamp at her adversary. The lamp exploded and Miss Thomas was burned to a crisp before rescue came. Her murderess is in hiding.

The Shock Killed Her.

Fleshertou, Oct. 29.—While at a threshing on McLean's farm, near Brewster's Lake, Osprey, a boy twelve years of age, son of Jacob Loughead, was kicked in the face and knocked senseless. His 18-year-old sister, who witnessed the accident, carried the boy home and then fell senseless herself from nervous excitement. The lad is recovering, but the shock was too much for the sister and she died.

Better Than The Klondyke.

Mrs. Winkworth, Morrison St., Niagara Falls, Ont., says: "I was attacked by kidney trouble about two years ago, and steadily grew worse until November last, when I became so low that I though I would live only a short time longer. The doctor here pronounced my case a complicotion of Bright's disease and dropsy, and said I could not get well. Dr. MacDonald advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills as it was my only chance to get well. I did so and now can truly say that I owe my life to following his advice for I am strong and well to-day. My life has been spared to my three children and I thank Doan's Pills are worth their weight in gold."

A LIFE SAVER TO MANKIND

is what Mr. George Benner, Wiarton, Ont., styles Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Not that I am at all fond of having my name put in public places, but as a life saver to mankind, I hereby state what Dr. A. W. Chase's K.-L. Pills did for me. For nearly four years I was greatly troubled with Constipation and general weakness in the kidneys, and in my perilous position was strongly advised to use Chase's Pills, and to-day I can safely and truthfully state that they have saved my life.

GEO. BENNER.

To all who find themselves with health gradually slipping away, Kidneys and Liver so disorganized that they are incapable of keeping the system free from poisonous waste material, Stomach Disordered, Bowels Constipated, Head Aching, Back Paining, take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. ALMOST A MIRACLE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 9th, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Co., Ltd., Ottawa:—

GENTLEMEN,—I hardly know how best to express my appreciation of your valuable rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline. My son Gordon, who is 9 years old, has been a sufferer from inflammatory rheumatism for the past two years; was so bad at times that he had to be carried about on a mattrass; was attended by two city doctors apparently without the slightest benefit; spent 10 days at Caledonia Springs, came home with no marked improvement; took three bottles of a Homeopathic remedy now being extensively advertised, which did not relieve him in the least. I was beginning to give up all hope of his recovery, when by chance I mentioned the case to a friend who strongly advised me to give Phrenoline a trial.

I did so, with the result that when my boy had taken only half a bottle he was able to get on his bicycle and ride like any other boy around the block.

I certainly feel that I cannot say too much in praise of your medicine, and shall do all I can to make known its value to others.

Yours very sincerely.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

A FOOT IN A HUNDRED.

Or Less Than Any Other Gradients of Railways Across the Mountains Are Those of Crow's Nest Pass.

Montreal, Oct. 31. — (Special.) — Sir William Van Horne said today that the maximum gradients on the Crow's Nest road from the main line at Duncairre to Robson, on the Columbia River, crossing both the Rocky and Selkirk ranges, would not be one foot in a hundred. In other words, the maximum gradients of the Crow's Nest are only about half of those of the other mountain lines in the United States and Canada. The president's attention was also called to the statement in the London press to the effect that a good portion of the C. P. R.'s increased earnings was made up of the freight taken over the Crow's Nest construction, and he replied as follows: "The statement is absurd, as the entire freight for the whole of the Crow's Nest line would be about covered by one average week's increase in earnings. The story was doubtless started by somebody interested in depreciating the stock." As for the rumored building of a smelter in Rossland or Robson, Sir William Van Horne said: "We intend to do all that is necessary to protect the interests of the country and the company in this regard."

He also declared that the C. P. R. were about to build a line of their own from Robson to Rossland, a distance of 28 miles.

A GRAVE SITUATION.

Threatened Strike of 3c Cotton Operatives in the North of England—705,000 Interested.

New York, Oct. 31.—A London despatch to The Sun to-day says:

"The industrial situation is the gravest yet reached. There is little prospect of a compromise in the engineering strike. Meantime the trouble in the cotton trade has reached a decisive point, and next week may see the beginning of another great war, involving 200,000 operatives, which will paralyze the greatest trade of the empire. The spinners and weavers will decide on Monday whether they will submit to the 5 per cent. reduction in wages which the employers declare the exigencies of the trade demand.

"The leaders of the operatives' unions are using their influence to secure a negative decision, coupled with an offer to curtail production. It is extremely doubtful if the manufacturers will accept the alternative, which, they protest, is altogether inadequate. They affirm, on the contrary, that a reduction of 10 per cent. in wages is necessary in order to make production yield any profit. In the present state of the market the reduction would have to be at that rate to insure a profit, but agreement with the operatives unions forbids more than a 5 per cent. reduction.

"A cotton operatives' strike on top of the engineers' strike would undoubtedly weaken the chances of success of the operatives of both trades. Public opinion, at the outset, will probably sympathise with the cotton operatives who will resist a reduction in wages. This sympathy will be short-lived, as soon as the facts regarding the cotton manufacturers' dilemma are fully understood.

"The engineers' battle is as good as lost, and, despite the uncompromising attitude of both sides, the men are seeking any honorable retreat from their demands, which, it is now clear, would destroy the engineering trade of Great Britain. Even the most prejudiced of the strikers are beginning to realize that the foreign contributions, which at first encouraged them, were ready designed to kill employment in their trade by taking advantage of the opportunity to seize foreign market.

The same situation, though in a less marked degree, is the secret of the trouble in the cotton trade. The operatives do not yet appreciate the facts, however, and a repetition of the terrible experience of four years ago may be necessary before the lesson is learned. The employers' federation is stronger to-day, and the struggle, if begun, will be the bitterest of all industrial wars. The immediate collapse of the engineering strike would do much to ward off a cotton trade struggle, but the engineers' society is the strongest trades union in the world, and will not surrender for a while yet."

A CUBAN MANIFESTO.

President Capote and His Colleagues Say Nothing Less Than Liberty Will Do Now.

Havana, Oct. 31.—Three proclamations were clandestinely circulated here yesterday, one of which, dated Sept. 20, is issued by the "President of the Republic of Cuba," Domingo Mendez Capote, and is countersigned by Gomez and Calixto Garcia. This document bears the imprint "El Cubano Libre, given at the free city of Cubitas." In it Signor Capote declares that the war for the independence of Cuba will end soon. He sums up as follows:

"Cuba cannot accept autonomy even in the ample form enjoyed by Canada and the Australian colonies. After our best chiefs and 150,000 persons indefensibly assassinated by Weyler, we will not offend their memory by surrendering to autonomy. Therefore, while rejecting the autonomy so lately offered by Spain, we do not believe it necessary to remind her that our laws punish as guilty of high treason all persons who come to the territory of Cuba Libre with overtures for the establishment of peace through autonomy."

Swallowed Carbolic Acid.

Mount Forest, Ont., Oct. 30.—Yesterday afternoon the wife of John Armstrong, a farmer residing in Egremont, about 7 miles from here, having had occasion to leave the house for a few minutes, was horrified on returning to find her one and a half year-old baby very ill. Everything possible was done for the child, but it died in a short time. It appears that during Mrs. Armstrong's absence her 4-year-old daughter, by means of a chair which she had placed on a table, had taken down from a shelf where it was left a small bottle containing carbolic acid, which she gave the baby to drink, with the results stated.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND ELECTIONS.

The Latest Election Returns Indicate That Whiteway Is Defeated.

St. John's, Nfld., Oct. 31.—The general election returns continue favorable to the Opposition. Trinity district has furnished the greatest surprise of the campaign. With 1360 votes already counted out of a probable ballot of 2000, the Premier, Sir William Whiteway, is 231 votes behind three Opposition candidates. His defeat and that of his colleagues are therefore probable.

HIS DRAMATIC DEATH.

Tributes to the Late Henry George The London Press 75,000 Persons at His Funeral

London, Oct. 30.—Commenting on the death of Henry George, The Daily Chronicle says: The news of the death of Henry George will come with deep sadness to millions throughout the civilized world. He died in harness, a victim to a herculean effort to rescue New York from the slough of corruption and misrule. He could himself have hardly chosen a better death. No better or sweeter man has lived for many a long year. Few will dispute that he was one of the most remarkable figures among modern reformers.

The Times, after alluding to the "rarity of such a dramatic death," says: Mr. George's influence was largely personal, and even if he had been elected, he would probably have disappointed his devotees. He was sincere, but he would have had no opportunity of carrying into effect his moral and social theories; while he would have been unable, through inexperience, to resist the steady pressure of "the workers" and "bosses."

The Standard says: "His dramatic end, however, has saved him the cruel disillusionment and chastisement he would have suffered if he had been elected."

In the early light of the morning the body had been moved in a plain hearse from the hotel to the Palace, unattended save by the guards of honor and four policemen. Behind the hearse came a single carriage. Annie George, the youngest daughter, had insisted upon accompanying the body to the Grand Central Palace, and Richard George, her brother, accompanied her to the Palace. There, with loving hands, she arranged the flowers as she would have them, and permitted no one to lend the slightest aid.

The doors were opened at 9 a.m., and immediately several hundred entered the hall with bared heads. They saw at the head of the hall, in an immense bower of floral tributes, a plain, heavy, black cloth-covered casket, resting on a frame-work draped in black. Through the glass they saw the great man's calm face. The left arm rested quietly on the breast, the other by the side. The body was clad in black broadcloth, a turn-down collar and a plain black tie.

For the first half-hour the throng filed up the hall in twos, passed at the rate of 1500 an hour, but the number swelled and grew until 80 passed in the minute. At the rate of 5000 an hour the crowd passed until the churches emptied their audiences into the vast concourse.

For the last two hours the crowd came at the rate of 6000 an hour.

At 3 o'clock the line was stopped, and those who could not get in were compelled to turn back and get out from the police lines. A careful estimate of the number who could not get in places it at 30,000. This number is equal to the number of those who passed the casket. Then another throng came, those who wished to hear the eminent divines, some of whom had opposed the idea, laud the man. During the last hour an orchestra played Chopin's Funeral March, Handel's Largo and "The Lost Chord."

MR. SIFTON AT THE PASSES.

The Minister Crosses the Summit Each Way.

A CANADIAN ROUTE IS NECESSARY

But the Details of the Aid Must First be Discussed at Ottawa Important Plans Bearing on the Future Development of the Country — Police Posts Established.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 1.—(Special)—Before leaving the Quadra, which arrived this evening from the Government Yukon expedition, the Minister of the Interior was kind enough to grant an interview on the Yukon country and the measures taken or suggested on the expedition for its administration. Mr. Sifton said: "On arriving at Skagway October 9th it was found, as was anticipated, that the arrangements for the transportation of supplies were in a very unsatisfactory condition. Inspector Harper with twenty men had succeeded in getting over the pass sufficient supplies to take him and his men to Dawson. Inspector Strickland had gone forward to Tagish with a couple of months' supplies to establish a post there. The remainder of the supplies, which had been forwarded from Victoria and Vancouver, were at the foot of the White Pass, with little probability of getting further.

"The following day Major Walsh and myself and Mr. Ogilvie, with half a dozen Indians and two or three others of the party started across Chilcoot Pass with a light camping outfit. We crossed in two days, establishing a camp twelve miles from Dyea and another at Lake Lindeman. On the way across we purchased pack horses and hired packers, sending them back with one of our men. Inspector Wood was left in charge of the first camp, with instructions as to the forwarding of supplies. The following day we went on to Lake Bennett, where we inspected the boats, made arrangements for the purchase of additional boats, placed under contract the building of a post and started for Tagish, which we reached two days later.

"At Lake Bennett we completed our arrangements, gave the necessary instructions to the officer there and proceeded over the White Pass to Skagway, which we reached on the afternoon of the third day from Bennett. We found that the arrangements we had made had in our absence been fairly well carried out, and the greater portion of the supplies and outfits were across the summit, the larger portion having gone by the Chilkoot Pass, and the remainder by the White Pass. On the following morning a party was despatched in charge of Inspector Starnes to escort Judge McGuire and Mr. Wade, clerk of the court. There were ten men in the party, and supplies for five months were in readiness on the other side of Chilkoot Pass to be taken with them. Our men were at Lake Lindeman with boats ready to start as soon as the Judge and Mr. Wade arrived."

"Why were they not sent on as soon as you arrived from Vancouver?"

"Because," replied Mr. Sifton, "it would have been imprudent to start the party on such a journey without the knowledge that arrangements had been made for their safety and the transport of the supplies required. When we left on Wednesday, October 20, it was with the certainty that everything was in order and facilities established for transporting their camp outfit and supplies. I have no doubt that the Judge and Mr. Wade may reach Dawson by December 1, and certainly not later than the 1st of January. The trip before them is a difficult and a trying one, but I do not expect them to experience any excessive hardship on the way.

"I left Major Walsh at Skagway closing up his arrangements prior to departing with the rest of the party for the interior. He probably left on the 23rd or 24th, and is now no doubt well on his way. It may not be understood that the most difficult portion of Major Walsh's duties for the next three months is not at Dawson City, but at the southern portion of the territory. No particular reason exists for his immediate presence at Dawson, although it is desirable that he should be there as soon as possible, but the establishment of police posts and their equipment and provisioning, together with the necessary instructions and plans of communication in the southern portion of the district is a most difficult task, involving for months an amount of labor and exposure during the early months of winter before it is accomplished. By going across the passes myself and down the lakes to Tagish I was enabled to gather personal knowledge of the difficulties our officers have to encounter and overcome in carrying out instructions form Ottawa. I also acquired a knowledge of the physical features of the country which it would be quite impossible for me to have acquired in any other way."

"Where are these police posts to be?"

"There is," replied the Minister, "a post already established at Tagish and one in course of erection at Bennett. Another will be established at or near the junction of Hootelanquia River and Lake Tealin, shortly afterwards a strong post will be established at Chilkoot, which is the beginning of Dalton's trail, a route that is practicable for cattle and pack horses during the summer, and would therefore be most likely to be adopted by those desirous of evading the law in one way or another. This post will be well equipped and manned with a sufficient number of men to guard effectually against any invasion of the law. While travelling through the country and coming in contact with those who know what is going on, I was more than ever impressed with the absolute necessity of the police and customs administration, as well as the administration of the mining laws being thoroughly provided for before spring opens.

"Will your program require more police?"

"Yes, it will be necessary, in my judgment, to send an additional number of police to the territory as soon as spring opens, in order to supplement the force there at present. This I do not judge to be necessary on account of any anticipation of trouble, because from my observation I am inclined to the view that people were going in above all things delighted that the Canadian Government intends to administer the law fairly and keep order. In a country, however, where conveyance and transport are so difficult a larger force is required than in a country where navigation is easy.

"What about railway construction and providing easier communication with the territory?"

"News from Dawson," replied Mr. Sifton, "informs us of recent discoveries of rich claims on Canadian creeks, which have been newly opened, and from a careful study of the information I have been able to glean from reliable sources I am convinced that there is an immense area of gold-bearing territory in this part of Canada awaiting the prospector. It is hardly to be expected that many deposits of gold, in such quantities as found on the Bonanza and Eldorado Creeks, will be discovered, but it is beyond question that hundreds and even thousands of miles of gold-bearing gulches, creeks and rivers in this territory will pay well for working if living can be made reasonably cheap and the conditions of life in that country ameliorated by an easy method of transportation for men and supplies. To make it profitable to work the creeks and rivers that are not excessively rich it is necessary that the country should be served by some improved method of transportation, and a good deal of my attention has been given to this question. The question of how far the Government will feel warranted in going in the way of expenditure must be discussed at Ottawa, but there will be no difference of opinion among the members of the Government as to the desirability, and, in fact, necessity, of a Canadian route and of the trade being directed into Canadian channels."

"You seem to regard the trade as of considerable importance?"

"Yes," responded the Minister, "and I might add that it is of the utmost consequence that merchants and companies desirous of securing a portion of the trade of the territory should prepare themselves properly for the competition which the will have to meet.

"Will there be any changes made in the Yukon mining regulations?"

"I have discussed very fully the question of mining regulations with Mr. Ogilvie, and it seems clear that the conditions of working creeks and gulches are such that mining regulations not apply here. It is likely that it will not apply here. It is likely that it will be necessary to group the alternate claims reserved by the Government. The question of the size of the claims may have to be reconsidered, and possibly some other points that have come forward. Upon these matters I have not formed any positive opinion, but they will be carefully considered, together with any representations that may be made to the Government on my return to Ottawa. Nothing that I have heard has in any way shaken my opinion as to the advisability of collecting a royalty and of reserving for the public benefit a portion of the mineral wealth of the country."

Mr. Sifton could not be led into expressing any opinion on the merits of the different routes into the Yukon.

Mr. Sifton leaves at daylight for Victoria, after which he will go to the Kootenay country and visit the Crow's Nest Pass.

STARS AND STRIPES

To be Hoisted in Dawson City in the Klondike

BY DARING YANKEE ADVENTURERS.

The Population of Dawson City is Such That They Think Such a Scheme May Succeed on Canadian Territory — At Any Rate They Would Scoop All the Good Things.

New York, Nov. 1.—The Sun to-day prints a letter from Juneau, Alaska, outlining what purports to be a raid into British territory and the capture of Dawson City. The letter bears the date, Juneau, Alaska, Oct. 21, and reads as follows: "In the same mail in which this letter goes there will go to Attorney-General McKenna at Washington warning of a wildcat filibustering scheme which, for daring, can be matched only to Jameson's raid on the Transvaal."

"It is nothing less than a plan to seize Dawson City in the name of the United States and open up the reserved claims for immediate operation. The story comes here from United States Commissioner J. N. Smith at Dyea, and it has general belief at that place. The United States Marshal has considered it of sufficient importance to notify the Washington authorities at once.

"Jones of Port Townsend, the newspaper man, who was the first man appointed United States Commissioner at St. Michael, and J. J. Rutledge, the United States Deputy Marshal at Circle City, are said to be the chief filibusterers. Jones did not get to St. Michael promptly on his appointment, and it was said at once that he had resigned. So Sheppard of Nebraska was appointed in his place. Both Jones and Rutledge are venturesome fellows, quite capable of conceiving and trying to carry out such a scheme.

"According to this story, Jones and Rutledge figure it this way: They mean to declare that the Klondike gold fields are in United States territory, taking advantage for that purpose of the fact that the boundary line has not been definitely declared, although they know as well as anybody else that the disputed part of the boundary line does not affect that territory. There are about 5000 miners in the Klondike region, and nearly all of them are United States citizens. They are very indignant at what they consider the oppression and unjust exactions of the Canadian mining laws.

"It is alleged that Jones and Rutledge propose, after all communication is cut off for the winter, to go to Dawson and formally hoist the Stars and Stripes, declaring that all the fields are on United States soil, and, therefore, open for entry. They rely on the hearty support of the 5000 American miners to overawe the few British Mounted Police and to defeat them if it comes to a question of fighting. They mean to declare martial law, with themselves as commanders and their gang of filibusterers as officials, and no one will be allowed to leave for the coast. In the meantime all the claims now reserved for the Crown will be located and worked to their full capacity. In this way millions of dollars' worth of dust will be taken out and secured before either Government can raise a hand to prevent it."

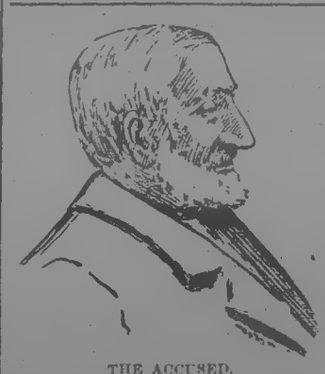
THE HUTON MURDER CASE.

Opening of the Inquest Last Night on the Body of the Alleged Murderer's Son.

Toronto, Nov. 2. — The Morgue was crowded last night when Coroner Greig opened the inquest regarding the death of John Huton, the tailor, who met death in his little shop at 21 Richmond-street east, on Saturday afternoon and whose aged father, James Huton, is charged with murder.

The old prisoner was at the inquest and on the advice of his counsel he refused to testify at this stage of the proceedings.

Barrister T. C. Robinette appeared for the prisoner and J. M. Godfrey was present to look after the interests of Mrs. Huton.



THE ACCUSED.

wife of deceased. Mr. Hartley Dewart was present on behalf of the Crown.

The witnesses examined were Policeman Charles Bell (122), who was called in before the murdered man died, Dr. Garratt and James Black, the man who went out for beer, just before the tragedy occurred. Mrs. Huton went on the stand for the examination in chief and her cross-examination will take place to-night.

The story told by all the witnesses was substantially that which was published yesterday. The defence expect, however, to make something out of Mrs. Huton's cross-examination.

James Huton, the prisoner, appeared in the Police Court yesterday morning and was remanded till Wednesday.

To Prevent Bike Colds.

An authority suggests the following way of preventing colds when riding: At this time of year, when the days are hot and the evenings cool, one often gets cold. A dose of ammonated quinine will cure this and throw it off, and will also, in wet weather, sometimes prevent a cold if taken after being caught in a shower.

How to Dismount

The safest way to dismount from a diamond frame is from the pedal. Keep the left foot firmly on the pedal, release the right from the toe-clip, if any, and as the left pedal arises allow the body to rise with it. Swing over the right foot, bringing it to the ground at the back of the left pedal, and slip out the left foot.

TUELDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1897.

THE MUD LAKE BRIDGE MATTER.

At the special session of the County Council last week, the matter of the re-construction and future maintenance of the Mud Lake bridge, came before that body for consideration, as indicated in the Warden's address, and the decision of the Council, as expressed in the adopted report of the Roads and Bridges Committee, was that the bridge was to be re-constructed according to the plans furnished by the County Engineer, at a cost of $10,000, subject, however, to certain conditions. These were: that the town of Peterborough contribute three-tenths of the cost of re-construction, and the township of Ennismore one-tenth, the county to pay the balance. These conditions also involved future maintenance, and in the event of these municipalities refusing to make the mentioned contributions, the report of the committee, which was adopted, recommended that the county take steps to abandon the bridge; consequently the action of the County Council in this regard has attracted the attention of the public to what seems to be the injustice and narrowness involved in the position assumed by the County council upon this question.

Why the county council should make such a demand upon the town of Peterborough, and expect compliance, is difficult to imagine. On the face of it, it may be claimed that Peterborough derives some benefit from the existence of this bridge and its maintenance; but that accidental circumstance does not fix any responsibility upon the town, whose evasion would justify the closing of the bridge. Peterborough town, as a separate municipality, occupies the same relation to the county in the matter of boundary bridges as any adjoining county, like Hastings or Victoria—a relation that is recognised by municipal and legislative authority and practice. The town has contributed, and is contributing, its share, to the extent that the law and practice demand, to the erection and maintenance of the county boundary bridges, represented by the Locks bridge, the Otonabee or Hunter street bridge, and, to a larger extent, the Smith street bridge. In this respect it has discharged its responsibility the same as the surrounding counties have done in relation to the erection and maintenance of county boundary bridges. But this circumstance does not impose any obligation upon the town to contribute to a purely county bridge, such as the Mud Lake bridge is, or to assist the county in relieving itself of the responsibility of erecting and maintaining such a structure.

There are, as will be seen below, some twenty-five county bridges in the county, which present, on principle, just as strong reasons why the county should require the town of Peterborough to contribute to their erection and maintenance as the Mud Lake bridge. They are nearly all, if not all, used to permit the residents of the townships to gain access to the county town and their natural market. Their presence is, of course, to the advantage of Peterborough, though in far less degree than to the townships, but it would be ruinous to the town on this account to recognize the principle of responsibility in respect of their construction and maintenance.

Under such conditions it seems a little difficult to understand why the county should insist in holding the town to responsibility in the matter of helping to erect and maintain a bridge which the county is bound to maintain. For it seems that the town is held to be under obligation to contribute, as shown by the decision to adopt, as the other part of the alternative, the policy of abandoning the bridge.

In respect to the position of Ennismore in the matter, similar ground exists for surprise at the attitude taken. This attitude assumed by the county seems to argue a limited grasp by our county council of the importance of our highways, and to imply a narrow conception of the relative responsibility of the township of Ennismore and the county in respect of the Mud Lake bridge. That township is not the only municipality benefitted by the existence of this bridge, and under the circumstances, the fact of one end of the bridge resting upon its shore does not impose any hard or fast obligation to contribute in a special or exceptional manner, an extra sum towards its re-building. The townships of Harvey and Galway use the Mud Lake bridge almost as much as the people of Ennismore, and it is as great a convenience to those townships in assisting them to reach their market, and as much of a necessity as it is to Ennismore. Besides, Ennismore has to bear the expense of keeping in order the road used by the people of the northern townships to reach the bridge in question. Therefore, if contributions are to be based on benefits, it would seem that the county council has overlooked its duty in not demanding a tenth or two of the cost of the new bridge from the townships of Harvey and Galway; one proposition is just as reasonable as the other and neither is fair.

But there are other reasons which, upon the principle of fair play, should restrain the county council from taking so exceptional an attitude towards Ennismore.

That township has paid its full share of the cost of construction of most of these bridges and of the maintenance of the whole thirty-six county and boundary bridges now standing in the county.

These bridges are as follows: Boundary bridges between Victoria and Peterborough:—three at Bobcaygeon, two of iron, one of wood; the Pigeon Creek Bridge, and one in Emily, near Fowler's Corners.

Boundary bridges between the town and county of Peterborough:—the Locks bridge, the Otonabee or Hunter street bridge and the Smith street bridge.

Boundary bridges between the counties of Hastings and Peterborough:—two Deer River bridges.

Boundary bridge between the counties of Northumberland and Durham and Peterborough:—Wallace Point bridge.

The purely county bridges are:—Mud Lake, Buckhorn, Burleigh, Young's Point, Lakefield and Nassau bridges in the north.

Over the Indian River the bridges are:—Keene, Keene Station, Lang or Allandale, Hope's bridge, Fife's bridge, Norwood Road bridge, Leahy's, the Indian River bridge on the boundary between Otonabee and Douro, Sullivan's, Burns', Warsaw, Warminster and Douglass bridges.

The bridges over the Ouse River are:—Steele's, Welbeck, Comstock's and Westwood.

The Belmont bridges are the Crow River, Preston's and Taylor's bridges.

In point of expense of maintenance, especially, the Gannon's Narrows Ferry, which is equivalent to a bridge, should be included in our long lists of county and boundary bridges, which altogether total thirty-seven, and of which the cost has been at least $100,000.

This formidable array of boundary and county bridges is cited to give emphasis to the fact that the township of Ennismore as well as Harvey and Galway, have contributed their full share to the erection, and still are liable to their full share of their future maintenance. And while other townships have had county bridges built by the score and paid for out of county funds, to which Ennismore, Harvey and Galway have paid their full share, one of these townships is asked to tax itself to the extent of a thousand dollars, simply because a county bridge that requires to be re-built, has one end resting on its shores, and in default of meeting this demand, the bridge is to be abandoned.

When we look at the numerous bridges throughout the county, many of them of as special benefit to adjoining townships as the Mud Lake bridge is to Ennismore, we do not see that these townships were asked to tax themselves specially for the purpose of helping to build a county bridge. Yet the principle is the same; the circumstances only vary. Ennismore wants only one outlet, but other townships have not been satisfied with one. Otonabee was not satisfied with one bridge, that at Hunter street, leading from Ashburnham, and in response to the appeal of this township, another county bridge was built at the Locks for her benefit.

Douro and Dummer were not satisfied with the Hunter street bridge at Ashburnham, but another county bridge must be built. The Smith street bridge is erected to give them two means of access to town.

Lakefield and a portion of Douro, were not satisfied with but one bridge, that at Hunter street, to reach the town, as with the bridges at Nassau and Smith street, but they must have a county bridge at Lakefield, which gives that village and a portion of Douro three county bridges for their convenience.

An iron bridge was built with county funds at Burleigh for the benefit of Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos.

County bridges to the number of sixteen have been built at the county expense over the Indian and Ouse Rivers, for the benefit of Otonabee and other townships, yet we hear of none of the specially favoured townships being asked to pay a special sum for the erection of a bridge.

Now, is it fair, is it just, under these circumstances, to ask Ennismore to tax itself specially for the erection and maintenance of the Mud Lake bridge? It would, it seems, be just as fair, to ask Otonabee to give a special bonus to the Locks bridge or the Hunter street bridge; or to ask Douro and Dummer to grant a special bonus to the Smith street bridge, for to ask Burleigh and the other townships to specially subsidize the Burleigh bridge, as to ask Ennismore, which has contributed its full share to the cost of all the bridges in the county and on its boundaries, to pay an extra thousand dollars or have the Mud Lake bridge closed. In review of all the circumstances recited; by no claim of justice or fairness, by no precedent or practice, or legal requirement, can the demand of a special contribution by Ennismore be justified. Nor can the obligation of the town of Peterborough to contribute be any better established.

The proposal to abandon, which would mean closing, the Mud Lake bridge, should not be entertained. This action would be to single out the township of Ennismore for specially hard treatment, which also seems to be unfair and injurious to Harvey and Galway. After it has paid out thousands to help to build other county bridges, for the benefit of other townships, who have been asked to only pay their share, though some of them have many bridges within their bounds and for their use and convenience, it seems unfair to deprive Ennismore, and incidentally Harvey and Galway, of the only convenient means of access to a market. Besides the action of abandoning the bridge would nullify to a very great extent, the expenditure of thousands of dollars that has been made to give certain townships access to market by way of the Mud Lake bridge. The Provincial Government and the township of Harvey have spent considerable sums in building a road through Harvey to Gannon's Narrows. The right of way was bought and the ferry established to shorten the journey of the farmers of Harvey and Galway and enable them to get to market without taking two or three days. The saving of distance by way of the Mud Lake bridge is on the average about 15 miles to the residents of these townships and a corresponding saving to the majority of the farmers of Ennismore.

The closing of the bridge would besides rendering very greatly useless the large expenditures made on the highways leading to it, be injurious to Ennismore in other ways besides lengthening their distance to market by twelve or fifteen miles. Not only would the township be shut off from easy access to its market and to the country south of the lakes, but difficulty of access to market would result in a reduced value of property and a reduced assessment, this would be a direct loss both to the owners of farms and also to the county which would, in the event of the closing of the bridge, stand to lose in a short time much more by a decreased county rate than the $1,000 which is required from Ennismore. Moreover the fact that investors of money and loan companies have placed loans upon the basis of the present valuation, which would be changed by the abandonment of the bridge, has to be considered in relation to its effect upon the people of the township interested. In view of the sacredness that attaches to the time honoured idea of keeping old established highways of travel open as thoroughfares; in view of the fact that the greatest prosperity of a community depends upon the nature of its facilities for reaching a market for its produce and in view of universally recognized ideas of the freest possible facilities for communication being a sine qua non to the highest, civilization it is questionable whether the closing of a long established highway will be as easy of accomplishment as a decision to that effect. In face of all the facts submitted it would seem no more than reasonable to ask the County Council to take a broad view of the matter and to consider the wisdom of revising their action of the last special session. Fair play and equitable dealing would indicate that such a course would be as advisable as it be popular with the fairminded portion of the public.

THIS TELLS THE WHOLE STORY.

A Hamilton lady restored to Health.

Mrs. A. Simpson spoke to our reporter as follows, at her cosy residence, 113 Locke St., Hamilton, Ont. Said Mrs. Simpson, "For the last two years I have suffered greatly from heart and nerve troubles, also pains in my head. My appetite was very poor, and I felt very miserable all the time, hardly able to do my household work. My heart was so bad that I frequently fainted away, and was liable to drop down at any place or time.

Sometimes my heart seemed to bound into my throat so that I thought I would smother. My rest was very much broken, and I grew quite discouraged after using so many medicines without relief.

When I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and procured a box at John A. Barr's drug store, and now after having used two boxes can say that I am completely cured. My appetite is good, indeed it seems as if I wanted to eat all the time. I sleep well and am thoroughly toned up. Truly I am better than I have been for many years."

FREE TRADE BENEFITS

Lord Rosebery Discourses on Them in Manchester.

"A MOST ILLUSTRIOUS AUTHORITY"

Is Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Who is Quoted as Sustaining the View That It is Free Trade Which Has Preserved and Consolidated the British Empire—Other Cable News.

Manchester, Eng., Nov. 1.—Lord Rosebery addressed a large meeting here this evening in connection with the centenary celebration of the Chamber of Commerce. He reviewed the history of free trade, elaborately eulogizing what he described as its "advantage to England."

Lord Rosebery contended that the condition of agriculture abroad, despite bounties and protection, was little better, and in some cases was worse, than in England. He quoted Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion Premier, as "a most illustrious authority, sustaining the view that it is free trade which has preserved and consolidated the British Empire."

He fully agreed with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, declared that any deviation from absolute political and commercial freedom would only weaken the bonds holding the Empire together, and said that "anything in the direction of an Imperial zollverein would weaken the empire internally and excite the permanent hostility of the whole world, already seriously exerted by British prosperity under free trade." He said he "would tread softly in the presence of the idea of a zollverein," for he believes it already dead. It behooved them to walk strongly and warily in the path of Empire, but such a zollverein would form a permanent menace of war.

ARBITRATION ACCEPTED.

Hopes for a Settlement in the British Cotton Trade Reduction Notice Not Withdrawn.

London, Nov. 1.—A meeting of the delegates to the Amalgamated Association of Cotton Operatives, the strongest body in the cotton trade, was held Sunday at Manchester, and confirmed the decision taken on Thursday last by the cotton operatives throughout the north of England to inform the employers that the proposed reduction in wages would not be accepted.

It was resolved that if the masters give formal notice of reduction, the association will take a ballot of the operatives as to the course to be pursued.

Later in the day, it was announced that the representatives of the employers and the delegates of the operatives had come to an agreement to submit to arbitration the proposition to reduce by 5 per cent. a month hence the wages of the cotton operatives.

TO SEARCH FOR ANDREE.

Norwegian Government Will Fit Out a Vessel to Start at Once.

Christiania, Nov. 1.—The Government has instructed the Governor of the Province of Tromsoe, the most northern province of Norway, to charter a steamer, at the expense of the state, to provision it for six months, and to send out a relief expedition for Herr Andree, the aeronaut, who ascended in his balloon, the Eagle, on July 11 last, from Spitzbergen, 400 miles northwest of the North Cape of Norway, in a proposed expedition to the North Pole. The relief steamer will start in three days from Tromsoe, on Tromsoe Island, off the north coast of Norway, and will proceed to Spitzbergen.

Surrendered to the British.

Simla, Nov. 1.—Saddu Khan and his brother, leading chiefs of the Maddakkels, have surrendered to the British. This is an important step in the settlement of the Tochi difficulty.

Serious Railway Collision in Germany.

Berlin, Nov. 1.—An engine collided to-day with a train at Ellenburg, on the Halle-Kottbus line, 15 miles from Leipsic. Twenty-nine persons were injured and of this number six persons may die.

Pain Will Help Her Colonies.

London, Nov. 1.—According to the Madrid correspondent of The Standard, the Bank of Spain has agreed to advance the Cuban Treasury 80,000,000 of pesetas and the Treasury of the Philippine Islands 30,000,000 on the guarantee of the Spanish Treasury.

Rhodes Had a Relapse.

London, Nov. 1.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Cape Town says that Mr. Cecil Rhodes, who has been lying seriously ill at Inyanga, but who was reported recovering, had a relapse a few days ago. It is now believed, however, that he will rally again and that he is out of danger.

Great Fire in London.

London, Nov. 1.—The extensive warehouses and stables of Carter, Paterson & Company, carriers, railway agents, forwarding and shipping agents, Goswell-road, London, were destroyed by fire this morning.

The Hankow Is Leaking.

London, Nov. 1.—The British steamer Hankow, from Antwerp for Montreal, before reported putting into Castletown Bear Haven, Ireland, leaking badly and with part of her cargo damaged, will proceed to Tail-of-the-Banks, on the Clyde.

Steamships in Collision.

Liverpool, Nov. 1. The British steamer Barnesmore, Capt. Richardson, from Montreal, Oct. 13, which arrived here yesterday, when docking damaged her stern by colliding with pierhead.

Stole a Fortune in Diamonds.

London, Nov. 1.—The store occupied by the Diamond Merchants' Alliance, on Piccadilly, this city, was broken into by burglars betwe n Saturday and Monday morning, and diamonds, etc., to the value of $75,000 were stolen. There is no clue to the identity of the thieves.

British Syndicate in Control.

London, Nov. 2.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Paris says: "A British syndicate has obtained sole control of the trade of the Soudan in exchange for the payment of an annuity to the Egyptian Government, and the defrayal of the expenses of military occupation. It will reconstruct and work the railway from Suakim, on the Red Sea, to Berber, on the Nile, the southernmost point reached by the Anglo-Egyptian expedition."

What Does Russia Mean?

London, Nov. 2.—The Times publishes a despatch from Seoul, capital of Corea, which says that the Russian Minister has forced the Corea Government to dismiss its English financial adviser and chief of customs, and to put a Russian in his place.

GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Although Returns are Not All in There is No Doubt of Sir William Whiteway's Defeat.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 1.—The Whiteway Ministry has been defeated in the general legislative election, and will probably resign by the end of the month. At the time this despatch is sent this evening the full returns have not yet been received, but there is no doubt that the Opposition has secured 19 out of the 36 seats. The Government has won in 11 districts. Six remain to be heard from, but the full returns will doubtless be in to-morrow.

Sir William Whiteway, the Premier, has been beaten by 852 votes in the Trinity district, which has furnished the great surprise of the campaign. Mr. J. P. Scott, the Receiver-General, was beaten by 700 in the Placentia district.

The Hon. H. J. B. Woods, Surveyor-General, was defeated by 400 votes in the Bay de Verde district, and in the Bonavista district, Mr. Tuet, the Medical Director, was defeated by 1000 votes. The only executive Cabinet officers remaining are the Hon. R. B. Bond, Colonial Secretary, who will probably carry Twillingate, and the Hon. E. P. Morris, Solicitor-General, who is making it in the St. John's district for Sir James Winter, the leader of the Opposition, carried the Burin district with a majority of two to one over his Ministerial opponent, and the Opposition majorities throughout the colony are in most cases very large.

AT THE CAPITAL.

Plans for the Improvement of Montreal Harbor—Child Severely Burned—Mr. Blair Ill.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—(Special)—As a result of the last conference between Mr. Tarte and the Harbor Commissioners, another plan for the improvement of the Montreal Harbor has been arranged. It provides for two projecting wharves to run 700 feet out into the river, each wharf to be 300 feet wide, with 300 feet width of water between it and the next wharf. Space is to be reserved for two additional projecting wharves of the same size when needed. The uppermost projecting wharf will be 1000 feet below the entrance to the Lachine Canal, the wharves being built on the lower level, so as not to exclude smaller craft. Along the whole front of the harbor the width of the longitudinal wharf (from which the projecting wharves stand out) will be 250 feet, giving ample room for railway tracks and switches along the whole front.

Horticulturist Craig Resigns.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—Mr. John Craig, horticulturist at the Central Experimental Farm, has resigned his post. Mr. Craig succeeded Mr. Hillborn five years ago and has done exceptionally good work in encouraging the cultivation of new varieties of fruit suited to the different portions of the Dominion, and in fighting fruit pests as they have appeared. It is said Mr. Craig's resignation is the outcome of a disagreement with the director as to the best way in which the horticultural branch should be conducted, Dr. Saunders' idea being that agriculture should receive more attention, while Mr. Craig holds that, while not neglecting arboriculture, fruit culture and development, from which better results are obtained, should receive more consideration.

Hon. S. A. Fisher recently received communications from Hon. J. H. Turner, Minister of Agriculture for British Columbia, with a view to obtaining the services of Prof. Robertson and one or more of his assistants to deliver a series of lectures on and make practical experiments in dairying for the benefit of the farmers in the province. The Minister has caused a favorable reply to be sent, and arrangements are being made for a lecturing staff to be sent to British Columbia as soon as possible.

Hon. F. Peters, ex-Premier of Prince Edward Island, arrived in this city last evening. He is on his way to the Pacific coast to arrange for the opening up of a law office in conjunction with Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper.

Hon. A. G. Blair returned to the city on Saturday, but is confined to the house with a touch of lumbago.

A child between 3 and 5 years of age, the daughter of Mr. Molviel, a market gardener, of Billings Bridge, was so seriously burned on Friday last that she died on Saturday.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 88, St. Henri, Que.

A BAD BLOWING UP.

Several Men the Victims of an Exploded Hoisting Engine in Quebec—One Dying.

Quebec, Nov. 1.—This afternoon at 4.30 o'clock a man named Donnelly, in charge of the hoisting engine of Messrs. George M. Webster & Co., discharging ballast out of the barque Hurona, which arrived here from Belfast yesterday, found that his engine had got out of running order. He sent for the chief engineer of the company, named Nazaire Cantin, of Levis, Que., who, immediately upon his arrival, commenced working the rods backward and forward on the defective machine, when, without a moment's warning, the engine exploded, knocking him quite a distance, and when picked up it was found that he had a hole in his head fully the size of a man's hand. He was immediately removed to the hospital, but not the slightest hope is entertained of his recovery. The main body of the engine made three bounds, landing about 75 yards from the spot on which it was originally standing, while the deck of the vessel is literally covered with fragments of the wrecked engine, and it is impossible to think how any of the persons who were on the deck of the vessel were not killed or seriously injured.

One loaf of bread may be light, sweet and digestible. You may use the same materials for another and have it heavy, sour and soggy. The knack is in putting the ingredients together just right. A substitute for Scott's Emulsion may have the same ingredients and yet not be a perfect substitute, for no one knows how to put the parts together as we do. The secret of "how" is our business—twenty-five years of experience has taught us the best way.

THAT ILLICIT STILL.

THE CASE TAKEN UP BY MAGISTRATE EDMISON.

Witnesses Being Examined in the County Police Court—The Defendant Fobert Does not Appear.

The "illicit still" case was taken up this morning by Magistrate Edmison. The defendant, Michael Conway, and his counsel, Mr. D. O'Connell, were in attendance. Constable Cochrane reported that the defendant, Alphonse Fobert, could not be found. The case, therefore, proceeded as against Conway, he being charged with allowing the still to be on his premises.

Mr. J. J. Hall, of the Inland Revenue Department, testified that he issued the licenses for this district for the manufacture of liquor. None had been issued to the defendant.

High County Constable Cochrane stated that he and Inspector Floody had found the portion of the still which was produced in Court in the remains of an old brick shanty on Conway's lot, in a swamp. A keg partially filled with "potheen," which was also produced, had been found about four rods south of the shanty. This was on September 16th last.

conveyed spring water into the hut. Himself, Floody and the defendant were present at the time. Conway led the way to the place. He had been asked about the shanty and requested to take the two officers to it. He proceeded very slowly along the path, turning into a number of smaller ones and apparently looking for tracks. Witness then told him to go straight to the spot as otherwise he, himself, would go ahead, as he had a plan. There was no real difficulty in finding the way. When the shanty was reached some piping was there which had been partially destroyed by fire. The defendant stated that he did not know whose land the shanty was on. He built it. He cut the timber about it. He had never been prosecuted for cutting timber on other people's land. He stated to Mr. Floody that he had been to the shanty twice before with Alphonse Fobert. On Sept. 30th the defendant came to witness' house, stating that he had found the "worm" or the missing portion of the still. He promised to bring it in that night. He had not done so.

When cross-examined by Mr. O'Connell witness who the informer in the case was, and considerable discussion ensued, Mr. O'Connell holding that a decision in such a matter had been given quite recently in Toronto, when Inspector Archibald was compelled to give up the name of an informant, and a case for malicious prosecution followed.

REFUSED TO STATE

The witness stated that if he gave the name of his informant his usefulness as an officer would be destroyed. The information and a plan of the premises was given him. It was not given him by Mr. Fobert.

The question was allowed to stand in abeyance as to who gave him the plan and the information. He received the information in the spring and communicated with Mr. Floody, Inland Revenue Inspector. On going to defendant's house defendant denied all knowledge of the still. He was told to go ahead and show it, as otherwise they would hunt it out themselves. They knew it was there. No threat or inducement was made. An old stove was found and the hoops of three or four barrels, and some ten gallon kegs. He had been back there since looking for the "worm." He had not found it. When with the defendant Mr. Floody and the witness had questioned him closely about the still for over half an hour. No inducement or threat had been made for any information which was given. He did not warn the defendant that anything he said would be used against him.

The court then adjourned for luncheon to resume at two o'clock.

The case is still in progress.

THE LATE JOHN MOLONEY.

In the death of Mr. John Moloney, one of the representatives in the county council of the Lakefield Division, one of the most prominent members of that body and one of the foremost residents of the East Riding of Peterborough passed away, at the age of 57 years.

Mr. Moloney's death is something in the form of a surprise. His illness was not of long duration and it will come as a surprise to many that the robust frame and active vitality of John Moloney should so soon succumb to the hand of disease. On Thursday, Oct. 28th, he paid his last visit to town. On his return home that day he was attacked with illness—paralysis of the right side. He was, however, able to be about a little on the following Saturday, but his symptoms became severer, and death closed the scene last night.

The late Mr. Moloney was a native of the township of Douro, where he was born in January, 1840. He was a son of the late Roderick Moloney, who came to Douro in 1825. When he came to man's estate, Mr. Moloney settled on lot 8 on the 8th concession of Douro. He married a daughter of the late Michael Costello of Ennismore, who was also a sister of Mr. Daniel Costello, at one time reeve of that township. To this issue several children were born, of whom two sons and three daughters survive him as well as his wife, his brother Daniel and Thomas both of Douro.

Mr. Moloney was a man of more than usual natural ability, force of character and public spirit and his abilities found an outlet in his devotion to municipal affairs especially. He has been an active figure in municipal matters for the past twenty-seven years, having entered the council of Douro as deputy-reeve in 1870. He became reeve in 1874 and has since continously represented that township in the council and county council. During all this long period his ability and faithfulness as a representative were so fully and promptly recognized that he was elected year after year by acclamation; as a matter of fact he was only opposed by a candidate twice and on both occasions unsuccessfully—once for deputy and once for reeve. In the county council he was recognized as a man of uncommon ability and grasp of public affairs. He occupied positions on several important committees, was chairman of the Committee on Schools in 1882, and after occupied the high position of the warden's chair for the year 1883, he became the chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee the following year, a position he continuously occupied for thirteen years, or till the time of his death. In this capacity he showed a thoroughness and ability of administration that fully justified the council in retaining him in that position. Members of the council and reporters who have long been present at the county council meetings, will remember that on the last day of the session, when the reports are presented to the council, Mr. Moloney, who invariably occupied a seat at the left of the warden, was also invariably the first to present his report—that of the Roads and Bridges Committee. Mr. Moloney was held in high respect among his fellow members of the county council, not only for his ability and grasp of public questions, but for his unvarying courtesy and geniality. His jest was free and his hearty laugh will not be one of the least pleasant memories of the warm-hearted and jovial member from Douro. But though in moments of relaxation he unbent, yet when business demanded his attention he was all business, and he particularly distinguished himself when matters of grave moment came up for consideration. As a layman he was exceedingly well versed in municipal law, especially as it related to his special department.

Mr. Moloney was not only active in municipal matters but he was always to the fore when the welfare of the people and the advancement of the public welfare were concerned. His father was trustee for school section No. 3 for twenty-three years. He was succeeded by his son who occupied the office continously till the the time of his death—25 years. Mr. Moloney was a member of the Patrons of Industry, actively associated with the cheese industry, a member of the Farmer's Institute, and he was always active in all ways in the interests of the public good. He was a zealous Roman Catholic in religion, and was chairman of the building committee of St Joseph's church during its erection and to the time of his death maintained his warm interest in the welfare of the parish.

Mr. Moloney was very highly respected in his native township, both in his public and private capacity. He was noted as a good neighbour, and for his charity. No person, no matter of what religion or nationality, ever came to his door, wanting help, to be turned empty away. Mr. Moloney was a staunch Conservative in politics, and was, on two occasions, urged to become a candidate for the representation of the East Riding in the Local Legislature, but he found sufficient field for the exercise of his activities in the domain of municipal politics and home affairs.

Mr. Moloney was a man, who, in respect of his abilities and sterling qualities of character, was well worthy of the high respect in which he was held throughout the county of Peterborough, and his death at a comparatively early age will be very generally and deeply regretted.

The funeral takes place to-morrow at 8.30 from the family residence to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery, where the bones of his father and friends are laid. Requiescat in pace.

REMOVED HIS FOOT.

Mr. A. P. Morgan was Operated upon this Morning at the Hotel.

Mr. A. P. Morgan was operated upon this morning between ten and eleven o'clock by Drs. Young, McCullagh and Moher, and his leg amputated just above the ankle.

Gangrene had set in, and as the foot continued to turn black, it was thought that the safest course to arrest the progress of the disease was to have the operation performed.

Mr. Morgan bore up well under the trying operation and is doing quite as well as could be expected. He will have the sympathy of his many friends in his misfortune.

BARRETT DISCHARGED.

The Charge of Obtaining Goods Under False Pretences Dismissed.

John Barrett, who was arrested, charged with obtaining goods from Gough Bros. under false pretences on a time check on Brown, Love & Aylmer, was discharged at the Police Court this morning, the magistrate holding that the contractors owed the prisoner the full amount of the time check—$26.01.

Payment of the check was refused by the contractors when it was presented to Gough Bros., there being a board bill sent in before the check was presented. As the board bill was not owing the contractors, but an outside party, the magistrate held that the full amount of the check was therefore due Gough Bros., and the case was dismissed.

AUBURN POWER CO GRANTED EXEMPTION.

THEY CAN ERECT THEIR POLES ON THE STREETS FREE OF CHARGE.

Town Solicitor Edwards Instructed to Add the Toronto Loan & Savings Co. to the Defendants in the Moncrief Case in Accord With Suggestion of Judge Armour.

Although not a great deal of business was transacted last night at the meeting of the town council, yet the session lasted until almost eleven o'clock.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received and referred as follows:

From E. B. Edwards, re Moncrief vs. Peterborough, as follows: I attended on the argument of the appeal in this case before the Divisional Court on the 12th and 13th inst. On the opening of the court on the second day, Chief Justice Armour stated that there being some ground for the view that the owners of the building who leased to Mr. Fairweather were liable for the maintenance of the area or opening under the sidewalk, which was used as an entrance to their building, the Company should be brought before the Court in order that the matter might be fully dealt with. The other Judges concurred with him in directing that notice of the appeal should now be served upon the Toronto Savings and Loan Company for the sittings of the Court, to be held on December 6th. I shall be glad, therefore, if you will bring the matter before the council, and that I may be instructed by them if they deem it advisable to act in accordance with the directions of the Court.—Received.

From T. Warren, stating that his boy had been hurt by the town roller and asking that a doctor's bill of $25.00 be paid.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

From E. B. Edwards, stating that Ormond & Walsh were suing for $200 damages for the causing of the surface water to flow into the cellar.—Referred to the Legal Committee.

From the chief of police, asking for winter trousers for the force.—Referred to the Committee on Supervision of Police.

From Wm. Breckenridge, asking for the remission of a fine of $5.00.—Received.

From the town treasurer, stating that the receipts to date were $33,571.15 and the payments $32,402.72. The town account is overdrawn $32,238.96.—Received.

From Joseph Downing, Auburn, asking for a crossing.

On motion of Councillors Meldrum and White the inspector was instructed to put the crossing down.

From Peter Corbett, asking for a refund of $20.00 on his license.—Granted.

From Edmison & Dixon, re the Wilkins claim, and giving the town until October 27th to settle the matter.—Received, Councillor McWilliams stating that the matter would probably be amicably settled.

From J. W. Leonard, General Superintendent C.P.R., re the Wolfe street dispute.—Received.

From the Water Co., stating that the board could not arrange to have pipe laid across the river to Auburn.—Received.

From Thos. Henry and twenty two others, asking to have an electric light placed on Sherbrooke street at the western limit of lot No. 5.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From M. A. Morrison, secretary of the Charlotte street church Board, enclosing a resolution endorsing the proposition to erect a House of Refuge.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

From the Children's Aid Society, enclosing a resolution to the effect that the town be urged to establish a House of Refuge. — Referred to the Finance Committee.

From W. H. Moore, on behalf of the Henthorn estate, asking asking permission to erect a story and a half brick barn in place of a wooden one already existing. —On motion of Councillors Meldrum and Denne, the matter was referred to the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

Moved by Councillors Best and Denne, that the bylaw now in force be amended restricting owners of property on Hunter street, west of George, from building any less than three stories, by allowing to build not less than a full two-story building with metal roofing.—Referred to the Street and Bridge Committee.

A deputation from the Woman's Benevolent Association was received, consisting of Mrs. James Kendry, Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Mrs. Roger, Mrs. McPherson, Miss Clarke and Mrs. (Dr.) Burnham.

Mrs. Kendry inquired of the council as to what steps had been taken by the council in regard to furthering the project concerning the establishment of a House of Refuge. The ladies had busied themselves and had ascertained that two houses could be rented which would be suitable for the purpose—one on George street and one on Aylmer, at a rental of $150 a year. These would do as a temporary shelter.

It was explained that nothing had been done as yet, the whole matter to come up for consideration at a meeting of the Finance Committee.

Miss Clarke, in addressing the members, mentioned two houses on Chamberlen and Albert streets which she had visited, and where the squalor and infamy were such that, she was sure, if the conditions were known to the council a moment would not be lost in removing the children from them. The surroundings were such that they would contaminate not only a family but a whole neighbourhood. One was a girl of fifteen in these vicious surroundings, and there was no place to put her even if she was taken from them. There was also a family in Lakefield which was reduced to great straits.

Councillor Dawson did not think it would be fair to the town ratepayers if children were taken from the surrounding towns.

Miss Clarke explained that in such cases the municipalities from which the outsiders come would contribute towards their support.

Councillor White asked what it would cost to run the institution.

Mrs. Kendry stated that it was thought $400 a year, exclusive of rent, would be sufficient.

Councillor Neil thought that the Finance Committee of the town council could estimate the cost when considering the matter, and moved the the ladies be invited to attend a meeting of the council in Committee of the Whole in order that a scheme might be formulated jointly to obtain the end desired.

Mrs. Kendry reminded the council of how deeply the ladies were concerned in the matter. About three years ago she and Mrs. Beck had appeared before the council urging that three young girls be rescued. No steps had been taken, and in consequence they had drifted from bad to worse, until one of them was sent to the Mercer Reformatory a few weeks ago. The others were following in her footsteps.

It was arranged that the committee meeting be held on Thursday evening next.

THE SEWERAGE COMMITTEE

reported as follows through its chairman Councillor Best.

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Sewerage Committee beg leave to report and recommend that that in all cases where persons applying to have their premises connected with a town sewer shall have made or shall make a deposit of more than $1.00 in excess of the actual cost of making said connection as shown by the engineer's statement, that the treasurer be instructed to return to the persons who made the deposit any balance in excess of the said $1.00 and actual cost.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. BEST,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT

Committee reported as follows, through the chairman, Mr. White.

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENNTLEMEN,—Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

1. That no action be taken on the application of the Peterborough Light and Power Company to exempt that company from rental for their poles on the streets.

2. That John Montgomery be granted two weeks holidays and that he be furnished with a pair of rubber boots.

3. That Ernest Lawrence be paid for two weeks of the time that he was off duty while sick, in lieu of holidays, and that the amount paid for a substitute be deducted from his salary in two instalments, half from his October salary and half from his November salary.

4. That the chairman of this committee and the chief of the Fire Brigade be appointed a deputation to visit a few cities and towns to enquire into systems of fire alarm and their cost, and that the treasurer be authorized to pay the expenses of the deputation.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

J. M. WHITE,
Chairman.

The report was adopted on motion of Councillors White and Davis.

THE COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

reported as follows through the chairman, Councillor McWilliams:

To the Mayor and Council of the Town of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee of the Whole Council beg leave to report and recommend as follows:

That the drivers in the fire hall be requested to sign a new agreement to obey the orders and instructions of the street inspector when they are engaged outside the fire hall on work for the street and bridge department.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. B. MCWILLIAMS,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Councillor Dawson asked for a crossing to be laid in front of J. J. Lynch's store.

Councillor Robertson stated that a couple of new houses had been erected on Bethune street south of Dalhousie and he asked for a sidewalk to be built in front of them.

Both matters were left in the hands of the Street and Bridge Committee with power to act.

MUD LAKE BRIDGE.

Councillor McWilliams stated in reference to the Mud Lake bridge, that he thought the County Engineer was too high in his estimate when he placed the cost of reconstruction at $10,000. Mr. Trennum, who had built the first bridge across the lake at $1.25 per foot, and had also built the Pigeon creek bridge, was willing to undertake the work again at $1.50 per foot. If the committee would look around they could get timber for the work at a cost of probably 5 cents, instead of 8 or 9. Another matter which should also be considered was the filling in of two approaches for several hundred feet, and the building of two large piers in the centre of sufficient stability to withstand the action of the ice in the spring.

Councillor Best urged that if the county was willing, as he had heard, to take a lump sum of, say, $5,000 from the town and maintain the bridge for evermore, he would favour that proposition.

Councillor Denne held that the town would not have to contribute towards the maintenance anyway.

It was decided to take no steps in the matter until such time as the county council communicated with the town council, stating what proportion they wished the town to pay.

POLE TAX EXEMPTION.

Councillors Robertson and Leplante brought in the bylaw providing for the exemption of the poles of the Auburn Power company, to be read for the third time.

Councillor McWilliams objected to the passage of the bylaw holding that it was in direct contravention of an agreement with the Peterborough Light and Power Company, which was charged $400 a year for the privilege of putting in its poles, on the understanding that all other companies operating in a like manner in town and using poles should be taxed the same amount. This provision should have been made in the by-law which was passed, imposing the tax. Another reason, he stated, why no change should be made in the by-law was that the town could ill afford to throw off $800 of its revenue in a year such as this when such close calculations were being made. When the by-law was passed some clauses should have been inserted whereby a certain scheudule of rates should be charged for power to manufacturers in town. If the tax was thrown off such an arrangement should certainly be made in order that encouragement could be extended to new manufacturers to locate here. If no such provision was made, the companies would be in a position to charge as high a rate for power as they pleased and this should not be the case when they were getting valuable franchises from the town.

Councillor Meldrum stated that the Manufacturers' Committee had thrashed the question out well and had decided that if the pole tax was thrown off the companies would be able to offer a much cheaper rate to manufacturers. The Peterborough Light and Power Company was not in a position to provide more than 15 or 16 horse power more whilst the new company could already provide 200 horse power. Cheap power in a town would attract numerous small industries, but if this tax of $400 a year were imposed there would be no cheap power for Peterborough, as the Auburn company would simply abandon their enterprise and turn it over to be run by the Canadian General Electric Company, to be run by it as a private enterprise for its own use. If the Auburn Company went into the lighting business, as well as furnishing power, they would be willing to do business under the same conditions, but as they only intended to supply power, and cheap power was badly needed, he could not understand why the company should be taxed for wishing to supply it.

Council Meldrum also stated that he owned not a cent's worth of stock in the Auburn Power Company, but was interested in it as being the manager.

Councillor Dawson—Is it true that the Peterborough Company when charged a tax simply added on the amount of the tax to the sum which they were charging the town for lighting the streets?

Councillor Best—Yes; they submitted their figure for lighting the town, and when told of the tax, added the amount to the first figures submitted.

Councillor Dawson—Then we are receiving no taxes at all from them?

Councillor McWilliams wanted to have some conditions imposed in granting the exemption, in regard to the rate which would be charged. He had heard that the old company could give power for twenty-four hours cheaper than the future company could for a ten hour service.

Councillor Meldrum replied that the old company was not in a position to furnish any more power, and if the new company was not granted exemption it would cut off the power from both his mill and Mr. McAllister's.

The yeas and nays being called on the passage of the by-law, exemption was granted to the Auburn Power Company on the following vote:

Yeas — Councillors Best, Leplante, Robertson, Neill, Davis, Dawson, and Meldrum—7.

Nays:—Councillors Cobb, Denne, McWilliams and White—4.

THE MONCRIEF CASE.

Town Solicitor Edward's letter on the Moncrief case was then taken up. Councillor McWilliams moved, seconded by Councillor Cobb "That Mr. Edwards be instructed to act in accord with the instructions of the judge." He stated that he had held from the start that the landlords should be made a party to the suit. Mr. Fairweather had been willing to make a settlement of the case and the Toronto Savings and Loan Company had stood in the way so the Council would not be doing its duty if it did not act under the suggestion given by the Judge. Unless there had been good ground the Judge would not have asked this.

Councillor Davis stated that when the Judges had asked to have the Toronto Savings and Loan Company brought in, Mr. Edwards had not stated that they had been put on the defense and exonerated by the County Judge. As a director of the company and a party interested, he had not spoken before but now after having gone through on trial and being exonerated and simply because the judges in Toronto had not heard of this, he was going to object. If the landlords were made a party to the suit additional costs would be entailed as they would carry the case to the highest court in the land before it would be dropped.

Councillor McWilliams stated that Councillor Davis must know very little about law if he thought the judges in Toronto were not fully conversant with the previous judgment and had not pondered well the evidence.

Councillor Davis moved that in view of all the facts the case be now dropped.

After considerable discussion a vote was taken, resulting in Councillor McWilliams' motion being carried.

On motion of Councillors Cobb and Denne the reporters were invited to attend committee meetings in future.

The council then adjourned.

The World's Favourites for Dyeing Light, Medium and Heavy Goods.

Diamond Dyes do a range of work far beyond the possibilities of soap grease and crude package dyes. The common dyes on the market are deceptive in character and composition; they are made to sell, not to give guaranteed satisfaction. The majority of the colours of soap grease and crude package dyes are so weak that they will hardly stain the hands. Diamond Dyes give colours to light, medium and heavy materials that are as fast as a rock, and last as long as the goods hang together. The heaveat tweeds and cloths can be dyed with Diamond Dyes. Soap grease and imitation dyes dare not attempt such work, because the colours are not sufficiently penetrating and powerful.

If you desire success in the dyeing operation, and wish to save money, use Diamond Dyes for home dyeing. All up-to-date dealers sell Diamond Dyes and strongly recommend them.

Purest and Best for Table and Dairy

The enemy is coming: To the fort for your lives!" When a wise man receives a plain warning of danger, he does not wait to let it overtake him; he seeks every reasonable means to fight it off.

Disease would almost never get the best of the average man if he was prepared to resist it, and took the natural precautions dictated by common sense.

When a man's stomach and liver get upset and fail to do their regular work, he can be certain that something worse is bound to follow, if he doesn't look out for himself. Headaches, indigestion, biliousness and constipation are simply Nature's warnings that the enemy of serious disease is coming to attack him.

The sensible thing to do is to immediately fortify the system with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It vitalizes and invigorates the entire constitution. It helps the liver to filter out all bilious impurities.

It gives the digestive and nutritive organs power to extract nourishment from the food and turn it into rich, red, healthy blood. It creates appetite, good digestion, and solid, muscular strength.

It is far superior to the mere temporary stimulus of malt-extracts. It is better than cod liver oil emulsions because it is assimilated by the weakest stomach.

"About fifteen years ago" writes Mr. John McMichael, editor of the Plattsburg, (Mo.) Leader, "I was in very poor health, had no appetite, was sluggish, and so lifeless it seemed impossible for me to do anything that required effort. Every fall and spring this ill-health seemed to affect me particularly. A friend advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery asserting that it would restore me to perfect health, and make 'a new man' of me. Finally he induced me to try the medicine. I weighed at the time about 125 lbs. I used several bottles, and upon quitting it weighed 178 lbs. Since that time my weight has varied from this to 195 pounds.

A sure and permanent cure for constipation is Dr. Pierce's Pellets. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic.

MRS. BARNES RESIGNS

Big Meetings of the W.C.T.U at Buffalo Close of the Convention

Buffalo, Nov. 1.—Miss Willard likened the meetings of the W.C.T.U. convention to kalidescope. The simile was a good one. First there were introductions and congratulations and the presentation of flowers; there were bottles of all kinds and for all condition of circumstances, and there were music and touching little addresses and much else that goes to make a woman's happy meeting.

The morning session was devoted to the reception of reports from superintendents. In the afternoon Miss Agnes Slack and a number of other visitors made pleasant little speeches and brough greetings from the countries and special departments.

The last business of the afternoon was to send a petition to Georgia and Virginia asking the Legislature of those States to assist the temperance women in their endeavors to introduce scientific temperance instructions into the schools.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Francis J. Barnes, general secretary of the Y branch, resigned her position. The announcement came as a complete surprise to the convention. Mrs. Barnes has had charge of the Y work for twenty years and is greatly beloved by all the officers and members of the Union. Her resignation was given because Miss Willard wishes her to go abroad to take charge of W. C. T. U. work in Europe. Mrs. Ella A. Boole, of Staten Island, has been elected by the executive committee to succeed Mrs. Barnes. She is a young woman and a fine lecturer, and is also a great favorite with the National. The delegates were glad of her appointment, but were so grieved to lose Mrs. Barnes that it was difficult to give her the applause they wished. The closing minutes of the session were very affecting.

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

Beaver Line Will Get the Contract—Government Aid for Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—The contract for carrying the British mails is as good as settled, and the Government will likely accept the offer of the Beaver Steamship Line, which is to run a weekly service from St. John, N.B., to Liverpool, making Halifax a port of call. This will comply with the terms asked for by the Government, the terminus of the company being at a Canadian port.

The Beaver Line will, of course, get the full subsidy which the Dominion and Allan Lines lose in refusing to make their terminus a Canadian point.

The "Washington-of-the-North" Committee has presented a memorial to the Premier asking that the Government contribute to meet the requirements of the city as the capital of the Dominion.

HAYTI AND GERMANY

Serious Trouble Said to be Brewing—German Consul Hauls Down His Flag.

Port Au Prince, Hayti, Nov. 1.—Serious trouble has arisen between Hayti and Germany. The German Minister to this republic, Count Schwerin, has hauled down his flag and, according to current report, three German warships are expected here to back up the ultimatum of that minister to Hayti demanding an indemnity for the alleged illegal arrest and imprisonment of a German citizen named Lindes.

The affair has caused considerable excitement among the native population, and loud threats have been uttered against the Germans.

ANOTHER BANK ROBBERY

Giles & Co. of Teeswater, Lost Two Thousand Dollors.

Teeswater, Nov. 1.—The private bank of Giles & Co. was robbed on Saturday. There were two explosions at short intervals, the first one probably blowing open the vault door and the second one blew the safe door completely off and forced it through the vault door, which was probably closed to deaden the noise. The burglars secured $2,000, $100 in gold being overlooked. They are supposed to have gone towards Wingham.

FLOGGING IN TRANSVAAL

The Transvaal Government undertakes to pay to each native flogged the sum of £25 as compensation, to refund the fines imposed, and to pay the costs of the litigation.

The result was fatal. The baby died in great agony.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

ENGLISH TORIES HOPELESS

The Barnsley Election a Triumph of Trades Unionism and Socialism.

New York, Nov. 1.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables to the Tribune from London the following regarding the political outlook in Great Britain: "English Liberals have increased their majority in Barnsley, which is a mining district, where the Employers' Liability Bill was expected to help the Unionists. It has done this, and the Tory coal owners will be convinced that Lord Londonderry was right in condemning that measure as a political blunder. The election was really a triumph of trades unionism over Socialism, as represented in the canvass of the third candidate. Three other by-elections are close at hand, and the Liberals are hoping confidently for fresh signs of a popular revival of their cause, of which Sir William Harcourt will inevitably make much in his approaching visit to Dundee. Mr. Chamberlain, meanwhile, is preparing for an academic address this week before the Glasgow students. His subject is 'Patriotism,' and it will be treated in the spirit of the new Imperialism, and not in the manner of Johnson's satirical definition of it."

Vicar-General Kelly Interprets its Meaning to His Flock.

Kingston, Ont. Nov 1.—At all the masses in St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday Vicar-General Kelly, Archbishop Cleary's secretary, by request interpreted the meaning of His Grace's mandate in regard to Catholics attending Protestant funerals. Catholics are allowed to go as far as the church door or cemetery gate, but cannot participate in the ceremonies at the graveyard or church. The mandate had no reference to offences committed before its publication. The social relations are the same as they always were, and have not been interfered with in any way.

PACED BY A SKATER.

EARL REYNOLDS MAKES HOT TIME FOR A RACING CYCLER.

Other Sensations in the Wheeling World, With Some Sensible Remarks on Saddles, Wheels, Cleaning, Etc. — The Smith Invention.

Will the bicycle skate force the bicycle itself into second place? Thousands of wheelmen are wondering if the race between Earl Reynolds and his skates and Charles J. Fox on his bicycle is indicative of a new era for the wheel.

There are many who believe that skating will resume its old-time popularity. The new ori seems to be that of a new combination roller and bicycle skate, says The New York Journal. H. S. Sielke, European expert in the art of bicycle skating, is now visiting in this country with a view of possible engagements.

Earl Reynolds, the champion skater, tells of his race on skates at Bath Beach against the wheel as follows:

"It was only a quarter of a mile, and it is very hard to get your best speed in that short distance, but I made up my mind that when we got the word to go I would show what I could do and incidentally show Fox the way. They gave me a start of twenty yards, which was really a good deal more than I needed, and at no time was Fox within reaching distance.

"I heard the people cheering, but I could not tell whether they were cheering Fox or me. I knew that I was in the lead, but it seemed to me that there was a chance at all times that Fox might be coming up on me. In a second, however, when I realized that I was not being caught, I felt that the victory was mine.

"As I neared the end of the course I pulled myself together for one grand finish. I made up my mind that I would make a record right then and there, or never try again. The blood came to my head and then I was as cool as possible. Nothing could be seen of Fox. A second more and I went across the line. Fox came in presently.

"I do not pretend to be a prophet, but basing my judgment on experience and mechanical knowledge of speed getters, I look for some marvellous results from continued experiments with the bicycle skate."

Speed Without Loss of Power.

The new "power transmitter," at present only applied to bicycles, is located at the hub of the rear wheel. The ordinary chain passes over at the rear wheel on what answers the same purpose as the ordinary small sprocket wheel. The sprockets of this wheel are loose, and are really a part of a large sprocket wheel. The latter consists of parallel disk wheels attached to the hub of the wheel. Resting upon the small sprocket wheel are extended levers which fit into specially constructed grooves at some distance from the centre of the hub.

As the chain pulls at one point of the inner sprocket the extended lever engages one of the grooves and transmits the power to that point. If this is readily understood it will be seen that the same force that is applied to the small sprocket is transmitted to a greater radius, and hence with the same exertion additional speed is attained. Unlike the present method, the pulling section of the chain on the rear sprocket does not cover one-quarter of the circumference thereof, but only the point near the top, thereby making the resistance considerably less and allowing the difference in power required to be transmitted to where it will do the most good.

The Science of Coasting.

The position for coasting, as reduced somewhat to a science by the experts, is that of making the body resemble, as far as the shape of the bicycle frame will permit, a huge ball.

To become an expert coaster it takes steady nerves. The hand that guides the front wheel must be as firm as that which chastises the unruly small boy. All deviations sideways, no matter if for a few inches only, count against the rider, and two that it may be needed at the finish.

He must be perfectly competent to hold his balance until the last inch has been turned at the finish. Perhaps half a foot will win, and it takes great steadiness to remain on a bicycle that is barely moving. The slightest motion one way or the other on the saddle will throw the wheel over at once.

He must learn not to get in the habit of sculling his bicycle at the finish, for that means his disqualification as coasting matches generally go. Scullers are disqualified by referees as wobblers are disqualified by racing men in the last lap.

The coaster must always have his wits about him. One cannot always tell what may happen in a mile and one-half plunge down the hillside, and there may arise an emergency when it would be more preferable to take chances in the dirt than to try for the foot of the hill.

CARE OF THE WHEEL.

Every Rider Should Learn to Keep His Bicycle in Order

To the person who has not given the matter due consideration the mechanism of a wheel is regarded as exceedingly intricate; indeed, riders of a season's experience are found who are in equal ignorance. The non-rider thinks with consternation of what the result of a fall would be, miles from home, or a puncture in the park. A fall would surely break a wheel or twist the entire machine out of shape, and a puncture would be "awful" if not worse. Now, as a matter of fact, the construction of a modern, up-to-date bicycle is simplicity itself, and the modus operandi of taking it apart and putting it together again can be mastered by anyone with but little difficulty. This is usually found out by the novice along in the middle of the season after he has several times paid card rates at a repair shop to have a puncture fixed or the chain adjusted. Cleaning the bearings will cost the price of a Sunday dinner at a country inn, and could be done just as well at home while resting.

One agent tells of a young man who twisted his handlebar in the steering head and then trundled the machine three blocks to a shop and watched the dealer repair the damage with his hands in about five seconds and charge the amazed owner 25 cents for his work. Ordinary repairing, such as patching a puncture, straightening a bent fork, adjusting bearings, etc., can be made by the average rider if he will only take the pains to watch experienced persons when opportunity occurs and be sensible enough to profit by the watching. After one has mastered the mechanism of his machine there is a great deal more enjoyment to be had out of riding than when the rider is not know anything about it except that it is a bicycle. He who knows his steed will see to it that it is in perfect running order before he goes out, and will not be dismayed by the suspicion that possibly something is the matter with the bearings or the chain, or that his perch may not be just right. Nor will he be continually annoyed by squeaking and grinding noises like the rider who depends on the repair man to keep his wheel in shape.

The Saddle and Its Adjustment.

Like everybody else who rides a wheel I have had my time with saddles. I was wise enough, when I made my deal with the bike man, to contract with him that I should make as many trials as there were different saddles if necessary until I secured solid comfort awheel. I was an experienced rider and had no difficulty in making this arrangement. Then came my troubles, for, again like everyone I know, I imagined I must get the worth of my money in change at least. After faithful trial of nine-teen different saddles I came back to the first—the one the dealer recommended. This saddle, known as Smith's Hygienic Bicycle Saddle, by its construction keeps the weight off the perineum and throws it upon the gluteal muscles, and the tuberosities of the isthium. I tried it in many ways as well. Some riders prefer a saddle tilted down, as it throws them forward into the position that gives them the greatest power. Others, though there are now not many, are comfortable on level saddles. I have found by experiment that I get the most all-round comfort and power by having the saddle with the pommel with such adjustment that there is just an inclination to give the body a slight tendency to slip backward. The Smith saddle, which is broad and short, instead of being long and narrow, gives exquisite riding thus adjusted. The twin objects I mentioned are secured not only by the arrangement of the saddle, but by sunken center and comfortable pads. By its partial division of the bottom plate at the back of the saddle it is enabled to do that most difficult thing—adapt itself to whatever movements of the body the rider finds necessary, while the strong, concealed springs, which are wired to the front under the plate, give an easy motion without jumping. Altogether I feel now that the acme of comfort has been reached by this contrivance, which, I am glad likewise to remark, is the invention of a Canadian.—Pathfinder.

The Unvarnished Truth.

"A quaint anecdote has been told to me, and my informant declares his statement to be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth. He has a habit of suspending his bicycle about a foot above the floor every night by means of ropes attached to the ceiling, and it seems that a mouse, whose mind presumably had become unhinged, one evening thought fit to spring from the floor on to the front wheel. Of course the wheel began to revolve, and as it revolved the mouse of unsound mind crept rapidly up the tire. He crept, and he crept, and he crept, and when, next morning, the maid servant entered the room, she found him still creeping, though apparently much exhausted. According to the cyclometer he had traveled some thirty-one miles—that is, about three and three-quarter miles an hour. A pedestrian of that sort deserves to be encouraged."—The Sketch.

Sapient Sucker.

"My, my!" exclaimed the sucker to the boy, who had just yanked him out of the water with a snare, "my, my, how modern improvements are spreading to be sure."

"Modern improvements?" returned the boy, inquiringly.

"Yes," answered the captive sucker, as he flopped himself over to a more shady retreat on the grassy bank, "who'd ever thought, for instance, that telegraphy would be used in fishing?"

"Telegraphy in fishing?" echoed the boy, in a dazed sort of way; "what are you talking about, anyway? Your lift into this climate must have rattled you a little. What's this sort of thing got to do with telegraphy in fishing, I'd like to know?"

"Why," responded the finny logician, as he lazily fanned himself with his gills, "how would I have known that you wanted me if you hadn't wired me?"—Richmond Dispatch.

Just as a Test.

"Sometimes I think," said a dejected man, "that ther orter be a tax on husbands."

"What for?" asked his friend.

"I'd just like to see," said the man of the first part, "whether she would pay it as willingly as she does on the pug dog."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Village Conversation.

"Say, did ye hear that George's wife is suin' fer divorce?"

"Yes; but it's goin' to be settled out o' court."

"Settled how?"

"Oh, he's goin' to buy her a wheel."

plowmen would not be without, especially in plowing long stubble or scaly manure. It is also very handy for knocking a stone from between the plowpoint and the point of the coulter. The long arm is made of 1 2 inch round iron and the one described is 6 ft. handle, grasped by the hand of the plowman. Fig. I shows the plow with scraper up 42 on it at rest, and Fig. 2 in the act of knocking out a stone, for which the horses have to stop and the plow is raised at the front; but the man does not need to go from between the handles. A bunch of stubble or straw is shoved out similarly, but can be done without stopping the plow.—London Farmer's Advocate.

The Bitter Part.

"It was all due to the whisky," said the prisoner.

"But," said the captious visitor, "I notice that you, instead of the whisky, are in here."

"And that ain't the worst of it, neither. They left the booze outside."—Indianapolis Journal.

Quick Time.

"How time flies, to be sure. It seems only a minute since it struck 10 and now there goes 11."

"Oh! that's only father trying to regulate the clock, which is out of order. It was only a minute ago since it struck 10."—Judy.

WORDS OF COMMENDATION FROM SOME OF THE CURED.

THE RESULT OF A COLD.

Miss Lizzie Sewell, Newbury, Ont., says:—"I contracted a severe cold through getting my feet wet. My health failed so rapidly that I was subject to frequent fainting spells, my appetite failed, and my friends all thought that I was in a decline. Doctors were consulted, but their treatment did not help me, and for nearly two years I was in this low condition. Finally my mother decided that I had better give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and the result is that they have transformed me from a sick and disparing girl to one full of health and energy, and I shall ever speak of this great medicine in terms of the highest praise."

RHEUMATISM OF THE JOINTS.

Mr. Jules Gravel, farmer of St. Tites des Cape, Que., says:—"For upwards of five years I suffered from rheumatism of the joints. The attacks would occur periodically, sometimes keeping me in bed for several weeks. I tried a score of medicines without getting any benefit. Then I saw in a paper the statement of a sufferer similar to myself who was cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pill. I procured some and began taking them, and by the time I had used my sixth box I was able to go to work in the fields, and I have not since that time experienced any further trouble from the rheumatism."

HEART TROUBLE CURED.

Mrs. John Sagar, wife of a prominent farmer living near Egan Creek, Ont., says:—"I am glad to have an opportunity to make known to other sufferers the wonder-working powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I was very sick for over six months, and was unable to do work of any kind for that time. I was extremely weak, subject to dizziness, pain in the side and faint and smothering spells. The doctor pronounced my trouble heart disease, and nothing seemed to relieve me until a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon found benefit from them, and after the use of eleven boxes was as well and strong as ever I had been, and am now able to do my housework without any trouble, I can heartily recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to those troubled as I was."

TOLD BY A TEACHER.

Mr. P. McGuigan, teacher of the advanced department of the Fort Augustus, P. E. I., school says:—"A few years ago I contracted a severe cold which resulted in hemorrhage. I did not recover my strength and my friends feared that I was doomed to an early death. I used a number of medicines but did not make any material progress. I then began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and to them I owe my renewed health and activity. There are many here who know how serious my illness was, and to these my restoration seems wonderful. I shall always warmly praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Do You Need a Tonic?

Are you easily tired, lack energy, feel weak in the back; do not care for food; cannot relish your work and take no interest in life; are you nervous and subject to headaches? If so, it is a tonic you need.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People—the best tonic in the world—can not harm the most delicate.

They make people Strong.

PAIN IN THE BACK.

Mr. G. H. J. Jordison, of Monteagle, Hastings Co., writes:—"I am a farmer by occupation, but also follow the business of dehorning cattle to a large extent. While engaged in this pursuit in Renfrew county during the winter of 1896 I was attacked with a severe pain in my back and thought I would have to give up and return home. A friend at whose house I was stopping advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as he had received great benefit from their use. I procured a few boxes, and soon found myself completely restored to health. I had been periodically subject to these pains before I began the use of the Pills, but since then have not had a single attack, and I feel sure they have driven the trouble from my system."

ST. VITUS DANCE CURED.

Mr. Jacob Snyder, jr., of Bloomingdale, Ont., says:—"About three years ago Adeline Webber, aged eleven years, an orphan adopted by us, showed symptoms of St. Vitus' dance. At first we did not realize what the trouble was, but as she was growing worse we consulted a doctor, who told us what was the matter, but did not seem to help her. In fact she was growing worse and her limbs twitched and jerked terribly. We then consulted another doctor under whose care she remained for about a year, and although he was very attentive, she was steadily growing worse. Her limbs became so unsteady that she could not walk, and she had wasted away to a skeleton, and we had no hope of her recovery. One day while in conversation with Mr. Martin Simpson, of Berlin, he told me that daughter of his who had suffered in the same way had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and advised that they be tried. After she had used two boxes there was considerable improvement, and after the use of four boxes more, all the symptoms of the disease had left her, and from that time she steadily regained her former strength. Her case seemed to us a desperate one, and we believe that had it not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, she would not have recovered."

DYSPEPSIA CURED.

Miss Lila Laughlin, a young lady who is teaching in the Fort Stewart public school, says:—"Some months ago I was suffering with a severe attack of dyspepsia. I procured some medicine from the doctor which seemed to help me for a time, then it apparently lost its effect and I became worse. I had a terrible pain in my stomach which caused me much distress. Then vomiting set in and continued until I was so weak I could scarcely stand, and at times my sight would seem to leave me. While in this state one of my friends advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I procured a half dozen boxes. By the time I had used them I had fully recovered my health and I can recommend them to others similarly suffering."

FUR SEAL CONFERENCE

An Agreement to Suspend All Pelagic Fishing

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—It is expected that a treaty or convention between the United States, Russia, and Japan will be formally signed and executed at the State Department during the present week, carrying out the proposition before the Behring Sea Conference for a suspension of pelagic sealing. It will represent the completed efforts of the conference, and, with the signing concluded, the conference will adjourn. The terms of the treaty or convention will follow the lines of the proposition considered by the conference, and referred with favorable recommendation to the authorities at St. Petersburg and Tokio. No doubt existed as to the acceptance of the Russian authorities and it can now be stated positively that the Japanese Government has approved the proposition. The essential feature of the treaty or convention is for the suspension of pelagic sealing for such a period as will permit the seal herd to revive. The period of this suspension is not disclosed. One report is that it will be for one year, subject to extension. Another is that it will cover a term of years.

The attitude which Great Britain will assume towards the proposition and the treaty which is to take its place is awaited with much interest. Thus far the British authorities have not been informed as to what the conference proposes doing.

Canada still stands in the way, and the continued absence of the Canadian expert, Mr Macoun, is regarded in the light of a diplomatic discourtesy, not only by the United States, but also by the British Government.

The Washington correspondent of the Chronicle cables that unless Great Britain consents to a modification of the sealing regulations, a bill will be introduced in Congress authorizing the total destruction of the seal herds on the Pribyloff Islands. He adds that the policy will be a threat to be held over the heads of the British and Canadians when the meeting of the scientific experts is held in Washington. In case of a refusal to accede to the wishes of the United States, it is expected that Congress will make a commercial war on Canada.

EULOGY OF FREE TRADE

Lord Rosebery's Address to Commercial Men—Quotes Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Manchester, England., Nov. 2.—Lord Rosebery addressed a large meeting here last evening in connection with the centenary celebration of the Chamber of Commerce. He reviewed the history of free trade, elaborately eulogizing what he described as its "advantages to England."

Lord Rosebery contended that the condition of agriculture abroad, despite bounties and protection, was little better, and in some cases was worse, than in England. He quoted Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Dominion Premier, as "a most illustrious authority, sustaining the view that it is free trade which has preserved and consolidated the British Empire." He fully agreed with Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He declared that any deviation from absolute political and commercial freedom would only weaken the bonds holding the Empire together, and that anything in the direction of an Imperial Zollverein would weaken the Empire internally, and excite the permanent hostility of the whole world, already seriously excited by British prosperity under free trade.

He said he "would tread softly in the presence of the idea of a Zollverein," for he believed it already dead. It behooved them to walk strongly and warily in the path of Empire, but such a Zollverein would form a permanent menace of war.

ACCUSED OF BIGAMY

Many Women Are His Victims — A Mean hearted Scoundrel.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—Down in the county jail there was lodged on Saturday a young man named S. W. Shofield, who was convicted at Markham and sent to jail for a month on a charge of beating country hotel-keepers out of his board bills. Yesterday another information was prepared against him of bigamy, and the papers in the case disclose a somewhat remarkable series of incidents connected with the young man's life, all of which goes to show that he is a mean-hearted scoundrel and a betrayer of innocent girls, the information charging him with having married two women, while his correspondence and other papers indicate that he had married a third and was negotiating for a fourth when exposure overwhelmed him.

The prisoner's first wife will come from Watertown to give evidence and the second wife will come from Hamilton to tell her story when Schofield is arraigned for bigamy.

TO SEARCH FOR ANDREE

An Expedition to Look for the Missing Aeronaut.

Christiania, Nov. 2.—The Government has instructed the Governor of the Province of Tromsoe, the most northern Province of Norway, to charter a steamer at the expense of the state, to provision it for six months, and to send out a relief expedition for Herr Andree, the aeronaut, who ascended in his balloon, the Eagle, on July 11 last from Spitzbergen, 400 miles northwest of the North Cape of Norway, in a proposed expedition to the north pole.

The relief steamer will start in three days' time from Tromsoe, on Tromsoe Island, off the north coast of Norway, and will proceed to Spitzbergen.

NEWS FROM ST. KITTS.

E. J. Musson, jr., Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills—He was Bedridden for Months and his Strength was Sapped by Diabetes—He Found his Cure in Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

THE CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVE

Prof. Macoun Stays Away From the Sealing Conference and Hot Some U. S. Heartburnings.

Washington, Nov. 1. The attitude which Great Britain will assume towards the proposition regarding Behring Sea and the treaty which is to take its place, is awaited with much interest. Thus far, the British authorities have not been informed as to what the conference proposes doing. At the same time, the British expert, Prof. D'Arcy Thompson, has had several long talks with Mr. Foster and Mr. Hamlin, and these have been of such a satisfactory nature that it is believed an amicable understanding would be reached by all parties concerned if Canada showed a disposition to assent to the agreement. But Canada still stands in the way, and continued absence of the Canadian expert, Mr. Macoun, is regarded in the light of a diplomatic discourtesy, not only to the United States, but also to the British Government. The Foreign Office named him with Prof. Thompson as an expert to go to Washington. Prof. Thompson came at once, but Mr. Macoun has remained away. The Ottawa Government has sent no explanation of this action, and apparently was oblivious to all enquiries. It is thought the presence of Mr. Hamlin, as the American expert, in the British-American meeting, may be the cause of Canada's inaction. Lord Salisbury especially stated, in accepting the proposition for a meeting, that it was to be one between experts.

To this end the British expert, Thompson, and the Canadian expert, Macoun, were named, it being expected that the United States would name its expert, Prof. Jordan. Mr. Hamlin was named, however, and it is understood that this is viewed rather in the light of naming a counsellor or diplomat as the United States representative, rather than an expert. While no official objection has been made to the appointment, it is believed to account in part for Canada's delay in sending her expert to Washington.

No mention is made in the convention of the killing of seals in case Great Britain and Canada do not cooperate. It is pointed out that Russia and Japan could not adopt retaliatory steps against Canada, as they have no border interests with her. Any action against Canada, therefore, must be taken by the United States alone.

The plan of killing the seals has been embodied in bills now before Congress, but it has not come before the conference as a step now to be taken by the allied powers.

Mr. Foster gave a reception to-night to the Russian, Japanese and British delegates and experts. Prof. Thompson was present, but the British Embassy officials were not represented, owing to the month of mourning imposed by the death of the Duchess of Teck.

Threat Against Canada.

London, Nov. 1.—The Washington correspondent of The Chronicle cables that unless Great Britain consents to a modification of the sealing regulations a bill will be introduced in Congress authorizing the total destruction of the seal herd on the Pribylof Islands.

He adds that this policy will be a threat to be held over the heads of the British and Canadians when the meeting of the scientific experts is held in Washington. In case of a refusal to accede to the wishes of the United States, it is expected that Congress will make a commercial war on Canada.

Murder by a Boy.

Edmonton, Man., Nov. 1.—Two boys near this place got wrestling. Redmond threw Belther twice. Belther got on a straw stack and dared Redmond to come up. Redmond got on the stack, when Belther drew a knife and stabbed him in the neck. Redmond died 20 hours after.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is, "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no bowel or stomach trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Accept no substitute.

Stout People.

Stout people are in great danger of having the heart muscles gradually weakened by infiltration of fat. This can be prevented by the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Mr. James Kelly, Hamilton, Ont., says: "I have been sick and feeble for five years, with a weak, fluttering heart, sinking feeling, nervousness, shortness of breath, etc., but am now glad to say that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have completely removed all my heart and nerve troubles, and given me back my health."

GRIP OF THE TIGER

Is Still Unshaken in the Municipality of Greater New York

ROBERT A. VAN WYCK ELECTED MAYOR

An Immense Vote He Polled Over 300,000 Seth Low Second on the List — The Others Snowed Under—Complete Control of Civic Affairs in the Tiger's Hands.

New York, Nov. 3.—The only question to be settled is the one of the plurality by which the entire ticket headed by Robert A. Van Wyck has carried Greater New York. It can scarcely be less than 60,000, and may be larger than that. Van Wyck has polled a vote which falls possibly 40,000 under the combined votes of Gen. Tracy, Rep., and Seth Low, Citizens' Union. The latter was successful to the extent of polling an aggregate vote in excess of the 140,000 pledges implied by the signatures to the petition upon which he became the candidate of an independent movement, which, at the outset, offered to join hands with the Republican party organization in a concerted effort to exclude Tammany from power in the greater city to come into being on Jan. 1, 1898. The offer was declined on the ground that in any such movement the Republican organization would participate only coincidentally with the other party to the compact, and the Citizens' Union, on the other hand, refused to recall its nomination of Mr. Low in order that the form of selecting a candidate might be carried out conjointly with the Republican organization.

The total number of votes cast was not far either way from half a million. The indications are that Van Wyck received 210,000, Low 145,000, Tracy 100,000, and George 15,000. The aggregate is swelled by a few thousand votes cast for Gleason, Independent Democrat; Saniell, Socialist, and Wardwell, Prohibitionist.

The legislative branch of the city government is Tammany Democratic. It is a double-headed body, one branch being the Municipal Council, consisting of the president and 28 members, and the other the Board of Aldermen, comprising 60 members. The precise number of Democrats chosen cannot be stated at the present writing. There appears to be a strong probability that the Democrats have won a majority of the county and borough offices, along with the municipal places.

The vote of Van Wyck in New York County is approximately the same as was cast for Bryan in 1896, which was 135,624. General Tracy (Republican) polled approximately 50,000 against McKinley's vote of 1896,339 in New York County, while Low (Citizens' Union) polled approximately 77,000, and George (Jefferson Democrat) 12,000.

In King's County, which includes the city of Brooklyn, the Bryan vote was 76,882, while Van Wyck's will be almost the same.

Against McKinley's vote of 100,135 General Tracy polls approximately 35,000, while Low's vote is approximately 65,000. In these two counties the straight Republican vote shows a falling off of nearly 175,000, or in excess of the total vote for Seth Low, while the Tammany vote equals, if it does not slightly exceed, that cast for Bryan.

A SCENE OF GREAT JOY.

Continuous Cheering at Tammany Headquarters as Returns Came In.

New York, Nov. 2.—The headquarters of Robert A. Van Wyck, at the Bartholdi Hotel, was the scene of great joy as the returns began to indicate a sweeping Tammany victory. A score or more were in the rooms where the returns were being received and cheered continuously. Mayor-elect Van Wyck did not appear at the headquarters at any time during the night.

Whatever might have been the result had Henry George survived the campaign the indications from the earliest returns were that the substitution of the son for the father as the mayoralty candidate of the Thomas Jefferson Democracy had proved a failure from any but the sentimental point of view.

The polling came within about 50,000 of the entire registration, which, considering the weather conditions under which the election proceeded, was all that could be expected. The day was wet, foggy and muggy to a degree.

IT WAS A HOT FIGHT.

A Little Review of the Situation as It Appeared on Monday.

New York, Nov. 2.—The first Mayor of Greater New York was elected today. For bitterness, complex situations and uncertainty, the campaign has never been excelled in national or municipal elections.

Political leaders early commenced the struggle for the control of the second greatest city of the world, for the privileges involved in the expenditure of perhaps $300,000,000 during the next four years; for the patronage involved in the appointment of at least 35,000 men to places under the next municipal government.

THE LATEST FIGURES.

Van Wyck Polled About as Many Votes as Tracy and Low Combined.

New York, Nov. 2.—At midnight 770 of the 883 election districts in Greater New York had been counted, showing Van Wyck 123,733, Low 65,771, Tracy 18,787, George 10,617; Van Wyck's plurality, 57,962. Van Wyck at this time is shown to have polled as large a vote as both Tracy and Low combined, while the George vote, which a week ago was regarded with more or less apprehension and was expected to be anywhere from 35,000 to 100,000, has fallen to almost infinitesimal proportions. It is estimated, upon the basis of the ballots already counted, that Van Wyck's total vote will be 231,000 votes in Greater New York. Low's vote will not be far from 152,000, Tracy's 100,000 and George's 16,000. The total, 499,000, will not be materially altered either way. Gleason's vote and that of the Socialist and Prohibition nominees for the mayoralty will send the grand total above the half million mark.

Van Wyck's plurality, according to the estimate above given, will be 79,000. His vote in all the boroughs will be about 21,000 less than the combined votes of Tracy and Low. Judging by the vote of the Presidential election last year the adherents of the Citizens' Union candidate were drawn, in the main, from the Republican party.

WINTERITES AWAY AHEAD.

Sir William Whiteway and His Party Badly Beaten in Newfoundland — Bank Trials Begun.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov 2.—Returns in the general elections have been received from all but two legislative districts. They show that the opposition party, headed by Sir James Winter, has carried 21 seats, the Government candidate holding only 13. The Hon. R. Bond, Colonial Secretary, has been re-elected in the Twillingate district, but his majority has been greatly cut down. The result for the remaining two districts will probably be known to-morrow, but, in any event, the Winterite opposition has won a sweeping victory.

The long deferred trial of the directors of the defunct banks was begun to-day before Sir David Patrick Chalmers, former Chief Justice of British Guiana, who came from England to conduct the proceedings as the local judges were ineligible because more or less interested in the defunct institutions.

ASPHYXIATION AT NEWMARKET.

Mrs. F. Irwin and Hired Girl Found in a Dying Condition in Their Home — Mrs. Irwin May Die.

Newmarket, Ont., Nov. 2.—Mrs. F. Irwin and her hired girl were asphyxiated by stove gas on Saturday night. It appears Mrs. Irwin had filled the stove with coal on Saturday evening, after which she and the girl retired to their respective rooms. When discovered a physician was sent for at once, and, upon examination, there were very slight signs of life in Mrs. Irwin. After considerable work, the doctor brought both of them around. The girl is fast recovering, but in the case of Mrs. Irwin there seems very little hope. Considering that both ladies were shut up in their respective rooms for nearly three days, it is greatly to be wondered at that they are still alive. The escape of gas came from a crack in the stove.

ELECTION BLOODSHED.

A Deadly Encounter on the Streets at Frankfort, Ky., in Which Three Men Were Killed.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 2.—Election day was ushered in by a bloody encounter on the street between Republicans and Democrats, after 1 a.m., resulting in the death of three men and the wounding of two more.

Fifty shots or more were fired, and Frank Egbert, Republican, and Deakins, deputy sheriff, were killed. Howard Glore, one of Egbert's men, was also killed, and Walter Gains, a negro, seriously hurt. It is reported that he has since died.

Ontario's Printing Account.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The printing account of the Ontario Government was reduced last year by $10,000, and if the scheme which has been proposed by some members of the Cabinet is carried out there will be a much greater saving than last year. The proposition is to still further decrease the size of the annual reports and incorporate that which is merely essential.

IN MAIDAN VALLEY.

A Column of British Troops Visit the Notorious Grove

WHERE REBELLION WAS HATCHED.

The Enemy's Resistance Was Very Weak—The Insurgents Make Fierce Attacks on the British Pickets and Convoys The British, for Punishment, Cut Down the Bagh Grove.

Simla, Nov. 2.—A despatch from Mastura says that Sir William Lockhart's columns are encamped in the Maidan Valley, a hitherto unknown district, which the Afridis had boasted no invader could penetrate.

A column has visited the notorious mosque and grove at Bagh, where the Afridi rising originated, and which has been the centre of the political and fanatical intrigue which has animated the outbreaks of the tribesmen. The mosque was left untouched and was not entered, but the trees and the grove were hewn down, as a mark of punishment and a sign of victory. The enemy offered the feeblest resistance and were easily dispersed, but as yet the tribesmen have made no proposals of peace.

The tribesmen in the Maidan Valley were very active yesterday. They made several fierce attacks upon the British pickets, reconnoitering parties and transport detachments. Two British officers were wounded. Six Sepoys were killed and 13 Sepoys were wounded.

BLANCO'S FIRST IMPRESSIONS.

Cuba Can't Be Pacified Unless Abandoned by the United States.

Madrid, Nov. 2.—Marshal Blanco, the new Captain-General of Cuba, has sent a cable message to the Spanish Government, saying he has formed a favorable opinion regarding the prospects for the pacification of Cuba. A semi-official note was circulated to-day, giving fuller indications of the contents of the Spanish note in reply to the communication of the United States on the subject of Cuba than has hitherto been published. It says the note of Spain consists of 28 pages of folio. The first part of the reply is a paraphrase of the note of the United States Minister, General Stewart L. Woodford, and it concludes with the assurance that Spain is animated by the same friendly feeling as expressed in behalf of the United States.

JUST AS BEFORE.

The Engineers' Strike is Still on and No Change in the Situation.

London, Nov. 2.—An official of the Amalgamated Society of Engineers stated to-day that he had received a cablegram from New York, quoting a London despatch, which asserts that the engineers' strike has been ended. This statement the official declares to be untrue, and unwarranted by any of the existing circumstances. The situation is unchanged. The chances of a conference between the strikers and the employers are now remote, but the attitude originally assumed by the Amalgamated Society is unaltered.

Geraldine Ulmar Badly Hurt.

London, Nov. 2.—Geraldine Ulmar, the actress, met with a serious accident to-day. She was driving with a lady friend at Twickenham, when their carriage collided with an omnibus. Both ladies were thrown out of the vehicle with much violence, and Miss Ulmar sustained a compound fracture of the ankle, in addition to receiving a severe shock to her nervous system. Her friend had her shoulder dislocated.

German-Haytien Difficulty.

Berlin, Nov. 2.—Little is known here regarding the difficulty that recently arose between the German Minister to Hayti and President Simon Sam over the arrest of a German subject named Lueders. There is a disposition to regard the situation as exaggerated. It is unofficially declared that the matter has already been settled.

Old Country Big Gunners May Come.

London, Nov. 2.—(Telegram Cable.)—The prospects of a British artillery team coming to Canada in the year 1898 to compete with the Dominion batteries are now considered excellent.

Spain Denies It.

London, Nov. 2.—The report that Spain has purchased a number of warships from English builders is denied. Spain is said to be negotiating with Chili for the purchase of the armored cruiser Esmeralda.

DIED AT THE DINNER TABLE.

Heart Failure Took Off Mr. Thos. Neilands at Seaforth Yesterday.

Seaforth, Ont., Nov. 2.—Thomas Neilands, an old resident of the Township of Hullett, died very suddenly at Londesboro at noon to-day from heart failure. Deceased had been tax collector for the township for over 25 years, and was on his annual rounds to-day. He stopped at the hotel for dinner and death came while he was sitting at the table. He was also postmaster at Harlock Brought the Little Girl Back.

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 2.—Chief of Police Kain located the missing 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. John Heymann at Berlin, Ont., and induced the father to bring the child back, agreeing not to prosecute him. Mrs. Heymann began suit for divorce several weeks ago and Heymann spirited the girl away. He says he walked 60 miles with her.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSIER.

FIVE HUNDRED CHILDREN

Upwards of That Number Abandoned by Their Mothers.

THE HEALTH OFFICER'S REPORT

Result of a Recent Inspection of Maternity Houses in Toronto—Recommendations for Mitigation of the Evil and Adoption of the Waifs.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—In his report to the local Board of Health, Dr. Sheard, Medical Health Officer, gives the result of a recent inspection of maternity houses in this city. He gives it as his opinion that in order to carry out the conditions of the act providing for proper control of these houses it will be necessary to provide for the adoption of most of the children, who are almost always illegitimate. Ten out of every twelve children born under such circumstances are not desired by their parents, and would likely be left upon the hands of the municipality for adoption.

He says that "probably upwards of 500 children per annum are in some way arranged for, and, as far as I can judge, one-third of them find their way into certain public institutions in the neighborhood of Ottawa and Montreal, which I believe afford accommodation for the children of unidentified parents. Here and there a child finds a legitimate and respectable home of adoption, but the greater number of those not taken by institutions are sent to baby farms or places infinitely worse, where they remain until death or the Children's Aid Society takes possession of them."

Only fourteen maternity houses are known to the Medical Health Department, but Dr. Sheard suspects that there are more in existence in this city. At present there are 24 inmates in the 14 houses inspected by the department. The average number in each house is 3; in no house does the number exceed 5. Few deaths of mothers have occurred, but the mortality among the infants born in these houses averages about 3 a year. Most of the inmates are often from the country. The charges for adopting children are $25, $50, $75, and $100. Terms for keep range from $2.50 to $5 per week; the charge for nursing is usually $10, medical attendance extra. Many of the children are disposed of to private homes in the city and to public institutions near Ottawa.

The Burnside Hospital is a public maternity house. Since Nov. 11, 1893, there have been 550 confinements there and all without the death of a mother. The proportion of illegitimate children is 71.5 per cent.

The handsome brick residence, with most of the contents, belonging to Mr. John Rogers, of Bradford, was totally destroyed by fire. It is supposed the fire originated from a defective flue. Loss about $60,000. Some insurance.

The yellow fever situation in Memphis, Tenn., is improving, and the weather continues such as to warrant physicians stating that the end is near at hand.

Newfoundland Elections.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 3.—Returns in the general elections have been received from all but two legislative districts. They show that the Opposition party, headed by Sir James Winter, has carried 21 seats, the Government candidates holding 13. Mr. R. Bond, the Colonial Secretary, has been re-elected in the Twillingate district, but his majority has been greatly cut down. The result for the remaining two districts will probably be known to-day, but in any event, the Winterite Opposition has won a sweeping victory.

ADDRESS TO DR. GREGG

By the Presbytery of Toronto—Sympathy with the Fire Sufferers

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Ot the meeting of the Toronto Presbytery yesterday a beautifully illuminated address was presented to Rev. Prof. Gregg, D.D., the occasion being the celebration of the 50th anniversary of his ordination. The address is a beautiful piece of workmanship, and is peculiarly apt in its representation of Scottish emblems. The text of the address was read by Rev. Dr. Parsons, and Rev. Dr. Gregg made a suitable reply, thanking the Presbyters for their kindly remembrance. Incidentally he told of some of the experiences of his ministry.

It was moved by Rev. W. Rochester, seconded by Rev. W. W. Frizzell, that this Presbytery, having learned with profound sorrow of the suffering and loss sustained by the Counties of Russell and Carleton, and particularly by the Towns of Casselman and South Indian, through the ravages of the recent fires, would express its sympathy with the sufferers, and, in view of the destitution consequent upon the disastrous conflagration, and the special loss to our own cause by the destruction of two churches, would commend the case of those in distress to the sympathy and liberality of the congregations within its bounds.

Off For Washington.

Montreal, Nov. 3. — The statement that the United States, Russia and Japan propose to join in prohibiting vican sealing is looked upon here as pure bluff. Any such prohibition would have no effect on Canadians. In 1892 the United States notified England that it proposed to stop pelagic sealing, and Great Britain replied that British gunboats would prevent any interference with Canadian sealers. It is not likely that any attempt at coercive measures will be repeated. Premier Laurier and Sir Louis Davies, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, go to Washington on Monday next to talk the matter over.

ONE DAY IN TORONTO

The Happenings at the Capital During the Past Twenty-four Hours.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The Department of Agriculture has received word from the Agricultural College to the effect that the attendance there is so great that no more students can be accommodated.

The Grand Jury found "no bill" against William and Ellen Clayton, of Markham, charged with manslaughter in neglecting their infant child.

The residence of Dr. Geo. Kennedy, law clerk of the Crown Lands' Department, 147 Bloor street west, was entered by burglars. The intruders pried open a rear window and thoroughly ransacked the house. They carried off a quantity of jewellery and table plate, and a few dollars.

The Canadian Pacific officials are discussing the details of the new winter timetable, which is expected to go into effect on November 15.

At midnight the jury in the Huton case returned the following verdict: "We find that the deceased, John Hutton, came to his death on Saturday, October 30, about 5.30 o'clock in the afternoon, at 21 Richmond street east, as the result of a blow from shears in the hand of his father, James Hutton, and we believe that there was provocation."

A deputation from the Executive Committee of the Ontario Prohibition Alliance yesterday waited upon the Government to ask that power be given to the majority of the electors in a polling subdivision to prevent the renewal of an existing license in any year, and also that the electors of any municipality shall have power to still further limit the hours of sale.

Arrangements for the Thanksgiving Day military manoeuvres and sham fight are now about completed. Col. Otter, the commanding officer of No. 2 military district, will to-day issue orders outlining the arrangements for the day. General satisfaction is expressed over the announcement that Gen. Gascoigne will be present in person and act as umpire.

TELE..

CANNOT TRY A MAN TWICE

If the Facts are Incidentally the Same in Each Prosecution.

Belleville, Nov. 3.—On the 15th October Wm. A. Taylor of the Taylor House, was charged before Police Magistrate Flint with selling liquor on Sunday, the 26th of September. It appeared on the trial that the day in question, Taylor being in his barroom, two men entered and purchased some soft drinks and cigars, but no liquor was shown to have been sold or consumed, whereupon the charge was dismissed. Another charge was then preferred against Taylor of having kept his barroom open on the same Sunday, and the case came on for trial on Saturday, the 23rd October, before the same magistrate. The defence objected to the trial being proceeded with on the ground that the defendant had been already tried for an offence arising out of the same facts and upon which he might have been convicted under the provisions of the License Act. He cited several authorities, viz., Reg. v. Ebington, 1 B. & S., 688, in which Cockburn, C.J., said: "It is a fundamental principle that out of the same state of facts a series of prosecutions is not to be allowed." The magistrate has now given effect to the objection and dismissed the charge against Taylor.

Toronto Live Stock.[]

The prospects are for lower prices in hogs next week.

There were 44 car loads of live stock delivered on the cattle market to-day, composed of 716 cattle, 560 sheep and lambs, 15 calves and 1400 hogs. The bulk of the cattle offered were butchers', stockers and feeders. Only one load of exporters came forward, which sold at so much per head, equal to about $3.80 per cwt. The export trade is not only dull, but nothing worth notice is doing at present.

Light butchers' cattle were fairly firm at Friday's quotations, which were as follows: Picked lots $3.50 to $3.85, good $3.35 to $3.50, medium $3 to $3.25, inferior $2.75 to $3 per cwt. The supply of good cattle rather short.

There was a fair run of feeders and stockers. Prices heading dropped 25c per cwt. in Buffalo for stockers, as there were no less than 65 car loads of Canadian cattle on that market on Monday, had the effect of weakening prices here. The demand was not nearly so brisk; $3 to $3.25 per cwt. were the best prices paid for good light stockers. Feeders sold at $3.40 to $3.60 and one extra good heavy load brought $3.80, the bulk going at $3.40 to $3.50 per cwt.

TO HEAR THE EXPERTS

The Premier and Sir Louis Davies Will Visit Washington.

THEY WILL LEAVE NEXT MONDAY.

Meanwhile the United States, Russian and Japanese Envoys Are Preparing to an Agreement for the Suspension of Pelagic Sealing in Behring Sea and Pacific Ocean.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The Premier and Sir Louis Davies will leave for Washington on Monday next, accompanied by Prof. Macoun and Mr. R. N. Venning, chief clerk of the Fisheries Department. The conference which will convene soon after is consented to by the Canadian Government only on the express condition that it is solely for the purpose of hearing the experts and collecting the evidence which they have gathered by personal observation of the seal rookeries during the past few years.

WILL SIGN ON FRIDAY.

Russia, Japan and the United States Will Have an Arrangement of Their Own.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Important preparations are being made for the signing of the new treaty between the United States, Russia and Japan for the suspension of pelagic sealing in Behring Sea and the North Pacific. The formal ceremony of signing is expected to occur at the State Department next Friday. In the meantime, by concerted action between the three powers, they will enlarge the rank and dignity of those who will put their names to the instruments, so that they will sign, not as delegates, but as envoys extraordinary and plenipotentiary. It is stated also that the attitude of Great Britain will in no way affect the conclusion of the treaty and that the delay until Friday is solely for the purpose of securing the powers of envoys.

Increasing Popularity of the Guelph Farmers' Institution Twenty Six Students Now Lodge Outside.

Guelph, Nov. 3.—As an evidence of the increasing usefulness and growing popularity of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph it is stated that nearly 90 new students have entered the college this fall—30 more than in any previous autumn during the history of the institution. Four new rooms for students have been provided; and, notwithstanding the increased accommodation, every bed in the college is now occupied and 26 students are lodging outside. Most of those outside have rooms in the immediate neighborhood of the college, board in the college dining hall, and study in the library annex in charge of a master each evening from 7 o'clock till a quarter to 10. Of those in attendance 84 per cent. are direct from the farms of Ontario, as fine a lot of young men as will be found in any college in the country. This statement refers only to the students in attendance upon the regular courses, and does not include the special dairy class, which will not assemble before January next.

The students and graduates of this college, wherever they are found, are firm believers in the institution, and a very large proportion of those now at the college are there through the influence of the ex-students. It will be seen that the farmers are appreciating the value of the Agricultural College more and more by sending their sons in increasing numbers. This is an effective answer to any criticisms that may be offered. It is a farmers' college, and they appear to be well pleased with its management.

AN INNISFIL OCCURRENCE.

Donald Gordon Chases the Woman Off a Farm With a Revolver.

Barrie, Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Donald Gordon of Innisfil entered the house of Mr. Alex. Constable in that township yesterday afternoon, and at the point of two revolvers chased the women off the farm, saying that he would spill blood before he would give up possession. Later Mr. Constable returned, and upon attempting to enter was also met by the revolvers and one shot. He then came to Barrie to get a warrant for Gordon's arrest. This morning Mr. Mason succeeded in capturing Gordon and brought him to town. On the prisoner were found two loaded revolvers. Eighteen months ago Gordon's father and family were put off the place through the foreclosure of a mortgage, and they have made several attempts to recover possession by force. Gordon is regarded as partially insane.

Brant Beekeepers.

Brantford, Nov. 3.—(Special)—The Beekeepers' Association met at the Court House, Brantford, on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The attendance was good. The President, Mr. James Shaver, Cainsville, occupied the chair. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, James Shaver; vice-president, F. J. Davis; secretary, C. Edmonston; delegates to the Ontario Beekeepers' Association, Messrs. Davis and T. Burkett. Mr. John Newton, Thamesford, President of the Oxford Beekeepers' Association, gave an address, receiving a vote of thanks for it.

Deepening River Beaudette.

Cornwall, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—As the result of a requisition from the farmers of Lancaster township, living along the River Beaudette, in Glengarry county, contracts have been let for deepening that stream, which is now very low, and removing obstructions. The money for this work will come from the surplus which has accrued from premiums obtained on the sale of debentures in connection with previous drainage.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish so make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 89, St. Henri, Que.

Severe Asthma Relieved.

Dear Sirs,—We have used Norway Pine Syrup in our house a great deal. I have a little boy who has had asthma for five or six years (he is only 10 now), and during the severe attacks he would get great relief from using the syrup. For an ordinary cold it is ahead of any cough medicine I ever took.

THE YANTIC AT MONTREAL

Michigan Has Accepted Her and She Will Not be Detained

Montreal, Nov 3—An arrangement has been come to in connection with the difficulty over the Yantic. Lieut. Hodges, of the Michigan Naval Reserve, has received a message from Governor Pingree, ordering him to accept the Yantic at once in her present condition on behalf of the State of Michigan. Lieut. Hodges accordingly gave a receipt for the vessel, and the State of Michigan assumes all further responsibility.

Mr. D. Robertson, the Montreal agent of La Canadienne, says that the owners will take no action with a view to detaining the Yantic for damages. The company look to the insurance companies, and the insurance men may detain the Yantic or not as they like. The underwriters, however, have decided not to insist upon any severe measures in regard to their side of the case. The representatives of the Government having agreed to accept a letter from the commander and officers of the Yantic pledging themselves to appear when wanted by the court, the insurers have announced themselves satisfied with this arrangement. The Yantic will go into dock to-day, where she will be lightened, and after being placed on pontoons will proceed through the canals to Detroit. An enquiry will be commenced to-day into the collision.

Telegraphers in Session

Montreal, Nov. 3.—The Central Council of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers of Canada is now in session, considering principally a renewal of the agreement made with the Canadian Pacific Railway Co. last year after the strike of 13 months ago. It is stated that the negotiations were proceeding satisfactorily, and that there was no danger of any serious difference of opinion with the railway companies.

COMPARISON OF INCREASE IN PREMIUM INCOMES

CANADIAN LIFE CO'S.

Figures, like actions, often speak more eloquently than words They certainly do in this case:—

Children's Aid Society.

At a meeting of the council on Monday night Mr. Dawson asked why the town should pay Children's Aid work in respect of county children? A DOG AND POULTRY SHOW

Will be Held in Peterborough in December or January Next.

It was a very enthusiastic assemblage of poultry and dog fanciers that gathered in the Relief Officer's room in the Town Buildings last night at the meeting of the Peterborough Poultry and Pet Live Stock Association meeting.

In the absence of the president, J. Fred Davidson, the chair was ably taken by Vice-President Geo. Pratley, and Mr. Alf. Terrill was appointed Secretary pro tem in the absence of Mr. Wm. Collins.

On motion of Dr. Poole and Isaac Dormer, it was resolved that an exhibition for poultry and a bench show be held in Peterborough in the near future, open to the fanciers of the Dominion.

Dr. Poole and Messrs. Pratley and Dormer, the Membership Committee, reported having received the names of 84 citizens who were anxious to join the Association. The report was received and the committee instructed to continue their work.

The secretary was instructed to write to the editor of the Poultry Review and get information as to the dates of the Poultry shows in December and January, so that the date of the town exhibition would not clash with them.

A general meeting of the Association will be held in the town council chamber on Friday evening next, when all members are requested to attend.

THE ILLICIT STILL CASE CONCLUDED.

THE MAGISTRATE RESERVES HIS DECISION FOR THE PRESENT

The Evidence of Inspector Floody and Mr. Richard Nurse of Ennismore—Did the Defendant Control the Premises?

Mr. Floody was the first witness called in the afternoon in the "illicit still" case against Michael Conway. He stated that in going out to the farm of the defendant Mr. Cochrane accompanied him and Mr. Conway led the way when they went to find the illicit still. Conway was aware of what we were going for. We had told him what we were going for and asked him to show us where the still was to be found. Had a paper showing the location. Conway walked very slowly, and pretended he was looking for the path, and we were following him. When we entered the swamp we came to a small path on the left hand. We then came to a rabbit path and Conway said: "This seems to be suspicious looking." We followed this a few yards and came to the remains of a small shanty that had been burned down. Defendant said: "I guess this is the place." I asked Conway if he had been there before and he said he had. He admitted he had been there twice and that he had there. I found the keg a short distance off and the tins and apparatus at the shanty, also saw an axe, a trough and a saw and the hoops of other barrels. Defendant said he had nothing to do with it, he had been there and seen the still and he and Mr. Fobert had some of the whiskey, but he had never seen the still at work. He admitted cutting the road way out and helped to build the shanty. Mr. Cochrane asked him who owned the place and he admitted it was part of the Conway farm. The pipes produced, he believed, were used for either running the mash into a mash tub or into the boiler of the still, or for running the whiskey into the barrel. It is necessary to have similar to these for working the still. We did not find the worm. I have had a good deal of experience in similar cases. I found a quantity of illicit whiskey in the barrel of a very inferior kind, such as is made in these stills. On a previous occasion I found in a cattle stable belonging to the defendant a two gallon jug of black molasses and a keg covered with a horse blanket. Defendant could not give him any satisfaction about it.

IN MOST CASES

wherever black strap was found it was a pretty sure indication of an illicit still being in the neighbourhood. I asked defendant to produce the still on this occasion, but he said he believed there was one on the premises, but it was not his. He volunteered to search for me, and said that if he could get his father to go and see a certain party that could tell us where it was. Mr. Westlake, the liveryman, went with him, and when he came back he said the principal man had left the country, but another party had told him that it could be found at Spring Creek, near the marsh on his farm. We proceeded to the place, but had to give up the chase, as it was so wet. Defendant said if we would give him three or four days he would bring it in with him and leave it with Mr. Cochrane. He promised to write in a few days. He did write. (The letter was produced in court, but was objected to because the handwriting was not proven.) Witness remembered passing a fence when going from the house to the shanty. On first meeting Mr. Conway at the house, the defendant on being taxed with having a still, denied all knowledge of it. Witness was satisfied it was there when he found the blackstrap on the premises. He asked defendant to show him where the still was as he intended to find it if it was there. He about putting defendant in the cooler. Defendant had acknowledged being at the still before. The piping which was exhibited in court was not in itself illicit. No more of the still had been found. The barrel of "potheen" had been found behind some brush in close proximity to the shanty.

Richard Nurse, of Ennismore, sworn, stated that he knew Michael Conway and Alphonse Fobert well. He had been on the former's farm about a year ago. He had not been on the farm during the past summer. When he was there Fobert was not present. He had never seen the still, or to his knowledge had any liquor from it. He had never received liquor from Alphonse Fobert, other than that received at the hotel. He had got liquor from Conway last June. It looked like ordinary rye whiskey. He would not say whether it was properly clarified or had the fusil oil in it. He first brought a half-pint flask and later on a larger one. Defendant said he had been in town. He said Fobert was making liquor over on the other side of the lake; that was were he got the whiskey he gave the witness. A third time the whiskey was brought when the witness was away from home. Conway was working at his place, and went and got the whiskey. Defendant said he got the whiskey at home. Witness paid nothing for it. Defendant was at witness's residence last Sunday. Defendant spoke of Saturday's trial. Witness thought it had been dropped. Defendant previously told witness that were making the liquor. He told Conway to have nothing to do with the still. Defendant said there was no danger. Conway later told him that the place was burnt down. He did not say why it had been burnt. He said the officers were on the track. No mention was made of the disposition of the still. Defendant did not say who had burnt the shanty or when it took place. He told of Mr. Floody being there and finding the blackstrap.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Connel, the witness stated that he had often had whiskey with the defendant. He was not a good enough judge to tell illicit whiskey from that which was properly distilled.

The prosecution then closed its case and the defense calling no witnesses, Mr. Edwards addressed the court.

After Mr. O'Connell had given his views on the case, the magistrate decided to reserve judgment. The point on which the decision hangs is whether the defendant controls the farm or not, as the farm is owned by his father.

A SEND OFF.

Messrs. Lionel King and Sam Adams are Banquetted at the Oriental.

About fifty of the personal friends of Lionel King and Sam Adams assembled Monday evening in the Oriental dining rooms, where a magnificent banquet had been prepared by Mine Host Graham for the occasion.

Mr. King left yesterday to attend Trinity University in Toronto. Mr. Adams leaves to-day for the "Sault," where he takes a position with the Perry Lumber Co. Both have been identified with athletic sports in Peterborough since the days when they attended the Collegiate Institute together and the greater majority of those who assembled last evening were members of their school class or had been associated with the boys in connection with some line of athletic sport.

This method of saying good bye was chosen in order to give all their friends an opportunity of showing their appreciation of their many good qualities. During the evening the references made to them were most complimentary, and as both have taken prominent places on the hockey, football, lacrosse, baseball and cricket fields at one time or another, there was room for favourable comment from many quarters.

After disposing of the supper the toast list was commenced, Mr. H. R. H. Kenner being in the chair and occupying it in the manner which has made him such a favourite in convivial gatherings of this nature. The programme was as follows;

PETERBOROUGH PROTESTANT HOME.

Annual Meeting—The Secretary's Report—The Financial Statement—Officers Elected.

The annual meeting of the Board of the Peterborough Protestant Home was held at the Home yesterday afternoon.

There was the usual attendance, the President, Mrs Vernon, occupying the chair.

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT

was read as below:

In presenting the annual report of the Peterborough Protestant Home this year we would again express our gratitude to God for enabling us to do what has been done for some of the poor and infirm, both inside and outside the Home.

The sleeping capacity of the Home has been taxed to its utmost the greater part of the year, one old man having to sleep on a sofa for a time. At present there is an old man and his wife waiting for admission when possible. When they applied to be taken in they had no place to sleep but on the floor. This man has been a resident of Peterborough for over forty years and in his old age has no home.

There are twenty-seven persons in the Home at present, ranging in years from one and a half to 94 years.

The matron, Miss Londerville, and her sister are most patient and painstaking with all, and it is anything but an easy task at times to preserve peace and harmony amongst so many of different ages, etc.

In January the Home was inspected by Dr. Chamberlain, Provincial Inspector, and in a letter to the committee later on says:—"The rooms are comfortably heated, clean and well kept. The water supply is from a well and coal oil is used for lighting. Gas or electric light should be substituted for coal oil and the water supply should be from the town water works, etc." In accordance with the wishes of the inspector electric light has been put into the Home, but as regards the water supply, etc., the committee do not see their way to do anything at present. To celebrate Her Majesty's Diamond Jubilee the inmates were given an extra dinner and tea, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

The sincere thanks of both the inmates and committee is extended to all who have in any whatever contributed towards the maintenance of the Home, but more particularly to the clergymen and physicians who have visited the inmates so regularly and kindly during the year and have helped to make the long weary days brighter and happier. The editors of our daily papers too, are deserving of the thanks of all for inserting notices, etc., gratuitously.

M. C. ROPER,
Secretary.

Miss Roger, treasurer, presented the PROPERTY COMMITTEE.

Mr. McBain, chairman, presented the report of this committee as follows:

Gentlemen,—As authorized, your Property Committee have had all the sheds and closets north of the gymnasium re-shingled with cedar shingles, also the broken planks around the Central school and outbuildings, replaced with plank at a cost of $119, including all the material, shingles, plank, nails and labour in connection with the entire work. As the roof of the tower at the Central school was in an unsafe and leaky condition your committee considered it absolutely necessary to have a new iron roof put on before unfavourable weather arrived for doing such work. We therefore arranged with Micks & Cox to put on a first-class galvanized iron roof for the sum of $30, they guaranteeing the work to be first-class and satisfactory. Your committee consider the entire work to be first-class and satisfactory. Your committee have also had the iron roof of the Central school building, also the new iron roof of the tower, painted with best oil and oxide of iron at a cost of $15, which adds greatly to the appearance and, we believe, to the durability.

We are pleased to state that Mr. Francisco has recovered from his serious illness and is completing his unfinished work as called for in his contract.

Your committee have also had eleven loads of soil and earth delivered on the lawn of the West Ward school, which was greatly needed, at moderate cost.

Your committee purchased three good strong durable mattresses from Mr. Ackerman for the safety of pupils in the gymnasium, which were badly needed.

J. J. McBAIN.
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

FINANCE.

Dr. Burnham presented the report of the Finance Committee, which was adopted, recommending the payment of the following accounts:

Peterborough Light and Power Co	6 00

Your Committee recommend that $15 be granted the secretary for petit cash.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GEORGE BURNHAM,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Hill presented the report of the Supervision Committee, which is printed in another column of this issue, being so important as to deserve special prominence.

Mr. Hayes in moving the adoption of the report, complimented Mr. Hill upon its completeness, and the Board upon the favourable condition of the schools it presented. It must have involved a great amount of research, and Mr. Hill was to be congratulated upon the valuable information his report provided.

Mr. Stevenson criticised the means adopted for arriving at the expense of our schools, and added that otherwise the report was very satisfactory, of which the Inspector, Mr. Walker, deserved no small share of credit. He had opposed an inspector as unnecessary but he had changed his mind.

Mr. Hill explained that the cost of the schools given meant that borne by the ratepayers. He was also pleased at Mr. Stevenson's conversion in the matter of the inspector.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

Mr. D. Walker, Inspector, presented his report as below:

Gentlemen—There were enrolled upon the Public School registers in September 1,371 pupils, and 1,231 in October. The average attendance for each month was 87 per cent. of the enrolment, an average lower than that for any previous week this year. However, the regularity of the pupils this term has been somewhat unsatisfactory, and it would appear more so when it is pointed out that in September but forty-two and in October but forty-seven per cent. of the pupils attended every day.

For the past month this irregularity has no doubt been due to the prevalence of measles. Yet there had been many cases of absence for not always the best reasons. Frequent attention is directed to this matter of regularity, for upon it largely depends the success of the schools. Parents, teachers and pupils ought to fully realize that when a boy or girl is kept from school a day or a half day now and then, not only is his or her chance of success sacrificed, but also the progress of all the pupils in the same class is very seriously retarded.

At the commencement of the present term every effort was made to distribute the pupils as proportionately as possible among the teachers, and the results have been satisfactory except in so far as the primary classes are concerned. In those grades you will observe overcrowding, especially in the class in the south and that in the west ward.

It is believed that the work in the primary grades would be more successful, the progress more rapid and uniform if steps were taken to prevent pupils entering such grades at all and any time during the term.

It is therefore suggested that it would be in the interest of these classes if you were to adopt a resolution that any pupil not entering the primary grade within one week of the opening of the school for any term, may be refused admission until the beginning of the next succeeding term. This would, to some extent, counteract the evils of overcrowding, and would affect only those pupils entering school for the first time, and to whom the loss of a short time is not a matter of very serious importance.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. WALKER.

[It may be explained that in the matter of the attendance referred to in the report, the Kindergarten, which is not directly under Mr. Walker's inspectorate, is not included.]

REVISING THE RULES.

At the suggestion of the chairman a committee to revise the rules of the Board was appointed, consisting of the chairman and Messrs. Hill, Fair, McBain and the Inspector.

Mr Stevenson brought up the matter of complaint that candidates in the departmental examinations who failed had not their fees returned.

It was explained that this practice was adopted to prevent unfit candidates from writing.

The Board adjourned.

THE LATE JOHN MOLONEY.

His Funeral This Morning Was Very Largely Attended.

The funeral of the late John Moloney, county councillor, took place this morning from the family residence, Douro, interment being in the Roman Catholic cemetery, Peterborough.

Rev Father Scanlan, of the Cathedral, conducted the funeral services, and the pallbearers were Messrs. Paul Costello, Reeve of Ennismore, John Shea, R. Moloney, D Moloney, Thos. Moloney, of Douro, and Stephen O'Reilly, of Ennismore.

All the members of the county council were in attendance, as well as the county officials, and the funeral was the largest which has taken place in Douro for many years.

GEORGE STREET CONCERT.

Held for the Purpose of Raising Money to Furnish the Parsonage.

Monday evening a concert was held in the George street Methodist Sunday school room under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid and the Epworth League Societies of that church, for the purpose of raising funds for the partial furnishing of the new parsonage which has been erected. There was a very good attendance and the programme was one of great merit. Rev. Mr. Shorey filled the chair very creditably. In his address he welcomed all to the entertainment and said he hoped they would enjoy the programme, which was an excellent one. In conclusion he called upon Miss Roger for the first number, an instrumental solo, which was very well executed indeed, and much appreciated. This was followed by a well rendered solo by Miss F. Hall. Then followed an instrumental duett by Misses Connal and Hall.

Mr. Forbes, the latest popular addition to the musical circles of the town, and who has a very excellent baritone voice, next delighted the audience with a solo entitled "Out on the Deep." This was sung so well that an encore was demanded by the audience, and most generously responded to by Mr. Forbes.

Mr. W. Williamson then gave a much enjoyed cornet solo and responded to an encore.

Mr. Geo. W. Mulligan sung, at this point, a popular selection, and responded with that latest conglomeration of cures, entitled "Curious Cures," as an encore.

Miss Clara Belleghem, who never fails to delight her listeners, followed with a solo called "Suppose she were a Sister of Your Own," with fine effect.

Miss L. Pascoe, who is also an excellent soloist, then sung "Rory Darlin'." Miss Pascoe's voice, which is a full, rich alto one, is steadily improving and was heard to great advantage Monday evening.

This brought the musical part of the programme to a close, after which refreshments were served by the ladies and much enjoyed by all.

The concert was a decided success, about $14 being raised for the fund.

STATUS AND PROGRESS OF OUR TOWN SCHOOLS.

SUGGESTIVE AND GRATIFYING COMPARISONS PRESENTED.

Excellent Progress Made—Marked Increase in Collegiate Institute Efficiency—With Little or no Increase in Cost—Efficiency of Public Schools Keeps Pace With the Attendance.

The following excellent report was presented by Mr. Hill, chairman of the Supervision Committee, at the meeting of the Board of Education last night.

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Supervision Committee in making their report ask the attention of the Board to the following figures, showing the growth, cost and increasing efficiency of our schools since 1891. The attendance is given for the month of May in each year.

There is not a very marked increase in the attendance at the Collegiate Institute. This is due to several causes, among which may be mentioned the comparatively high fee charged to outside pupils, the large and constantly increasing number that pass the Departmental examinations, and the fact that a large number of the town pupils engage in situations before completing their High School course.

In the Public School the increase has been large and steady, beginning with 1,179 in 1891, and increasing each year until it now amounts to 1,563.

While there has been a small increase in the number attending the Collegiate Institute and a very marked increase in the efficiency of the work done, as shown by the result of the Departmental Examinations, there has been little or no increase in the cost of this Institution to the town. In this connection it may be interesting to note the cost of similar institutions in other towns of about the same size.

It will be seen that Brockville, Stratford, Owen Sound and Chatham each pay considerably more than we do for High School education, while Lindsay pays about the same. When it is borne in mind that of the amounts which we pay, $1100 a year goes for the rent of the school building, the comparison will appear still more favourable to Peterborough.

The result of the Entrance Examinations prove that the efficiency of our Public Schools has more than kept pace with the increase in attendance, and we are convinced that these institutions will now compare favourably with those of any other town in the Province. The number of pupils who passed the Entrance Examination last June was larger than at any previous similar examination in the history of our Public Schools.

The present condition of our schools is such as every citizen may well be proud of, and such as cannot fail to attract to the town many who value the best educational facilities.

It is safe to say that of all the money expended by the corporation, none yields a more satisfactory return than that which is devoted to the interests of education.

All of which is respectfully submitted

(signed) W. H. HILL,
Chairman.

1897	6,800	17,200	24,000

The increase in the cost of maintenance of the Public School Department during the years 1896-7 is due wholly to the fact that six additional teachers were added to the staff consequent on the opening of the George street school and the large addition added to the South Central School during these years.

The following towns have Collegiate Institutes, similar to that of our own. The figures indicate the municipal and county grants for maintenance in 1896:

Brockville	$ 7,227 00
Lindsay	6,690 00
Stratford	8,305 45
Owen Sound	10,333 00

[The report as showing the excellent condition of our schools should, be a source of gratification to the citizens who so liberally contribute to their maintenance. The progress and work of the Collegiate Institute is particularly gratifying, especially in view of the fact that the expense is not increasing—in fact the cost was $200 less this year than last. The condition of the public schools is equally gratifying, though it must be remarked that for a long time overcrowding prevailed to such an extent as to seriously interfere with effective work. But this has been to a large extent overcome. Such is is the excellent arrangement in regard to alloting and distributing the work of the teachers that it is expected, in course of time, to shorten the school life of a child through the various grades by a year. This will relieve the congestion, but it has the added merit of securing more effective and systematic instruction, which has become apparent by direct results. The figures presented above are worthy of careful study and indicate that excellent value is received for the money expended upon our schools. With good staffs in both schools, with a good public school inspector, and with a Board that appreciates the impertance of its trust, and is painstaking and broad-minded in its care for our educational interests, just such results are to be expected.]

DOUBLED UP!

UNABLE TO WORK.

Suffering Agony Day and Night.

"For nearly two years," says Frank J. Wray, 211 Sherbourne St., Toronto, "I suffered greatly with lameness and pain in my back. It often happened that my back and kidneys pained me so badly that I was doubled up and could hardly walk, except in a stooping position. Very often I was unable to work, suffering agony both day and night. I had severe pain in the lower part of my stomach, and other symptoms which proved conclusively that my kidneys were in a very unhealthy condition. My appetite was lost and my strength declined rapidly.

"I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills in March last, and after using three boxes of them was completely restored to health. I have not had the slightest pain or stiffness in any part of my back, or any indication of my former trouble, since using these wonderful pills.

"With the restoration of my kidneys to a healthy condition, my appetite was restored, and my strength returned, so that I am now strong and hearty. I make this statement of my cure by Doan's Kidney Pills with the greatest pleasure, because when I commenced taking them I did not really expect so remarkable a cure as that which followed their use. I am very thankful that I hit upon this remedy, and gladly recommend it to all sufferers." 287

MARTHA OSLER'S DEATH

Claimed by Her Father to Have Resulted From Foul Play

Toronto, Nov. 2.—Martha Osler, wife of Frank Osler, Rodney, Elgin county, died in that village on August 2nd, 1897, after a few hours' illness. Her father, William McCartney, tailor, Rodney, demanded an inquest, and it was held on August 12th last before Coroner Ling. Dr. Van Buskirt made a post mortem examination, and stated that to the best of his belief death was caused solely by an operation. The jury brought in a verdict to that effect.

The father of the dead woman has all along maintained that death resulted from foul play, and he communicated with the Attorney-General asking that an officer be sent to investigate. As a result Chief Inspector John Murray, of the Provincial detective staff, visited Rodney to enquire into all the circumstances of the affair.

Frank Osler, the husband, is now in jail in Detroit on a charge of smuggling. He is also accused of being implicated in a recent robbery at Rodney.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

Minor Disasters at Various Places – Damage to Property.

The residence and all contents of Mrs. Hanora Kennedy, in the township of King, have been totally destroyed by fire. The occupants barely escaped with their lives, as the whole roof fell in before the family awoke to see their danger. Incendiarism is thought to be the cause of the fire.

A barn owned by John Muirhead, in the second concession of East York, has been burned down; the entire building was consumed in ten minutes. Fortunately, there was very little stock in the barn, so that the damage will not exceed $200.

The residence and contents with outbuildings belonging to Mrs. Norah Sweezy, three miles south of Barrie were destroyed by fire. Insurance $1,000.

BUSINESS AFFAIRS

Some of the Important Assignments and Commercial Changes

Schweitzer, Reid and Co., clothiers and men's furnishers, of Hamilton, have called a meeting for to-day. The firm did a large business and carried a stock of about $15,000.

A. Macaulay and Co., dry goods, Ingersoll, have assigned to C. S. Scott. The creditors will meet on the 4th in Hamilton.

Munro & Kelly, general store, New Dundee, have asigned to T. A. Kilgour, Hamilton. The creditors meet on the 9th.

J. W. Curner and Co., furniture, Ottawa, have compromised at 52½c.

J. H. McClelland, jeweler, of Hastings, has assigned to Assignee Richard Tew, of Toronto. The estate is not large, the liabilities being in the neighborhood of $2,000.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is, "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no bowel or stomach trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Accept no substitute.

Can't You sleep?

Sleeplessness is one of the most frequent symptoms of heart and nerve troubles. It affects all classes and all ages. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restore the nerves to healthy action and regulate the heart. Mr. Miles Boone, Fredericton, N.B., tells how they work. "I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. These pills gave me almost immediate relief, giving me healthful, refreshing sleep, and I am now strong and well."

ASHES TO ASHES.

The Mortal Remains of the Late Henry George Deposited in Greenwood Cemetery, New York.

New York, Nov. 1.—After a short, simple funeral service, the body of Henry George was finally laid to rest in Greenwood Cemetery to-day. From early morning a drizzling rain fell. Dr. Kramer of Bath Beach, the officiating clergyman, referred to the fact that to-day was All Saints' Day, and, therefore, a fitting occasion to commit the remains of Henry George, one of the greatest of latter-day Christian saints, to the grave. Dr. Kramer testified very strongly to the personal religion of Henry George. He said that one time the power of religion in social problems was questioned by a man who was talking to Henry George. Dr. Kramer said that, with flashing eye, George replied: "If religion be nothing more than you think it to be, our cause is lost, because, unless there is reality in religion and we can appeal through it to humanity, we shall never get back God's land for God's poor children."

After the Lord's Prayer had been said, the Rev. Dr. McGlynn also paid a personal tribute to Henry George. Just after 11 o'clock the coffin was placed in the hearse. There was no demonstration of any kind. The pall-bearers were: John V. George, Thomas L. George, Maurice R. George, brothers of the deceased; James Shoemaker and J. B. Chapman, brothers-in-law; Tom L. Johnson and Louis F. Post. Only the immediate relatives and a few friends were at the grave.

INDIAN HONOR.

Watka Faces His Executioners When He Might Have Escaped Respected the Tribal Custom.

Chelsea, I. T., Nov. 1.—To-day John R. Watka, the Cree Indian who shot Jonas Deer, another member of his own tribe, was legally executed for the crime. The men were rivals for the hand of the same girl and fought at a dance at which she was present to decide who should gain her. Watka killed Deer and afterward married the Indian maiden.

Several days prior to the time preparations for his wife's future welfare were completed and the pain of parting over Watka set out alone to the public execution grounds. In due time he arrived, and the crowd was waiting. The prisoner assumed his position on bended knees, with arms tied behind and a bandage over the eyes. The rifle was placed in the hands of a good marksman, the sharp crack and the white spot marked for the heart was discolored with the spurting blood.

Late this summer Watka went to Kansas City with a baseball nine of his fellow-reds and played a game at one of the parks.

He had ample opportunity to escape, but the brave fellow returned to the Territory of his own accord, that his sentence might be carried out.

GREATER NEW YORK.

The Mayoralty Campaign Which Has Had Three Very Sensational Episodes Tammany Favored.

New York, Nov. 1.—At the campaign headquarters each party professes confidence in victory to-morrow. The betting favors Van Wyck the Tammany candidate for Mayor, Seth Low ranking next. Old politicians are quoted as saying that the vote for young Henry George would not be large.

PINGREE CALLED DOWN

He Must Accept the Steamer Yantic as She is or Not at All.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—Governor Pingree must accept the Yantic unconditionally or not at all. To his request that repairs to the vessel be made by the Government, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt replied: "Yantic is reported practically uninjured. If not receipted for immediately and taken charge of by representatives of State of Michigan, vessel will be ordered to return to Boston at once. There are many other naval militia organizations desiring the Yantic. We have already spent more money than we should have spent upon the Yantic, and will not spend a dollar more."

Commander Moore of the Yantic made the following report: "Steamer collided with Yantic after failing to answer signals, and forcing Yantic out of the channel. Yantic was struck on port side of stem. False work and unimportant gear carried away. Ship practically uninjured."

Normal School Jubilee.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—The celebration of the jubilee of the Toronto Normal School was continued with much enthusiasm at the Education Department Buildings yesterday. The day's proceedings included theunveiling of a number of oil portraits and the relating of a series of interesting reminiscences, and wound up with a conversazione in the evening.

To-night a banquet at the Rossin House winds up the celebration.

New York Election

New York, Nov. 2.—The most sensational political campaign in the history of New York ended last night. Not a day of the past month has been devoid of exciting incidents. Last Thursday night the tide seemed to be flowing irresistibly to George. On Friday came his death, an event that moved New York as nothing has since the civil war. At the campaign headquarters last night each party professed the utmost confidence in victory to-day. The betting favors Van Wyck, the Tammany candidate for Mayor, Seth Low ranking next. Old politicians are quoted as saying that the vote for young Henry George would not be large.

He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

No matter how much of a business woman a woman may be, when the little love god makes up his mind to shoot, there is no protection against his arrow. Yet many a young woman whose affections are already engaged, hesitates to assume the obligations of wifehood and motherhood because she feels unfitted for them, by some physical weakness or disease.

The special ailments to which the feminine organism is liable not only unfit a woman for happy wifehood and motherhood but incapacitate her for any sphere of action. No woman can discharge the daily duties of any position with comfort or satisfaction who is constantly weighed down by headaches, backaches and dragging, weakening drains.

Troubles of this nature are not by any means a necessity of womanhood. They are positively and completely cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It imparts genuine health and strength to the womanly organs. It was devised for this one purpose by an eminent specialist in this particular field of practice.

"For several years I suffered with prolapsus of the uterus," writes Miss A. Lee Schuster, of Box 12, Rodney, Jefferson Co., Miss. "Our family physician treated me for kidney trouble and everything else but the right thing. I grew worse and worse. My body was emaciated, hands and feet clammy and cold, stomach weak, with great palpitation of the heart. I dreaded for night to come for I would suffer with nausea all night and so I continued until some kind unknown friend sent me your book with a marked page. I began taking your 'Favorite Prescription,' contrary to my family's wishes, and I began to improve right away. I have taken three bottles and now I am very well and am very happy, and thank you."

WAS IT FOUL PLAY?

An Inquest Will Determine—Man Fatally Injured at Chatham.

Chatham, Ont. Nov. 2.—Yesterday an unknown man was killed at Weavers' Crossing on the G. T. R. The man was stealing a ride, and it is not known whether he was thrown off or jumped off to avoid detection. At any rate he was terribly injured about the head, and lived only a few minutes after he was picked up. The victim was well dressed. There are rumors of foul play on the part of the train crew, and an inquest will be held this afternoon to investigate.

ACCIDENT ON THE C. P. R.

East-bound Freight Train Breaks in Two at Guelph Junction.

Traffic on the main line was suspended till the track was cleared. The Canadian Pacific express from Detroit for Toronto, which was on the other side of the wreck, was detained two hours. The passengers, however, were brought to Toronto in a special train.

THE WEAK MADE STRONG.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

Mr. Job Coon has disposed of his new residence to Mr. R. Chiles for a handsome sum. Mr. Jacks will be the tenant, and we congratulate him on being so fortunate as to secure this beautiful place to live in, as houses of this stamp are hard to get.

On October 31st three dead cattle and one dead horse were unloaded from stock cars.

Mr. S. T. White, druggist at the central pharmacy, has moved his stock to Shelburne. We wish Mr. White success. He will be greatly missed here.

Many of our fellow townsmen have gone deer hunting to the north, in fact all who could get away. Conspicuous among them are Messrs. Carey, Mark and Hart.

The young people of the English church purpose having a social in the near future. A large attendance is expected, as this one promises to be as successful as those of former occasions.

Mr. William Dineen has vacated the old premises, and has moved into the beautiful structure near the C. P. R. station.

A very fashionable though quiet wedding took place recently when Miss Julia McNicholl, one of Havelock's fairest daughters, and Mr. John McDermot, were united in marriage. Mr. McDermott is a fireman on the C.P.R. They have gone to Buffalo on their honeymoon. We wish them success and happiness through life's journey.

Mr. John Armstrong, of Vaudreuil, paid a flying visit to Havelock lately. John, we believe, has great attraction here.

Although many houses have been built in Havelock during the last summer, there is not a vacant one in the town and rents are high. Ten dollars per month is about the average rate of rent.

SKIN HUMOR ON BABY

Head and Entire Body Covered. Itching Intense, Would Scratch Till Blood Came.

Had to Put Mittens on His Hands To Keep Him from Tearing His Skin.

One Application of CUTICURA Soothes Him to Sleep. Complete Cure.

When my little boy was about three months old his head broke out with a rash, which was very itchy and ran considerable watery fluid. We tried everything we could, but he got worse all the time till it spread to his arms, legs, and then to his entire body, and he got so bad that he came near dying. The rash would itch so that he would scratch till the blood ran, and a thin, yellowish stuff would be all over his pillow in the morning. I had to put mittens on his hands to keep him from tearing his skin around his wrists. He got so weak and run down that he took fainting spells like we would think him dying. He was almost a skeleton, and his little hands were thin like claws.

He was had about eight months when we tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. I had not laid him down in his cradle in the day time for a long time. He had got so that he just slept in our arms all the time. I washed him with CUTICURA SOAP, and put on one application of CUTICURA, and he was so soothed that I put him in his cradle. You don't know how glad I felt he felt better. It took one box of CUTICURA, pretty near one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and about half a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT to cure him. I think our little boy would have died only for CUTICURA REMEDIES, and I shall always remain a firm friend of them. Mrs. M. C. MAITLAND, Jasper, Ont.

Cuticura Remedies have effected the most wonderful cures of torturing, disfiguring, humiliating skin and scalp humors of infants and children, as well as of adults of every age. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strictest evidence. They are the most speedy, economical, and infallible skin cures, blood purifiers, and humor remedies of modern times.

Conclusion of the Normal School Celebration—Progress of 50 Years.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The jubilee celebration of the Toronto Normal School was continued yesterday. The feature of the afternoon meeting was the reading of four papers upon subjects of interest to the teaching profession, embracing a brief record of the history of the Normal School, a prophetic forecast of the school of the next century, a comparative study of the Protestant educational system of Quebec, and a review of the progress made as shown by the position of education of the present day compared with that of half a century since.

The celebration was brought to a conclusion by a banquet at the Rossin House, at which about 160 graduates of the Normal School were present and spent a most enjoyable evening. The general tone of the addresses which were delivered was that of regret that the alumni had not gathered in social intercourse more frequently, and of desire that the reunion may be repeated at an early date.

RURAL MELODRAMA

A Frail Wife Returns Repentant to Her Wronged Husband

Milverton, Nov. 3—Additional light has been thrown upon the affair of Mrs Merrick, who was found lying unconscious on the roadside five miles north of this place, having attempted suicide from a sense of disgrace. It seems that the unfortunate woman is the wife of W. R. Merrick, a farmer of Mornington. They were married years ago, and have a grown-up family. The husband, however, is nearly 80 years of age, while the wife is only 40. About a year ago the husband suspected that his wife and the hired man were on too intimate terms, and ordered the latter to leave the farm. He did so, but took with him his master's wife, together with his horse and buggy, and the pair were afterwards found to be living in Port Huron as man and wife.

The board then adjourned.

THE ONTARIO GOVERNMENT

Was Yesterday Asked for Some More Legislation by Prohibitionists.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Yesterday afternoon Hon. Messrs. Hardy, Ross, Dryden, Gibson, Harty and Davis sat around the council table when a prohibition delegation arrived. They were: Rev. Dr. Dewart, Rev. Dr. Parker, Rev. A. B. Chambers, Ald. F. S. Spence, ex-Ald. Jolliffe, Hon. S. C. Biggs, Lewis C. Peake, A. Chamberlain, A. D. Weeks, John A. Paterson, J. S. Lucas, W. H. Orr, Dr. Fisher, Joseph Templeman, Mrs. A. O. Rutherford, President of the Dominion W. C. T. U., and Mrs. Vance.

Messrs. Henry Waxey and E. Dickey, president and secretary respectively of the License Holders' Association, slipped into the Council Chamber to hear what their opponents had to say.

Rev. Dr. Dewart introduced the deputation, and Mr. Spence submitted to the Government the following resolutions adopted by the Provincial Branch of the Dominion Alliance:

That we endeavor to secure such legislation as will give power to a majority of the electors in a locality to prevent the renewal of an existing license in any year.

That we ask that the electors of any municipality shall have power to still further limit the hours of sale.

Rev. A. B. Chambers and Mrs. Rutherford also spoke.

The Premier, in dismissing the delegation, said that the Government was very much interested in the discussion. As to general temperance legislation, the Premier observed that Ontario might be behind other Provinces in some one detail, but the temperance people would not like, for instance, to see the Quebec license laws transplanted as a whole to this Province. It was, therefore, hardly fair to press the Government so hard. He was pleased at Ald. Spence's admission that the Government had done something.

THE YANTIC COLLISION.

Owner of the Canadienne Seeks to Have the Government Join in Claim for Damages.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—Messrs. Gouin, Lemieux & Decarie have been retained by Mr. Robert Lindsay, the charterer of La Canadienne, damaged by the United States steamship Yantic. Mr. Rudolphe Lemieux, M.P. for Gaspe, for which port Mr. Lindsay hails, stated this morning that he had communicated with the Minister of Marine and Fisheries for the purpose of securing Mr. Lindsay from any loss which he may have sustained, and urging upon the Minister to take up the case as that of a British subject having suffered loss at the hands of a foreign power, and to join it to the claim of the Government, the owners of La Canadienne.

R. G. I. Barnett, who served a seven years' sentence at Kingston for alleged frauds in connection with the Central Bank failure in Toronto, is again in a very hard way. Some weeks ago Barnett created a sensation by claiming to be the brother of the late Barney Barnato, who committed suicide on the way home from South Africa, and Mr. James Crankshaw was sent home to investigate the claim. The lawyer returned, however, and reported that Roland Gideon's pretension was a false one. Soon after he was arrested, charged by Tancred Huot of this city with the misappropriation of the proceeds of a note for $750. It appears that this note was given as collateral security, and the accused appropriated it to his own use. The Court of Queen's Bench having been opened to-day and a true bill found against Barnett, his trial was at once proceeded with. There was very little defence to offer and the jury, after being out for a very short time, brought in a verdict of guilty.

Dufresne, Mougenais & Co., wholesale and retail grocers, this morning filed a consent to assign on the demand of Hudon, Hebert & Co., wholesale grocers. The failure has caused a sensation in commercial circles, as the firm was looked on as a very solid one.

The State of Michigan having agreed to take over the Yantic, the transfer to that state was made this afternoon.

DUCHESS OF TECK.

Imposing and Solemn Funeral Services at Windsor.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN IS INSTALLED

As Lord Rector of Glasgow, He Declares That a Really United Empire is Becoming a Question of Practical Politics - Comments on the New York Election.

Windsor, Eng., Nov. 3.—The funeral services over the remains of the Duchess of Teck (Princess Mary of Cambridge), cousin of Queen Victoria, mother-in-law of the Duke of York, and sister of the Duke of Cambridge, who died at the White Lodge, Richmond, Oct. 27, took place to-day in St. George's Chapel, Windsor Castle.

All the stores of the town and all the residences of Windsor and its immediate vicinity were bedecked with crape, and the shades in all the windows were drawn down. Immense crowds gathered here from all parts to witness what they could of the ceremony, and lined the route to the castle. A continuous stream of carriages containing diplomatic corps, Cabinet Ministers, former Cabinet Ministers, court officials and naval and military representatives from all the foreign courts arrived at the chapel. Prince Frederick Henry of Prussia represented Emperor William of Germany at the funeral.

The royal family entered the chapel at 12.45 p.m., Princes Christian and Christian Victor leading, followed by the Duke of Cambridge, Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar and the Prince of Wales, wearing the ribbon of the Order of the Garter. The coffin, borne by guardsmen and escorted by the choir and clergy, led the procession. The pallbearers were the Duke of Westminster, the Marquis of Salisbury, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, the Marquis of Lothian, Earl Brownlow, the Earl of Hopetoun and the Earl of Ancaster.

The choir chanted the burial service throughout, while the guns of a battery of artillery fired every minute.

The funeral service was short and simple. The Dean of Windsor and the Bishop of Peterboro officiated. The remains of the Duchess of Teck will be interred in the chapel of the Albert Memorial.

The United States Ambassador, Col. John Hay, and the second Secretary of the United States Embassy, Mr. James R. Carter, represented the United States at the funeral.

HOT SHOT AT TAMMANY.

English Newspapers Comment in Strong Terms on New York Election.

London, Nov. 3.—The election in the United States continues to overshadow all the other news in the English newspapers, and the results are discussed generally at the hotels, clubs and similar places, as well as on the trains, horse cars and omnibuses.

The St. James' Gazette thinks the reason Americans allow themselves to be dominated by a clique, whose leading members would on this side of the Atlantic sooner or later find themselves in the criminal dock, is that the American politicians indulge in politics solely for what they can make out of them, and until America finds time to produce a class who will give their time to public affairs, as here, without expectation of pecuniary reward, Tammany will continue its victories in New York.

The Pall Mall Gazette says: "Such an organization as Tammany could not exist in London. A man or an organization once proven guilty of corruption could never return to power. Tammany, under the leadership of Croker, has done so in a manner which must afford food for serious thought, even to a city so accustomed to bad government as New York."

The Westminster Gazette remarks: "The victory for unprincipled government obtained by unprincipled methods is a grave disappointment to all believing in free institutions, and the only thing to do is to wish that Seth Low and his supporters will be luckier in the next campaign against a system which seems to outsiders to be absolutely intolerable."

The Times says: The Republican cause has met with an ominous disaster in every quarter. It was permissible to hope a year ago that Bryanism was not only defeated, but disabled. Unfortunately it is impossible to feel the same confidence now. It can hardly be doubted that Bryanism will raise its head again, under its last champion or under another. Before the next President is elected there will be no lack of material for agitation, as the Bryanites profess to be free traders and are dissatisfied equally with the fiscal and financial policy of the present administration. The outlook is not very cheerful, either for the United States or for those having business or political dealings with that country.

LORD RECTOR OF GLASGOW.

Mr. Chamberlain Makes an Important Speech on a United Empire.

Glasgow, Nov. 3.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, was installed to-day as Lord Rector of the Glasgow University. There was an immense crowd of people present, and Mr. Chamberlain met with an enthusiastic reception.

A Question of Practical Politics.

Glasgow, Nov. 3.—In the course of a speech here to-day, the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain predicted that the relations between Great Britain and South Africa had greatly improved of late, adding: "There are signs that the colonies demand a closer union and that the prospect of a really united Empire is becoming a question of practical politics."

Will Have a Sinister Effect.

Berlin, Nov. 3.—The Tageblatt deplores the victory of Tammany, saying: "It places the undesirable element of the Irish on top. The victory in Greater New York will have a sinister effect throughout the United States, for it means that the awakening desire for municipal reform has received a terrible set back."

Bought the Britannia.

London, Nov. 3.—Mr. John Johnstone, the principal director of Bovril, Limited, is the purchaser of the Prince of Wales' famous racing cutter Britannia. He declines to state the price paid for her or to divulge his plans.

The Result is Deplorable.

Paris, Nov. 3.—The Temps, in its comments on the Greater New York election, remarks: "The result of the election is deplorable for New York and the cause of Democracy."

Pontoon Dock for Philippine Islands.

London, Nov. 3.—It is learned that the mammoth pontoon dock which is being built to Spain's order at Stephenson's yard, on the Tyne, is destined for the Philippine Islands, and not for Havana, as was at first reported. This dock is similar in size and construction to the one recently built and despatched in tow for Havana.

CHAPEKAR ON TRIAL.

Brahmin Lawyer at Poonah Admits That He Killed Commissioner Rand.

Poonah, Bombay Presidency, Nov. 3.—The trial of Damodar Chapekar, the Brahmin lawyer, who was arrested on Oct. 5 last, charged with being connected with the murder of Lieut. Ayerst and Commissioner Rand on June 22 last, was commenced in the court house to-day. The building was strongly guarded in order to prevent any demonstration upon the part of the prisoner's friends.

Chapekar adhered to his confession that he murdered Rand, but declined to make any further statement.

The trial was adjourned till to-morrow.

Just a Slight Accident.

Southampton, Nov. 3.—The new North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, which sailed from New York on Oct. 26, arrived here this morning. She was delayed by the fracture of the upper exhaust passage of her high pressure cylinder. The steamer has been drydocked for repairs and will proceed for Bremen to-morrow.

Another International Question.

London, Nov. 3.—The British Ambassador to the United States, Sir Julian Pauncefote, has been instructed to ascertain the views of the Government of the United States in regard to the reciprocity treaty with the West Indies.

23 TO 13.

Thus Will Stand the Newfoundland Legislature in Favor of Sir James Winter and Party.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 3.—Further returns in the general legislative elections show that the Opposition party has carried the Bruges district, thus winning 22 seats, as against 13 held by the Government.

To-day Sir James Winter, the Opposition leader, waited upon Sir Herbert Harley Murray, Governor of the colony, to arrange for taking over the control of public affairs. Sir William Whiteway and his colleagues in the present Ministry will probably resign within the next 10 days.

The general feeling is that the financial status of the colony, both at home and abroad, will be strengthened by the change of Government, the administration of the Whiteway party having damaged the colony greatly in all financial circles.

Glass Liquid Measures.

A crystal glass measure is being put upon the market that is sure to supersede the ordinary metal measures. These glass measures are of tough material, are accurately graduated by means of which one does the work of several of the old kind; they never leak, become rusty or discolored, and have all the advantages with none of the disadvantages of the old kind.

Better Than Chamois.

Specialists in housekeeping matters aver that for rubbing smooth surfaces, such as highly polished wood or metal, a flannel cloth is less likely to scratch than even a chamois.

DAY AFTER THE FIGHT.

Judge Van Wyck Polled Nearly as Many Votes as Low and Tracy Together A Big Plurality.

New York, Nov. 3.—The result of the first municipal election in the Greater New York completely reverses the conditions of 1896, when McKinley's plurality in the same territory was 56,865. The plurality of Van Wyck, the Tammany candidate for Mayor, is about 85,000, and the balance of the ticket is elected, with majorities ranging from 70,000 to 100,000. Such a rush to the polls has never been known except in Presidential years. Rainy weather failed to dampen civic enthusiasm.

The vote for Tracy, the Republican Mayoralty candidate, was divided by the candidacy of Seth Low upon a citizens' ticket. Low was second and Tracy third in the contest.

The George vote was inconsiderable. The death of its leader evidently disintegrated this following, and thousands evidently voted for Tammany candidates. It is claimed that young George lost many votes through the failure of inspectors to affix his paster to Mayoralty tickets.

The unofficial vote for Mayor of Greater New York follows:

Van Wyck	245,100
Low	149,873
Tracy	101,883
George	20,286
Gleason	581

The vote for Van Wyck is about 44.25 per cent. of the total vote cast.

The united vote for Low and Tracy shows 11,127 more than Van Wyck received.

The metropolitan district is normally Democratic, and the plurality for Van Wyck is a return to normal conditions in an election not influenced by national issues.

A COMPLETE REVERSE.

The State of New York Has Apparently Gone Back Bodily to the Democrats.

Albany, N.Y., Nov. 3.—The complete returns from the State, which are coming in slowly during the early hours of the morning, demonstrate that the Republican landslides of the past two years have been reversed, if not by giving as large a majority for the Democrats, at least by changing something like 240,000 votes. Governor Black's plurality in the State last year was over 200,000. John Palmer, the Republican Secretary of State, won the year previous by over 100,000. The indications are that these enormous pluralities have been swept away, and a reverse plurality of between 30,000 and 50,000 is given.

AT BALSAM CHUTE.

Edward and George Parker of Parkersville Lost Their Lives by Chasing a Wounded Deer.

Bracebridge, Nov. 3.—A double drowning accident occurred at the foot of Balsam Chute, on the north branch of Muskoka River, on Monday afternoon, when Edward and George Parker, sons of William Parker of Parkersville, were drowned. The story of the accident is as follows:

A party, including the father and two sons, were deer hunting. George Parker shot and badly wounded a deer near the river. The animal made for the water and was followed by the young man, who jumped into the river after the deer. Parker wore a belt filled with cartridges and probably the weight was too much for him, as he immediately sank. His father, who was on the shore near by and saw his son sink, gave the alarm, and Edward, the elder brother, came to his assistance, jumping in after him, but he too disappeared almost immediately. An attempt was made to recover the bodies, but, owing to a swift current and a bad eddy at the foot of the chute, they were unsuccessful until an hour afterwards, when the body of Edward was recovered. The body of George has not yet been found. Edward was married and leaves a young widow and one child.

KASSON AND CANADA.

U. S. Reciprocity Commissioner Paving the Way for Such a Treaty With the Dominion.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—The United States Government is now favorably considering the question of recurring to the system of reciprocity for encouraging commercial relations with Canada. It is known that Mr. Kasson, who has been specially charged with the arrangement of reciprocity plans under the new tariff act, is friendly to such a course of action. The last reciprocity treaty which governed the relations of the two countries was terminated by Act of Congress on the assumption that the benefits were not equally divided between them, and that Canada had the advantage.

THE STITTSVILLE ACCIDENT.

Manslaughter is Charged Against Conductor Hawes and Engineer McCuaig.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—At half-past 3 this morning the jury investigating the C. P. R. accident at Stittsville brought in a verdict of manslaughter against H. Hawes and Alexander McCuaig, the conductor and engineer respectively, of the special freight, whom they held responsible for the death of the brakeman, James Hastey. Hawes was found guilty because he did not send a flagman ahead of the train when he found that none had been left at Stittsville, while McCuaig was said to be equally to blame because he had not counselled Hastey to remain at Stittsville. The jury took some hours to arrive at a verdict, on account of not agreeing at first as to whether or not McNish, the operator at Stittsville, had also been negligent.

GOOD WORK OF LADIES.

Substantial Help for the Sufferers by Fire in Russell County.

Clarksburg, Ont., Nov. 3.—The Ladies' Aid Societies of the various churches in Clarksburg and Thornbury united recently for the purpose of soliciting contributions for the sufferers by the Russell county fire, and to-day they are sending to the Relief Committee at Ottawa clothing and bedding to the value of $150, also a draft for $80 in cash.

A Bad Indian Captured.

Kingston, Nov. 3.—The police have secured John Jackson, a Mexican Indian, on a charge of burglarizing the postoffice and general store at Adolphustown on Sunday. The plunder secured by Jackson, a notorious Indian thief, was put in a skiff, and the pirate started for Kingston. Gales drove him ashore, and the man's actions causing suspicion, the police were told. He is a bad man and has already spent three terms in penitentiary.

NORWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Miss Ella Beckett has returned from a visit to her aunt in Hespeler.

Mr. W. Spencer, of Warsaw, spent Sunday with Mr. H. Scott.

Mrs. W. E. Roxburgh spent a few days last week at Stony Lake.

Mr. R. Phillips was in town Monday.

Mr. Carl Lehman, who was chosen as Science Master in the High School, began work Monday. Mr. Mail left for Kingston on Monday.

Norwood has sent out enough deer hunters to clear the district. Messrs. Sam Scott, John Preston, A. McKay and Dan McMullen left for Jack's Creek; Messrs. T. Hendren, D. Armstrong and J. Iles have gone to Gull Lake; Messrs. A. Greenbanks, F. Metcalf and F. Greenbanks set out for the 12th Line of Dummer; Messrs. Lindsay and son, B. Martin and B. Robinson are off to Jack's Creek; Mr. Thos. Fraser left for Coe Hill, where he will be joined by Messrs. Code, M. McGregor, R. Hill, Clancy and G. Taylor.

A public meeting of the citizens of Norwood was called for Friday evening last to discuss the advisability of securing a better system of fire protection. Nearly all the business men and many others were present, and much interest was manifest. The reeve occupied the chair and explained the purpose of the meeting, after which he called on Mr. J. M. Parsons of the Brussels Engine Works, who explained the Underwriters' law governing fire insurance, classification and rates, and showed how that by a more efficient system of fire protection we could be raised from our present standing of grade F to grade E or D, which would in a short time save our citizens double the money expended in fire protection. He then went on to explain the different systems and showed that whereas waterworks would cost the town $25,000, a good fire engine, hook and ladder waggon, hose, etc., could be secured for apout $5,000.

At the close of Mr. Parsons' address the reeve called on several prominent business men to give their views. The question was also put to the citizens whether they would have fire protection or not, and it was decided by a large majority to have it.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. W. E. Roxburgh, J. B. Peare and P. W. Reynold was appointed to join with the council and enquire into the best means of protection, and to report at the next citizens' meeting.

The C. E. Society in connection with the Presbyterian church have decided to discontinue their meetings on Sunday evenings and to join with the prayer meeting on Thursday evenings, but to still keep their officers.

The council met Monday evening, Nov. 1st. Present,—Reeve H. G. Buck and Messrs. John Harper and Wm. Ebbs.

The minutes of last meeting were read and ordered to be signed.

Moved by Councillors Harper and Ebbs that the following accounts be paid:—

Rolland Scriver, on account	$ 17 50
Chas Wood, work on streets	3 00
Thos Linton, " "	3 00
W C Harrison, electric light account to Oct. 1st	42 00
W C Harrison material for sidewalks	17 71
S P Ford, M.D., medical health officer	5 00

Mr. J. L. Squire appeared before the council and asked for a rebate on taxes on cheese factory, which was recently burned.

Moved by Councillors Ebbs and Harper that J. L. Squire get a rebate on taxes for part of year, amounting to $4.68.—Carried.

Moved by Councillors Harper and Ebbs, that the clerk advertise for tenders for running the snow plow this winter. Tenders received up to the 15th inst.—Carried.

Council adjourned.

The sad news was received here to-day that Mr. Thos. Hendren, who went to Gull Lake on a deer hunt, was drowned. Further particulars have not yet been received. Mr. Heudren was a son of our townsman, Mr. Geo. Hendren, and has spent his life here, being a blacksmith and carriage maker. Mr. Hendren leaves a wife and four little children to mourn his loss.

Mr. Thompson, grocer, has secured one of Mr. Pearce's new stores.

Mr. Metcalf is fitting up a new blacksmith shop for Mr. Ivey.

Mr. Armstrong, of Peterborough, has secured Mr. W. H. Stephenson's vacant store, in which to establish a sewing machine agency for this district.

Mr. Charles Bell returned from Winnipeg last Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Armstrong, of the 16th con. of Smith, who broke his leg some time ago, is rapidly recovering.

Mr. Stephen Nicholls, of Smith, has so far recovered from his illness, that he has gone with the hunters to Gull Lake for deer.

Word reached here last night that Mr. Hendren, carriage maker of Norwood, who was off hunting with the Hendren hunting party, was drowned. A party left here last night with grappling irons to search for him.

During the last road race the carelessness of a rider was responsible for a serious accident to Mr. Joseph Walton—for Mr. Walton is 86 years of age. He was on the walk in front of Mr. John Hull's residence, when a bicyclist, a competitor in the road race, riding at full speed, took to the walk. He came up behind Mr. Walton, who knew nothing of his approach, and in attempting to pass between that gentleman and the fence the handle bar caught in the fence and the rider was hurled with violence against the old gentleman, who fell with great force on the broken stone of the roadway very severely bruising and shaking him up. He is still suffering from his injuries which may yet have very serious results, as Mr. Walton, besides being advanced in years, is not in robust health. So far as known, the reckless rider has not yet called to inquire of his victim's condition.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is, "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no bowel or stomach trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Accept no substitute.

Can't You Sleep?

Sleeplessness is one of the most frequent symptoms of heart and nerve troubles. It affects all classes and all ages. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restore the nerves to healthy action and regulate the heart. Mr. Miles Boone, Fredericktton, N.B., tells how they work. "I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. These pills gave me almost immediate relief, giving me healthful, refreshing sleep, and I am now strong and well."

Starved, Had Money.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—W. J. Dugdale, who was once a grocer on Jarvis-street, near King, some years ago, was found dead in bed at his room, 382 King-street east, yesterday morning. He was a sub-tenant of Mrs. E. W. Duggan, who has a store at that address. Deceased was over 80 years of age, and of late has been very eccentric in his habits. Although he has cooked his own meals and slept by himself, and has of late been apparently taking little or no food, when his effects were searched by Coroner Greig $1310 was found sewed in the lining of a valise. The old man has been living in a most penurious manner lately, and death is thought to have been due to voluntary starvation.

Coroner Greig has issued a warrant for an inquest, but it may be withdrawn.

Fell Dead on the Street.

John J. Jamieson, an employe of the Standard Woolen Mills, who lives at 112 First-avenue, left his work soon after 6 o'clock last night to go to his home. He appeared to be in good health, and he walked up Berkeley-street whistling. When near King-street he staggered and fell, and in a few minutes he was dead. Some of his fellow-employes ran for medical aid, but Dr. Adam Beatty was passing, and he pronounced apoplexy as the cause of death. Deceased was 68 years of age.

Old Men And Kidney Disease.

BICYCLE RACERS' WINNINGS.

Longhead Captured $2300 and is Near the Top of the List

New York, Nov. 4.—Experts on bicycle racing statistics have figured out the earnings of the racing men who have been prominent figures on the track this season, and they have estimated that the majority of the men have earned more than they could have done by following trades or commercial pursuits. The table appended below gives an approximate estimate of the track winnings, but in most cases the men earn neat sums from bicycle manufacturers, tire makers, etc. The total amount of the winnings of the racing men foots up over $105,000, and it is thought that the total estimate of the money given for purses this season would foot up over $200,000. The tabulated statement follows:

A COMPLETE ANSWER

Ins and Outs of the Ontario Government's Swinarium.

PRISON INSPECTOR NOXON TALKS.

That Humber Pig Pen Will Really Make $7000 a Year for the People of the Province Why it Was Established. The Total Cost of the Venture.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—The Humber swinarium of the Ontario Government has been giving the Tory orators considerable to say, but it is safe to say that hereafter they will cry mum on this subject. Yesterday Prison Inspector Noxon explained the whole situation. He said:

The Asylum, Central Prison and Mercer Reformatory kept pigs to feed them on the refuse of food, and the pigs were slaughtered and the pork consumed at the institutions. About 15 pigs were kept for every 100 inmates, which meant that, altogether, considerably more than two hundred pigs were kept. People complained of the swine as a nuisance, and under a city ordinance the Government were finally prohibited from keeping them. The refuse from the three institutions was then sold by contract, but this proved unsatisfactory, and the cremation plan was next adopted. This, again, was complained of as a nuisance, and the Government decided to establish a piggery.

This was in the fall of '94. The Government selected the present site at the Humber, and bought an acre from one Horner for $1000, which was less than the mortgage. The money was paid to the mortgagee, Mrs. Spry, wife of the late postoffice inspector.

The piggeries cost a couple of thousand dollars, and a house was erected for the man in charge. The total cost of ground and buildings was but $4000, as the piggery had a plank floor instead of a concrete one.

The object was to take the refuse from the Central Prison, Reformatory and Asylum out to the piggery and fatten young stock from 70 or so pounds up to 180 pounds. They had lots of feed and decided to breed their own stockers. Then in 1896 a hog, bought in the Western cattle market here, carried cholera into the piggery, and the Dominion inspector ordered the hogs to be all killed. There were 250 stockers and a large number of small pigs destroyed. The Government inspector wanted the building destroyed, but I refused. The floors, lining and outside pens and loose lumber were taken out and burned, and the surface of the yard was skimmed off six inches deep, a thick layer of lime put down and fresh earth put on top. A heavy concrete floor was put in the piggery, as experience had shown that the rats got in through the plank floor and killed many of the little pigs. This floor was covered with cement, and the whole extravagance caused by the cholera outbreak amounted to $3000, thus making the total cost of the piggery $7000.

The man in charge of the swinarium is Isaiah Warner, who was formerly employed at Mimico asylum. He gets $500 a year and his house. He is busy every day in the year, seven days in the week. He is assisted by a boy, who gets $18 a month, and between them they do all the work, including the slaughtering.

There are 175 pigs in the place now, and the number is being added to. Feeding produces about 200 pounds of pork a day, and the piggery supplies 1400 pounds a week to the three Government institutions.

As a precaution against any further cholera contagion, all hogs bought are kept in quarantine at the cattle market for ten days, so that the disease cannot get into the Government herd.

Mr. Noxon is confident that the piggery will make at least $2000 a year.

DEWDNEY'S SUCCESSOR.

Senator McInnes to be Appointed Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia—Mr. Templeman to be Senator.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—Hon. Edgar Dewdney was appointed Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia five years ago yesterday. His term of office has therefore expired. It is understood that Senator McInnes will be appointed Lieut.-Governor, and William Templeman, editor of The Victoria Times, will be called to the Senate, in place of Mr. McInnes.

The Liberal Party in the Senate will undoubtedly be strengthened by the presence of Mr. Templeman in the Upper Chamber. Senator McInnes is a native of Nova Scotia and is 57 years of age. He represented New Westminster in the House of Commons from 1878 to 1881, when he was called to the Senate by Sir John Macdonald.

Mr. Templeman is one of the pioneer Liberals of British Columbia, and no other man has done more to advance the cause of Liberalism on the Pacific coast. In the last two contests in Victoria for the Dominion House he was defeated by small majorities. Mr. Templeman, who is now President of the first Provincial Liberal Association in British Columbia, established The Almonte Gazette in 1867, and conducted it for seventeen years. In 1884 he went to British Columbia, and has ever since been connected with The Times, and is now its proprietor.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 68, St. Henri, Que.

Daring Burglary at Brockville.

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 4.—A very daring and equally mysterious burglary has taken place at the residence of Mrs. J. Mowat, King street west. While Mrs. Mowat was entertaining a party to dinner, burglars scaled a gothic window at the front of the residence, and opening the window, ransacked three bedrooms, and then made their escape without being detected. It seems the marauders were only after money, as they took nothing else, although a large quantity of jewellery lay on the dressing-cases at the time.

BAD BOILER EXPLOSION

One Workman Received Fatal Injuries, Two Others Badly Hurt.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 4.—The people in the centre of the city were startled yesterday by a loud report as of the firing of a cannon, and then those in the neighborhood of the Royal City Mills saw a mass of bricks, timber and ironwork hurled into the air with terrific force. It was at once seen that one of the big boilers at the mills had exploded, and the fire brigade, assisted by a band of volunteers, were soon on the spot searching among the debris for the killed and wounded. The first found was George Sulley, whose leg was terribly hurt, while his head was seriously cut and scalded. A lad named Forbes was next taken out from beneath the pile of bricks in an unconscious condition. Charles Phillips was the third taken out; he was badly scalded, but not fatally. The search was continued for some time, and the roll call of the employes revealed the fact that all the men were accounted for.

The Royal City Mills is a branch of the British Columbia Mills, Timber and Trading Company, the largest lumber concern in British Columbia, and this branch alone employs more than 150 men. The accident fortunately happened at the dinner hour, or more would undoubtedly have been injured. As it was there were numerous narrow escapes.

An Address.

Mr. A. H. Froude was presented with an address at the Y.M.C.A. last night prior to his leaving town. The text of it will appear to-morrow.

Notice.

All persons getting ordered clothing are requested to ask to see the Union Label. If this is not shown the garment is the production of a "sweat shop."

TAILORS' UNION.

Is Your Piano in Tune?

The change of season affects pianos as well as anything else. Mr. Geo. Gumpricht, practical piano maker and tuner, with 28 years experience, attends to all orders left at Mr. H. S. Macdonald's drug store.

The Best Blacking.

The town having been freely sampled with Black Diamond Stove Polish and British Military boot blacking, the merits of these goods speak for themselves.—E.F. Mason & Co. keep them always.

Acknowledgment.

The committee of management of the Peterborough Protestant Home gratefully acknowledge the following donations for the month of October: Mrs. W. M. Roger two baskets of grapes; Mrs. Clemmence, books and papers; Miss Warner, basket of grapes; Mrs. Cullen, Smith, quarter of mutton.

Ladies, He is Coming.

When bodily tired, a sleep is refreshing, but when that tired feeling is felt through dissatisfaction with our personal appearance sleep is not the remedy to employ. The hair plays an important part in this respect. One of Prof. Dorenwend's beautiful Bangs or Wavy Fronts will soften and refine the expression of the face, and a fine switch to coil or braid will give the head a beautiful shape. By wearing these goods you will feel better and look younger. Call on Prof. Dorenwend at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Wednesday, Nov. 17th, and see the foregoing demonstrated. It will cost nothing. Thousands wear these goods with satisfaction. You can be beautified likewise. 6d2w

Saturday Night's Attraction.

Read what an exchange says: "The Albany Theatre was crowded afternoon and evening, yesterday to witness the performance of "Killarney and the Rhine" in which the picturesque scenes of Ireland and Germany are presented. The Lakes of Killarney are particularly beautiful. Mr. J. E. Toole as a German, is an artist with a good dialect. He is supported by a very good company and the play runs along smoothly. There is considerable specialty work which is very creditable. This attraction will appear at Bradburn's Opera House, Saturday night. Prices 25c, 35c, and 50c.

A Case of Enterprise.

It is felt that one of the most provoking things that can come to a merchant just when the busy selling season commences, is to have to face the tempting inducement offered by a lucky purchase of seasonable goods secured by some wide awake local business man. It certainly seems a little revolutionary to the maintenance of regular prices, but it is a privilege which every enterprising merchant enjoys who is ambitious enough to let no opportunity slip that will help keep up the shoppers' interest in his store. The buying public are quick to see where the real, thrifty trading is being done. When a merchant reaches the point where he is content to float like a bug on a chip and take what happens to come to him, he is heading the wrong way. The recent sensational purchase by Messrs. R. H. Kells & Co., of this town, of a large portion of the bonded goods of the estate of the John Eaton Company, of Toronto, at about one third their value, is a snap which any live business man would rejoice to own. The sale of these high class goods, which begins at Messrs. Kells & Co's store, George street, on Saturday morning, will afford an opportunity that will tilt the scales in favour of the patrons of this firm and of other firms as well. ART LOAN EXHIBITION WAS OPENED YESTERDAY.

It Will Continue Until Saturday Evening Next.

WELL PATRONIZED BY THE ART-LOVING PUBLIC.

A Magnificent Collection of the Curios of the Town and County, Which Are Now Placed on Exhibition For the First Time—The Funds are to be Devoted to the Object of Paying for the Lighting of the Young Men's Christian Association Building.

The Art Loan Exhibition is now in full running, having opened yesterday morning. The patronage which it is receiving is such that the ladies have determined to continue it until Saturday in order that all of the citizens may have an opportunity of examining the many curios and interesting old relics which have been loaned for the occasion. The contributions have so greatly exceeded all expectations, that the large Y.M.C.A. hall could not begin to accommodate them, and the two adjoining rooms had to be secured.

The exhibit is one which has to be seen to be appreciated, and a visitor can spend several hours in examining the contributions and make very little progress, as each and every article has interest entirely its own and requiring special attention. On entering the hall the visitor stands amazed at the wonderful display, no one imagining for a moment that articles of such interest would be found in the homes of the citizens. Everyone has contributed, and as a result, a museum has suddenly risen up at the Y.M.C.A. which cannot fail to hold the attention of every visitor, as the nature of the contents are so varied as to hold an attraction for everyone somewhere.

Something very odd and also very beautiful is a black lace shawl sent in by Miss Blomfield, of Lakefield, which is ornamented with hundreds upon hundreds of beetles wings, stitched on with threads of gold. The effect is indescribably pretty, but the garment of course is very fragile.

Miss Armstrong has sent in a small jar made in the time of Confucius, 2,000 years ago.

A curiously carved Indian stick has been sent in by Mrs. Catharine Parr Traill, and is accompanied by the following note:

This stick was the gift of the noted Indian Sioux Chief, known as "White Cap." He was one of the actors in the massacre of the white people at Fort Benton, Minnesota, but a refugee with some of his tribe in 1862 in the Hudson Bay territory.

This specimen of Indian taste and work is now an historical relic.

The stick was given to me by my son, Mr. W. E. Traill, formerly an officer of the Hudson Bay Company, and is in constant use to aid my steps in extreme old age, and to be returned with care.

MRS C. P. TRAILL.

Mrs. T. E. Fitzgerald has an old fashioned spinning wheel in one of the rooms and when she began to spin yesterday she was quickly surrounded by a crowd of the younger generation, who had never seen anything of the kind before.

Mrs. Tate's collection is something magnificent, consisting largely of a display of various old panels, cameos, paintings on ivory, etc.

A picture contributed by Mrs. C. B. McAllister has unfortunately been hung too high over one of the doors to receive the notice which is its due. It is a face worked in silk from Berlin and a close inspection is merited, as it is an exquisite piece of work.

Miss Roger's collection, as will be seen by the list, contains some very rare old curios from almost every portion of the globe.

Mrs. Fred Bell has contributed some old views of Peterborough and when they were brought in and handed to Mrs. Sheriff Hall to be listed, she was greatly delighted to find amongst the views one of Hunter street, including her own grounds.

As the contributions were delivered at the hall they were received by Mrs. Sheriff Hall, Miss Lundy, Mrs. C. B. McAllister, Mrs. John Nugent and Mrs. Jas. Dennistoun.

Mrs. Peter Campbell has Mrs. Finnemore and a whole flock of pretty girls assisting her at the candy tables, including Misses Ethel Moore, Helen Boucher, Lillie Pearce, Eleanor Kackham and Nan Hall. At the refreshment tables are Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Albert Lech, Mrs E. H. D. Hall, Mrs. T. A. S. Hay, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Wand and Misses Alice Roger, Flora Collins, Annie Hamilton, Wilhelmenia Carnegie, Mabel Mason and Bella Morrow.

The Decoration Committee is composed of Mrs. H. S. Greenwood, Miss Helen Dennistoun, Miss Hatton, Miss Jessie Dennistoun, Miss Lillie Hall and Mrs. Aylmer.

Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Hammond looked after the music and arranged pleasing programmes for the afternoon and evening. The Sons of England Band was in attendance, and the following contributed to the entertainment: Mrs. Stapleton, the Misses Pollock, Miss Helen Dennistoun, Mrs. Max Dennistoun, Miss Clarke, Mrs. G. A. Smith, Mrs. McAllister, Miss Barnett and Mr. A. L. Davis.

The object of the Ladies' Auxiliary in having the Art Loan Exhibition is not to raise money for the general fund of the Y.M.C.A. but to pay for the lighting fixtures and some other of the interior furnishings.

The list of contributions received up to last evening was as follows:

MR. WHITNEY AT MILLBROOK.

The Conservative Leader Addresses the Electors—A Moderate Attendance.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The meeting that was held in the town hall here yesterday in the interests of the Conservative party cannot be said to have been the success that was looked for by the managers. Although the speaking was advertised to start at two o'clock, the town was about as quiet as usual at that hour, and even at half-past two not any more than thirty or forty persons were in the hall. At any time throughout the afternoon seating room was always available, although the hall presented a more respectable appearance, in the matter of numbers, towards the close of the meeting.

The President of the Association, Mr. Joseph Thorndyke, reeve of Cavan, occupied the chair and introduced the various speakers: Mr. T. Dixon Craig, M. P., Mr. H. W. Ward, ex-M. P., Mr. W. W. A. Fallis, M. P. P., Dr. Willoughby, M. P. P., and Mr. J. P. Whitney, Q.C., M.P.P.

While the speakers all received a good hearing, there was an absence of enthusiasm.

After the speaking was over, the Citizens' band played the speakers and prominent local Conservatives to the hotel.

In the evening a procession was also formed which, headed by the band, escorted the Conservative leader to the train.

HUNTERS RETURN.

Mr. Herb. Hall Gets the Biggest Buck of the Season.

Messrs. Charles Westlake, George Fitzgerald, John Westlake and other hunters returned from the bushwoods this morning with eight deer and a twent-eight pound maskinonge.

The biggest deer of the lot was a 250 pound buck, shot by Mr. J. Herbert Hall, son of Mr. Richard Hall, who is out with the Ray-Rutherford party on Gull Lake. This is the first deer ever shot by Herb., but it just took one bullet to finish it. He got it on a runway after the dogs had been out ten minutes, and as it passed him Herb. put a bullet in its brain.

Charley Westlake and Geo. Fitzgerald had only been out three days, but they got three deer, although it rained for two days and a half.

John Westlake shot one of the other deer and bought the remaining three on his way home. He, with his father, nephew and brother-in-law, were camped together on Bottle Lake.

MOBILIZATION OF THE BOYS BRIGADES.

The Various Organizations Combine for Mutual Improvement.

Through iniative of Rev. E. V. Stevenson a meeting of the officers representing the various Boys' Brigades in town was held to consider the question of combined monthly meetings of the several corps. It was felt that the aims and objects of the several brigades being to a large extent identical, that it would create greater enthusiasm and a more earnest esprit du corps of the members of the several Boys' Brigades met monthly. It is proposed to have one monthly meeting devoted to entertainments, to be provided by the brigades, and the next meeting for drill of the united brigades, the system of drill being common to them all. This will permit the brigades, as a battalion, to enter into more imposing demonstrations on public holidays than is possible with individual companies acting by themselves, while this and the entertainment meetings will develop a common feeling of interest in the work, that will much better serve the purposes for which the organizations were effected.

The meeting was attended by Rev. E. V. Stevenson, representing St. John's church Boy's Brigade; Rev. H. Symonds, and H. Adams, sub-Warden, St. Luke's church Boys' Brigade; Rev. J. G. Potter, St. Andrew's Boys' Brigade, and Mr. James Connal, St. Paul's Boys' Brigade. Capt. Mason, of the George street Methodist Boys' Brigade, and Rev. W. Leslie Armitage, of All Saints' Church Boys' Brigade, were unable to attend the meeting.

Those present endorsed and heartily entered into the scheme, and it was arranged to hold the first meeting of the united brigades in St. John's school house on Tuesday evening, Nov. 30th. This will be the first of the entertainment side of the series, and addresses will be given by Rev. J. G. Potter and Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, and an entertainment programme will be provided by the boys. The next monthly meeting will be for drill at some place to be designated hereafter.

The leading books just now are—"Corleone," by Crawford; "Captain Courageous," by Kipling; and "St. Ives," by Stevenson'—A. H. STRATTON.

THOS. HENDREN'S DEATH.

Further Particulars Concerning the Sad Accident at Gull Lake.

Further particulars have just been learned concerning the tragic death of Mr. Thos. Hendren, of Norwood, at Gull Lake on Tuesday last.

It seems that Hendren, with Messrs. Ferguson and Fraser, of Hastings, was crossing the lake with the dogs, intending to put them out on the other side. A big hound suddenly jumped up on the thwart and upset the boat. Hendren, it is thought was struck and stunned, as he was never seen again. The other two occupants of the boat were saved by Mr. Pearson, of Harvey, who rowed out from a neighbouring island.

The body has not been recovered yet.

THREE MEN INJURED

Wreck of a Canadian Pacific Train at Havelock.

Toronto, Nov. 4.—Three men injured, one perhaps fatally, seven cars and two engines smashed, are the results of a collision on the main line of the Canadian Pacific railway at Havelock station. Special freight train No. 53, with engine No. 639 attached, was coming from Montreal to Toronto when it crashed into yard engine No. 640. The freight was going at a pretty good rate of speed at the time, and both engines were badly shattered by the force of the collision. Seven of the freight cars were derailed, and two of them were piled up over the tender of the engine. Four other cars were hurled on the other side of the fence and splintered.

The brakesman named Copp and fireman Arthur Curtis were slightly injured, the latter being thrown right over the two engines. The engineer, whose name is Paton, is said to have been fatally injured, two of his ribs being broken, and he having received other serious injuries. The main line was block for over two hours.

During his stay in the city he will make it a point to visit the several hospitals, with a view of enlarging his experience of diseases which are frequently seen in large cities, but seldom come under the notice of physicians in smaller cities and towns. Dr. Gillespie, of Lindsay, accompanies him. Dr. Carmichael's practice during his absence will be attended to through the courtesy of his brother physicians.

HER INTERESTING STORY.

A well-known Brighton lady tells what she thinks regarding Heart Trouble, and how to cure it.

Mrs. Stephen P. Clapp tells what Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for her.

Mrs. Clapp says, "I have been a sufferer from extreme nervousness for years, and for the last two years my heart has troubled me greatly. I could not sleep soundly, and would often awaken with a start, together with a curious feeling as if my heart had stopped beating, and it would be some time before I could recover myself. At times I became very dizzy, and a mist gathered before my eyes. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, but could get nothing to relieve me. Finally I received a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and am glad to say that they gave me relief in a very short time. I now sleep well, my nerves are steady and strong, and I am better in every way than I have been for years.

I can recommend Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills very highly to those suffering from any trouble affecting the heart and nerves, for I know that they have been a great boon to me."

(Signed) Mrs. Stephen P. Clapp,

THE SEAL CONFERENCE

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Sir Louis Davies and Prof. Macoun to Attend.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies, accompanied by Prof. J. M. Macoun of the Geological Survey, and Mr. R. N. Venning of the Department of Marine and Fisheries, will probably leave on Monday next for Washington. The sealing conference, which the Canadian Government has insisted should be recognized as being only for the purpose of collecting the evidence of the experts who have been at the seal rookeries for the past few years, will commence soon after their arrival.

TRAINMEN WARNED

The Recent Numerous Collisions Have Called Forth a Circular.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The officials of the C. P. R. evidently think it necessary, following upon the more than usual number of accidents which have occurred within the past few weeks, to forcibly impress upon their employes the consequences which may follow any breach of the regulations. The conductor and engineer of a west-bound freight train have been summarily dismissed because their train encroached upon the time of an east-bound freight train. In addition to this a circular has been issued, pointing out that, owing to disobedience of the rule which requires employes when expecting an opposing train to run to the next station and leave a flagman there to warn approaching trains, a collision occurred between a freight and a passenger train, whereby many persons lost their lives. Trainmen are warned in future to keep these rules.

Dr. Bessey's Case

Toronto, Nov. 3.—Nearly two hours were spent at the Police Court yesterday in the preliminary investigation into the charge of murder laid against Dr. W. E. Bessey. It was finally adjourned, unfinished, until to-day. The evidence was the same as that brought out at the inquest. The Magistrate said he could not see what use there was in going all over it again, and characterized it as a perfect farce.

Judgment for the Crown.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—In Single Court at Osgoode Hall yesterday the Ontario Government recovered from James H. Hurst, of Detroit, Hiram Sibley, of Rochester, and James Beringer, of East Saginaw, the sum of $21,000, alleged to be due on the transference of some timber limits near Onaping Lake, bought from the Government. The sale price was $71,000, of which $55,000 was paid. To the balance $16,000 is added $5,000 for interest.

"Cock Robin" Victorious.

London, Nov. 3.—At Excelsior Hall, Bethnal Green, Robinson, alias "Cock Robin," the Hackney pugilist, defeated Pat Daly, the American, in a sharp contest. Daly generally forced the fighting, which was very fine for ten rounds. But "Cock Robin" put in some splendid body work at close quarters.

ONTARIO DENIES LIABILITY

In the Common School Fund Case Before the Supreme Court Yesterday—Judgment Reserved.

Ottawa, Nov. 2.—The Chief Justice, Sir Henry Strong, and Justices King, Taschereau, Gwynne and Sedgewick were on the bench of the Supreme Court today when the Common School Fund case, Ontario v. Quebec and Canada, was called. Mr. Justice Girouard, having been counsel in the case previously, was not sitting. Messrs. Blake, Q.C., Irving, Q.C., and Clarke were for the appellants, and Trenholme, Q.C., Beique, Q.C., Hall, Q.C., and Hogg, Q.C., were for the respondents.

Mr. Trenholme, on behalf of Quebec, moved to quash the appeal, on the ground of lack of jurisdiction. He called attention to Ontario's notice of appeal. It was pretty clear from this notice of appeal that what Ontario contended against was any liability whatever on the part of Ontario in respect to school lands.

Quebec contended that this was the first time Ontario has raised the question of no liability, and that she raises it in this court, as if the Supreme Court were a court of original jurisdiction. Quebec was now called upon to answer this question and objected.

On completion of the arguments on the motion to quash, judgment was reserved, and the hearing on the merits of the Ontario appeal taken up, after which the Quebec appeal will be heard. Counsel for the Dominion will be heard also as to the position the Federal Government occupies in relation to certain moneys forming part of the fund.

CAPITAL GOSSIP.

Ottawa Made a Separate Militia District—Final Proposals Re the Atlantic Mail Service.

Ottawa, Nov. 3.—Militia general orders make Ottawa a separate district administered from headquarters, and contain the regulations governing first appointments to the permanent corps. They also contain the following:

It having been brought to the notice of the general officer commanding that in some cases a fair proportion (by battalions) of non-commissioned officers and men are not admitted to the royal schools of instruction, he deems it advisable that, with a view to a more strict compliance therewith, the attention of district officers commanding and commanding officers be called to paragraph 1054, regulations and orders, 1887. District officers commanding will within ten days after commencement of such course make a return to headquarters on militia form C., 112, of the number of non-commissioned officers and men of the corps in their respective districts who have been authorized to join.

A cablegram received by the Commissioner of Agriculture to-day reports that the last trial shipment of fruit sent under the auspices of the Department of Agriculture, per SS. Georgia, arrived in good condition at London, and that the shipment of fruit per SS. Sardinian arrived in good condition at Glasgow. Cases of pears containing about one bushel each were sold as high as 15s; half cases as high as 9s 7d. Apples and tomatoes also arrived in good condition and sold at good prices. The report, however, again advises against any shipment of grapes.

Messrs. James Charlton, James McLellan and Campbell of the Beaver Line had an interview with Hon. R. W. Scott, actin Minister of Trade and Commerce, submitted the final proposals of the company for the Atlantic mail service. These, it is understood, concern the terminal ports, and will be considered by Council this afternoon. It is understood that all other points are amicably settled.

The Interior Department has been advised that Mr. Sutton and party have returned to Vancouver, and will go to Victoria to-day.

A project is on foot for the erection of a large cotton mill on the famous table rock at the Chaudiere, which is regarded as perhaps the best site for water power in the Dominion of Canada.

Sir Ernest Satow, K. C. M. G. Her Majesty's Minister to Japan, is the guest of Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

A reporter called on Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, to-day to ascertain what further steps have been taken in regard to the cattle at the Experimental Farm diseased with tuberculosis. No final disposition is in sight. Mr. Fisher says, till the facts have been given further consideration. He was in Montreal and consulted there with Dr. McEachran, the chief veterinarian of the department. So far as is yet ascertained there are two possible causes given for the outbreak. In the first place, it may have been brought in by cattle purchased just after the outbreak of four years ago and never properly tested by the farm authorities. This is looked upon as the more likely theory. Again; it may have spread from the animals which were kept for purposes of experiment. In the latter case the contagion might come through the manure. Under the existing conditions there is no chance for contagion at the Farm. The sound cattle are kept by themselves and the unsound in other quarters. The milk from the latter is thoroughly sterilized, and even then is only used for feeding to the hogs.

NEWS FROM ST. KITTS.

E. J. Musson, jr., Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills—He was Bedridden for Months and his Strength was Sapped by Diabetes—He Found his Cure in Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

NORMAL SCHOOL JUBILEE.

Conclusion of the Very Successful and Pleasant Social Reunion.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—The jubilee celebration of the Toronto Normal School was continued yesterday. The feature of the afternoon meeting was the reading of four papers upon subjects of interest to the teaching profession, embracing a brief record of the history of the Normal School, a prophetic forecast of the school of the next century, a comparative study of the Protestant educational system of Quebec, and a review of the progress made as shown by the position of education of the present day compared with that of half a century since.

The jubilee banquet of the Normal School at the Rossin House last night was a most fitting conclusion to the exercises of the past few days. It was truly a social reunion, in which reminiscences of old student days were freely indulged. Gilonna's Orchestra made cheerful music during the progress of the excellent menu. The speeches were eloquent and appropriate.

Hon. G. W. Ross presided, and in the vice chairs were Prof. Hume and Principal MacMurchy.

THE HUTON VERDICT.

The Old Man Killed His Son, but the Jury Says There Was Provocation.

Toronto, Nov. 3.—At midnight James Huton, the slayer of his son, rose from his seat in the Police Court and listened with keen interest to the verdict of the coroner's jury, which was as follows:

That the deceased, John Huton, came to his death at 5.30 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 30, at 21 Richmond-street east, as the result of a blow from shears in the hands of his father, James Huton, and we believe there was provocation.

An audible sigh of assent came from the old man as Coroner Greig read the last few words of the verdict, and in a trembling voice he said: "Yes, yes; thank you, sir."

Then he was led away to the patrol wagon and taken back to the jail. He will appear in the Police Court to-day, and it is likely the case will be proceeded with as quickly as possible, in order that it may come before the grand jury, now in session.

Life is a battle field. Every day brings its fierce, unceasing conflict; every night leaves its multitudes of dead and dying. The horrors of war are no greater than the horrors of disease. If all the nations of the earth were at war against each other there would be no such carnage wrought within the year as that which is accomplished annually by one dread disease—consumption.

And yet this most fatal of all diseases is not without its remedy. It is no longer the irresistible destroyer that it was considered thirty years ago. An entirely new aspect is put upon the possibilities of this dreadful malady by the astounding remedial action of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which cures consumption by nourishing the lungs with an abundant supply of pure, highly-vitalized blood.

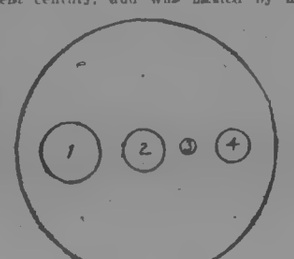
This stops the formation of tuberculous matter, and builds up fresh tissue, muscular flesh and vital energy. It gives digestive power to the stomach which is too weak to assimilate oily emulsions.

Miss Lucy Khoeffler of Armada, Mich., writes: "When I was about eight years of age I had inflammation of the lungs and from that time up I was sick nearly all the time and had a doctor nearly all the time. I would take cold so easily it would go right to my lungs. At the age of nineteen I was very ill; there was pain in my lungs, tickling in my throat and my throat was stuffed with ulcers. There was hoarseness and partial suppression of voice and difficulty of breathing. I doctored with one of our best physicians and he said he could not help me and just prescribed cod liver oil and told my mother I could not live longer than three months. I kept getting weaker every day, when at last a friend asked me why I did not try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I thought there was no use, no more help for me as consumption was in our family. My father and also my sister died with it; but after taking the first bottle I seemed to feel better. My appetite was better and I kept right on taking it with a bottle of the 'Pellets' once in a while, until I felt real well. Before taking it I weighed one hundred and ten pounds, after taking it one hundred and thirty. I have not had a cough this winter."

THE ASTEROIDS.

Tiny Planets Which Give Astronomers No End of Trouble.

An interesting paper on the Asteroids by Professor G. Hulter is given in the report of the Philosophical Society of Bern for the year 1896. These minor planets, or planetoids, as they are sometimes called, circle in orbits intermediate between those of Mars and Jupiter. The first was discovered by Piazzi, at Palermo, on the first day of the present century, and was named by him



RELATIVE SIZE OF THE ASTEROIDS AND MOON.

The including circle represents the moon. 1 Ceres, 2 Pallas, 3 Juno, 4 Vesta.

Ceres, in honor of the old tutelary divinity of Sicily. The second, to which was given the name Pallas, was discovered by Olbers, in March, 1802. Then followed, in 1804 and 1806, the discoveries of Juno and Vesta, which last, curiously enough, is the brightest of the four. A systematic search for asteroids was then begun, but it was not until 1845 that the next, Astræa, was discovered, and then by accident.

Since 1845 the number of known asteroids has been increasing, with "accelerated velocity," as the physicists say, several astronomers having devoted a large portion of their time to the search for them, until now they number upward of 400. Of late years photography has been employed in the search, and the camera has proved itself a veritable drag net, ten or a dozen asteroids being now discovered annually by this means.

The most interesting part of Prof. Hubter's paper is his tabulation of the magnitudes of the asteroids as they appear when we see them at their nearest. Arranging them in groups of fifties, in the order of their discovery, he brings out in a very striking way the fact that there is a regular decrease in their size from the first discovered to the last. Thus, of the first 50, only two were brighter than the eighth magnitude and only seven were below the tenth. Of the last 50 two are of the tenth magnitude and none above it, while 31 are fainter than the twelfth magnitude, and therefore can be seen only through a large telescope. The brightest five can be seen through a field glass, and two of them through an opera glass, and even, under favorable circumstances, with the naked eye.

The actual diameter of the largest four, as they have recently been measured by Prof. Barnard of the Lick Observatory, are as follows: Ceres, 480 miles; Pallas, 304 miles; Juno, 118 miles; Vesta, 243 miles. The smallest can hardly be more than eight or ten miles in diameter, to judge from the amount of light they reflect, and are therefore little more than celestial bowlders, hardly worth, it would seem, the time and labor spent in their discovery, and the trouble of keeping track of them.

THE WEAK MADE STRONG.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

Fairly Staggered.

Mr. Samuel Humphries, retired carriage manufacturer, Strathroy, Ont., says: "For a long time I have had kidney troubles and pain in the back. I could not straighten up and often had to sit down until the pain and weakness went away. I have taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and must say they are a great kidney medicine, because they have entirely removed all pain from my back, curing the urinary difficulties and benefitting my general health in a remarkable degree."

One Laxa-Liver Pills every night for thirty days marked a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

ADAM'S LUCK.

Old Adam was a lucky man
Although
We know
He thought his lot
Was very hard,
And once was caught
Clean off his guard,
With consequences that were fraught
With lasting woe.

Old Adam was a lucky man,
For he
Was not compelled to stay
And see
When his darling sped away
Like the wind,
If her skirts were hanging straight
And she seemed to look all right
From behind.

SAT UP ALL NIGHT.

Famous Old Men Who Have Violated Franklin's Aphorism.

The wisdom of Ben Franklin's aphorism that has never been questioned, yet it is now impeached by some statistics of famous old men who turned night into day.

"Early to bed and early to rise make a man healthy, wealthy and wise,"

The bicycle girl or the lover of the waltz need no longer tremble for the loss of her youthful looks, her peachy cheek, or the sparkle of her eyes. For the first time in history figures have been compiled which prove that it is not the "early to bed" person that lives the longest, and presumably preserves a youthful appearance, nor is it the person who goes to bed late at night.

It is well-known that none of the great astronomers in the world's history ever went to bed at night, as that is the only time they could ever do their work. Yet, notwithstanding their complete disregard of the "early to bed" maxim, it will be seen from the following table taken from the July number of The Observatory which embraces the name of every great astronomer and of many scientists, philosophers and writers who burned the midnight oil in the pursuit of their labors, that none died before the age of at least four score years:

England's American Squadron.

Although the admiralty have during the past few months made considerable changes in the constitution of the various squadrons employed on foreign stations, on no station has the strength been so greatly increased as in North America and the West Indies. Each ship relieved in those waters has been replaced by one of greater tonnage, with the exception of the cruiser Cordelia, all are of modern type, and now for the first time since the formation of a North American squadron the flagship will be a battleship instead of, as heretofore, a cruiser. There are at the present time no fewer than seven vessels in commission at the home ports preparing for permanent service on that station, viz.: the battleship Renown (the future flagship of Vice-Admiral Sir John A. Fisher, K.C.B.); the turret ship Hotspur, the gunboats Medway and Medina, the torpedo boat destroyers Quail and Sparrowhawk, and the special service vessel Columbine, representing collectively a displacement of 17,646 tons. With this strengthening of the squadron it has been found necessary to modernize and otherwise improve the admiralty property at the depots. At Bermuda a large dock is to be constructed, the admiralty house is being prepared at a cost of £1500, the breakwater is being improved at a cost of £6000, the harbor is being dredged at a cost of £7000, a hospital building is being erected at an estimated expenditure of £4500, and a gun-mounting store will cost £3000. At Jamaica £19,000 is being spent in improving the water supply, and the staff of Bermuda dockyard is being greatly strengthened.—London News.

Strain is Very Great.

It is generally held by Alpine climbers, says The British Medical Journal, in speaking of age and cycling, that most of the fatal accidents in mountain climbing occur through the failure at the critical moment of some man who has taken to mountaineering too late in life, and who is, perhaps, also out of condition. An old dog cannot be taught tricks, according to the proverb, and, though it is disagreeable to have to realize that we have passed the age when we can excel in a new pastime requiring special skill to avoid accident, and youthful adaptibility and elasticity to avoid overstrain, it is the part of wisdom to accept the inevitable. There is no reason why middle-aged men, and even those who have passed middle-age, should not take to cycling, but it should be with a frank recognition of the limitations which age imposes. Great strain, long distances, and hill climbing put a strain upon the constitution and will find out the weak places, the parts of the system which are going faster perhaps than the rest—the heart, it may be, or the vessels of the brain. So, also, in regard to riding a bicycle in crowded thoroughfares, the strain on the attention is considerable, the risk not small if a man has lost the quickness of youth.

Practise Economy

In buying medicine as in other matters. It is economy to get Hood's Sarsaparilla because there is more medicinal value in Hood's Sarsaparilla than in any other. Every bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses and will average, taken according to directions, to last a month, while others last but a fortnight.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Easy and yet efficient.

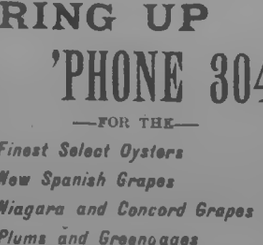
High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.



The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Guard the Little Ones.

Is Your Child Afflicted With Corea or St. Vitus' Dance?

If So, Use Paine's Celery Compound.

It Cures That Dread Disease.

If your child is fretful or listless, or if it complains of headache, dizziness, chilliness, palpitation of the heart, you may expect Corea or St. Vitus' Dance.

When your child shows the premonitory symptoms of this disease use the proper medicine at once. Do not wait until the little one becomes helpless. If the fretful, restless, nervous symptoms are not regarded, involuntary movements and spasm will soon follow. The muscles of the face will be so affected that the patient will scowl, laugh, wink, and grind the teeth, and chewing and talking will be almost impossible. Madness or idiocy follow later on.

There is but one remedy that is uniformly successful in curing St. Vitus' Dance; it is Paine's Celery Compound, Dr. Phelps' great discovery.

Fathers and mothers who are entrusted with great responsibilities should not wait till the disease assumes a dread form; duty demands the use of the medicine that has cured thousands of little ones in the past. An early use of Paine's Celery Compound will banish every form of danger and restore any child to perfect health and strength.

Special Colours for Cotton and Mixed Goods Prepared only by the Manufacturers of Diamond Dyes.

When you decide to dye cotton goods or goods composed of wool and cotton, or cotton or silk, use the Fast Diamond Dye special colours for Cotton or Mixed Goods.

The using of soap grease and imitation package dyes will only cause ruin and disappointment. Soap grease and imitation dyes sold by some dealers, are supposed to be all round dyes. This is a misleading and deceptive statement, and give a vast amount of trouble to the home dyer. Cotton is a vegetable fibre and requires a special dye. These specially prepared and warranted dyes are only found in the "Diamond" family. Common dyes—three fourths grease and one fourth weak colouring matter—cannot give strong and permanent colours to your carpet rags or other cotton goods. Diamond Dyes have sixteen special Fast colours for Cotton or Mixed goods. Every merchant should have the full assortment of colours. Diamond Dyes bring pleasure, success and profit to the user at all times.

PETERBOROUGH, NOVEMBER 6, 1897.

MR. STRATTON CONFERS WITH HIS CONSTITUENTS.

HE DEALS WITH THE LEGISLATIVE RECORD.

He Treats of Provincial Topics of Present Interest The Financial Situation Presented Our Timber and Mining Interests Considered—License and Succession Duties.

On Friday evening, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., addressed a largely attended meeting of the electors in the Town Hall, Young's Point, upon the Legislative record of the past session, and incidentally dealing with some other questions that are engaging public attention at the present time. The following is a synopsis of the address :—

Since the last time I had the pleasure of addressing you there has occurred, as you all know, a change in the personnel of the head of the government of Ontario, Sir Oliver Mowat, the veteran premier who had filled that position for nearly a quarter of a century having retired to take a prominent position in the Dominion cabinet, that of Minister of Justice. With regard to that distinguished gentleman's career and record, it is not my intention to deal except incidentally—in relation to his connection with the record of the Ontario government during his leadership, (Applause.) Although it is inevitable that Sir Oliver's retirement should be regretted, still it must be satisfactory to the party in sympathy with the government to know that its ranks contained a gentleman in every way fitted to be a creditable and worthy successor to the greatest premier the province has ever known, and to the people to know that the eminent services they have received at the hands of Sir Oliver Mowat, will as far as ability and intention are concerned be repeated by his successor, Hon. A. S. Hardy, (Cheers) who has served a thorough apprenticeship in the art of efficient and economical government, for the past 24 years during which he has continuously represented South Brant in the Ontario Legislature and for 20 years he has been a Cabinet minister. He accepted the portfolio of Provincial Secretary in 1877 and was promoted to the position of Commissioner of Crown Lands in 1889 and in July 1896 he became Premier and Attorney General of Ontario. His experience as a legislator, his experience as a cabinet minister, in the several positions he has occupied, and his close and intimate association with Sir Oliver Mowat in conducting the affairs of the Province have given him a ripeness of experience, (made more valuable by its association, with great natural aptitude for administrative duties), that mark him as a most fitting successor to his late leader, and a most proper person to whom might be intrusted the leadership of the government of the first province of Confederation ; and when we remember that Mr. Hardy has the advantage of the association in the government of Hon. G. W. Ross, with an experience as a legislator extending over a period of 27 years in the Dominion Parliament and Ontario Legislature, with fourteen years as Minister of Education—whose broad culture and ripe experience as an educator, make him a model minister—we cannot but conclude that the affairs of the Province are in safe and capable hands. (Hear, hear.) Especially so, as we find associated with these gentlemen, the other members of the Cabinet, who in their respective positions are worthy colleagues of the gentlemen I have named. Thus it will be seen that we have a government which not only on the score of ability and experience, but also on the score of a record of unexampled success, have good grounds for expecting a favourable response at the hands of the electorate, to their appeal for a renewal of that confidence they have so long enjoyed, and which they have so amply justified. (Applause.)

Review of Legislative Work.

Mr. Stratton said that it had been his custom since he had been honoured by election as a representative, after every session to meet his constituents and give an account of his stewardship and to indicate generally what had been the result of the legislative work of the session. Last year, owing to half of the year being occupied by the session of the legislature and the Dominion elections, and owing to the more urgent claims of his personal business, he was unable to meet his constituents as usual. He would now briefly explain some of the chief legislation accomplished during the last session. As he had other matters to refer to he would not consume too much time with a reference to the legislative record of the past session.

The question of the abolishing of Government House has been before the people often and has also been a frequent subject of discussion among the members of the legislature as well. It was felt that public opinion was not in sympathy with the maintenance of so expensive a gubernatorial establishment. By way of compromise of these conflicting opinions it was almost unanimously agreed by the House that the lands forming Government House block shall be sold within five years by public auction, or by tender, the proceeds to form a fund for the erection of a new Government House, the surplus to be set apart for future maintenance. It is the intention to erect a less elaborate residence, more convenient to the Parliament Buildings. Some persons were in favor of the abolition of Government House outright. Others felt that it would not be desirable to hand back to the Dominion for distribution among the other provinces such a valuable property and if dispensed with altogether that would probably be the result. Under the new Act the residence will be maintained without any cost to the province, the proceeds of the sale sufficing for that purpose.

Another very important Act was one to provide for the better keeping of municipal accounts. Recent shortages in the accounts of several municipal treasurers, made it advisable to take some steps to meet the popular demand for some means to save municipalities from such large losses as have been recently sustained through unscrupulous and dishonest treasurers. He instanced the counties of Simcoe, Brant, Frontenac and others where sums aggregating thousands of dollars were lost to the ratepayers through the treasurers, who were assisted by an improper system of bookkeeping, co-operating with inefficient and perfunctory audits, in defrauding the ratepayers out of these considerable sums. There has been a strongly expressed desire for a provincial audit, but the government recognizing the immense cost which a provincial audit would entail, decided to take a middle course and the plan set forth in the Act has been adopted. The Act provides that certain simple and plain forms of books of account be adopted and kept by the treasurers of all municipalities and school boards. The books are prepared under the superintendence of the government. In the event of suspicion being aroused in respect of municipal treasurers and their accounts, any two members of a council or thirty ratepayers may apply to the government, who, upon receipt of such request, will send the provincial municipal auditor, who is an expert accountant, to investigate the treasurer's books and report to the municipality, and the books that will be supplied under the Act are so simple that the expense of an investigation is trifling in comparison with the losses that are liable to be sustained through a treasurer taking his own system or no system to complicate accounts if he is desirous of adding unauthorized sums to his salary at the expense of the corporation. Then with these simplified books, municipal auditors can more quickly and easily understand the accounts and more readily detect mistakes or improper entries. The same Act provides that a corporation may direct that all municipal taxes be paid direct into a chartered bank having an office in the municipality. An additional security is provided for by permitting the passage of a by-law requiring that all disbursements shall be made only on the cheque of the treasurer, countersigned by the head of the municipality. The manager of a bank having the account of a school board or municipality shall supply to any member of the council or school board a true statement of account when required to do so and shall every three months send a statement of the account to the head of the municipality or school board, such statement to be read at the first meeting thereafter. Every treasurer is to keep the moneys of the corporation separate from his own.

An act was passed last session to amend and make more stringent the Liquor License Act one of the most important subjects that can engage the attention of a legislature or an electorate. It would take too long the speaker said to enumerate the numerous changes and improvements that have been made in the license laws since the province adopted the system of licensing in 1876, but he would generally indicate that since that time twelve distinct acts have been passed dealing with the license law, the general tendency of which has been to reduce the number of licenses, to prohibit the sale of liquor to minors and to give to each municipality, the right to have prohibition when it saw fit, under the local option law, and penalty has been added to penalty, and restriction to restriction, until in the past twenty-five years the number of licenses has been reduced from 6,185 in 1871 to 3,132 in 1896. Out of 816 municipalities in the province there are 185 where no liquor is sold, so that in nearly a quarter of the province prohibition has been virtually established. The number of licenses issued under the previous Act was 4 for the first 1,000 and one for each 500 of population over 1,000. The Act passed last session permits three for the first 1,000 and one for each additional 600. This change cuts off 135 licenses in the province and reduces the number of licensed hotels in Peterborough town by seven and provides for the total abolition of saloon licenses after next year. The speaker said he might be permitted to explain that the commissioners in Peterborough reduced the licenses this year by two ; the law requires them to cut off two more next year and three the following year. This will reduce the number in Peterborough from twenty-four to seventeen. And besides Mr. Stratton pointed out, there seemed to be prohibition in all the municipalties of this riding but three. Cavendish, Galway, Harvey, Ennismore, North Monaghan and and South Monaghan have no licenses to sell liquor. Smith, Peterborough, and Lakefield were the only municipalities where liquor was sold. An important provision of the Act of last session forbids the sale of liquor to persons under 21 years of age. By this provision prohibition is made to apply to one half of the population of the province. These were the chief provisions of the amendments of the license law which meet general approval.

Different provisions have been made from time to time for the better protection of employees in factories, and last session another step was taken in this direction by enacting that no child under ten years shall be employed in shops, and that the hours of young women under eighteen shall not be longer than from seven to six, except-ing Saturdays, when the time may be extended till ten o'clock. Seats must be provided for female employees and other provisions are made for furnishing sanitary accommodation for the employees.

Another Act provides for having our daily bread as clean as possible. Bake shops as well as bakers, by this law, are required to be clean and tidy and to submit to regular and rigid inspection.

To meet a popular demand for some restriction of the admission of children from outside countries to Ontario, an Act was passed by which every society or agent shall exercise strict supervision over every child brought into Ontario under the age of eighteen years, in order to prevent the addition to our population of physically or morally diseased children.

Heretofore wage earners were by law entitled to three month's salary in cases where an employer made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. Last session the principle of the Act was extended to wage earners under an employer who may die unable to pay his creditors the wage earner still can legally set up a preferential claim to three month's wages.

The Mechanics' Lien Act has been so amended as to compel persons erecting a building to retain a larger amount of the sum due the contractor for the benefit and protection of the workingman.

Very important legislation was enacted for consolidating and improving the Joint Stock Companies and Loan Corporations Acts and the Insurance Act was consolidated and amended.

Last year a good deal of legislature was adopted in the way of providing for the interpretation and consolidation of the statutes which as they were aware, takes place every ten years, the last revision being in 1887.

In a trial following the last general election one of the candidates, George Tucker was disqualified for treating at the bar during an election, and as it was thought by the legislature that he had been sufficiently punished for his injudicious exercise of hospitality, an act was past removing his disqualification.

An act was passed for the removal from Crown Lands of certain persons unlawfully occupying them, the object being to protect the timber interests of the province.

A Mining Act was passed incorporating all the commendable features of the Australian and American mining laws. This act gives every encouragement to the first discoverer of ores or minerals ; it limits the application in counties and districts to 320 acres in one year to individuals and 640 acres to companies. It is a liberal and generous mining act which meets with the approval of all interested in the developement of our mining industries and resources.

An act was passed respecting the fisheries of Ontario which comes into effect by proclamation. As they were aware, the respective rights, powers and jurisdiction of the Dominion and Province, respectively, in regard to our fisheries in inland water, were in dispute. The matter was placed before the Privy Council and it is expected that according to custom the decision will be in favour of Ontario's contention. The enactments provides for dealing with these matters when the Province obtains control.

An Act respecting the department of agriculture was passed, providing that, when a municipality does not forward the municipal returns to the Bureau of Industries as required by law, the Minister of Agriculture may direct some competent person to examine the books and make such returns.

An Act was also passed to amend the Agriculture and Arts Act, effecting the amalgamation of the Eastern and Western Dairymen's Association and the Ontario Creameries Association and constituting, with similar powers, the Cheese and Butter Association of Western and Eastern Ontario.

An Act repecting the registration of vital statistics was also passed providing for the more perfect registration of births, deaths and marriages.

An Act was passed which, among other things provides that, subject to approval of the ratepayers, a town or village might acquire water privileges and lands adjacent for the purposes of the corporation and to supply power upon terms to be agreed upon.

Another amendment to the Municipal Act gives power to municipalities to establish and conduct a telephone business,

Another amendment authorizes cities or towns to make appropriations to the amount of $500 to advertise the advantages of such city or town.

Another permits a municipality to set aside a part of a highway or street for the purposes of a bicycle path, and persons with vehicles are forbidden to use such path.

A special provision permits municipalities of Haliburton to group themselves together and take stock to an extent not exceeding $3,000 to erect and run a grist mill, provided that said mill is not within twenty miles of an existing mill.

Another amendment provides that any official of a municipal corporation who makes, or causes to be made, any untrue statement or incorrect entry in the annual December financial statement, shall be liable on conviction to a fine of not less than $5 and not greater than $40.

Another amendment gives municipalities permission to pass by-laws prohibiting wheeled vehicles of any kind (including bicycles) from using sidewalks built for the use of pedestrians.

Another amendment permits adjoining municipalities to enter into agreement for repair or maintenance of specified portions of boundary roads, each municipality to accept full responsibility.

Another amendment adopted and made legal certain short forms af municipal by-laws, with the idea of saving conveyancer's fees, and generally enabling municipal officials of ordinary intelligence to dratt by-laws without the aid of a solicitor.

The Engledue Mining Developement Deal

No small amount of criticism is bestowed upon the government in connection with what is known as the Engledue mining agreement. Possibly the people could be brought to believe that the government was to blame in this matter, if they only heard one side of the story, and that entirely wrong and aside from the facts. A very brief statement would suffice to explain the entire transaction. In July of 1896, previous to any mining excitement in the province, a gentleman representing an English syndicate of capitalists communicated with the Ontario Government to see if exclusive rights could not be given the syndicate to explore one or two townships in northwestern Ontario, and offering in the event of their discovering minerals or mines, that the syndicate be allowed to apply for them in accordance with the provisions of the Mines Act of the Ontario government. At first the Attorney General did not approve of giving a license of occupation for such large areas and for such a length of time as the syndicate desired. But, after deliberately considering the matter with a view of doing the best in the interests of the developement of the mineral resources of the province the government assented to the issue of a license of occupation to the Engledue syndicate of 44,000 acres subject to stringent conditions. These conditions were, that the syndicate shall during the first year after May 1898, expend in actual work of exploration for minerals in their territory the sum of not less than $30,000 ; the second year not less than $40,000 ; the third year not less than $50,000. Altogether in three years they are bound to spend $120,000. In conducting the search for minerals, the syndicate shall not interfere in any way with any right or interest which any other person may already have in the limits licensed to the syndicate, nor shall the syndicate cut or remove any timber, nor shall the syndicate have power to remove from their leased territory any ore for purposes of experiment unless the lands from which such ore is extracted shall have been actually leased or purchased by the syndicate and the rent or purchase money actually paid. The syndicate is bound to make the expenditures stipulated, and in default of doing so they shall forfeit the sum of $20,000 which they have deposited with the government as security. These were the facts of the case and will any unprejudiced person see in the transaction the enormity which the Opposition leaders claim? The bargain is an excellent one. The capital that had been invested in the Grand Trunk Railway, in phosphate mines, lead mines or in colonization lands in the North West by British capitalists had turned out disastrously to British investors and, on that account, English capital was shy of Canadian investments, as shown by the fact that in a mineral belt of millions of acres only one mine, the Sultana, was working successfully. Innumerable veins had been discovered, but when put to the test were not profitable. What was the government to do? There was no doubt that mineral wealth was there in abundance. Was the government to allow a proposition to pass by which promised to result so advantageously to the province? Were they to see men standing idle who might be profitably employed on exploration work? Canadian capital was not seeking a field in that part of the country. American and English capital was passing our doors going to Australia, British Columbia and South Africa. Therefore, was it not the duty—was it not the business—of the government to direct some of the capital that offered to the development of our own mineral wealth? Was it not the business of the government to accept a favourable offer to have the value of our mining lands thoroughly tested and without a cent of cost to the government? Very properly the government said to this syndicate :—" We will allow you to put in your prospectors and scientific explorers ; we will allow you access to a sufficient extent of mining territory to afford a complete test, but we will not give you a title to a foot of land—we will require you to give ample security that you mean business and we will require you, on pain of forfeiting $20,000 deposited with the government, to spend $120,000 on exploration work in three years. We will do all this, but we will not give you a single mine nor allow you to remove a pound of ore except under the terms of the Mining Act." (Applause.) "You must locate, survey and pay for your mining claims like any other prospector."

Now, where is the "steal?" Where is the "robbery?" The only possible excuse for the hysterical criticisms of the Opposition leaders lies in the fact that the syndicate has exclusive access to this one township for three years and that only for exploration purposes and they pay a good price for it. They spend $120,000 of good British gold in Canada with the probable result of discovering mines that will pan out millions. The Opposition talks as if this one township which has lain dormant since the dawn of creation was the only mineral land in the North West. Why, there are millions upon millions of acres besides, and upon the map of New Ontario the Engledue area covers about the same proportion of ground that a straw hat thrown into a field would bear to the entire acreage of this township. In effect, the government by the Engledue bargain has set British capital digging after our minerals and setting into action a process of development that will result in vast discoveries of minerals if, as there is every reason to believe, there are minerals there, and if none are found Col. Engledue and his friends will be the only losers—the province will have gained by having $120,000 spent in trying. It is a business arrangement completed by a business government with a syndicate of British business capitalists, and every business man not a hide-bound partizan must admit that it is a move in the right direction and the first lifting of the flood-gate to admit a stream of British capital into Ontario. (Applause.)

Mr. Stratton repeated that the bargain was a good one whose only fault was that it had not been made before. Upon the ratification of this bargain last session the government got the largest majority of the session every Independent member of the House voting for it ; and Mr. Joseph Haycock leader of the Patrons in the House, asserted that it would be a good policy for the government to accept similar offers from every such syndicate that could be induced to make them. In view of these facts the objections made to the transaction, had no justification and there was no doubt that the present and future generations would reap great advantages from the systematic explorations that would be conducted in the districts conceded to the Engledue syndicate. (Cheers.)

The Timber Question.

There was, Mr. Stratton said, one subject that was of the greatest importance to the people and to the interests of the province which would bear some reference. The timber interests of the province were important as being a principal source of revenue and in this regard two questions became of prime importance that of preservation of our timber resources and when it became necessary to cut our timber, to do so under conditions that will yield the largest possible amount of revenue. They all knew what course the United States had taken towards our timber—how a duty of $2.00 per thousand feet had been imposed on lumber imported from Canada. The question of how to do the best from our own timber interests under the circumstances was a most serious and most difficult one, and it has for some time been engaging the attention of the government and of public men ; the object to be aimed at is to give Canadians the fullest possible benefit of the conversion of our timber resources into marketable products. The government has already imposed certain regulations, by which outside lumbermen are required to purchase all lumbering supplies used in the woods in Canada and to employ Canadian labour. But there is another action indicated that cannot at present be fully taken in view of the necessity of respecting the conditions under which licenses to cut timber are granted and which expired next April. It might be considered a breach of faith on the part of the government to impose new conditions in addition to those imposed at the time the licenses were granted. There was considerable difference of opinion as to the best course to pursue. Some were in favor of meeting the difficulty by imposing an export duty on logs taken out of Canada. But to this course there were grave objections. An export duty was objectionable for more reasons than one. It would have to be imposed by the Dominion Government, which would collect the duty. He, Mr. Stratton, was opposed to any course that would deprive the province of one cent of revenue from our timber resources. Under the export duty system the revenue would go into the coffers of the Dominion and Ontario would reap no direct benefit. He was inclined to favor some action that would result in the protection and preservation of our timber interests, an action that would give Ontario the full benefit of all expenditure for either wages or manufacture in connection with lumbering operations. A good way, to his mind, was to increase the stumpage dues for all logs cut for export from the province to, say, treble the present figures. If, under these conditions, logs were exported by anybody, the revenue would come entirely to the province and if this increase should bring about the cutting of all logs within Ontario, the province would still get the advantage of the expenditure in connection therewith, and Ontario workingmen would get the advantage of the employment thus afforded.

This, however, is not a new question though Mr. Whitney and his friends in dealing with the matter, with a prudence that is less questionable than their honesty, ignore the facts. Now as a matter of fact, the first sale of timber made by Hon. Mr. Hardy, in 1890, after he became Commissioner of Crown Lands, was made subject to the condition of manufacture in the Province, and the only other sale of any extent held under Mr. Hardy was of limits whose logs were tributary to the Ottawa river from which there is little possibility that logs would be exported to Michigan. It was worth while repeating since the Conservatives had so conveniently forgotten it, that Mr. Hardy inserted the manufacturing conditions in the first sale he made which was in 1890, and there is timber owned in Peterborough that is yet held, subject to the manufacturing condition. It was not honest, it was not fair for Mr. Whitney and his friends to conceal these facts, which, with other things, went to show that the Ontario Government are anxious, willing and capable of fully protecting the timber interests of the Province and the people will find that they will be equal to any emergency that may arise in respect to the protection of our timber interests, both in the matter of securing the largest revenue and fully protecting the interests of Ontario workingmen.

But the question was a large one and could not be dealt with in the off-hand and easy manner that many supposed. It required serious consideration and a careful enquiry into all the conditions that surround it. It was so important a matter that it was advisable that the legislature, in conjunction with the government, should deal with the subject. If the matter were fully discussed in the legislature and action taken by that body, that action would naturally represent every phase of the question and be something in the nature of a finality. The question must be dealt with broadly and fairly, and with this point kept steadily in view—that the province is to get the largest amount of revenue possible from timber operations and that our own working men get all the work to do in connection with such operations. But doubtless they were aware that the Legislature had been called together and then the Attorney-General had stated the matter would be considered from every point of view. Those who have considered the subject most fully and should be regarded as authority upon matters of this kind, are in favor of a direct Order-in-Council, directing that all Ontario pine shall be manufactured into lumber in the province, and he was inclined to think that ultimately that would be the course that would be adopted. Ample discussion of the subject was in the interests of the province and he felt no doubt that when the government announced its decision, that decision would be in the best interests of the province and there will be no ground of complaint on the part of even those who most strongly advocate that Ontario territory and Ontario workingmen should have the full benefit resulting from lumbering operations. (Cheers.)

Succession Duties.

The Succession Duties, a per centage levied on the estates of deceased persons, but only on estates of over $100,000, where the heirs are direct has incurred the criticism of the Opposition, who had denounced them as excessive. How does the matter stand? The practice of levying succession duties has long been in use in England. It is a clearly recognized principle that all persons who inherit wealth, created under conditions that did not admit of a collection of taxes to support the state or municipality, should in fairness be asked to contribute a due share of the expense of the government or other protection that made the amassing of the wealth in question possible. We all know that many wealthy persons who pile up a big hoard escape a good deal of taxation that strikes us ordinary mortals so hard ; and having escaped in life the money he leaves behind him to benefit those who receive it as a free gift, it seems only reasonable that under such conditions the taxes should be paid. One grand feature of the succession duties is that the money derived from them is devoted by the act to help maintain our charitable institutions, (Applause.) As explained on former occasions an individual may be worth $100,000 and distribute the sum to his heirs without any sum being taken by the province, and it is only in the case of a deceased person leaving money to friends not direct heirs that sums under $100,000 are subject to a percentage being applied to our charitable institutions, and therefore it seems that there is very little danger of the average farmer, or business man, or mechanic, who may be called upon to die, to fear that his estate will be lessened by paying a succession duty. And we have more wealthy men in Ontario than would at first thought be imagined. During the four years that this duty has been collected the amount has reached the respectable sum of $648,000 and if the provincial treasurer's estimate for 1897 is realized the total will be swelled to $823,619, a sum over $25,000 greater than the total sum expended on the maintenance of our public institutions in 1897, or in other words thanks to the succession duties the total expense of maintaining our public institutions for one entire year is met with over $25,000 to the good, almost as much as our public works cost us yearly ; or to put it in another way, our public institutions requiring over three-quarters of a million the average year to keep them up, are every fifth year kept up free of charge. If the money derived from succession duties were devoted to some unworthy and indefensible purpose, we then could understand the objections of the Opposition ; but when it is claimed from those who can well afford to pay, and is devoted to relieving the unfortunate and afflicted and bringing into their darkened lives all the comforts that money and good care can bestow, one would think that not a voice would be raised in opposition to it, (Applause.)

The Question of Finances.

As the electors are aware during the past summer the leader of the government and the leader of the Opposition have very properly been addressing the people of the province upon provincial issues and laying before them the state of affairs as presented to the minds of these gentleman respectively. And in the addresses of Mr. Whitney he has thought it prudent to refer only in general terms to the various subjects he has seen fit to deal with. The leader of the Opposition, Mr. Whitney and his associates have dealt in rather sweeping charges in respect to the financial position, declaring that we are on the verge of direct taxation, that our assets have been and are being squandered, and that our financial affairs were generally being conducted in a ruinously extravagant and incapable manner.

Now as the financial question touches us all the most closely, whether as individuals or municipalities or a province, it is perhaps well to devote a little time to the consideration of the financial record of the government and present condition of the province in that regard. While figures are generally tedious and dry, yet when the assertion is being made that the electors are being robbed right and left and that the province is on the verge of bankrutcy, I trust that you will indulge me in mentioning a few figures to show you that the provincial estate is not in so bad a position after all ; but that, on the contrary, its finances have been ably and economically administered and, that the province has had full value for every cent expended, and that the balance sheet shows that at least 4½ million dollars stand between us and Mr. Whitney's straw stuffed bogey of direct taxation. (Hear, hear.)

Now you all know that no one can tell how he stands with the world, without going into the details of his business and giving both sides of the account—income as well as outlay—and taking account of operations from the time of beginning business up to the time a balance sheet is struck. Now, as you are all aware, the province of Ontario set up business on its own account in 1867. When John Sandfield Macdonald was defeated and retired he left a surplus, according to Mr. Whitney's claim of four million dollars. The facts are that the actual surplus on hand at that time was $3,800,000.00, but as a matter of fact, if the provincial estate at the end of Sandfield Macdonald's term had been properly wound up and a proper balance struck the surplus, about which so much has been said would not have existed, for it would have practically disappeared, as in point of fact it did disappear subsequently in meeting the obligations incurred by the Sandfield Macdonald government. No farmer's son would thank his father for the present of a farm ostensibly free of debt when afterwards he found out to his cost that the liabilities in the shape of legacies to come out of the estate, mortgages and other little encumbrances, amounted to almost, if not quite, the value of the farm.

The supposed surplus that Sandfield Macdonald left was $3,800,000.00. Now let us see what there was against this?

In the first place we find the celebrated surplus reduced to $3,300,000 by the payment by the Mowat government of an obligation of $500,000, representing moneys advanced on bills paid by the Dominion government to help Sandfield Macdonald in the first years of the provincial house-keeping. Then by special act of the Legislature, Sandfield Macdonald had appropriated $1,500,000 to aid railways. This sum was paid by the Mowat government subsequently, and thus reduced Mr. Whitney's ever-green Sandfield Macdonald surplus to $1,800,000. There was afterwards paid to Quebec, that province's share of the collections from common school lands, the sum of $200,000. This brought down the alleged surplus to $1,600,000. The cost of the Rockwood Asylum, Kingston, $100,000, should have been paid for by Sandfield instead of putting the money into his surplus. It was paid by the Mowat government and thus the surplus comes down another peg through paying the Sandfield Macdonald goverment's debts, or to $1,500,000. In his government's time also, the London Asylum was partly built, the Institute for the Blind at Brantford, that of the Deaf and Dumb at Belleville, the Reformatory for boys at Penetanguishene, the Asylum at Orillia, and the Central Prison, which latter, by the way, should not have been built by the Province at all, but by the Dominion Government. All of these buildings had to be completed at a great expense and partly paid for hy the Mowat government. Besides, their maintenance largely increased the annual expenditure. The critics should remember these and other facts when contrasting the expenditure in Sandfield Macdonald's time with that of later periods. When Mr. Blake came into office he appropriated another $400,000 for railways, cutting down the surplus to $1,100,000; Sandfield Macdonald on account of the Municipal Loan Fund, collected and salted down $500,000, this was trust funds and he did not pay a dollar of it out. It was subsequently paid out by the Mowat government and another slice in the shape of Sandfield Macdonald's old debts goes off the surplus, reducing it to $600,000. Another sum considered by many as properly chargeable to Sandfield Macdonald, was the Teacher's Superannuation Fund, (inaugurated by him but abolished by the Mowat government). He was responsible for the establishment of this system, under which he paid out only $6,000, but left it as a legacy to the present government which has paid under the system established by Sandfield Macdonald, over $1,400,000. Thus not only is the boasted surplus wiped clean out, but Sandfield Macdonald actually committed his successors to an expenditure of $800,000, over what his modern worshippers claim that he left in the Provincial treasury. (Cheers.) Where does the advantage to the present government come in, in respect of the hoard that was found in the government chest in 1871? It is not denied that the money—$3,800,000—was in the public chest, but as I have shown there were obligations to which Sandfield Macdonald committed his successors which wiped out his surplus and required an expenditure of $800,000 besides, so that the Mowat government would have been as well off if Sandfield had left only a hundred dollars in the public chest without any obligations like those he did leave. (Hear, hear.)

Of course the province received the benefit of the expenditure, but my object in going into this matter so minutely, was to show the hollowness and hypocrisy of the cry of the Opposition, that the Sandfield Macdonald surplus was squandered through extravagant expenditure. The surplus was there no doubt but so also were the "notes," which the succeeding government had to retire. Electors who have not access to the figures I have quoted are apt to be led away by the clap-trap cries, (hear, hear), of men who have an axe to grind, in glorifying Sandfield Macdonald at the expense of the present government.

According to the Opposition critics the alleged wasting of the Sandfield Macdonald surplus, (which, as I have shown that gentleman's government was actually responsible for) there is added to by vague charges of that being only a part of a general system of extravagant expenditure. Now let me examine the matter a little in detail, to ascertain to what extent such a charge is justified or if it has any justification whatever. Before showing in what way the moneys of the Province have been expended, and how that expenditure was justified. I wish to put the Opponents of the government into the witness box themselves. (Hear, hear.)

A government is responsible for the appropriation and expenditure of moneys and the Opposition is equally responsible for all appropriations made and expenditures incurred with their consent. The supply bill is the amount voted annually for the public service. Now take the total of the supply bills, say for the past ten years as an example—from 1883 to 1893 we find that there was appropriated for the carrying on of the affairs of the Province, the total sum of $33,197,114. Mr. Whitney and his friends in the House were consenting parties to the vast bulk of this expenditure. Out of this great sum of thirty-three millions, the Opposition only objected to $89,000, or to put it another way, the sum total of the extravagant expenditure that has reduced the Province to the alleged verge of direct taxation, to which the Opposition objected, has been in the ten years named only $89,000, or a little over $8,000 per year, a sum so comparatively trifling, that the Opposition critics are placing themselves in the position of standing idly by and seeing the provincial revenue (according to their contention) squandered without protest; or, they must on the other hand consent to be declared incompetent for the discharge of their duties as critics and guardians of the interests of the province. (Applause).

Year after year in the house the expenditure proposed by the government was approved of by the Opposition. In five years, from 1888 to 1892 inclusive, a total sum of $17,493,471 was voted, and of this the Opposition opposed only $350. What are these men talking about? The money voted was a proper and reasonable expenditure or it would have been opposed by Her Majesty's Opposition. If improper and extravagant expenditure was proposed and the Opposition were so culpably negligent as to let it pass unchallenged how can they now lay claim to a right to control the expenditure of the province. (Hear, hear.) We all know that it is easier to find fault than to do things properly. If the Opposition cannot even find fault how can they be expected to properly carry on the government of the country. (Cheers.)

The Matter of Increased Expenditure.

The government has been charged with increasing the annual expenditure. That is one of the few of tne many charges made that there is anything in. It must be admitted that the expenditure of the Province has increased. But to what extent? The total expenditure under the supply bill was in 1873, the sum of $2,460,212—twenty years later that is, in 1893, it had increased to $3,371,748, or a total increase of $911,536, or an average yearly increase of $45,576. If we compare the supply bill of 1873, $2,460,212, with the supply bill of 1896—$3,415,274, we find that the average increase per year has been $39,794, or 1¼ per cent. per year of an increase. These are the actual facts. Are they an indication of extravagance? (a voice, No!) Es. pecially when we consider the increase of the demands upon the public service which I will refer to more in detail later on. We all know that as individuals or towns or Provinces, thrive and grow, their expenses become greater. Is there a man present whose expenses with a growing family are not greater than they were years ago? Let us give instances of increasing expenditure. Take the town of Peterborough. In 1881, the annual expenditure of the town was $34,095.40; in 1896 the annual expenditure had grown $105,963.80. Thus while the town of Peterborough has, in fifteen years, increased its expenditure nearly three times, with comparatively few permanent improvements, the province in twenty-three years has not increased its expenditure one-third, or in other words the increase in expenditure of the town has been nine times greater than that of the province. And in comparison to the millions of dollars worth of splendid public buildings that will last for all time which the province has to show, and which account for a very large share of the increased expenditure. What has the town in the way of permanent improvements? Chiefly, a market building, and town offices, which however are not yet paid for, debentures have been issued that have yet to be met, and a few debenture built bridges some of which refuse to be "standing" but debentures stand out to be paid of over a quarter of a million dollars. (Hear, hear.) The city of Toronto with a population of 250,000, on an average spends more money every year than the Province of Ontario with a population of over two millions. (Hear, hear.) If we take the municipalities of Smith, Otonabee, Lakefield, or almost any of the municipality we shall find that their expenses have increased in far greater ratio than those of the province. Yet the people of these municipalities know that with improved services they must expect to pay more for them, and the same applies to the Province.

It is said with a great deal of emphasis that there was a small deficit last year and that it may be expected to occur again. What of it? In the twenty-four years since the Mowat government came into power there have been perhaps half a dozen years in which there have been small deficits. In provincial finances as well as in the management of general business the expenditure necessary for efficient service varies from year to year and the revenue of the province is also variable—some years more, some years less. While the Opposition denounces the government for a few lean years why are they not o en and honest enough to give credit for the much more numerous fat years. In the twenty-four years of the Mowat government there have been eighteen years that have yielded large surpluses of receipts over expenditures that aggregate millions over and above the years when the expenditure exceeded the revenue. (Applause.)

No one denies that the provincial expenditure has increased. It would be a sorry story of unprogressiveness if we did not show such a sign of growth The only questions to consider are, has the increase been justifiable and have we received full value for the expenditure made?

In the matter of public buildings a proud record is to be shown which becomes more important by contrast.

While Ontario has constructed its public buildings out of current revenue, for a moment look at what other provinces have done, British Columbia borrowed money to erect her buildings, Quebec borrowed money for the same purpose, the Dominion erected for Manitoba her public buildings, and those of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were built before the Dominion was built, and yet the Opposition give no credit to the government for the fact that we have millions of dollars standing to our credit as assets in the shape of public buildings built and paid for without a dollar of borrowed money. One could not walk half a dozen blocks in the city of Toronto without finding monuments of the thrift of the government. The Parliament buildings, Normal school, asylum for the insane, Central prison, Mercer reformatory, Upper Canada college, and other government buildings, all necessitating increased expenditure, and our position in this respect was not only gratifying to the people of the province, but a splendid credit to the administrative capacity and solicitude for the provincial welfare of the present government which had so long, faithfully and efficiently served the province. (Applause.)

The Value We Get for Our Money.

It would, the speaker said, doubtless be interesting to enter somewhat into detail in respect to the manner in which our money was expended so that we might know in what respect we received value for it.

First, because most important, our expenditure upon education demanded our attention. Last year we expended, that is, the province expended, upon education the large sum of $702,569, or more than one-fifth of the total revenue of the province. The previous year the expenditure was $693,042, in 1894 the sum was $684,559, and in 1893, $662,520, showing a continuous increase, for which the increased population and not the government, is responsible; for the payments to public and separate school education were based upon attendance. In twelve years there had been paid to superannuated teachers (an expenditure for which the Sandfield Macdonald government is responsible), $732,375, being an average of $61,031 per year. This expenditure however is bound to decrease as the system has been abolished and as the claimants upon the fund pass away, the payments become less and will eventually cease altogether. It was worth while in order to account to some extent for the increased expenditure of the province to contrast the expenditure at the time the Mowat government came into power with the present disbursements on education. In 1872 the amount paid to the various Public and Separate Schools in the province, was $204,758, and this year the payments for the same purpose total $455,079, an increase of $251,321, equal to an increase of over $10,000 per year. Who will be found in this advanced age to complain of this increase? Besides being expended upon the best possible objects, it represented a corresponding decrease of municipal taxation, supposing the same state of efficiency is maintained. The poor school grant ha been increased from year to year a. now it is $50,000 per annum, a boon to the newer districts that could not be fully appreciated unless in the event of the grant being withdrawn; then both its value and its loss would be felt. Over $1,000 per day is paid out for the education of public school children in the province. (Cheers.)

The fault is frequently found that the High School is being fostered at the expense of the Public School, a claim that would bear examination. Last year the amount paid out for High Schools and Collegiate Institutes was $114,450.00, or an increase of $37,589.00 over the grants made for the same purpose in Sandfield Macdonald's time. In this connection it may be pointed out to Mr Whitney and other Opposition critics who claim that too much has been given to High Schools that the grants to Public and Separate Schools have increased over 100 per cent. since Sandfield Macdonald's time, while, at the same time, the increase of grants to the High Schools has been only a trifle over 30 per cent., so that in the matter of increased expenditure alone the Public Schools have received three times more attention than the High Schools.

Technical education cost the province in 1896 the sum of $64,374, an increase of over $52,000 since 1876. This is an expenditure in the interests of the workingman that was not in existence in the days of Sandfield Macdonald.

For the education of the Blind and Deaf and Dumb, there was expended last year for the former $34,000, and the Deaf and Dumb Institute at Belleville cost $42,000. Do Mr. Whitney—and his friends—want these grants discontinued or lessened? Public and Separate School expenditure in 1897 totalled $455,077.98. For Normal and Model Schools, Toronto, $24,680, for the similar schools at Ottawa, $22,710. The School of Practical Science gets $22,750, and the balance of a total educational appropriation for the year of $717,927 is devoted to libraries, art schools and a few necessary miscellaneous expenditures, and it is worth emphasizing that the cost of conducting the Education Department of the province is less now than it was twenty-five years ago by $2,500 per annum, and this in the face of an increase of the population of the province of over a million and a proportionate increase of the school population. Does this look like extravagant administration? Will Mr. Whitney and his friends specify just where they would begin cutting down expenditure in respect of our schools? Will he begin by hampering the High Schools and thus weaken the poor man's college, the only means available whereby the man of limited means, with clever children, can advance them in educational position, (Hear, hear.) The High School is, moreover, the training school for our Public School teachers. Were it not for these, schools, for training teachers would have to be maintained in the centres with increased cost to the parents and consequently increased salaries for teachers and, in turn, increased cost of Public Schools to the ratepayers. (Hear, hear.

Our Public Institutions.

The next largest department of public expenditure is that for the maintenance of our Public Institutions. The amount spent this year is $797,398, one-fourth of the gross revenue of the province, an increase of $625,975 over the amount expended for these purposes at the time of Sandfield Macdonald. Had this expenditure remained stationary as it was under his government there would have been a surplus in this department alone of over ten millions of dollars. And it must be remembered every dollar spent on these institutions represents the value of a dollar and no member of the Opposition is able to demonstrate where extravagance exists, or to point to any country on the face of the globe, where these unfortunates are better maintained and as cheaply. (Cheers.) And it must also be remembered that the money thus spent, means a corresponding relief to the municipalities from which the inmates of our public institutions come. But for the provincial institutions these unfortunates would have to be maintained at much greater expense by the municipalities, or not maintained at all, which would be a disgrace to Christian civilization. (Applause.)

Mr. Stratton then went on to point out that the expenditure for Hospitals and Charities was the largest last year the province ever incurred, amounting to $194,615. As it was there were many indigents that could not be cared for in provincial institutions and had to be looked after by municipalities and he hoped that the counties would avail themselves of the assistance the government tendered for the erection of Houses of Refuge for which the province has voted nearly $60,000. He pointed out in detail the manner in which the large item of $195,000 was expended in promoting the interests of agriculture—an expenditure which was certainly justified, considering that the farmers compose seven-tenths of the population of the province. Where would the Opposition cut off any expenditure in connection with agriculture?

On colonization roads the annual expenditure alone amounts to nearly $90,000. This is one of the most defensible expenditures of the government. Mr. Whitney and his friends will have hard work to show that it is a good policy to begin economy by shutting out the remoter settler, who has few advantages as it is, from reaching a market, and to deprive the town merchant of the benefit derived from the trade of pioneer settlers, who have been enabled by the use of colonization roads to reach a market. (Applause.)

Referring to the manner of expending provincial funds, Mr. Stratton pointed out that of a total expenditure of about seventy-five millions since the Mowat government came into power, the Opposition have objected to only about $100,000, and of this seventy-five millions, apart from the administration of the several departments, the whole has been spent for the direct benefit of the people—lessening municipal taxation to that extent. (Hear, hear).

Local Receipts From the Province

"Let us now see," continued the speaker, "to what extent the County of Peterborough has received moneys from the provincial chest, and he went on to show in detail:—For the construction of the Grand Junction Railway 19.64 miles, for the great advantage of the town and south eastern part of the county—the province became liable for $58,920. There was paid at the request of Cobourg and Peterborough citizens, $18,740 for the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Railway—9.30 miles. Under the Municipal Loan Fund distribution the Town of Peterborough received $1,376.23; Ashburnham, $2,523.62; Asphodel, $6,923.06; Burleigh, $1,360; Belmont and Methuen, $3,200.64; Douro, $5,489.56; Dummer, $4,185.50; Ennismore, $2,288.91; Galway and Cavendish, $1,075.92; Harvey, $1,392.31; North Monaghan, $2,513.34; Otonabee, $10,251.72; Smith, $6,577.54; or a total paid these municipalities under that fund of $49,208.35.

For public works and improvements in the county of Peterborough there has been spent by the provincial government between 1872 and 1896, for dams, locks, slides, booms, piers, etc., about $52,000. Under the heading of aid to Agricultural Societies, the large sum of $37,390 has been distributed in Peterborough; in the form of grants to Mechanic's Institutes and Public Libraries $15,642.25 has been distributed. To Farmer's Institutes in the East and West Ridings the total aid has been $375.00, which does not include cost of speakers to address meetings or the cost of the large quantity of valuable farm and dairy literature supplied. Our Teacher's Institutes have benefitted to the extent of $345.

The patients that have been sent from Peterborough town and county to the several asylums and maintained at the expense of the province, between 1872 and 1896 have cost $120,668.52.

The prisoners in the Central Prison from the town and county of Peterborough maintained by the province have cost betw en 1874 and 1896 $10,440.57.

Between the years 1872 and 1896 the inmates for Peterborough town and county maintained at the expense of the province at the Reformatory for boys cost $12,327.43. The deaf and dumb and blind in the same period, for this county, have cost $11,909.30. For the administration of justice there has been paid the county of Peterborough by the province $42,702.88.

For Colonization Roads East Peterborough has received since 1873 the sum of $66,247.07, and West Peterborough $50,438.15, a total of $116,685.17.

To the Nicholls Hospital there has been paid $11,622.65.

To the St. Joseph's Hospital $4,888.94.

To the Protestant Home, $4,059.81.

To Public and Separate Schools in the town and county there has been paid $113,918.03.

To the Peterborough Collegiate Institute, $46,325.53.

To the Norwood High School, $14,158.19.

The grand total of the payments of the Province to the Town and County of Peterborough for the several recited purposes is the enormous sum of $752,611.83. This has been paid to the County of Peterborough from the provincial chest in direct lessening of municipal taxation, with the exception of the Administration of Justice—rather a back action way of Mr. Whitney's awful threat of direct taxation. (Cheers.)

The question of the Railway Annuities, of which considerable had been made was explained, and it was pointed out that these annuities which were issued for the purpose of meeting liabilities, in the shape of aid to railways extended by the past and present government, were provided for and paid from year to year out of current revenue, with very rare exceptions; and that they were not to be regarded as a liability in the sense which the Opposition wished to make them appear. The current revenue of the Province, that is the income from year to year was used to meet these liabilities as they matured and being provided for in that manner the revenue available in any year for general expenditure was only lessened by the amount paid to meet maturing annuities. These annuities were therefore not liabilities in the sense applied to them by the Opposition, and even if we considered them as a liability there was sufficient surplus to remove them from the Provincial ledger, which is a happy contrast to the condition of some other governments.

The Liquor License Fund.

"We have heard," said Mr. Stratton, "a great deal about the robbery of the municipalities in the matter of the liquor license fund," and he added that a brief examination would show to what extent that "robbery" has been perpetrated.

The gross amount received for licenses in West Peterborough from 1876 to 1896 inclusive, was $118,074.19. The proportion of this paid to the municipalities was $75,562.94. The amount paid to the province was $32,982.52 and $9,508.72 as disbursements connected with the enforcement of the license law, so that it will be seen that during that period the municipalities received the sum of $42,600.42 more than the province, or about twice the amount. East Peterborough's total receipts from the license fund was $32,780. There was paid to the municipalities $14,774.77 received by the Province $8,568.44 and for disbursements the total was $9,446.79. The municipalities of East Peterborough received therefore $6,206.33 more than the government from the license fund. These figures were an unanswerable reply to the rash statements made at Norwood, by Dr. Meacham one of Mr. Whitney's lieutenants, and without reproof from, and therefore endorsed by Mr, Whitney. Dr. Meacham said at Norwood that "if they left the municipalities the license money alone they would have a larger grant for their schools" and this statement was only, on a par with the other statements made by him at Norwood. The facts that Norwood High School alone has received from the government of the province during the past twenty years for that institution $13,176.46 which is five thousand dollars more than the government received in that time from licenses for the whole riding of East Peterborough. (Cheers).

In further comment upon the absurd talk on the part of the Opposition respecting the government's appropriation of the license fund that they claim is the property of the municipalities, Mr. Stratton pointed out that the figures he had just quoted showed that in the past twenty years, the total receipts of the government from the license fund in Peterborough county was $41,500, whereas the total of the sums paid to the county for the purposes mentioned and to the direct lessening of local taxation was $753,000 or over three quarters of a million dollars, which was $712,000 greater than the amount of money received for licenses. Where then were the absurd statements and wild theories of Dr. Mecham and others in respect to the government administration of the license act? Would Mr. Whitney, if he got into power do any better for the country than had been done under the Mowat government or would be done under the present government who would carry out the same policy that had resulted in the past 23 years of successful administration?

Mr. Stratton went on to point out that the province had rich assets in her Crown domain—Crown timber and Crown minerals, and there was no fear that a continuance of the liberal expenditures that have been made in the past and with the same careful management, the province would have ample resources for an indefinite period, and without any thanks to the Opposition. (Hear, hear.) One of our greatest sources of wealth both of Crown timber and Crown minerals, are in the northwestern part of the province, known as the New Ontario. These were only beginning to be developed and would from this out be and continue to be for generations an immense source of revenue, and the only fear of direct taxation lay in the fact of the Opposition gaining power. Through the course of the Opposition which aided and abetted the Dominion government in its attempt to despoil Ontario of what was then known as the Disputed Territory and now the New Ontario, that rich expanse of timber and mineral wealth, containing the grandest stretches of timber and the richest gold and other mineral fields on the continent, came very near being lost to us. The Opposition (now led by Mr. Whitney) co-operated with the Dominion government and hampered the Ontario Government all it could in its fight for the possession of this territory which happily was forever gained through the efforts of the Mowat government to the Province. (Cheers.) If we had lost this rich territory which the Opposition helped the Dominion Government of the day to grab, then our resources would have been proportionately less than they were to-day and our interests are in safe hands now. But there is no danger of it now; the same government that fought for and won this territory will continue to be faithful trustees of the people and administer our resources in the best interests of the province.

The fact remains, the speaker pointed out, that the financial administration of this province was the best that any state or province ever enjoyed. The people of Ontario were so accustomed to the blessings of economical and capable administration of our finances that it creates no remark. (Hear, hear.) But to fully appreciate the blessings we enjoyed on that score we should contrast the unfortunate position to which Quebec had been brought by Conservative rule. The financial statement of the Province of Quebec had recently been published. It showed that on a single years operations there was a deficit of nearly a million of dollars ($979,124), and the first item in the long list of expenditures is one that has no place in a statement of Ontario's financial year—and that is the enormous item of $1,550,874.16 for interest on Quebec's public debt, more than one-third of the total expenditure of the Province of Ontario for the average year. (Applause.)

Audit of Provincial Accounts.

Another matter which seems to give the leader of the Opposition considerable exercise of ingenuity to make a case out of, is the auditing of the public accounts. In order to better understand the subject, an explanation of the manner in which accounts are created may be made. An article, required for the public services, is ordered by the head of the department needing the article. Upon delivery of the goods they are checked over to see if they correspond in quality and price with the terms of the tender; if correct, a requisition is sent to the provincial treasurer for approval. He examines the bill and if the expenditure is proper it is sent to the Provicial Auditor. He examines to see if an appropriation has been made by the Legislature. If so, the account is sent to the Lieutenant-Govenor-in-Council for their approval; if this is got the account is ordered to be paid, and the cheque is countersigned by the provincial auditor before payment is made. It will thus be seen that, in order to get through a crooked account there would have to be collusion between the Lieutenant-Govenor-in-Council, the whole cabinet and the provincial auditor. The auditor be it remembered is absolutely independent of the government; he is appointed by the legislature and the government of the day has no power to either appoint or dismiss him. The provincial auditor is supreme in his office and only responsible to parliament. In 1886 an act was passed removing him from the jurisdiction of the government and making him an appointee of the legislature and responsible only to that body. After the process of paying accounts just described, there is still another and severer scrutiny of every bill. This is annually done in the Public Accounts Committee which is composed of twenty-five of the leading members of all the parties in the house. This committee has access to all the accounts and vouchers and has power to examine witnesses under oath, and to inquire into every detail of expenditure, no matter how small and shorthand reporters take down proceedings with the greatest fullness. All the evidence taken is published and is accessible to the public. Last session there were eighteen meetings of the Public Accounts Committee held. During the present government's tenure of office there has been expended seventy-five millions of dollars, and there is no evidence of a single dollar having been improperly expended. As a sample, when in a more than usually ardent hunt after something wrong by the Public Accounts Committee, the accounts of the Crown Lands department for ten years—from 1882 to 1892—were gone over with the greatest minuteness and there was a discrepancy of two cents disclosed, (Laughter). Every Opposition member elected is an auditor, and if he is any good he has abundant opportunity to discover if anything is wrong in the public accounts. The Opposition complain that there is no proper audit of the public accounts, but they fail to suggest any better system than the Ontario system which is the same as that originated by the Conservatives at Ottawa with the difference that in the latter case, servants of the departments and others are not required to give evidence before the Public Accounts Committee under oath. The Ontario government is under the thumb of the provincial auditor and dare not hint the passing of a single improper account. (Applause).

At the conclusion of the meeting cheers were given for the Queen and Mr. Stratton.

FRUIT NOTES.

Hints for Work During the Days Before Drear Winter.

A dressing of coarse manure makes a good mulch.

Shiftless fruit culture cuts down the profits.

Pack apples so that they will not shake about in the barrel.

No farm house is complete without a good orchard and small fruit plot.

Keep down the weeds and suckers among the raspberry plants.

It is always a good plan to mulch newly set trees.

Plow the garden thoroughly as soon as the crop are harvested.

Moss on the trunks of trees is an evidence of unthriftiness.

One-fourth of an acre in small fruits will supply an average family.

The care given fruit plants this year practically determines the crop next year.

Low-headed trees will nearly always bear somewhat sooner than hig-headed ones.

Prune weak growth in winter and strong growth in summer.

The head of a tree needs to be fairly open to admit the sun and air for full perfection of fruit.

Train the growing trees so that only dead and injured limbs will need removing later on.

Stimulate the strong raspberry cane by removing the weak ones and cut all surplus growth away.

Thorough tillage, manure and care are all important to the orchard. Give it as much attention as a crop of corn or potatoes.

If the eggs of a tent caterpillar can be cut off the twigs, burn them, and thus make sure of the destruction of the eggs.

Feeble growing and unhealthy trees are usually the result of starvation, bad soil or unfavorable conditions of growth.

When a tree is healthy, the top is luxuriant, but when it is weak or old the top dies or makes little growth, and small shoots sprout all over the trunk.

The orchard should not be cultivated at this season, nor should manure be applied until after the leaves have fallen.

So far as is possible the soil for strawberries should be rich and as free from weed seeds as possible. Wood ashes and bone dust make good fertilizers.

It is impossible for fruit to be perfect and well colored unless the tree—body, branches and leaves as well as the ground under it, is fully exposed to sunlight.

How to Wean a Calf.

To give an easy mode of weaning a calf. There is no difficulty when the calf is young. Sometimes we allow such a calf to draw the milk from the cow once or twice, but more often not at all. Take the warm milk fresh from the cow and give the calf your submerged finger to suck. Do not be in a hurry; the young one will not perish if it does not drink for six hours after birth. Generally the calf will smell and taste the milk and suck the finger. Withdraw the hand gradually, and after two or three times it will drink without the finger. It requires a good stock of patience, because, generally, the calf objects to put down its head, while nature intended it should hold its head up to get at the teat.

The older the calf is when weaned—that is, if it has drawn its rations from the dam direct, the harder it will be to wean, unless old enough to eat grass or hay. Such a calf should be allowed to fast half a day; then it should be given a thimbleful of the salt, when it will drink the more readily. Follow up the hints given above, and above all in each case separate dam and calf and let them not co. together. For a calf a month or six weeks old it is difficult to teach it to drink, but it can be done. In such case have also a box placed so high that the calf cannot tread into it, and in this box keep a handful or two of bran; put grass into the mouth of the young thing and it will learn to chew it, get thirsty and then drink. Handle the animal as frequently as possible and teach it that you are not an enemy but a friend.

Making Cabbage Head.

Every year at this time the grower of cabbages finds his crop deficient in growth, and unless stimulated by extra fertilizing not likely to make a marketable head. Now a cabbage that does not head is merely a bunch of loose leaves that cannot be sold at all. It does not matter what the cause of failure may be. Possibly the plant was originally a weakling, and with ordinary care and rich soil could not amount to anything. Or it may be that lack of cultivation or natural poverty of the soil is the cause of failure to head. Either way the duty of the cabbage grower is plain. He should thoroughly cultivate the soil around the cabage, and then apply a weak solution of nitrogenous and mineral plant food, the latter in the form of phosphate. If this is done at once the cabbages will start into growth so quickly and so strongly that, before the growing season closes, the grower will probably be obliged to partially uproot his cabbages to prevent them from splitting open with the excess of plant food with which they are furnished. It is almost the only instance for which we can recommend liquid manures as paying their cost. In most other cases it pays better to apply the fertilizer early, and let nature supply the necessary water in melting snows and rains.

Solids in Milk.

Many people are surprised to learn that milk which is liquid has a larger proportion of solid contents than have many articles of food. Milk averages 85 per cent. of solid matter, of which a considerable part is albumen. It is this which coagulates with heat, and still more when rennet is used. Potatoes are 80 per cent. moisture, though when the potato is cooked the starch in it expands, making it seem much more heartier food than it is. The solid of the potato is mainly starch. That of milk is divided between caseine, butter fats and sugar, the last of which is found in whey, which, even though it be soured, shows by that fact that it has had some sugar in it.

Horticultural Notes.

A Good Shade Tree.—Where there is an abundance of room, the silver maple is a good tree to plant for shade; but where there is not much space to spare and shade is desired, the Norway maple is better. In light soil the sugar maple does very well; but the Norway maple prefers a heavy one.

A Favorite Vine.—Clematis Jackmanni is a great favorite about Philadelphia, being seen on numerous porches mixed with other vines. Its flowers display handsomely when the vine is planted in conjunction with one of the white honeysuckles so common hereabouts.—Practical Farmer.

WILL ENJOY RECIPROCAL TRADE.

A Cabinet Council Extends It to Japan and the Netherlands—Militia Supply Contracts—A Horse Thief Sentenced—A Corpse Carrying Improvement—Aylmer Branch of C.P.R. Sold.

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—The announcement that the Imperial Government will confer a medal on those who took part in defending the country from the Fenians in 1866, or in the Red River expedition under Col. (now Field Marshal Lord) Wolseley, has led to a regular deluge of applications being received at the Militia Department. It will take considerable time to verify all the applications. The district officers commanding will be required to send in the lists from their several districts, so that there will be no necessity to communicate directly with the department. It has not yet been decided whether the families of those who carried arms on the occasion referred to, and are since deceased, will receive the medal.

A meeting of the Cabinet was held this afternoon at which it was decided to extend the reciprocal clause of the new tariff to Japan and the Netherlands.

The Minister of Militia has awarded the following contracts for supplies of various kinds: Mufflers, woollen, P. Garneau, Fils & Cie, Quebec; braces, the T. Mr. Frank Pedley, the Canadian Immigration Commissioner, has just returned from a trip through the Western States, Manitoba and the Northwest. He paid a visit to the Canadian agents in the States, and believes they are doing excellent work in getting settlers to the Canadian Northwest. A very large number, he says, have gone from Michigan. Mr. Pedley afterwards went to examine the system of locating the new-comers. In the past this was a matter which was entirely neglected. Commissioner McCreary of Winnipeg has charge of this work, and is making it a success. Mr. Pedley went as far as the Crow's Nest Pass Railway.

Joseph Quenneville will spend 5 years in Kingston Penitentiary, pondering over the meaning of his recent operations in horse flesh. Quenneville was tried to-day before Judge Ross on three different charges. The first was the stealing of a horse from Henry McCartney of Gloucester; the second of stealing a set of harness from the same man at another date; the third charge was that of stealing a horse from Rev. Mr. Squires of Ottawa East. Evidence was taken on the first charge only, and the judge decided he was guilty. On the two other charges the prisoner, when asked to plead, answered: "Guilty." The sentences for the horse stealing are five years for each case and one month for stealing the harness, the sentences to run concurrently.

R. Holcombe, a stenographer and bookkeeper for Hebron Harris, contractor, is now in jail awaiting trial on a charge of theft. The case was called in the Police Court to-day. The accused was remanded. The alleged misappropriation of the funds is said to have been going on since February, 1896.

A. Davis of Montreal has been here for the past two days seeing Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways, in regard to carrying corpses by trains. At present the coffin is either placed in the baggage or express car, and it is said that this has resulted in the spread of disease. The question is one which undertakers have been considering for some time past. What Mr. Davis wants is that a zinc box should be placed in the roof of the car and the coffin inserted in it. Mr. Blair promised to look into the matter.

The Hull Electric Company has purchased the Aylmer branch of the C. P. R., which is at present under lease, the price being in the neighborhood of $100,000. The purchase only requires ratification by Parliament. Since leasing the road the Hull Company has double-tracked it from Hull to Aylmer, improved the roadbed and in other ways greatly enhanced the value of the line.

Information has been received at the Montreal Police Department to the effect that Inspector Moodie and his police patrol, which is endeavoring to reach the Yukon country by the overland route from Edmonton, reached Dunvegan on Sept. 30. There are five axmen with the party, who are clearing away the fallen timbers, so that it is thought to be quite possible for pack horses to make the 1300-mile journey to Dawson next year.

Acting on a report from Professor Prince, who has made a personal inspection of the ground, Sir Louis Davies has authorized an extension of the time for commercial whitefish catching in Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River from the mouth of the St. Clair River to Pelee Point, up to Nov. 20. The close season hitherto has commenced on Nov. 1, and the extension is made at the request of Mr. McGregor, M.P. for Essex.

DAY IN THE QUEEN CITY.

Toronto Topics for a Day Many Minor Matters of Passing Importance—Contagious Diseases.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—According to returns received from many Ontario municipalities by Dr. P. H. Bryce, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, in October, the deaths from tuberculosis were almost twice as numerous as the deaths from all other diseases combined. As far as the incomplete returns show, dread consumption caused 37 deaths in this city alone, and 48 in the rest of the province, while the deaths from all other causes throughout Ontario were 49.

An incident of the returns is the report of a fatal outbreak of whooping cough in Clarence Township, Russell County. The epidemic has caused four deaths in that municipal division, and is still raging there. Whooping cough also killed one person in Toronto, one in London, and two in the County of Welland.

Typhoid fever carried off two people at Brockville, four at Ottawa, three in Lambton County, six in Toronto, and one in each of the following divisions: Glengarry County, Perth County, Brantford, Whitby, Delhi, Tilsonburg, Brant County, Chatham, Norfolk County, Lennox County, Elgin County and Middlesex County.

Diphtheria took two in Ottawa, five in London, three in Essex County, one in Sarnia, one in Dunnville, one in Elgin County and one in Haldimand County.

A Railway Bonus Refunded.

Toronto, Nov. 5. Mayor Elliott of Brantford was here yesterday on his way home from Montreal, where he obtained from General Manager Hays a cheque for $33,500. The G. T. R. is removing its shops to London, and this sum is made up of the $32,500 bonus granted the railway by the city twenty-five years ago, and $1000 interest thereon. London gave the railway a bonus of $100,000 in consideration of the removal of the car shops.

An Escaped Central Prisoner.

A bicycle thief named Frank Jones, aged 22, who was sentenced by Magistrate Denison last March to serve one year in the Central Prison, escaped from that institution yesterday morning, and has not yet been recaptured. Jones was a "trusty" and was at work in front of the prison, raking up dead leaves. While a guard's back was turned, he ran away and, climbing over the picket fence, ran up the railway tracks, keeping out of sight among the numerous freight cars. The fugitive was clad in prison garb, and left his coat at the prison. Guards were sent in pursuit, and the city police notified of the escape. Jones is supposed to be hiding in the vicinity of Niagara-street.

MR. CHARLES CALDER

Put Up by South Ontario Tories, Though They Admit Being Well Represented By Mr. Dryden.

Whitby, Nov. 4.—Charles Calder was nominated by the South Ontario Conservative convention here this afternoon. He is a young farmer in Whitby Township and a representative of this district in the Ontario County Council. After the nomination, for which Mr. Calder simply thanked the convention, a public meeting was held, at which an address was given by Mr. J. P. Whitney. Referring to Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture for this province, with whom Mr. Calder will contest for the representation of South Ontario in the Provincial Legislature, Mr. Whitney paid him a warm personal compliment and made it clear that it was upon political grounds alone he based his opposition to Mr. Dryden. Dr. Willoughby also spoke briefly. A meeting at Oshawa to-night was addressed by these same gentlemen.

A PERMANENT PEACE

Between Great Britain and the United States of America

ADVANCED BY ARBITRATION TALK.

3,750,000 British Workingmen Favor an Arbitration Treaty and Send a Delegate With a Monster Petition to the U. S. Senate—New York and Washington in Line Also.

London, Nov. 4.—Mr. William Cremer, the former member of Parliament for the Haggerston Division of Shoreditch, editor of The Arbitrator, and First Secretary of the International Workingmen's Association, and secretary of the International Arbitration League, sails for New York from Southampton Saturday next on board the American Liner St. Paul. Mr. Cremer said he was the bearer of, and would present to every Senator, an address to the United States Senate, signed by over 7000 workingmen, each of them being an officer of a trades union, and representing altogether 2,750,000 British workingmen. Continuing, Mr. Cremer said: "On a previous visit to the United States it was frequently said to me that the idea of a treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain emanated from the Marquis of Salisbury and the privileged classes of Great Britain, with the view to tie the hands of the United States, but proof of the unanimity of the feeling on the subject here is shown by the fact that there were only half a dozen refusals of the invitation to the address to the United States Senate urging the conclusion of an arbitration treaty between the two countries.

"I can say on reliable authority that some months ago a new arbitration was briefly outlined. Beyond that nothing has been done."

Looking to Arbitration.

New York, Nov. 4.—The Rev. Dr. Charles A. Berry, pastor of Queen-street Church, Wolverhampton, and chairman of the English Congregational Union, was a passenger on the Teutonic yesterday. Dr. Berry's purpose in visiting America is to seek to bring about an arbitration treaty between this country and England, and also to promote the movement for church union, which is in progress among non-conformists. He will address a mass meeting at Washington on Dec. 6 on the subject of the arbitration treaty.

Talk in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 4.—Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, who is just back from London, probably will confer with Secretary Sherman at an early day concerning the reopening of negotiations for an Anglo-American treaty of arbitration. There is said to be no disposition on either side to press the subject unduly, but rather to allow it to develop along natural lines, and responsive to public sentiment. Mr. Sherman made known to the British authorities some months ago that the President would view with favor a reopening of the negotiations, and was hopeful that a peace treaty ultimately would be secured. The British officials are much gratified at this suggestion, but no negotiations were entered upon. Since then Sir Julian has visited London and has had an opportunity to learn the views of the Foreign Office as well as the state of British feeling on the subject. All the tendencies on the other side are favorable to arbitration, although there is a general indisposition to take up the treaty question as long as there is a chance that it would meet the same fate as the Olney-Pauncefote treaty. As a result of that treaty an arbitration league has been formed throughout England, its aim being to bring about a peace compact between that country and this. While Sir Julian was in London he was called upon by Mr. Cremer, the member of Parliament who has been foremost in advocating arbitration, and who visited the United States on that mission. Mr. Cremer is as hopeful as ever that arbitration between the two countries will be secured.

THE YUKON POLICY.

Hon. Mr. Sifton Discusses It With the Vancouver Board of Trade The Alaskan Boundary.

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—(Special) — Mr. Sifton's practical non-party addresses to the people of Victoria on questions affecting trade with the Yukon greatly pleased all parties in the capital, and his speech at the Board of Trade of Vancouver to-day had the same effect. Terse, practical and to the point, the Minister of the Interior displayed a grasp of the situation that met with general approval. In reply to the address of the Board of Trade, he spoke of the resources of British Columbia and the suddenness of the Yukon excitement. In order to enable the Government to act promptly and intelligently in the crisis, he had made the present trip so as to deal in the best manner with the new and valuable territory.

In the course of his speech he said upon the Alaskan boundary question he had spent a great deal of time in study, and found that question narrowed down to a few points. For the purpose of informing himself thoroughly on the subject he had with him Mr. King, who had been head of the Canadian boundary commission, and than whom no man knew more upon the subject. (Applause.) With the advantage of many conversations with Mr. King in regard to the boundary dispute, Mr. Sifton could claim to have a reasonable idea of the question on both sides. It took a long time to settle, but it was an old saying that when a man is too anxious to settle a dispute he generally gets the worst of it.

Plaster of Paris Splints Doomed.

In the medico-mechanical institute at Stuttgart, celluloid has been found an excellent substitute for plaster of paris as a splint material. On account of its weight and its proneness to become foul by absorbing sweat, etc., plaster of paris has not been very much liked. A wide-mouthed bottle is packed for about a quarter of its height by celluloid cut into small pieces and then covered with acetone. It is provided with an air-tight stopper to guard against evaporation. From time to time it is opened, and the contents are stirred with a spatula, the celluloid dissolving in course of time. A plaster cast of the diseased or injured part is covered with a moderately thick layer of felt or flannel, and the celluloid solution is rubbed into this with the hands, which are protected by leather gloves. This is then applied to the injured member.

Suffered Agony With Pains in the Stomach—Hood's Cured.

The testimonials in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla are as worthy of confidence as though they came from your most trusted neighbor. They are written by honest people who are grateful for the cures accomplished by this wonderful medicine. Read this statement:

"I was afflicted with severe pains in my stomach from which I suffered much agony at times. I was afraid to go any distance from home for fear of having an attack. I was treated for neuralgia of the heart without avail. At last my mother wrote and urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have her letter before me at the present time and it reads as follows: 'My dear child, it grieves me to learn that you suffer so with your stomach. Do get a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and let me know the result, for I am confident

It Saved My Life.'

I am glad to state that I abided by my mother's advice and I am now healthy and strong. I never think of being without Hood's Sarsaparilla in the house. It is a great help to mothers while nursing. I have given it to my baby with satisfactory results. I cannot state all I would like of the many benefits I have known Hood's Sarsaparilla to give to other sufferers. I gladly recommend it." MRS. SPAIN'S REPLY TO THE U.S.

A Carefully Worded But Firm Answer to the Republic.

SHE WILL DO AS SHE PLEASES

Regarding Autonomy for Cuba—Spanish Papers Attack Ex-Ambassador Taylor—Capture of the U. S. Schooner Competitor Upheld.

Madrid, Nov. 5.—The letter of Senator Salvant published in the Spanish newspapers replying to the article of Mr. Hannis Taylor, the former United States Minister to Spain, on the Cuban question recently published in an American magazine, has created the greatest stir here. The Spanish papers as a result hotly attack Mr. Taylor for his utterances. The Spanish Cabinet has now decided to reply to the United States Minister's acknowledgement of the receipt of the Spanish note in reply to the representatives of the United States on the subject of Cuba, by declaring in guarded terms that, with reference to granting autonomy to Cuba, Spain will do what she deems fit.

It is also understood that the Spanish Government is determined in the case of the American schooner Competitor, captured in Cuban waters in April, 1896, to maintain that the Spanish officers acted correctly in making the capture of the Competitor and that the protocol of 1877 solely referred to American citizens residing in Cuba.

U. S. TREASURE CHESTS

Uncle Sam is Getting Nervous About Them—Fortifications for Chicago.

New York, Nov. 5.—A despatch to the World from Washington says: General Nelson A. Mills was asked last night to give his reasons for recommending the fortification of the new Federal building in Chicago with Gatling guns. He said: "There are nine places in this country where the treasure chests of Uncle Sam are located, and for the past twenty years I have urged the necessity of protecting these depositories with the most approved pattern of firearms. While I was in Constantinople the details of the attack on the Turkish bank in that city were related to me, and brought back to me the necessity for some means of defence of the public institutions of the United States.

NEW YORK'S PAY ROLL

Salaries Will Aggregate $33,000,000—An Army of Officials.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Herald says: More than 50,000 persons will directly or indirectly draw pay from the city in the first administration of the Mayor of Greater New York. The salaries of 33,000 of those, whose names will be actually on the city's pay roll, will aggregate $33,000,00. Part of this amount represents the salaries and patronage of the other officers elected on Tuesday, but this is comparatively small, most of the total representing the patronage of Greater New York's first Mayor, Robert A. Van Wyck. A conservative estimate of those who will draw pay indirectly from the city through city contracts and the like is $2,000.

In the matter of patronage the Mayor of Greater New York is second only to the President of the United States. With his colleagues-elect of the same political party as himself, Mr. Van Wyck can lead an army of office holders and those indirectly employed by the city as great as the army of the Potomac.

NEW YORK ELECTION

Mr Stead Regards It as a Great Vindication of Tammany.

London, Nov. 5.—William T. Stead, editor of the Review of Reviews, said: "It is a great vindication of Tammany and Croker, and gives them a wonderful opportunity, though it does not wipe out the slate of the past. Nothing could erase the Lexow revelations, but many men who are struggling to the front sometimes find it necessary to do shady things to get there, and would be superior to such temptations after having achieved positions. Becky Sharpe said, 'It is easy to be virtuous on a thousand a year.' Tammany and Croker have the thousand a year. The election must give a great impetus to Bryanism."

About the election generally Mr. Stead was quite cheerful, adding: "The Chicago platform, minus the nonsense about free silver—if that is what Tammany's victory means—won't scare the English. To most of us in the old country your plutocrats seem a much greater menace to the comomnwealth than the Democrats, even if they do swear by Croker and Tammany Hall. The Republican campaign fund staggered us much more than the victory of Van Wyck."

THE SEALING SEASON.

The Total Catch Made by the Victoria Sealing Vessels.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 5.—During the sealing season just ended only 41 schooners of Victoria's fleet, representing a total tonnage of 2,708, have been engaged in the industry, as compared with 54 last year. The whole fleet has given employment to 495 white men and 587 Indians. The total catch, including 1,618 skins taken by Indians off the coast, was 30,410, made up as follows: On the British Columbia coast, 5,852; on the Japan coast, 1,321; at Copper Island, 1,328; and in Behring Sea, 15,607. Of the seals captured the larger number were females, there being 16,278 females, and 13,114 males.

CONFEDERATION NOT AN ISSUE

London Daily Chronicle Comments on the Newfoundland Elections.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—A special cable to the Evening Telegram from London says: The Daily Chronicle, commenting on the Newfoundland elections, and the defeat of Sir William Whitney's Government, remarks that the question of confederation was not an issue, but that it may come to that in the near future.

Can't You sleep?

Sleeplessness is one of the most frequent symptoms of heart and nerve troubles. It affects all classes and all ages. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restore the nerves to healthy action and regulate the heart. Mr. Miles Boone, Fredericton, N.B., tells how they work. "I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. These pills gave me almost immediate relief, giving me healthful, refreshing sleep, and I am now strong and well."

SEIZED BY RUSSIANS

American Captain and Eight Men Arrested—Had to Work in a Quarry

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—A letter has been received here which gives an account of trouble encountered on the last trip of the American sealing schooner Golden Fleece. On September 8 the captain, with eight men, in three boats, drew away from the vessel, and, being unable to find it, steered into the coast of Kamachatka, finally landing on a very desolate beach. There being no food, a successful attempt was made to reach Petropaulovski, 200 miles distant. Here the men were arrested for poaching on seal preserves and compelled to work in a stone quarry until liberated by the British cruiser Daphne, on September 27. The captain of the Daphne persuaded the Russian authorities to try the Americans, and they were acquitted on October 3.

PONTIUS PILATE'S LETTER

Documents at the Vatican Referring to the Crucifixion.

Rome, Nov. 5.—The Pope was recently informed of the discovery in the Vatican archives of a supposed communication from Pontius Pilate to Emperor Tiberius respecting the crucifixion of Jesus. His Holiness ordered that a careful study be made of the manuscript. This proved that the document was apparently of a date about 150 A.D., and that it alluded to such a communication, but the original has not yet been found. Other fragmentary manuscripts of the third and fifth centuries bearing on the same subject have been discovered.

The deputation was introduced by Mr. Edward Still, Managing Director of the European Exporters' Association, who stated that letters expressing sympathy with the objects of the deputation and regretting inability to be present had been received from the following firms: Messrs. Copestake, Lindsay, Crompton & Co., London; Messrs. Hudson, Sykes & Bousfield, Leeds; Messrs. J. & W. Campbell & Co., Glasgow; the Northern Linen Co., Belfast; Messrs. W. Ewart & Co., Belfast; Messrs. Thos. Adams & Co., Nottingham; Messrs. Heyman & Alexander, Nottingham; the Nottingham Manufacturing Co., Nottingham; Messrs. M. Bottomley & Co., Bradford; Messrs. Gillies, Garnett & Co., Bradford; Messrs. Stansfield, Brown & Co., Bradford; Messrs. G. R. Portway & Co., Leeds; Messrs. Oliphant & Anderson, 7 Ferrier, Edinburgh.

Letters with special suggestions regarding the necessity for a new and more satisfactory insolvent act were also read from Messrs. Arthur & Co., Glasgow; Messrs. Law, Russell & Co., Bradford; Messrs. Sir Titus Salt, Bart., Sons & Co., Limited, Bradford; Messrs. Hanson, Son & Barter, London.

The first speaker was Mr. T. J. Phillips (Messrs. Dent & Co.), a gentleman well known to have taken a very active interest in the subject under discussion for many years past. He eloquently voiced the grievances under which the trade has labored.

Mr. Phillips was followed by Mr. Howard Williams (Messrs. Hitchcock, Williams & Co.). Mr. Williams' strong points were that no bankruptcy legislation will be satisfactory to British creditors that: (1) Does not destroy the validity of preferential payments to favored creditors and fraudulent settlements. (2) That does not insist on the publication of preferential assignments; such assignments to have the effect of a bill of sale and be treated accordingly. (3) That no preferential payment or assignment be valid if made within four months of a receiving order. (4) That all the different Provinces in Canada shall be subject to one uniform insolvency law.

Mr. Powell (Fore Street Warehouse Co.) referred to the extensive business his company had carried on with Canada for a series of years. He pointed out, however, that at the present moment the attitude of his company with regard to Canadian trade was to a great extent an apathetic one.

Mr. Arthur E. T[illegible] who was present on behalf of Messrs. Ryland & Sons, Limited; J. & N. Philips & Co., S. & J. Watts & Co., Tootal, Broadhurst, Lee & Co., Limited, and several other Manchester firms, expressed his complete accord with the views of the other speakers, and read a very interesting letter from Messrs. Tootal, Broadhurst, Lee & Co., Limited, in which they referred to the necessity of just and equitable dealings all round between England and her colonies, and vice versa, if ever the scheme of Imperial Federation were to be an accomplished fact.

The Hon. Mr. Fielding, in replying, expressed the pleasure it gave him to receive so important a deputation, but, while assuring them of his great sympathy with what had been said, added that his position naturally precluded him from giving any definite promises. He stated, however, that he would lay their views very fully before his colleagues, and that the subject would undoubtedly receive the consideration that its importance deserved. The proceedings closed with the thanks of the deputation to Mr. Fielding for his courtesy.

A LIBERAL VICTORY

Middleton Division of Southeast Lancashire is Lost to the Conservatives.

London, Nov. 4.—A Parliamentary by-election was held today in the Middleton division of Southeast Lancashire, to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Mr. Thomas Fieldon, Conservative, who secured the seat at the last general election by a majority of 805 in a total poll of 12,659. The result of to-day's poll is the victory of the Liberal and Radical candidate, Mr. Alderman Duckworth, by a majority of 300 in a poll of 11,628, over the Unionist and Conservative candidate, Mr. William Mitchell.

Mr. Duckworth's poll was 5964 and Mr. Mitchell's 5664. The constituency has changed about more than once within the last few years. It gave a Liberal member a large majority in 1885, before the Home Rule split. It returned the late Mr. Fielden in the following year, but threw him out in 1892 and restored him to favor in 1895. Mr. Fielden's personal popularity was the principal element in his success, and this the Unionists could not carry over to Mr. Mitchell, the Unionist candidate in today's election. Mr. Mitchell is a member of the firm of Mitchell Brothers, felt and woolen merchants, who is locally well liked, but Mr. Duckworth is not less popular on personal grounds.

CURRENT TOPICS DISCUSSED

By Balfour, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach and Chamberlain—The Positions They Took.

London, Nov. 4.—There has been a flood of political speeches this evening. Mr. Arthur J. Balfour, the First Lord of the Treasury, spoke at Norwich, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, spoke at Sheffield, and Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, at Glasgow.

Mr. Chamberlain's speech was an elaborate defence of the general policy of the Government. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, who was the principal speaker at the cutlers' banquet at Sheffield, maintained the attitude he assumed two years ago, that England wanted reform in military matters rather than an increase in the army, which he called the "costliest in the world." He said that if it could be shown that an increase was imperative the nation would cheerfully pay the cost, but he was by no means convinced that a mere increase of men and expenditure was all that was needed.

Mr. Balfour at Norwich roundly denounced Lord Rosebery's statement Monday night at Manchester, that an Imperial zollverein "would weaken the Empire internally and excite the permanent hostility of the whole world." He said: "It is no concern of foreign nations what we do within the Empire." He announced that the Government had no desire of aggression on the northwest frontier of India, but sought only to maintain the present frontier.

The Times will generally hint editorially to-morrow that "three such speakers defending the policy of the Government on the same night savors of a waste of energy, and it would have been better to spread it over a moderate period."

The Morning Post will also complain of "such a waste of energy."

BULUWAYO RAILROAD OPENED.

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain Sent a Telegram of Congratulation.

Cape Town, Nov. 4.—A despatch from Buluwayo says that the newly constructed railway was formally opened to-day in the presence of Sir Alfred Milner, Governor of Cape Colony and High Commissioner for South Africa, and a large assemblage of South African officials, railway magnates and capitalists.

A cable message of congratulation was received by Sir Alfred Milner from Mr. Chamberlain, British Secretary of State for the Colonies. Hon. Cecil Rhodes, owing to illness, was unable to be present at the ceremony, but his name and that of Mr. Chamberlain were cheered with the greatest enthusiasm.

Among others present, were: Bishop Hartzell of the Methodist Episcopal Church of the United States, and Mr. Henry M. Stanley, who is a guest of the Chartered Company. It is understood that the friends of Mr. Rhodes, particularly Dr. Jameson, feared that the excitement and fatigue of the journey might induce a recurrence of the heart trouble from which Mr. Rhodes suffered after rallying from the fever.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is, "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no bowel or stomach trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Accept no substitute.

A Fair Trail.

"I was troubled with a very bad headache last winter and decided to give Laxa-Liver Pill a fair trail. One box of them cured me and I have not had a headache since. They are a long way ahead of any other remedy I ever tried."

Miss Janet Munroe,

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitaliser 'saved my life.' I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 cts.

FRENCH TROOPS RETIRED.

They Had Occupied British Territory and a British Force Was Sent.

Lagos, West Coast of Africa, Nov. 4.—The French forces have evacuated Saki, one of the posts in the Lagos Hinterland which was occupied by their troops, in contravention, it is claimed here, of the Anglo-French Agreement of 1889. As soon as it was announced that a French expedition had occupied Saki, Governor MacCallum, the British official under whose jurisdiction the place is situated, despatched a force of British troops from Lagos to Saki. On the arrival of the British force here Saki the French troops retired.

Workingmen Appeal for Aid.

London, Nov. 4.—The Amalgamated Society of Engineers has issued another manifesto, supplementing the workmen of Great Britain, Ireland and other countries, to provide $50,000 weekly to defend trade unionism.

No Confederation in It.

London, Nov. 4.—(Telegram Cable.)—The Daily Chronicle, commenting on the Newfoundland elections and the defeat of Sir William Whiteway's Government, remarks that the question of confederation was not an issue, but that it may come to that in the near future.

There is Hope.

One Owl the Less.

Mr. Justus B. Dunn, who is somewhat noted as an enthusiastic and successful Nimrod, strolled out to Wallis' Grove yesterday for whatever shooting might offer. He was rewarded with a chance of bringing down a magnificent specimen of the Barred owl (syrnium nebulosum). The fine bird was taken to Mr. E. Elcome, the taxidermist, who will "set it up" in a manner worthy of its importance as an unusually fine specimen.

Killarney and the Rhine.

Read what an exchange says: "Last evening at the opera house Mr. J. E. Toole opened to and delighted a large audience in "Killarney and the Rhine." Mr. Toole, who reminds one of the late J. K. Emmet, is one of the most capable actors that has appeared on the opera house stage. His quaint humor kept his audience amused, and his pretty songs, the kind that reach the heart, were thoroughly appreciated. Mr. Toole is ably assisted by Miss Lillian de Woolf and a company of artists." Mr. Toole will present "Killarney and the Rhine" at Bradburn's opera house to-morrow night. Prices, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

Whaur is St. Andrew's Society?

Many Scotchmen, as the days draw on to the festival of Scotia's saint, are wondering what the president and officers are doing in regard to a proper celebration of "the day." With the long nights and frosts, the longing for a taste of the haggis or cauld kail comes over the Scotchman's wame like a tidal wave. This is jubilee year, and the braw Highlanders of Toronto have made a peace record in England and the Highlanders of the regular army, a war record in the Kyber Pass, that gars a Scot's heart loup in his breast. What are the Scotch warriors of Peterborough doing? If they keep silent much longer, a Perthshire man in town says the very curling stanes will cry out for a celebration of St. Andrew's day. "Battalion orders" should be issued at once. November 31st is not far away.

An Important Announcement.

Manager Bradburn wishes to inform the Peterborough public that he has secured an engagement with the famous Brooke's Marine Band for a concert here on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 16th. This announcement is no ordinary one, as all those who know the high standing of this musical organization and, therefore have an idea of the expense that is entailed in securing them for a concert will recognize the financial obligation it involves. The Opera House will have to be filled to the utmost to make the event a financial success, but it is confidently expected that a very large crowd will take advantage of the opportunity of hearing this leading band of the world. The band is composed of fifty musicians, all the best in their respective lines. Mr. Bradburn has opened a guarantee list, and it is hoped that the support will be such to warrant the fulfilment of the engagement, which will mean a rich musical treat for the musical-loving public. The prices have been kept down to 50c. and 75c., to place it in the reach of all. 1d

FIRST BOW TO THE PUBLIC

OF THE MULTIFORM CHRYSANTHEMUM.

The Initial Show a Splendid One—A Beautiful and Large Exhibit of Excellent Specimens.

The Chrysanthemum—the golden flower—so named because of the rich, golden hue of the little yellow bloom, about the size of a shilling, that distinguished the original plant from which are sprung the multitude of varieties that are now cultivated. The modest little chrysanthemum that was cultivated a generation ago, if it had dropped into the show at the old council chamber last night would not have known itself, when it saw the wonderful results of development, of magnificent blooms of all colours, and all sizes and all forms. No single flower, perhaps, has gained so much, and has been developed into so many forms of wondrous beauty as the erstwhile modest and unappreciated chrysanthemum.

No lover of flowers could help being delighted with the fine and excellent exhibit of flowers displayed. The show was an excellent one, especially when it is considered that it is the first ever held in the town. Though, of course, the number of exhibitors was not numerous and the entire display, not absolutely a large one, yet for the number of exhibitors competing and exhibiting, it was exceedingly creditable. Many of the specimens were of magnificent merit and equal in quality and size to the best shown at the Toronto exhibitions. If we cannot equal the city shows in the extent of exhibits our local flower enthusiasts have demonstrated that they can grow as fine plants, with as good a bloom, as their city confreres.

The largest exhibitors were Mr. W. H. Foord, Superintendent of the Little Lake Cemetery, and Mr. James Head, gardener of the Nicholls' Hospital.

Mr. Foord has a very large collection, including over forty varieties, and all of them of first-rate merit in their class. While all were beautiful, some were of more than usual beauty. A magnificent Lenawee of snowy white incurved petals, with a diameter of over six inches, was much admired. Another grand specimen was Infatuation, white; included in Mr. Foord's collection of six single stem plants. A Helen Bloodgood (pink) and a Sunclad, with a grand flower of an intense golden yellow were worthy of special mention, as were a large number of other exhibits.

Mr. Jas. Head, with a dozen varieties, exhibited among others a splendid Charles Davis, with an expanse of petals of over six inches in diameter, a splendid Vivian Morel and a magnificent Ivory.

Mr. Joseph Mitchell was a large exhibitor, with about twenty different varieties. One splendid plant took the first prize, and his yellows and pinks were very fine specimens.

Mr. Frank Mason had a good exhibit of cut blooms and other specimens of unusual merit.

Among those who were not exhibitors, but with a commendable public spirit, sent in contributions to increase the display, were the following:

Mr. Percy Hamilton, a fine collection of about a dozen varieties. One of these, a seedling Niveus, was a delightfully beautiful flower.

Messrs. Peter and R. D. Hamilton were also large contributors, with 12 or fifteen varieties, including a splendid specimen of the pompon chrysanthemum, perhaps the prettiest plant in the hall for real delicate graceful beauty, except of course in the eyes of the enthusiast, to whom a new shape no matter whether intrinsically beautiful or not, is as important as the discovery of a new star.

Mr. A. Parker also sent in a fine collection of chrysanthemums, and Mr. Jos. H. Cobb sent in a large numer of chrysanthemums, palms, ferns, tuberoses, etc., to enlarge the display, and others whose names not being entered in the regular way were in their absence not obtainable.

In carnations there was not a very large display, Mr. James Head having this table pretty well to himself. His fragrant carnations were splendid One of the most charming of all the exhibits was Mr. Head's splendid vase of cut roses, which were worthy of special admiration, both for the perfection of the petals and for their rich fragrance.

Althogether the display for a first attempt was highly creditable, and it is to be regretted that the great counter attraction at the Y.M.C.A. Hall prevented a large attendance at an exhibition worthy of liberal patronage. The Horticultural Society is deserving of great praise for having placed the public under another obligation in the mater of bringing to their notice a splendid collection of flowers, and thus developing the public taste for the beautiful and furnishing an incentive to that most pleasing and refining occupation, the culture of flowers.

Last night Mrs. J. H. Cobb acted as judge, and her services are all the more worthy of recognition inasmuch as she achieved the rare result of giving the best of satisfaction to the exhibitors. To-night the Chrysanthemum show will be again open to the public, when there should be a very large attendance, such as the show is worthy of. An additional attraction will be the presence of Miller's orchestra.

Special Meeting of the Council re. Extension of the Water Company's Mains.

A special meeting of the Ashburnham council was held last night to consider the matter of extending the 8-inch main of the Water Company from the bridge terminus on Hunter street across the river to the village streets.

Mr. J. C. Kennedy, C.E., made a report, including plans. His plans include:

An 8-inch pipe across the river from the Water Company's main on Hunter street, and along Elizabeth street to Stewart street—2,300 feet.

Six-inch main on Lake street, from Elizabeth street to Charles street.

Six-inch main on Mark street, from Elizabeth street to Robinson street.

A six-inch main on Stewart street, south to Robinson street.

A six-inch main on Stewart street, north to Stanley Avenue.

A six inch main on Douro street, east to Brown street.

Altogether 7,650 feet of six and eight-inch mains, together with twelve dydrants and necessary valves.

It is understood that Mr. Kennedy offers to sign a contract to perform the work for the sum of $7,200.

The council received the report and a resolution was passed to arrange a conference between the council and the Peterborough Water Company in reference to the proposed extension of their mains to the village streets.

HARRY FROUDE LEAVES.

To Enter Actively in Y.M.C.A. Work in Nova Scotia.

Mr. A. H. Froude, who left yesterday to take the position of general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. branch at Sidney, Nova Scotia, was farewelled the evening before by his friends in the local branch.

Mr. A. Parker, president, occupied the chair at the meeting and Mr. A. C. McCallum read the following address:—

Mr. A. H. Froude:

DEAR FRIEND AND BROTHER,—Learning of your departure from our midst, we, members of the Young Men's Christian Association of Peterborough, Ontario, feel that we can not permit you to go out from amongst us without expressing to you our kindly regards and best wishes upon this, what may prove to be the most auspicious period of your life. We fully realize the vast importance of the work which you have undertaken, and we rejoice in the fact that your confidence is in God. "It is an uncontroverted truth that no man ever made an ill figure who understood his own talents, nor a good one who mistook them."

In leaving home and friends to take up your work in the far eastern part of our fair Dominion, we pray that God may preserve you in body, granting you a splendid measure of health, thus enabling you to carry on you good work. We further pray that the mind which was in Christ Jesus our Lord may be your's at all times and that the hallowing influence of the Holy Spirit may continually surround you, so that amidst the joys or sorrows, successes or disappointments to be met with in your chosen avocation, you may be constantly sustained.

Praying you to accept from our hands this small token of our esteem and regard—"God be with you till we meet again."

Signed on behalf of the members,
ALF. PARKER, President.
G. H. WILLIAMSON, Secretary.
H. H. BUXTON, Physical Director.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. A. E. Matthews, of Ottawa, is in town visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Matthews, Dalhousie street.

Messrs. Jas. Hatcher, Jackson, Turner and Gilbo have returned home after a few days' visit in Hastings.

It is learned from the London Free Press that at the first special meeting of the vestry of St. Matthew's church, London, after the resignation of the rector, the first name of a successor considered was that of Rev. W. Leslie Armitage, of All Saints', Peterborough. Mr. Armitage on being informed of the fact, wrote in reply that he could not justify himself in changing so soon from his present work, to which he believed God had called him and, in a measure, had prospered. It is understood that Mr. Armitage is so deeply interested in his present work, and has become so attached to his parishioners, amongst whom he has found a large number of warm friends, that he declines to leave his present work. He prefers to follow the way duty points out, to the enjoyment of the substantial improvement of financial position, the charge of the London parish represents. Rev. Mr. Armitage's very large circle of warm friends are greatly pleased that he has elected to remain in Peterborough.

$200 GRANTED TOWARDS A TEMPOHARY SHELTER.

AND ALSO EXEMPTION FROM TAXES.

This is as Far as the Council is Prepared to go at Present towards Establishing a House of Refuge.

A special meeting of the town council in committee of the whole was held last evening for the purpose of conferring with a delegation of ladies who were anxious to express their views on behalf of the Children's Aid Society, and with regard to the desirability of providing a temporary shelter for the neglected children of the town.

The councillors present were Messrs. Best Leplante, Robertson, Denne, McWilliams, Neill, Dawson and White.

The following ladies comprising the delegation were present: Mrs. Kendry, Mrs. Beck, Mrs. Dr. Burnham, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Roger and Miss Clarke.

The Mayor took the chair at 8.30, stated the object of calling the meeting, and requested the ladies to state their case.

Mrs. Kendry briefly but forcibly explained the object that brought them to the council. She said the need of a children's shelter for the Children's Aid Society was most urgent. Fresh proof of the necessity for steps being taken in this direction was coming to light every day, and they could not close their eyes to the fact. She suggested renting a suitable premises instead of buying, and thought the town would not object to paying the rent and fuel. If that did not meet the views of the councillors she suggested a grant in aid of the Society.

Miss Clarke also made a neat address in behalf of the object. She had visited some houses that might be made suitable for the shelter—one especially, on the corner of Charlotte and Stewart streets, the property of Mr. Best.

After some further remarks from Mrs. Beck and other ladies, soliciting the council's interest in the matter, the councillors discussed the question for a short time.

Councillor Dawson thought the town had not got to that size that would warrant them in undertaking any large expenditure for the purpose.

Councillor Best volunteered the free use of his vacant dwelling on the corner of Charlotte and Stewart streets for one year provided the taxes were paid.

Councillor McWilliams thought it was the duty of the council to do something along this line. He moved, seconded by Councillor Denne, that this council recommend the granting of $200 to the Children's Aid Society towards the expense of a temporary shelter for young children and exemption from taxes on the building to be used for same.—Carried.

THE MULTIPLICATION OF MEMBERS.

The Y.M.C.A. Membership Contest—The Thistles Still Tread in the Van—Notes of the Struggle.

The Thistle still thrives in the Y.M.C.A. membership contest, being 24½ points ahead of the Roses and Shamrocks combined, as the following score at 10 o'clock last night shows:—

Thistles	304 points
Shamrocks	33½ "
Roses	11½ "

The Roses have lost their leader.

The Shamrocks are coming up, but the Roses seem to have suffered from the recent frost.

The lovely weather following the recent rains should cause the three flowers to grow.

Now is the time to join. Young men can't afford to do without the privileges offered.

We have the strongest team ever put on the Peterborough field for this Saturday.

Word has been received from Brockville and Kingston for a game on Thanksgiving Day. The boys will in all probability go to Brockville.

Knox College will be down on Saturday, the 13th, so our boys will have to add the Scottish scalp to their belt.

King would have been missed very much if we had not a man like Hollingshead to take his place.

A large crowd ought to turn out to see this game as it will be the game of the season. The T. A. C. Lornes are the best team, by long odds, in Toronto.

CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION NOTES

The first of a series of fortnightly entertainments will be held in the C. L. A. rooms on Monday evening, Nov. 8th. An address will be given and a musical programme presented.

The Lindsay Literary Society is anxious to arrange a debate with the local society. They will be accommodated.

The Young Men's Lyceum, of St. Catharines, was formally opened on Saturday last by His Grace Archbishop Walsh. The President of the local Catholic Association, on behalf of the Board of Directors, forwarded a letter of congratulation to Very Rev. Dean Harris, of St. Catharines, who is the founder of the Lyceum in that city.

A membership contest will be started amongst the members of the society shortly and it promises to be exciting.

MR. R. H. KELLS IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

OF THE THISTLE CURLING CLUB FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

The Colts Also Re-organize and Elect Mr. George S. Matthews as their President for 1897-8.

There was a goodly assemblage of enthusiastic "knights o' the besom and the stane" at the curling rink parlours last evening, when the Thistles and the Colts met to re-organize for the coming season.

The Colts got down to work first, and quickly elected the following officers for the year:

Hon. Pres.—W. G. Ferguson.
Pres.—Geo. S. Matthews.
Vice-Pres.—C. LeBrun.
Sec.-Treas.—Gus Hay.
Executive Committee—J. Herbert Hall, Alf. Terrill and W. J. Thompson.

Representative members to annual meeting of Midland Colts' Association in Port Hope—G. S. Matthews and Alf. Terrill.

Mr. Dickson Davidson being president of the Midland Colts Association, will, of course, also attend the annual meeting.

A communication was received from J. S. Russell, secretary of the Ontario Curling Association, asking for a photograph of the Colts, for insertion in the Annual.

President McFadden, of the O.H.A., wrote, asking for a copy of the Colts' constitution, as a similar organization is about to be formed in Stratford and neighbouring towns.

THE THISTLE OFFICERS.

The members of the Thistle Club then assembled and chose their officers as follows:—

Patron and Patroness—Mr. and Mrs. C. McGill.
President—R. H. Kells.
Vice-President—S. Ray.
Representative Members—W. G. Ferguson and C. McGill.
Chaplain—Rev. S. J. Shorey.
Secretary-Treasurer—Dickson Davidson.
Committee of Management—W. G. Ferguson, H. LeBrun and John McKee.
Honorary members—C. McGill and R. Innes.

Mr. H. LeBrun handed in the beautiful medal which he has donated to the club for competition amongst the Thistle rinks—the winning rink to hold it for all time. The medal is of silver and has a curling stone raised upon the surface of one side. Around the edge in blue enamel are the words "Peterborough Thistles Curling Club." On the reverse side, "Presented by H. LeBrun" is engraved. It has two clasps, the upper one being inscribed "President's Medal," and the lower "1897."

If the Thistles are asked to go to Toronto to play off in the Tankard primaries, it is hardly likely that they will do so, as in case of winning, they would have to go to the city to play in the next round, making the season an expensive one.

Many regrets were expressed at the absence of Mr. J. S. Knapman, the former Secretary, from the meeting, and his enforced retirement from curling circles for this season on account of his recent illness.

POLICE COURT CHRONIQUES.

Last night P. C. Stewart arrested at the C. P. R. station two vagrants, John Kelly and Charles Martin. Kelly was charged with stealing a coat from John Mowry at the Southern Hotel last night. A charge of selling liquor against a hotel keeper (on Sunday last) was dismissed, as was also a charge of selling liquor to a minor.

A WONDERFUL CHANGE.

Mr. R. Wheatley, of the Department of Militia, Ottawa, says in reference to Doan's Kidney Pills that they are the best remedy he ever tried.

Mr. Wheatley makes the following statement:

"I suffered a great deal for a long time with severe pains in my back over the kidneys, restless, headaches, sleepless and general debility also made life a burden.

"Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try them, seeing that no other remedy had succeeded in my case. Well, from the first a wonderful change took place, and I continued to improve rapidly until, at the end of six weeks, I was cured.

"I now eat well, sleep well, have no pain, dizziness or headache, and am in fact all O. K., thanks to Doan's Pill, which it is needless to say I recommend highly."

Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all druggists at 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

TO PUT JOSEPH IN JAIL

Mr. Martin's British Columbian Experience—He Lashes the Bar

Winnipeg, Nov. 4.—Hon. Joseph Martin has written a letter in the Victoria Province dressing down the bar of British Columbia for its attitude towards incoming barristers from other provinces. It seems an attempt was made to place Messrs. Martin and Curtis in jail on a charge of practising law before they had been resident in the province six months. The same law will debar Sir Hibbert Tupper and Hon. Mr. Peters for the same period. The agitation started by Mr. Martin will lead to a change in the law. A clause in the Benchers' Act reads that a man may be sentenced to life imprisonment for a violation of the rules.

Poonah, Nov. 4.—The trial of Damodar Chapekar, the Brahmin lawyer who was arrested on October 8th last, charged with being connected with the murder of Lieut. Ayrest and Commissioner Rand, on June 22nd last, was commenced in the Court-house yesterday. The building was strongly guarded in order to prevent any demonstration upon the part of the prisoner's friends.

Chapekar adhered to his confession that he murdered Rand, but declined to make any further statement.

A number of incriminating articles, including antiquated swords, pistols, arrows, slings, and false beards, were placed on a table beside the presiding magistrate. The latter, after the usual formal proceedings adjourned the trial until today.

SEARCHING FOR TREASURE

H. M. S. Imperieuse's Fruitless Voyage to the Cocos Islands.

THIRTY MILLIONS BURIED THERE

The Weather Was Unfavorable and a Satisfactory Search Could Not be Made—Another Trial will be Made—A Guard Kept.

Victoria, Nov. 4.—H.M.S. Imperieuse returned yesterday from South America after an unsuccessful search for $30,000,000 in gold, silver and precious stones, which Charles Harford, who arrived from the island on the sealing schooner Aurora in August last, claims to have located on the island. The Imperieuse left Victoria on September 22, and, acting under orders from the Home Office, proceeded to San Jose de Guatemala to protect lives and look after the interests of British subjects resident in that city, as a revolution was then in progress. When the Imperieuse arrived at Guatemala the revolution was practically over. Fighting was almost at an end and the victorious army of President Barrios' Government was marching back, having completely routed the insurgents, many of whom, including the leader, had fled to Costa Rica. But four days were spent at San Jose de Guatemala, then the flagship put to sea. She made at once for Cocos Island, where a party of about 100 men, under Lieut. Lee, went ashore to dig for the treasure. On the Imperieuse when she sailed from Victoria were Mr. E. Harris of Lowenburg, Harris & Co., and Mr. Charles Harford, whom the Victorians know as a man who claims to have located the treasure. He had interested Mr. Harris in the matter, and together they had interested the admiral and officers of the flagship to such an extent that the admiral decided to make the search. Mr. Harris was taken down as the guest of the admiral, and during the voyage the men on the vessel knew him as the "correspondent of the New York Herald." Mr. Harford was a passenger, whom the men knew as the interpreter. It was on Oct. 14 last that the Imperieuse arrived at Cocos Island, and the watch on duty immediately went ashore armed with spades, and, acting under the direction of Harford, they began to dig for the hidden treasure. It was, however, the rainy season, and as fast as they dug a hole the water ran in and filled it up. Digging was continued from place to place for two days, but without success, although several of those who were on the watch engaged in the search say that the slate covering the hidden place of treasure was discovered. The weather being very bad and the anchorage entirely unsuitable for such a large vessel of 8,400 tons, Admiral Palliser then decided to abandon the search and sailed northward. When the warship arrived at the Island, Gustave Gissler, a German, belonging to Stockton, who is also engaged in searching for the treasure, was away at Puntas Arena, on the Costa Rican coast, with Gus Livingstone, one of the Victoria settlers, who was left here by the Aurora expedition.

Capt. Whidden, the other Victorian left by the Aurora expedition, has also left the island. The only people on the island were two Germans, the wife of one of them and the wife of Gissler. This, however, is not the final search, for it is believed by many of those on the Imperieuse that had she stayed a few days longer the treasure would have been found.

H.M.S. Amphion has now been ordered to Cocos Island to search for the buried millions. Mr. Harford was landed at Guatemala on the upward trip, where Admiral Palliser says he will fit up an expedition to go down for the treasure. Mr. Harris came back to Victoria.

NEWS FROM ST. KITTS.

E. J. Musson, jr., Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills—He was Bedridden for Months and his Strength was Sapped by Diabetes—He Found his Cure in Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

A Frightful Gunning Accident.

Simcoe, Nov. 3.—Anthony Chanda, aged 19 years, living with his father in the Township of Charlotteville, six miles from here, was instantly killed by the accidental discharge of his gun. He was in the woods shooting. One barrel of his muzzle-loading shotgun had been discharged and he was reloading it, when in some way the second barrel went off and the top of Chanda's head was blown off. The only witness to the accident was Chanda's 12-year-old brother.

PREMIERS AND PROMOTERS

Action of Mr. Turner Sharply Criticised by English Papers.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—The Star's London cable says: "A good deal of discussion has been aroused in financial and other journals by the repeated appearance of the name of Premier Turner and other British Columbia Ministers on the directorates of mining concerns. One Klondike company especially has been criticized, because it is claimed that Mr. Turner's directorship gives the company early access to information. 'Money' discussed the question yesterday on non-personal grounds, and urges that such a practice is becoming a financial scandal. The Westminster Gazette's headline runs, 'Premiers and promoters: sinking from bad to worse.'

"A prospectus will be published today of the issue of £60,000 worth of share capital, and of the £120,000 bonded capital, of the direct West Indies Cable Company, under circumstances which will secure success. This is an extension of the Canadian-Bermuda cable lines to the West Indies. Applications from private sources have already been received to exceed two-thirds of both classes. The capital bonds bear 4½ per cent. interest, and are quoted at 95. They are secured by the hypothecation of the subsidy to trustees, who are Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal and Mr. Thomas Skinner."

A Desperate Woman.

Experts in insanity tell us that when anyone goes insane, frequently their whole nature is reversed. They do and say exactly the opposite things to what they would do in their sane minds. A mother whose mind breaks down under extreme nervous tension may turn upon the one object in all the world most precious to her—her baby.

The terrible nervous tension under which many women live and suffer because of some weakness or disease of their sex, keeps them on the very verge of insanity. The constant drag and drain upon the complicated and delicate organism affects the whole nervous system and works upon the brain with an almost irresistible madness.

Thousands of suffering women have been literally saved from the insane asylum by the timely influence of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is the one perfect and positive specific for every derangement of woman's special organism. It is a scientific and permanent cure for those severe, chronic, complicated cases which doctors usually consider hopeless. It is the only medicine of its kind devised by an educated and skilled physician.

Mrs. Sarah E. Evans, of Dayton, Cass Co., Mo., in a letter to Dr. Pierce, writes: "It was in the winter of '95 that my sufferings commenced. It was close to my time of confinement. I took the grip, and that with the labor pains all went to my head. I suffered dreadfully, and when I gave birth to my little boy I kept getting worse. I doctored but nothing did me any good. I had nervous spasms and was delirious—Oh, no tongue can express my sufferings. I was advised by a lady to try your medicine and I did. I got one bottle of the 'Favorite Prescription' and one of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I had taken two-thirds of the medicine when it commenced its work. I began to feel better, and still continued getting better. In a short time I felt like another woman. I gained strength and flesh. I am now forty-one years of age. This is true, and it was your medicine that saved my life."

Dr. Pierce's 1000-page book, "The People's Medical Adviser" sent, paper-bound, free for the cost of customs and mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps; or, cloth-bound 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 23.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

Mail Contract Awarded.

Montreal, Nov. 3.—(Special).—The decision of the Government to give the Beaver Line the mail subsidy, has created more or less interest in shipping circles, and this interest was increased when it became known that the Beaver Line would be strengthened by two boats leased from the Cunard Company. Mr. James Crathern, one of the Montreal directors, being interviewed this evening, said that the contract would not be signed till the end of the week, but that the steamers which the Beaver Line is leasing from the Cunards are first-class boats and will sail about 15 knots.

Provincial Fat Stock Show.

Brantford, Nov. 4.—The local Executive of the Ontario Provincial Fat Stock and Dairy Show, at a meeting at Brantford, looked over the various buildings offered by the city for the use of the exhibition. The Grand Trunk stops were finally selected, and will prove the largest and best adapted for the purpose ever secured in the Province. The building is 345 feet long by 136 feet wide, and has 45,000 feet of floor space. The structure is fitted with complete steam-heating apparatus, by which, in case of cold weather, the place can be heated at a total cost of $40. Arrangements have been completed with the railways for the carriage of exhibits both ways at a one-way rate. Passengers will be given the round trip for a single fare. Up to date the entries are 280 per cent. greater than at the same date in any previous year.

FRENCH REPUBLIC IN DANGER.

A Correspondent Who Believes It May be Overthrown During the Elections.

London, Nov. 3.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily News, says:

On all sides I hear that the next elections are likely to give us, if not a parliament of rallies, one in which they will be uppermost. Should this happen, the electors might think it well to withdraw their allegiance from the republic.

The Pope would not object. He is in favor of the practicable course, whatever it may be. There would be really very little difficulty to turn this republic into a kingdom or an empire. If there were a Conservative majority an empire would be of easier achievement.

A king or emperor would not have to face the odium of making Draconian laws to defend his power. He would find them ready to hand. They are the legacy of the Carnot and Casimir-Perier Presidencies, and were gauges of strong government given to Russia. All the power of the Government will be employed to keep out Socialists and Radicals.

In view of future events, the monarchists have not rallied and the Bonapartists have fused. Were Prince Victor to step aside and Prince Louis Napoleon to be placed at the head of this amalgamated party, there might be striking results. The latter Prince has been seeing the King of Italy at Monza. He is now in Switzerland, and is expected at Montalieri, where his mother lives, before returning to Paris, en route to Russia, where he will visit the Czar at Peterhof.

Madrid, Nov. 3.—A despatch from Barcelona says that 112 persons, who have been confined in the fortress of Monjuich for a year, on suspicion of complicity in Anarchist plots and outrages, were released to-day.

To Hunt for Andree.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The Lokal Anzeiger announces that a steamer, fitted out by the Governor of Tromsoe, under instructions from King Oscar, left Tromsoe Island in search of Prof. Andree, the aeronaut. She will proceed to Spitzbergen, from which point Andree's balloon ascended last July. She is provisioned for eight months.

THREE TOUGHS

Make Things Decidedly Lively at Woodstock—Two of Them Captured.

Woodstock, Nov. 3.—Three tough customers struck town yesterday, and last night about 8 p.m. two of them entered Marshall's pork store and proceeded to help themselves.

The proprietor caught one of them, and the other struck Mr. Marshall on the head with a heavy club, knocking him down.

The two men then ran east on Dundas-street and up Light-street. A hue and cry was raised, and they were overtaken by a large posse of citizens on Wellington-street.

They made a desperate resistance, and Mr. Walton, a druggist, and a boy were badly hurt in the struggle.

One of them flourished a revolver, but did not fire, and the other used a razor, with which he slashed the clothing of his pursuers, but did not wound anyone.

They gave their names as Harry Dutton of Dundas and James McDonald of St. Thomas and lately of St. Catharines, a tailor by trade. Dutton is the man who used the razor, which was afterwards found on the ground.

BUSHNELL GOT THERE.

So Also Did Hanna, But He May be Side-Tracked on Re-election.

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—Bushnell (Republican) has carried the State for Governor by 20,000 plurality. The composition of the Legislative Assembly and Senate is yet in doubt. Republicans claim a majority of five on joint ballot, and Democrats a majority of three.

Mark Hanna will have a very close call on his re-election to the United States Senate, and may be side-tracked for a compromise candidate.

Republican Majority 32.

New York, Nov. 3.—On a joint ballot in the Legislature of this State the Republicans will have a majority of 32 votes. On questions requiring a two-third vote in the Assembly, they cannot act without Democratic aid.

KILLS HIS WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Insane Deed of Edward B. Hamilton, a Worcester, Mass., Banker.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 3.—Edward B. Hamilton, one of the most prominent men in banking circles of this city, shot and killed his wife and two children and fatally shot himself early this morning. When found he said he wished to die. Hamilton was 51 years old, and was a member of one of the oldest families. As a boy he entered the Worcester County Institution for Savings, the largest bank in New England outside of Boston, and he rose to head accountant. His accounts in the bank are correct. His wife was Katherine Long, a professional nurse, who cared for him during a long illness six years ago. Insanity seems the only explanation of the tragedy.

DUTY COLLECTED AT VICTORIA.

The Dominion Treasury is Scooping in the Shekels at a Fair Rate.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 3.—Over $20,000 in duty has been collected at Taglot Lake by Canadian customs officers from men who brought goods in the States. Men who had no money paid the duty in provisions or labor. Speaking of the exemption from duty of 100 pounds of miners' outfit, Hon. Mr. Sifton said that the officers were treating the men just as they would treat people entering Canada at any other point. A man's personal luggage, that is, clothing in use, or that had been used, is not taxed but everything else they have to pay duty on.

Fairly Staggered.

Mr. Samuel Humphries, retired carriage manufacturer, Strathroy, Ont., says: "For a long time I have had kidney troubles and pain in the back. I could not straighten up and often had to sit down until the pain and weakness went away. I have taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and must say they are a great kidney medicine, because they have entirely removed all pain from my back, curing the urinary difficulties and benefitting my general health in a remarkable degree."

MR. SIFTON AT VICTORIA.

The Minister Decides on Some Yukon Mining Regulations Changes.

Victoria, Nov. 3.—(Special.)—Mr. Sifton arrived here yesterday evening on the Quadra and met a number of leading citizens last night at a dinner given by Mr. Wm. Templeman. The Minister met the Board of Trade this morning and was asked to remove the exemption of customs duty on 100 pounds of provisions of miners going into the Yukon and to modify the mining regulations.

After luncheon at the Union Club by the Board of Trade, where Mr. Sifton made a speech which produced an excellent effect, and a dinner to-night at Dr. Milne's the Minister left on the night boat for Vancouver, where he will attend a banquet, afterwards going to Rossland.

The Yukon mining regulations will be altered in two respects—the length of claims, now 100 feet, will be increased and the alternate claims grouped in blocks of ten.

Mr. Sifton announced at the Board of Trade meeting that the exemption of 100 pounds would likely be abolished by the New Year.

A Footballer Wounded.

Hamilton, Nov. 4. (Special).—Mr. Varley Quinn of the Tiger football fifteen was removing the cartridges from a revolver at the Bank of Commerce building yesterday afternoon, when one of the cartridges was accidentally discharged. The ball passed through the fingers of Mr. Quinn's left hand, tearing away the flesh from two fingers.

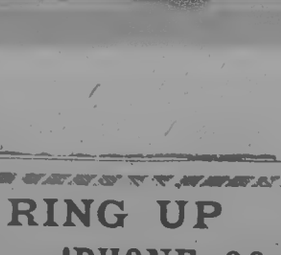
High-Grade Cemetery Work
AT A MODERATE PRICE.



The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Parents are requested to see that pupils in their charge attend school as regularly as possible, as absence not only destroys all chances a pupil may have of succeeding, but also materially hinders the work of the whole class.

As a rule the monthly reports are now signed and returned promptly. All pupils except the very smallest, get a report at the end of each month. Parents will greatly oblige by insisting on seeing them and by promptly signing and returning them.

The usual half-yearly promotion examinations will be held in December in all classes below the senior second. This year the senior part second will have a special promotion examination in December. Only those who attend regularly and work satisfactorily need expect promotion in any class.

ASHBURNHAM BREVITIES

Interesting Bits of Information from Peterborough's Fifth Ward.

The special evangelistic services are still going on in Mark street church under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Moore. On Tuesday evening Mr. Stubbs, assisted by Mr. Mason, conducted the service, in the unavoidable absence of Mr. Moore.

The regular monthly meeting of the Mark street Auxiliary of the W.M.S. was held on Wednesday afternoon in the church. An interesting blackboard talk on "China" was given by the president, Mrs. W. M. Matchett. It was found to be successful in presenting missionary information and interest, so it is to be tried again next month. The programme committee in charge are Mrs. (Rev.) Moore and Mrs. T. Hooper. A good time is expected on Dec 1st.

ANOTHER VETERAN.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

THE MANSE,
WARSAW, Nov. 2nd

Dear Sir,—Last week I noticed in the EXAMINER a number of names of volunteer veterans of 1866 and 1870 in this county who are entitled to medals. The statement was also made that you would like to be furnished with the names of other veterans living in the county who are entitled to medals.

The writer is entitled to a medal, or clasp or clasps, as he had the honour of responding to the call to arms on four different occasions between the years 1866-70.

Thus the village of Warsaw will have a representative for veteran honours.

I remain yours sincerely,
R. HYDE,

ART LOAN EXHIBITION CONTINUED LAST NIGHT.

THE ROOMS CONTINUALLY THRONGED

Visitors Delighted With the Bewildering Array of Articles on Exhibition—Further Additions to the Objects of Interest—The Exhibition to Continue Open the Rest of the Week.

The throngs of visitors which still continue to attend the Art Loan Exhibition in the Y. M. C. A. building attest the good judgment of the policy which suggested continuing the exhibition until the end of the week. Even in the mornings the rooms are quite crowded by those who wish to spend a little time in examining closely the different samples of some especial curio fad in which they are interested. The cosmopolitan character of the collection is as conspicuous as its beauty, interest and variety—every corner of creation is represented, every continent and isle of the sea; in fact the spots that have been plundered to provide the great display go round the world like the British drum-beat. To paraphrase Bishop Heber's well known poem, the contributions have been gathered on territory

From Greenland's icy mountains,
To India's coral strand,
From Klondyke's frost-sealed fountains
To far Van Dieman's Land.

Those interested in carving have some beautiful specimens of the art to examine in one of the smaller rooms, where, amongst the large collection, the following are of particular interest :—Dutch cradle, Icelandic design, Mrs. Greenwood; carved walnut footstool, Miss A. C. Dennistoun; tray, chip carving, Miss Barlee; walnut spinning chair, Miss I. Dennistoun; woodburnt chair, clock, case chip carved, Mr. F. Hatton; panels, Miss I. Dennistoun; Turkish tabourette, Miss Hamilton, Auburn; frame and box, black walnut fender stool, Miss Annie Dennistoun; bell in belfry, M. F. Greenwood.

A piece of carving, however, which possesses interest for everyone by its exquisite designing is an urn sent in by Mrs. Tait, which has just come down from Toronto, being imported. It is of black mahogany, and may be regarded as being almost priceless.

An old violin and delicately pretty old liqueur set, owned by Mrs. Armstrong of Rubidge street, attract a great deal of attention, as does Mrs. Hope's beautiful old china exhibit.

Mrs. James H. Dixon has a flax wheel 175 years old, and upon it are a couple of pillow cases spun from the flax 86 years ago by an aunt of Mrs. Dixon. It is quite a curio.

Lewis Rye has sent in a South Sea Islander's necklace made from the teeth of a spermaciti whale.

There are many old books to be seen and those interested in such relics have a treat before them when they visit the museum. Mr. C. J. Blomfield has sent in "The Principles of Christian Religion," by James Usher, which is in a remarkably good state of preservation, although 218 years old. Mrs. Robt. Innes has contributed "Considerations of the Existence of God," which is only 28 years younger.

Strange to say all these old books are of a religious character, arguing, as a sarcastic visitor put it, that this was the reason they had not been worn out.

Amongst Mr. Dumble's valuable collection of paintings in oils and water colours is a pretty little etching of "Ballyraggitt," his Stony Lake home.

Mr. Ed. Courtney has on exhibition the table which took first prize for inlaid work at the World's Fair.

Mr. T. G. Hazlitt has sent in a large model of a full rigged man of war, which he has presented to the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Kelsey Hall's contribution of his valuable numismatic collection is very interesting.

Many contributions are still coming in, and amongst the latest of the relics received is a framed invitation to the coronation of Geo. IV., brought in by Mr. Roper.

Col. H. C. Rogers has on exhibition a silverheaded cane from India which has been most beautifully carved by a native with no other implement than a hammer and nail. He also has an old history of 1765.

Mrs. Wm. Langford—A humming bird's nest and a Japanese butter dish.

Miss Dickson—Old picture in oils.

Mrs. James Kendry—Three beautiful pictures.

The following note accompanied a portion of Mrs. Katharine Parr Traill's contribution :

No. 4—Indian shawl, said to have been the property of Queen Katherine Parr. Left to my sister Agnes, with some other valuable articles by the late descendants of the Queen's daughter by her marriage with the High Admiral Thomas Seymour. Johnson Lawson, Esq., left the napkin and large engraved pewter dish to my sister, named in her life of Katherine Parr.

No. 5—A gold cross with crystal covering a few strands of the hair cut from the dead Queen's head. This may have been the gift of Miss Jane Porter, a good and valued friend of Admiral Seymour.

No. 6—A cross (mutilated) made from a fragment of the wood of one of the Spanish Armada ships wrecked at Arbroath. The gift of Rev. Donald McLeod. This cross was sent to Miss A. S. by a sister of Donald McLeod. It was made from a fragment of the wreck cast up on the shore opposite to the house or manse. The wreck was one of the ships of the Spanish Armada. This is all I know of cross. It had been worn and regarded as an old relic by Donald McLeod.

Another contribution sent in this morning by Mr. Wm. Hincheliffe was an etching of the Duke of Wellington's funeral cortege of great age.

ST. ANDREW'S Y.P.S.C.E.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large crowd attended our consecration service service last Monday night, all renewing their vow to trust Christ in a way touching to all present. Miss Harriet Smith gave a fine essay on the topic, "Trust Christ for what?" In presenting Christ the giver of every good and perfect gift, it becomes us to trust Him for everything—for life, for strength, for guidance, and trust Him our Comforter. In our daily lives so many little things occur to disturb and molest the Christian, what a source of strenth to feel His guiding hand near. In our studies, in business, or whatever work we are engaged, we must do our best and pray and trust Him to bless and make it a success. Faith makes the Christian. Trials test and are to prove whether that life is centered on the sure foundation or not. We must trust the future to God, for we know not what is in store for us—not even one moment hence, but God knows. So let us trust it to His safe keeping.

Nearly all took advantage of the open meeting as the opportunity given to express their trust in Christ, the only strength. Two active and three associate members were again added to the roll. Our motto, "For Christ and the Church."

MR. LOUNT RESIGNS.

Centre Toronto Will Have a Commons Election Shortly.

PRIVATE AND PUBLIC DUTIES CLASH

A Member of the First Assembly of Ontario His Departure From Public Life is to be Regretted—His Redemption of Centre Toronto a Notable Incident on the Last Election.

Toronto, Nov. 6.—Mr. William Lount, Q.C., member for Centre Toronto, has resigned his seat in the House of Commons and communicated his determination to Mr. Speaker. When Mr. Lount was, on the eve of the general election, asked to be his party's candidate in Centre Toronto, he replied that if elected he feared the duties of the office would interfere seriously with the practice of his profession. He was persuaded, however, to make a trial of it, with the result that what he anticipated has come to pass. He finds that he cannot do his duty to his constituents and at the same time attend to the business of his clients, and has accordingly concluded to resign his seat.

There will be a feeling of unfeigned regret in the Liberal ranks that Mr. Lount has felt it incumbent on him to take this course. His feat in redeeming the Centre Division of Toronto was one of the notable achievements of a campaign which was not lacking in memorable political revolutions. Centre Toronto, within the memory of men who are by no means grey-beards, was generally found in the Liberal column. In 1878, however, it went wrong and remained so until Mr. Lount redeemed it in 1890.

Mr. Lount has an extensive acquaintance with public affairs. Those who saw his youthful face and figure during the last campaign found it hard to believe that he had been a member of the first Assembly of Ontario, yet such was the fact. His knowledge of public life, therefore, extended over an important period of our history. He is, moreover, specially well adapted for taking part in the business of a deliberative body, and would, if he had chosen to remain at his post, undoubtedly have made his constituency influential in Parliament. There will be regret, therefore, that he has determined to retire. All that remains is to hope that the constituency will be enabled to choose as earnest and as capable a representative to succeed him.

THE BENEFIT OF THE PEOPLE

Is the Guiding Star of the Liberal Party In Dealing With Canada's Resources.

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The banquet to Hon. Clifford Sifton was the largest in the history of the city. Mayor Templeton presided. Messrs. Maxwell, M.P., Morrison, M.P., Macpherson, M.L.A., and Major-General Kinchant were among those present. Mr. Sifton's speech was frequently cheered, showing that he correctly voiced western sentiment. The record of the Government in 15 short months had, he claimed, exploded all the charges and falsified all the predictions of their opponents, with regard to the Liberal party. The difficult task of revising the tariff had been accomplished with fewer complaints than resulted from any previous revision, and a revival of trade was being witnessed. He declared, amid loud cheers, that the Government's policy in the Yukon was to compel every man to observe the law, to provide an all-Canadian route, and to confine the trade as far as possible to Canadian channels. They would seek to promote the transportation facilities, and when that country was opened up they would be surprised to find the immense area of gold-bearing territory in the Yukon. The mining regulations would be based on the principle in the Liberal platform that the resources of Canada should be preserved for the benefit of the people.

Mr. Sifton left at 2 o'clock for the Kootenay country, after which he will go to Edmonton and other places in the Northwest, returning to Ottawa about the end of the month.

GOLD IN ONTARIO.

The First Brick From the Hammond Reef Mine Reported Find Near Chatham.

Rat Portage, Nov. 5. (Special.)—The first brick from the Hammond Reef Mine, Saw Bill district, near Fort William, was sent east to-day. Its weight is about five pounds, from 250 tons of ore and a run of 304 hours. Preparations are being made to enlarge the stamp mill. The run is considered very satisfactory in view of the extent of the veins.

The run of two weeks at the Olive gold mine, Seine River, produced 113 ounces of gold.

Gold Field Near Chatham.

Windsor, Ont., Nov. 5.—It is reported that a vein of placer mining gold has been found in Tilbeigh Township, about 11 miles from Chatham. The parties who made the discovery are very reticent about the find, and will not even divulge the farm on which the gold was found. Some of the sand was taken to Chatham yesterday and tested by a druggist, who estimates that the sand will pan out several hundred dollars to the ton. He refused to tell the exact location of the land where the find was made, but said that the vein was about six feet deep, and extends across the whole farm.

FIRE IN HER HOLD.

Red Star Liner Southwark Had Trou After Leaving New York for Antwerp, but Got Back Safely.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Red Star Line steamer Southwark, Capt. Bence, which sailed from here on Wednesday for Antwerp, has returned, disabled.

The Southwark reached her pier at the foot of Fulton-street at 3.30 p.m. Vice-President Wright of the American Line said that at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, when the vessel was about 220 miles east of Sandy Hook, some of the crew saw smoke coming up through the ventilators in the forward part of the vessel, and at the same time there was a good deal of heat felt in that quarter. The crew immediately set to work, and dug down to the hatches in the lower hold, which is known as Number 1, where about 26 bales of cotton, with some grain, oats and dried brewers' grain were stowed. The smoke was very dense and the heat increasing, when steam was turned on into the otherwise air-tight compartment. In addition to this two lines of hose were brought to bear upon the hold and its contents, and through these lines more steam was propelled. About 10 o'clock Capt. Bence decided to turn about and go back to New York. On the way back the hold was flooded with water, which was pumped out again early this morning in order to lighten the ship sufficiently to enable her to cross the bar. The passengers were informed as to what had occurred, and there was no excitement among them at any time.

COULDN'T GET NEAR HELL-GATE,

So Says a London Editor About the British Navy, But Does He Know?

London, Nov. 6.—The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial this morning, based upon the resolution of the New York Chamber of Commerce, urging the President and Congress of the United States to increase the sea coast defences, says:

"No doubt if the whole British navy were recalled from the ends of the earth, it might put a few shells into Wall-street, into Brooklyn and even into Jersey City, but it could not pass through Long Island Sound, and it never could get anywhere near Hell Gate.

"Great Britain, however, has something else to do than to clear the world of her ships in order to inflict a fine on New York. But when the Wall-street bear wants a pretext for a scare anything comes handy."

All the morning papers comment upon "such alarmist rumors" as a "Wall-street dodge to send prices down." None of them believe that they should be taken seriously.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

Four Children Butchered in the Province of Quebec.

THE PARENTS ARE ALMOST INSANE.

Away From Home They Returned to Find Their Eldest Daughter Outraged and Their Four Children Butchered, to Hide That Crime — Detectives on the Way — A Tramp Suspected.

Montreal, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—A series of murders, revolting in aim and atrocious in execution, were committed near the village of Rawdon, in the County of Montcalm, about 50 miles from here, yesterday morning. The details are rather meagre, and, owing to the bad roads and the distance from railway and telegraph offices, it is impossible to obtain more to-night, but it is known that the victims are: Elizabeth Nulty, aged 18; Annie Nulty, aged 16; Ellen Nulty, aged 14; Patrick Nulty, aged 9. They are the children of Michael Nulty, one of the most respected farmers of Rawdon Parish, living about nine miles north of the village of the same name. The district was settled years ago by Scotch and Irish, and has always been of the most peaceful character. It was probably for this reason that the parents were accustomed to leaving the children alone when they went to any of the neighboring villages.

THE ATROCIOUS BUTCHERY.

Further Details of the Awful Crime in a Special Report.

The whole County of Montcalm is a seething mass of excitement, and should the foul villain be captured the authorities will have to put forth their utmost efforts to protect him from the vengeance of the incensed community. The scene of the tragedy is far removed from any other farm. There is a name mentioned in the despatches from the place which, in the interests of justice, it is thought wise to suppress, as in a matter of this importance the greatest care is necessary to protect innocent people from the license of mob law.

The facts of the tragedy are these: Four children have been butchered in cold blood. There is little doubt that the lives of the innocent four were sacrificed to brutal lust, as the appearance of the eldest girl, aged 18, amply testifies. Two children were actually beheaded. These were the youngest. The other two, a boy and the eldest girl, evidently ran towards the barn for safety. The boy was stabbed on the roadway; the girl reached the barn and there met her death under circumstances too horrible to mention.

The butchery was first discovered by a Mr. Morin, who, coming from the village of Chertsey to visit the Nultys, found the house and farmyard a veritable slaughterhouse. The parents, Mr. Michael Nulty and his wife, are almost insane. They had left in the morning to go to St. Julienne, some 12 miles distant, leaving their children to mind the farm. As yet there is no clue to the perpetrator or perpetrators of the terrible crime.

The neighbors are out with every kind of weapon, seeking for the murderer. The ages of the murdered children are 18, 16, 14 and 10 years respectively.

Mr. F. O. Dugas, Crown Prosecutor of the district of Joliette, was in town to-day on business connected with the present term of the Court of Queen's Bench. Rawdon, the scene of the terrible tragedy, is in his district, and yesterday evening he received a despatch from Mr. William Jones of Rawdon. It read as follows:

"A whole family murdered here to-day. Send detectives."

"(Signed) William Jones."

"I sent," said Mr. Dugas, "the High Constable of Joliette, A. Levesque, and the Chief of Police, Joseph Leduc. They started last evening about 10 o'clock, and I got a despatch from the High Constable this morning. It is as follows:

"'Four persons murdered; no trace; send detectives or instructions.'

"I at once telegraphed the contents of these two despatches to the Attorney-General, Quebec, asking for instructions, and I am still awaiting a reply. I will leave for the scene of the murder this afternoon."

Rawdon, Que., Nov. 5.—Detectives are expected here to-morrow to work on the case of the murdered Nulty children.

As time passes the tramp theory gains more credence, and criminal assault is also more generally settled upon as the motive. The Nulty farm is on the 11th concession of Rawdon township, in the midst of a thickly wooded district and far removed from any other dwellings.

Elizabeth Nulty, aged 18, is supposed to have been assaulted in the barn and then murdered.

Her brother Patrick, aged 10 years, was killed midway between the barn and the house. The younger girls, Annie and Ellen, aged respectively 14 and 11 years, were slain inside the house. An ax was used as the murderous weapon.

A tramp was seen in the neighborhood that day, and suspicion rests upon him and he will be arrested on sight.

AFTER SPAIN FOR DAMAGES

Because His Son Was Thrown Into a Cuban Dungeon.

Hamilton, Nov. 5.—David Gowrie, the Hamilton man who is after the Spanish Government for $25,000 damages for the false imprisonment of his son, was found at his home in the city this evening. Mr. Gowrie has lived in Cuba himself, and speaks with the musical tongue of the southerners. His son was master mechanic on the railway running from Guantanamo to Port Cameneru, when arrested on the declaration of someone unknown that he was in sympathy with the Cuban army. He was cast into a cell in the Morro fortress for six weeks, until rescued by the British Consul, there being no charge against him. On his release he was sent out of the country by the first steamer, and is in San Domingo. His wife and two children, one of whom was in a burning fever, accompanied him. As the result of his imprisonment he is a victim to rheumatism and lost a job worth $220 a month, besides free house, servant and fuel, etc. He will shortly leave for Canada.

Notes From Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—Campbell Bros.' hardware store, Main-street, was damaged by fire at noon to-day. A clerk lighting a match in the cellar to see how near full an oil can was being the cause. The building was saved, only $2000 damage being done. The stock was insured, valued at $25,000; insurance $10,000.

Morrison, charged with cattle stealing, was found guilty at the Assizes to-day.

Severe Headaches

Resulting from Catarrh Cause Great Suffering

The Great Blood Purifier, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

Sufferers from any disease caused by impure blood should never be discouraged about taking Hood's Sarsaparilla because other medicines have failed to give relief. Remember Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. Read this statement:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sirs:—I think it my duty to let you know what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was suffering with severe headaches daily and also with catarrh. One day a paper was left at my house and in looking it over I read of your great medicine's value to my fellow sufferers. I reasoned that if it cured them, why would it not cure me, although I must own I had some doubts about it, as I

Had Tried So Many

so-called cures which had failed even to relieve me. At last I procured a bottle and after taking all the medicine the headaches had left me and my catarrh trouble was much better. I continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and have derived so much benefit from it that I would advise any one troubled with impure blood to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier. I feel better now than I have for years, thanks to Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. E. GREY, 27 St. Nicholas St., Toronto, Ontario. Remember

SATRUDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1897.

OUR TIMBER RESOURCES.

The Opposition orators and organs show little temperance or regard for consistency, or even facts, in their attacks upon the Ontario Government in respect of its timber policy. With gratuitous maliciousness the Government is charged with being unfairly favourable to and unduly influenced by Michigan lumbermen, charges too self-evidently unfounded and preposterous to merit serious refutation. Much is made of the regulations made by Mr. Hardy as being unduly favourable to Michigan lumbermen, when as a matter of fact that "all sales of limits under which export of logs may take place have been made under regulations made by Sandfield Macdonald in 1879, and whatever has been done in the way of lessening the export of logs has been done by Mr. Hardy. As far back as 1890 when the first sale of timber was made under Mr. Hardy as commissioner the condition as to manufacturing was inserted; it is sales made previous to that time, as far back as Sandfield Macdonald, that were free from conditions of manufacture. The only other sale of any any moment made under Mr. Hardy as commissioner was of lands chiefly tributary to the river Ottawa, and for which, of course, no export could take place to Michigan. Mr. Whitney and his friends have Michigan on the brain and in their ill considered criticisms are ignorant or purposely distort the facts to score a point. Another charge against Mr. Hardy is that he has made unwisely large sales of timber limits.

The truth is, says the Globe, that of the 20,000 square miles which have heretofore been put under license, Mr. Hardy during his six years' Commissionership put under license but 1,000 square miles; and there were sold in August last less than 160 square miles. Nearly all of the timber cut for export in the log has been cut on limits sold in 1872, before either Mr. Hardy or Sir Oliver Mowat were members of the Government. Moreover, logs have been cut for export on less than 400 square miles of land put under license by Mr. Hardy, either while he was Commissioner of Crown lands or since he became Premier.

The following table shows the amount of timber lands placed under license up to this date, both before and since Confederation:

	Square miles.
Before Confederation	12 465
Sold by Sandfield Macdonalds Government	635
Sold by Blake Government	5,081
Sold by Sir Oliver Mowat's Government during 24 years: Under Mr. Pardee as Commissioner ... 3,236; Under Mr Hardy as Commissioner ... 1,000	4,235
Sold under the present Government	159½
Total	22,635½

It is worth bearing in mind that the late Conservative Government at Ottawa literally gave away at the nominal rate of $5 per square mile between five and ten thousand square miles of the choicest timber limits in our new territory to political friends and favourites. What a contrast between this $5 per square mile obtained at Ottawa and the $3,667 per square mile obtained by the Ontario Government at its sale in 1892.

A LESSON IN ECONOMICS.

The migration from the wheat fields to the Klondike, referred to by Mr. D. S. Macorquodale in the Globe shows that the same economic laws govern the production of gold and all other commodities. Just at present 23 grains or one dollar of gold is of the same value as one bushel of wheat, because in the aggregate it requires as much labour to produce the one as the other. The dollar is a standard of weight.) Should a new Argentina be discovered, yielding two or three crops of wheat in a year, labour would abandon the less productive gold mines for the wheat fields till the equilibrium be restored by a rise in gold and a fall in wheat. If wheat fell and gold rose till twelve grains of gold, or fifty cents, would buy a bushel of wheat, it would be evidence that under the new conditions the same amount of labour was required to produce the one as the other. The discovery of the Klondike placers throws the balance in the opposite direction. Labour abandons the less productive wheat fields for the gold diggings until the equilibrium be restored by the fall of gold and the rise in wheat. If gold fell and wheat rose till 35 grains, or one dollar and a half of the one was worth a bushel of the other (supposition based on miners' hopes), it would show that the same amount of labour was required on an average for the production of each. These instances presuppose but two commodities. Labour is mobile, and its tendency towards the channels of greatest production maintains the equation between the value of every ordinary commodity and the labour necessary to its production. It is the same with the dollar of gold, the bushel of wheat and every other article of commerce. When a man parts with his goods for a "check" or "bank bill" he does so in the assurance that the promise printed on the bill or check to pay metal will be fulfilled on demand. If there was any doubt or uncertainty about the fulfillment of the promise he would not part with his goods for the check or bill, and neither would anyone else.

TRADE EXPANSION.

The expansion of our exports in the last three months has been so great as to indicate that 1897-98 will show an unprecedented volume of this branch of trade. The figures for the first quarter of the fiscal year, compared with the same period 1896, are as follows:

	1896.	1897.
Products of the Mine	$ 2,537,122	$ 3,644 759
Products of the Fisheries	2,640,324	2,452,041
Products of the Forest	12,437,335	13,808,559
Animals and their produce	11,326,224	15,441,857
Agricultural products	4,325,580	9,213,525
Manufacturers	2,457,793	2,874,405
Miscellaneous	84,586	89,623
Totals	$35,811,504	$47,554,759

It will be noted that the great bulk of the increase of $11,743,256 is in agricultural products, including animals, all of which promises an exceptionally prosperous year for farmers, dairymen and cattle breeders, upon whose welfare largely depends the business of the country. The increase in retail sales which has taken place since a good harvest was assured has given a stimulus to imports which are likely to exceed those of last year, as the long depression and disturbed credit has kept stocks at a low figure. The increase of lumber exports in the last three months looks as though this business were not entirely dependent upon American favours. The home demand for lumber has increased since business revived and will continue to do so as building operations will become more and more active in towns and rural districts as other trades expand.

THE time does not seem inappropriate, suggests the Insurance and Finance Chronicle, for holding an exhibition of Canadian minerals, etc., on an extensive scale. This would assist in the development of the mines of this Dominion, and, if the exhibits were sent to the proposed Expositions in London and Paris it would be highly serviceable to this country.

Hunting for a Diamond Ring.

It appears that some months ago Miss Green posted and registered at Barrie a small box containing a diamond ring, addressed to Montreal. Sturdy as an Oak.

An Oak lives long after the man that planted it dies. Just so insurance; it lives after you die, and those that follow you get the benefit of its protection. When you plant an oak be sure you plant a good one. When you plant insurance be sure you plant good insurance in a good place. The Canadian Order of Foresters gives good insurance at a low price. There are 10 reasons why you should place your insurance with them. Here they are:

THE C. O. F. IS

1. Purely CANADIAN.
2. National in its character.
3. 25,000 strong.
4. Fixed Premium. No death Assessments.
5. Gives $500, $1,000, $1,500 or $2,000 insurance.
6. Over $1,500,000.00 paid to members and their dependents since organization, in 1879.
7. Careful medical selection. Death rate for the 17th year of its history only 4.94 per 1,000.
8. Has a larger Surplus on hand for each $1,000 risk than any other Society of the kind in Canada.
9. SECURITY OF INVESTMENTS. Not a dollar of our Surplus invested outside of Canada.
10. Premiums and Interest accruing therefrom used ONLY FOR PAYMENT OF DEATH CLAIMS.

CAPITAL TOPICS.

Government Telegraph Line Extension Completed Spanish Market for our Pine Claims of B. C Settlers.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Mr. G. Rathbun of Deseronto is here on business with Sir Henri Joly, Minister of Inland Revenue, concerning the supply of wood alcohol to the Government.

The Department of Trade and Commerce have received from the Imperial Secretary of State a report of William Wyndham, consul at Barcelona, drawing special attention to Spain as a market for Canadian lumber. The Spanish forests have been depleted, and now Spain draws her lumber supply from Russia, from the Baltic and from Norway and Sweden. This year the first cargo of Canadian lumber was imported, 680 standards for Barcelona and 175 for Valencia, all of which sold at good remunerative prices. The cargo was shipped from Quebec.

Mr. Tripp, Canadian commercial agent at Trinidad, draws attention to the great agricultural show to be held in the port of Spain from Feb. 8 to 12 next, as a good opportunity for showing Canadian products.

Mr. Rothwell's Investigations.

Mr. T. G. Rothwell of the Interior Department returned from the Pacific coast yesterday. Mr. Rothwell was commissioned by the Government some weeks ago to proceed to British Columbia to investigate certain claims preferred by settlers along the line of the Esquimault & Nanaimo Railway. These settlers were originally accorded the surface rights, but their contention is that they should also have the underground rights. Mr. Rothwell has taken the depositions of nearly all the interested parties.

Telegraphic Extension.

The Department of Public Works has been advised of the completion of the extension of the Government telegraph line along the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence from Esquimalt Point to Agwanus, a distance of 80 miles. The present terminus is just west of Natashquan, and it is not unlikely that telegraphic communication with the latter point will be obtained by the end of the year. Offices have been opened for business along the new stretch of line at Agwanus, Pinstre Bay and Sheldrake.

Almost every man in America has some digestive trouble. When men meet, the greeting usually is, "Well how are you?" That develops health talk. The man who has no bowel or stomach trouble is almost a curiosity. Trouble is men take no care of themselves. They eat as if they had copper stomachs and bowels of brass. By and by, overworked nature rebels. Then come headaches, nervousness, bad blood, liver and kidney troubles. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets furnish help for constipation and torpid, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, sour stomach, loss of appetite, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. A OLD-TIME WAR CRY

Uttered in Defiance of Spain by Cuban Leaders.

INDEPENDENCE OR TO THE DEATH.

Brave General Maximo Gomez Denies the Story That He Ever Favored Autonomy for Cuba Incidentally He Proclaims the Sentiment of Independence as That Which Actuated His Fellow-Fighters.

New York, Nov. 5.—The Herald prints the following letter from Maximo Gomez, General-in-Chief of the Cuban Army of Liberation, dated at his camp in Sancti Spiritus:

"The enemies of Cuba have circulated in the United States the rumor that I am disposed to accept autonomy as a basis of settlement or solution of the present war. The constitution of Cuba absolutely establishes in its article 89 that peace is to be negotiated upon the basis of the absolute independence of Cuba. It is to obtain independence that we have been fighting for two years, and will continue to fight until victory be ours.

"We will fight for absolute independence, as we stated in the manifesto issued at Monte Cristi, as also it was later set down in our constitution, and as we are daily confirming it by the shedding of our blood in the battlefields."

Salvador Cisneros, former President of the Republic of Cuba, writes to The Herald:

"Independence or death has been, and is, our motto. We would rather see our beloved country disappear amid a heap of ashes than accept any concessions, no matter how ample, unless they carry with them the absolute independence of Cuba. To obtain this many of Cuba's best sons have given up their lives; to obtain this many more of her sons are daily shedding their blood, which, absorbed by the plants of our soil, we breathe in the air we inhale."

Nine Survivors of a Wreck.

Havana, Nov. 5.—Nine wrecked men belonging to the American brig Aroadon, including the captain of that vessel, arrived here to-day. The Aroadon was lost on Oct. 25, three miles off Cape San Antonio, at the extremity of the Province of Pinar del Rio.

Good News From Cuba.

Madrid, Nov. 5.—The Government received a cable message from Marshal Blanco to-day, stating that "the autonomist party in Cuba is reorganizing," and that "several families who had emigrated are returning to the Island."

To Abolish the Duties on Cattle.

Havana, Nov. 5.—Captain-General Blanco will shortly issue a decree abolishing for two months the import duties on cattle.

Beef for the Cubans.

Havana, Nov. 5.—About 2000 head of cattle arrived here to-day from the United States.

WEYLER'S INDISCRETION.

The Late Captain General of Insurgent Cuba to be Tried by Court Martial.

Madrid, Nov. 5.—The Spanish Government, as a result of the deliberations of the Ministers over the utterances of General Weyler, the former Captain-General of Cuba, has come to the decision to try him by court martial, no matter where he lands, if he confirms the accuracy of the press reports of his utterances.

The commanding officers at all the ports of the Spanish Kingdom have been instructed to demand of General Weyler, the moment he can be communicated with, the exact terms of the speech which he delivered in reply to the manifestation at Havana upon the occasion of his embarkation for Spain, on board the Spanish steamer Montserrat.

General Weyler turned over his command in Cuba on Saturday last to his successor, Marshal Blanco, and then sailed for Spain on board the Montserrat, but the steamer has apparently become disabled, for word has reached Havana that the Montserrat has arrived at Gibara, on the northern coast of the Province of Santiago de Cuba. It was added that her engines were disabled, but at the time the first message was sent, it was expected she would be able to continue her voyage to Spain, via Porto Rico, on Wednesday last.

From other sources, however, it is said the Montserrat may be compelled to return to Havana, in which case it is not unlikely that there will be interesting developments.

The Objectionable Remarks.

That portion of Weyler's proclamation issued last Friday which is represented as being objectionable to the Spanish Cabinet reads as follows:

My release from my post and responsibilities did not surprise me. I have expected it from the death of Senor Canovas, not believing that any political leader would be strong enough to sustain me, when the United States and the rebels were together constantly demanding that Spain should come to a settlement. I count it an honor to have been identified with the local Spanish party. But the policy which I have followed was not adopted in obedience to any political party, but for what it represented on behalf of my country.

To Promote Business.

A despatch from Havana says that Marshal Blanco will sign to-morrow circulars prepared by his staff, prescribing the measures to be taken for the protection of estates in the extended zones of cultivation, and for rendering assistance to suffering and necessitous inhabitants. The circulars will authorize freedom of sale of cattle and the re-cultivation of coffee, cocoa and sugar and will provide for the safe transport of produce with a view to pacifying the country.

HAPPY PEOPLE

Who Are Made Well And Strong by Paine's Celery Compound

No Return of Disease.

Cures are Permanent and Lasting.

A Letter From a Montreal Gentleman Cured Four Years Ago.

Medical colleges conferred upon Professor Edward Phelps, M.D., their highest honours for his invaluable investigations in medicine, but all this seems small in comparison with the grand chorus of gratitude that has gone up all over the world from men, women and children who have outgrown weakness, lack of health and disease by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, the noble professor's grandest medical discovery.

Paine's Celery Compound justly boasts of one grand advantage over all the advertised remedies of the day, whether they be pills, nervines, bitters or sarsaparillas. The cures effected by Paine's Celery Compound in cases of rheumatism, neuralgia, kidney and liver troubles, nervousness and dyspepsia are permanent and lasting.

Thousands of glad letters like the following from Mr. Charles Bowles, of Montreal, are received every year:

"Over four years ago I gave you a testimonial for Paine's Celery Compound after it had completely freed me of rheumatism of many years' standing. I am happy to state I have had no trouble from the disease since your Paine's Celery Compound cured me, proving conclusively that your medicine works permanent cures. I am always recommending Paine's Celery Compound to the sick, and particularly to those troubled with rheumatism."

BURGLARS FOILED.

They Attempted to Blow the Vault of a Bank, But Something Went Wrong.

Watford, Ont., Nov. 4. The gang of burglars who have been operating around this section of the country made an attempt on Thomas & Kenward's bank here last night. They entered through the cellar and got up into the bank and drilled the vault door, which was blown open with a charge of dynamite. They then drilled the safe and put in a charge of the explosive, but evidently there was a weak spot in the outer door and only a corner was blown off, making it impossible to charge it again or to get at the steel chest, and it was left more burglar-proof than ever. There was quite a large amount of cash in the safe, but they got nothing.

An Intelligent Dog.

The sagacity and affection of our canine friends were lately well exemplified at Coe Hill. Pearl, the charming little daughter of Mr. Alex. Smith, was with her spaniel playing near the creek, when suddenly the little tot fell into the water face downward. The dog seized her by the sleeve, turned her over and pulled her over to the bank. He then took her by the dress and dragged her toward the house, stopping every little ways to send up shrill barks in order to notify the mother and thus obtain the aid he could not render the insensible child. Mrs. Smith, on running to the spot, found her child's mouth, nose, eyes and hair full of black mud from the bed of the stream. Pearl recovered in a short time and she and her dog are now more inseparable companions than ever. It is needless to say that this dog will feed on dainties.—Bancroft Times.

An Important Announcement.

Manager Bradburn wishes to inform the Peterborough public that he has secured an engagement with the famous Brooke's Marine Band for a concert here on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 16th. This announcement is no ordinary one, as all those who know the high standing of this musical organization and, therefore have an idea of the expense that is entailed in securing them for a concert will recognize the financial obligation it involves. The Opera House will have to be filled to the utmost to make the event a financial success, but it is confidently expected that a very large crowd will take advantage of the opportunity of hearing this leading band of the world. The band is composed of fifty musicians, all the best in their respective lines. Mr. Bradburn has opened a guarantee list, and it is hoped that the support will be such to warrant the fulfilment of the engagement, which will mean a rich musical treat for the musical-loving public. The prices have been kept down to 50c. and 75c., to place it in the reach of all. 1d

POULTRY, PET STOCK AND KENNEL ASSOCIATION.

Date Fixed for Poultry Exhibition and Kennel Show on January 18th, 19th and 20th.

Last night the adjourned meeting of the Peterborough Poultry and Pet Stock Association was held in the town council chamber. There was not a very fair attendance. In the absence of the President, Mr. J. A. Davidson, vice-president, took the chair.

After routine.

A communication was received from Mr. J. Fred Davidson, tendering his resignation as president of the Society, on account of his inability to give the necessary attention to the duties of the office. The resignation was accepted.

Mr. R. Cockburn was elected President.

The following directors were also elected to fill vacancies on the board: Dr. Poole and Mr. Charles James.

After some discussion the 18th, 19th and 20th of January was fixed as the date of the first annual exhibition of the Association, a poultry, pet stock and bench show.

The secretary was instructed to announce the date of the show in the Poultry Review.

Arrangements were made with a view of securing the services of judges for both the poultry and kennel sections of the proposed exhibition.

A meeting of the directors to arrange the prize list is to be held at the Morgan House on Thursday evening, Nov. 11th.

The officers of the association are now as follows:

Hon. President—J. R. Stratton, M. P. P.
President—R. Cockburn.
1st Vice President—Geo. Pratley.
2nd Vice President—J. A. Davidson.
Sec.-treasurer—W. Collins.

THE LAST EVENING

That the Art Loan Curios Will be on Exhibition.

The Art Loan exhibition closes this evening at the Y. M. C. A. building, and consequently this is the last opportunity that the citizens will have of seeing the curios which have been collected.

Something new comes in every day. Mr. James Stevenson recently sent in a painting of "The Child Samuel" by Sir Joshua Reynolds and several paintings on metal. Mrs. Kendry has given a magnificent palm in a jardiniere, which is afterwards to be retained by the Y.M.C.A. Amongst the relics which Mr. J. B. McWilliams contributed is a strange looking weapon resembling a Turkish scimitar, which was found on the site of St. John's church when the foundations were being excavated. An old Dutch painting of Mrs. Beck's attracted a good deal of attention. It was executed in 1400.

A knife which was once the personal property of Oliver Cromwell is shown by Mr. L. Kent.

Mrs. F. J. Jameson exhibits a piece of tapestry and fringe said to be over 800 years old, and to have been woven during the reign of William the Conqueror, being a portion of the draping in a room in Skipton Castle, England, prior to 1649, when the castle was partially demolished.

PERSONAL.

Rev. J. G. Potter is conducting anniversary services in Stirling to-morrow.

Rev. Father Phelan, of Trout Creek, is in town visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Phelan, Simcoe street.

Mr. Will Bird, of the Canadian General Electric Works, has accepted a position in Lachine, and leaves to assume his new duties this evening. Mr. Bird was a general favourite in Peterborough, and will be especially missed from the football field, where he's a "bird."

Mr. Alex. Saunders, manager for the Goderich Organ Company and the Henderson Bicycle Company, of Goderich, is in town to-day in the interests of the industries he represents, and favoured THE EXAMINER with a call.

The Campbellford Gazette speaks as follows of the late Father Connolly, of Hastings: While in Campbellford, Father Connolly, by his quiet, kind, religious and feelingly sympathetic manner, won his way into the hearts of all. To his own congregation his death comes as the death of a father, and the community at large feel in his departure, the departure of a friend. Father Connolly won the sincere respect of everybody with whom he came in contact, and everyone who knew him has experienced an individual loss.

MAPLE LEAF, L. O. L., DEDICATE ITS HALL.

The Ceremony Performed at Fraserville Yesterday.

BAILLIEBORO LODGE ATTENDS.

The New Hall, which is in Cavan, on the Boundary Line of East Durham, is 20 x 45 feet in size, and is Admirably Adapted to the Use of the Lodge.

The 5th of November will hereafter have an especial significance for the Orangemen of Cavan and the Monaghans, as on the occasion of the annual celebration a fine new hall was dedicated yesterday at Fraserville.

The hall was erected through the efforts of Maple Leaf, Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 46, and hundreds were present from all parts of the district to witness the interesting ceremony connected with the opening of the edifice.

The new building is 20 x 45 feet in size, and is of frame and most substantially constructed. It is situated on the Port Hope road in South Monaghan, just across the boundary line of East Durham, and opposite the Fraserville Methodist church, being erected on the property of Mr. Robt. Stewart, the secretary of the lodge.

On the occasion of its dedication the lodge was prettily decorated with evergreens, whilst from the walls the appended familiar mottoes greeted the eye: "Enniskillen," "Aughrim," "Boyne," "Derry," and "No Surrender." The large motto of "God Save the Queen" was stretched from one side of the hall to the other above the platform, whilst outside "Welcome to our Visitors," was on a big streamer stretching across the road.

THE CEREMONY.

The members of the Order present formed into procession in the Methodist church and marched to the new hall, where the impressive dedicatory ceremony was performed by the members acting in the following capacity:

Grand Master — Robert Weir — Past Grand Master Knights of Ireland.
Grand Chaplain—C. W. Sawers, of Peterborough.
Grand Director of Ceremonies—Archie Reynolds, of Fraserville.
Master—Fred Clark, Master of L. O. L. No. 46.
Secretary—David Smith, Fraserville.

At the conclusion of the ceremony tea was served in the hall and the elaborate preparations which were made speak volumes for the culinary skill of the wives and daughters of the members of old No. 46. The tables fairly groaned under their burden of toothsome viands and ample justice was done the spread by those who partook thereof. In all probability several hundred sat down to dinner.

The special train from Peterborough arrived at about seven o'clock and a procession was formed as follows to meet it:

Bailliebaro L O L,
40 strong,
Samuel White, Master.
Bailliebaro Fife and Drum Band,
Jno Porter, Jas Coates, Levi Byers,
Maple Leaf L O L No 46,
Fraserville, 50 strong,
Fred Clarke, Master.
Maple Leaf Fife and Drum Band,
Jno Wright, C W Sawers, Robt Hutchinson,
Jos Crowe, Robt Weir.

THE EVENING MEETING

was held in the church, which was prettily decorated for the occasion. Evergreens hung from the chandeliers and the platform was surrounded by potted plants.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., had been asked to preside, but was unavoidably absent, as expressed by his letter of regret which contained a cheque towards the building fund. Mr. C. W. Sawers was requested to take the chair, and the following gentlemen were invited to take seats upon the platform: Rev. Mr. Kilgour, of Cavanville; Rev. Mr. McKee, of Fraserville; Robt. Weir, of Peterborough; T. B. Collins, P.G.M., Millbrook; Jos. Thorndyke, reeve of Cavan; Archie Reynolds, of Fraserville; Sidney Weir, District Master, Peterborough, and W. A. Stratton, Peterborough.

Rev. Mr. McKee opened with prayer.

Mr. Sawers, in his chairman's address, referred to which were springing up through this section of the country, the one across the way being the third at the dedication of which he had been present during the last few years. He traced the history of Orangeism from its inception in Belfast in 1795 to the present day, when it had a membership of 500,000.

The speaker stated that the influence of Orangeism was at its height during the regime of the late Government, when N. Clarke Wallace and Sir Mackenzie Bowell, both high officials in the Order, had most responsible duties assigned them in the important offices to which they were appointed. With the incoming of Laurier a marked change had taken place and the Frenchman proudly boasted that he had not an Orangemen in his government. It was the French Catholics who should be watched and not the Irish, as the latter had only quite recently shown their good will and tolerant spirit towards Protestants in general and Orangemen in particular by inviting the speaker to a banquet given the Grand President of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association and making him, as the speaker expressed it, "the lion of the evening." This showed the good feeling of the Irish Catholics towards the Orangemen. A mistaken idea was that Guy Fawkes was a Catholic. He was on the contrary the son of Protestant parents and the Catholics should not be blamed for the plot of which he was the chief instigator. It should be remembered that it was through the intervention of a Catholic that the Parliament was saved. In closing the speaker again referred to the friendly feeling existing between the Orangmen and the Irish Catholics, but he warned his hearers to beware of the ascendancy which French Catholics were gaining in the Government of the Dominion.

REV. MR. KILGOUR,

pastor of the Cavanville Methodist church, congratulated the lodge on the completion of their beautiful hall and commended a tolerant attitude on the part of Orangemen towards Catholics. In answer to Mr. Sawers' remarks, Mr. Kilgour questioned seriously if any regretted the accession of "the Frenchman" to power, but thought that on the contrary God should be thanked for the circumstance, as thereby was administered a rebuff to the clerical gentlemen who sought to guide the trend of public affairs and had opposed the accession of Laurier to power to serve their own ends. The speaker closed by reciting a French dialect poem highly laudatory of Sir Wilfrid.

MR. ROBT. WEIR,

Past Grand Master of the Black Knights of Ireland, spoke of the pleasure it gave him to be present and assist in the dedication of the hall. He understood that the membership of the lodge had steadily increased until their old rooms became too small for them and they had to build. The Order, as a whole, had increased several thousands during the year, and the statistics were given of the increase in different portions of the globe. The Orange Order was the equal of any other society of the kind in regard to the temperance principles which it inculcated. He had seen 12,000 Orangeman turn out and not a single case of drunkenness apparent. It was not the Orangeman, but the outsiders who attend the celebrations who bring discredit upon the institution.

MR. W. A. STRATTON

in a witty address claimed that he had an equal privilege with Sir Wilfrid Laurier to sign G.C.B. to his name, as he had been born out in Cavan and had for many years been a member of the Orange Order. He was, therefore, entitled to call himself a G. C.B. or Good Cavan Blazer. He claimed that the fundamental principle was the selfsame principle which had built up the British Empire—the principle of according to others the liberty to think, the liberty to act and the liberty to live as they desired. Great Britain had built up great colonies by the readiness with which her immigrants assimilated with the other residents of a new country. This assimilation was made easy through the fact that the British colonists freely accorded to the others their right to think, act and live as they wished and consequently a great Empire had been built up.

REV. MR. M'KEE

pastor of the Fraserville church, made a strong address along lines showing that to be a good Orangeman was to be a good Christian. He was followed by Reeve Thorndyke, of Cavan, who gave an interesting account of the early struggles of the lodge, which was the second oldest in the district, and experienced some stormy times in the early days of its organization.

The musical portion of the programme, which was interspersed between the speeches, was excellent indeed, and was as follows:

Instrumental..... Hutchinson family and Mr Gilchrist
Vocal solo..... Mr J J Turner, j
Vocal duet.... Miss Ella Might and Miss Hutchinson
Instrumental..... Hutchinson family and Mr Gilchrist
Instrumental and vocal selections..... Mr Geo Adams
Reading..... Mr W D Parker

At the close of the entertainment a large number sent in their names as voluntary contributors towards assisting to defray the expense of erecting the new building. The entire audience then proceeded to the railway station, in a field opposite which Guy Fawkes was duly burnt in effegy. Guy was manufactured by Mr. George Anderson, of Millbrook, who took a prominent part in the proceedings all day, and after he was once ignited burnt merrily, having absorbed three gallons of coal oil into his system shortly before.

Although the night was stormy the church was filled to the doors, and even if fine weather had prevailed no more could have gained admittance.

It's not the cough, but what it may end in, that makes it so serious. The cough may be cured, the serious consequence prevented by Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. Price, 25 cents, all druggists.

COUNTY MAGISTRATE'S COURT

Held in Norwood on Wednesday Afternoon Last.

County Police Magistrate Edmison and Squire Brackenridge were called upon to adjust a little feud between two Norwood butchers, Messrs. James Raddon and Wm. Rogers, on Wednesday afternoon at the town hall there.

The trouble arose out of a dog fight which occurred some time ago. It appears according to the evidence that, as Mr. Raddon was passing Mr. Rogers' place one day the latter's dog ran out and pounced upon his canine, whereupon Mr. Raddon jumped out of his rig and struck Rogers' dog with a spade. At this juncture Mrs. Rogers appeared on the scene with a club, when some words were exchanged.

Mrs. Rogers swore that Mr. Raddon used some indecent language towards her, and her evidence was corroborated by Mrs. Waite, a neighbour, who claimed to have overheard the conversation.

Mr. Raddon, however, most emphatically denied that he made use of any of the alleged epithets.

The magistrates held that upon the evidence of the third party it was their duty to convict, but advised a compromise, which was arranged by Mr. Raddon paying the costs, which amounted to $3.35.—Norwood Register.

Y. M. C. A. EDUCATIONAL CLASSES.

The educational classes at the Young Men's Christian Association have been organized two weeks. There has been a good enrollment in the Penmanship and Bookkeeping classes, taught by Mr. Pringle and a fair number in the Arithmetic class taught by Mr. Sorsoleil. In both of these, however, there is room for a few more.

The Shorthand class is small as yet and those wishing to take advantage of this branch should not neglect so good an opportunity. Mr. McCrae, of the Business College is instructor and is anxious to assist the Association and its membership in this.

The instruction in all subject is largely individual, every man given work at the beginning that he can do.

After next week no new students will be admitted and those wishing to join them should do so at once.

TRUE BLUES CONCERT.

A Highly Successful Entertainment—A Crowded Hall and Excellent Programme.

The entertainment held last night under the auspices of "Maple Leaf" and "Queens Own" lodges of the True Blues, in their hall, Simcoe street, was a great success. To begin with, in spite of the unfavourable weather, the hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, and during the evening an excellent programme was presented. It opened with an address by the chairman, Mr. W. H. G. Armstrong, who set forth the significance of the occasion they were assembled to signalize. The following is a copy of the programme presented:

Chairman's address	W H G Armstrong
Comic song	K Sutherland
Address	Rev W L Armitage
Comic song	W Edwards
Reading	J F Wilson
Vocal solo	Miss L Pascoe
Dialogue	Mr A Wills and Misses K Green and H Andrews
Vocal solo	Miss M A Mark
Comic song	Mr W Taylor
Address	Mr W A Shaw
Vocal solo	Mr J F Wilson
Song	Master H Taylor
Accompanist	Miss May Bullen

Nearly every number of the programme was encored, showing how greatly the audience appreciated the efforts of the entertainers to please. Rev. W. L. Armitage gave an excellent and moderate address upon the objects and aims of the order and the loyalty of the members to the crown and country. While he did not disparage the loyalty of any section of the community, he claimed for the members of the Orange Order that they were doubly loyal.

Mr. W. A. Shaw's address was on different lines, and the attitude of the local press was severely criticised.

Special pleasure seemed to have been given by the dialogue of Mr. A. Wills and Misses. Green and Andrews, and the song by Master H. Taylor.

Between the parts of the programme, excellent refreshments were served by the ladies. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent by the True Blues and their friends.

AT DOWNER'S CORNERS.

The Fowl Supper Was Well Attended—Addresses Delivered.

The annual fifth of November celebration was observed at Downer's Corners yesterday by the holding of a fowl supper on a big scale.

Afterwards an entertainment was given in the hall, when addresses were delivered by Rev. S. J. Shorey, B.A., Rev. J. E. Moore, Ph B., and Rev. J. G. Potter, B A. Violin selections were given by Miss Mabel Maude and Miss Fox. Miss McKenna presided at the organ and played the accompaniments.

The affair passed off very successfully, the attendance being large.

THE CANOE CAPSIZED.

Thos. Hendren, of Norwood, Drowned in Gull Lake—Narrow Escape of His Companions—The Body Not Yet Found.

The Norwood Register has the following further particulars of the drowning of Mr. Thos. Hendren, carriage builder and liverymen of that place, who, in company with Mr. D. Armstrong and Mr. Geo. Isles of Percy, left Norwood on Friday last on a hunting expedition, and was drowned that morning at Gull Lake. It seems that Mr. Hendren and two others—in all probability the two men above mentioned—were crossing the lake going from camp to their watches, and when some distance out shore their canoe capsized. Their cries for help were heard by some other hunters who hastened to their assistance and were just in time to save Mr. Hendren's companions, who in a second or two more would have perished in the icy waters. Both men were completely exhausted, and one of them after being brought ashore, remained in a semi-conscious condition for about thirty minutes.

The news was a terrible shock to his wife and relatives and the community generally.

Mr. Hendren was about 40 years of age and leaves four children; the youngest about six months old.

Messrs. George and Stanley Hendren, brothers of the deceased, and Mr. A. Emery left on Tuesday for the scene of the accident and will endeavour to recover the body. Up to the hour of going to press no further news had been received.

Those who are acquainted with the lake say it is a very treacherous one and at the point where the accident is supposed to have occurred the water is very deep, so that it may be some time before the body is found.

GOT FOUR DEER

And a Lot of Small Game—Partridges Getting Plentiful.

Messrs. Geo. Gobell, Richard Winch and the latter's nephew, Mr. Fife, returned last night from the north country, having secured four deer. They report deer as being plentiful and they will return north again on Monday.

The four deer secured were all very fat with the exception of a fawn and the meat is in prime condition, as none of them ran for over a mile before they were brought down.

When on the way home to Peterborough the party ran across a spot which was fairly alive with deer and to this hunter's paradise they will repair next week.

MR. W. H. HILL'S NEW DISTRICT OFFICES.

A NEW ORBIT FOR THE "SUN" TO MOVE IN.

A Fine New Suite of Offices—A Shift From the Old Offices West—Well Equipped New Home for the "Sun" Life.

To-day Mr. W. H. Hill, district manager for the Sun Life Assurance Company for Central Ontario, occupied his fine new suite of offices, No. 159 Hunter street, nearly opposite Chambers street, which have been specially fitted up for him by the Toronto Loan and Savings Company.

The outer door opens upon a wide corridor. Near the entrance a door to the right opens upon the cosy office of the manager. To the rear of this is the general office, and to the rear of that the accountant's office. The corridor is separated from the main office by a beautifully designed and solidly constructed counter of solid walnut, divided into panels of burl walnut veneer by carved and fluted pilasters. This counter is surmounted by a screen of ornate ground glass, and the upper part of the enclosure of the manager's office is of the same material. The corridor is closed at the rear by the counter and screen curving to the wall, near which a door opens into the rear apartments of the suite. The counter before mentioned has a ledge its whole length, and the screen is broken in the middle by an opening of about four feet to permit the public to transact business with the employees in the general office. To the rear of the accountant's room is a spacious vault, and convenient is the lavatory or toilet room, provided with marble and nickel silver fittings. In the extreme rear is the literature room, where is kept the literature for distribution in the district. From this room access is also gained to the basement, where is situated one of Clare Bros. hot air furnaces, put in by Mr. Adam Hall. To the left of the entrance corridor is a handsomely fitted up room for the use of the agents.

The ceiling of

and agents' apartments are laid on with pearl gray ingrain paper with elegant frieze and border. The ceilings are covered with a gilded design paper in tints harmonizing with the walls. Mr. H. W. Watson was the artist.

Artificial lighting is supplied by elegant electric lamps supplied by Mr. J. H. Greer.

The furniture and fittings of the offices are of the best quality and altogether the new suite of of offices of Mr. Hill are most elegant and convenient.

The office staff consists of Mr. F. H. Dixon, accountant; Mr. Alex. Weddell, assistant; Miss Morrow and Mr. Walter Richardson, stenographers. The local agents are Mr. Wm. Thompson, manager of the Fire Department; Mr. W. W. Daly, inspector of agencies for the entire Central Ontario District for the Sun Life; Mr. Barton Earle, city agent, and Mr. George Earle, assistant city agent.

The "Sun Life" district, over which Mr. Hill has jurisdiction, extends from York county to Frontenac, both exclusive, and north as far as North Bay. This district is administered by Mr. Hill by the help of thirty-six general and local agents.

The Fire and Accident Department which Mr. Hill controls is confined to the town and surrounding country.

THE PROGRESS OF SIXTEEN YEARS.

When in 1882, sixteen years ago, Mr. Hill took charge of the Central Ontario Sun Life District the business was of very modest proportions compared to what it is now. There was in 1882 a total income of $175,551.40; the total business in force was $5,010,156 81, and the total assets was $338,523. Sixteen years later—December 31st, 1896—the income had risen to $1,886,258; the assets to $6,388,144.66, and the total insurance in force to the enormous total of $41,000,000. Not only has the expansion of business been so remarkable in Canada, but the Sun Life has extended its operations to several of the Northern States of the United States and does business in Great Britain and Ireland. The progress of the Sun Life in the past five years was greater than at any period in the history of itself or that of any other company doing business in Canada, and the present year promises well to surpass the extraordinary record of last year, the business up to Sept. 28th having been equal to the whole business of the previous year. This year the Sun Life Company expects to write fifteen millions of insurance.

Always progressive, the "Sun" has issued a new manual in which all the most approved modern methods are offered the public—such as the non-forfeiting plan, the Extended Insurance, the Guaranteed Income Policies, and Debenture Policies.

With such a record for the company itself, with such a record for his district as an increase of income of some eighteen or twenty fold in the past sixteen years, with splendid new offices, with an efficient office staff and corps of agents, the interests of the Sun Life will no doubt be more effectively and successfully advanced even than they have been in the past.

Mr. Hill is to be congratulated upon his fine new quarters, which he cordially invites the public to visit.

ANOTHER COLLISION.

Two Freight Trains Meet in the Havelock Yard—Driver Paton Seriously Injured.

(Havelock Standard.)

A terrible smash-up occurred in the yard here on Tuesday night at 11.35, when Driver Jas. Paton was seriously injured and Fireman Thos. Curtis and Brakeman A. Copp were severely shaken up, the whole trio having a miraculous escape from instant death. The way freight from the east, in charge of Conductor Brushey and Driver Paton, going at the rate of about thirty or thirty-five miles an hour collided with another freight, in charge of Driver Ed. Williams, who was making up his train in the yard.

Mr. Paton's left side was torn open and two ribs broken, besides other injuries. He was conveyed to the residence of Mr. Jesse Campney, Dr. Jeffs, C.P.R. medical attendant, being promptly at his bedside. Fireman Curtis was severely shaken up, but escaped with a few bad bruises. Brakeman Copp, who was on top of the second car from the engine when they struck, was thrown clear over the two engines into the ditch. With the exception of the violent shock which he experienced, Mr. Copp considers himself very lucky.

The scene on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning will be long remembered by those who witnessed it. The engines were locked together in a confused mass, pieces of iron brakes and other parts being scattered in all directions, while empty freight cars, smashed into kindling wood, were heaped upon them and strewn all over the adjoining fields. One car was thrown partly on the main line, so that the auxiliary was set to work and the main line was cleared about 3 a.m., to enable the midnight express to proceed.

The cause of the accident cannot be ascertained at present. Driver Williams, who was on the freight in the yard says that he was making up his train, and had occasion to go down to the east end switch, when he noticed the other freight approaching. He immediately set the air brakes and whistled "down brakes" twice, then reversed his engine, and together with his fireman, James Barlow, jumped off the left hand side of the engine just as the two crashed together. He says that the box cars shot over the engine one after another, breaking the cab into splinters, and throwing Driver Paton and Fireman Curtis on one side of the engine under a box car. He fully expected that both men would be killed. Had Mr. Williams or the fireman jumped off on the right hand side of the cab they would have been instantly killed, as it is right on the spot were the cars were piled up.

The two engines, Nos. 639 and 640 are the two first compound engines that were ever brought into Canada.

Manager Tait and Passenger Traffic Manager McNicoll of Montreal were on board the midnight express.

The latest reports of Mr. Paton's condition are very favourable.

Sinking Sensations. Strong Evidence from Belleville that there is a Cure.

Mrs. Jas. A. Rose, Geddes St., Belleville, Ont., says, "To me life has been made a misery for the last six or seven years because of heart trouble and nervousness, from which I have suffered all this time.

"My heart throbbed, and seemed to rise into my throat, causing a sensation of suffocation. At times I had to walk the floor, and often then would have a sensation of falling down from a high place such as falling down stairs.

"This would be followed by dizziness, my eyesight would become blurred and dim, so that many a time I knew not what to do. Gradually I grew weak, my blood became poor, and my entire system run down. My nerves were so unstrung that I could not sleep.

"All the medicine I used and all the doctoring I did was without effect, when providentially I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and started using them. The results were so wonderful that I cannot refrain from speaking about them.

"I got stronger from the first dose, and am now like another person. The action of my heart is all right, my blood is enriched, and my whole system toned up to its normal condition of strength and vigor.

"To my mind there is no medicine in the world so good as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for all who suffer as I did." 219

A COMMERCIAL ENTERPRISE.

This Is What the Last Official Report of the G. T. R. of Canada Shows Hays Do.

London, Nov. 4.—(Special).—Whatever the Grand Trunk Railway has been in the past, it is now quite clear from the official report of the directors, together with the statement of accounts for the half year ending June 30, 1897, that it is now run as a commercial enterprise. Mr. Charles M. Hays, the General Manager, came to Canada at the instance of the President of the company, Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, apparently on the understanding that the road should be kept up to the American standard and at the same time that expenses should be cut down to the finest point. Mr. Hays has succeeded in carrying out his trust, because, during the six months in question, the working expenses have been cut down from 71.34 per cent. of the gross receipts to 67.49 per cent. of the gross receipts for the corresponding half year. This decrease means a saving to the shareholders of £55,677. To give Canadians an idea of the magnitude of the work the St. Louis man has tackled it is only necessary to state that the gross receipts for the six months were £1,722,491, as compared with £1,707,546 for the corresponding six months of the year previous, while for the six months ending June 30, 1897, the working expenses were £1,162,568, as compared with £1,218,245 for the corresponding period of last year. It is only fair to give Mr. Hays credit for this increased business, as he has hustled for it. Thus it will be seen that in the decreased operating expenses and increased receipts which are directly under the control of the General Manager, the shareholders were better off by £72,625—or $345,000 in round Canadian figures—at the end of the six months ending June 30, 1897, than they were as compared with the corresponding six months of 1896, which proves that the Grand Trunk Railway is making steady progress towards bettering the shareholders condition. It speaks well for the careful management in detail exercised by Mr. Hays. A peculiar feature of the report, however, is that Mr. Hays shines in the freight business. While the company's passenger traffic decreased during the six months by 0.12 per cent. the freight traffic increased by 1.43 per cent. This, it is altogether probable, is due to the discontinuance of periodical suburban tickets and to the fight that the new General Manager has put up for the through freight traffic carried by the Grand Trunk from Uncle Sam's western domain to the seaboard.

NEWS FROM ST. KITTS.

E. J. Musson, jr., Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills—He was Bedridden for Months and his Strength was Sapped by Diabetes—He Found his Cure in Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Mr. Samuel Humphries, retired carriage manufacturer, Strathroy, Ont., says: "For a long time I have had kidney troubles and pain in the back. I could not straighten up and often had to sit down until the pain and weakness went away. I have taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and must say they are a great kidney medicine, because they have entirely removed all pain from my back, curing the urinary difficulties and benefitting my general health in a remarkable degree."

MR. SIFTON AT VANCOUVER

Much Gratified With His Reception on Pacific Coast.

BANQUETED BY THE LIBERALS

What He Proposes To Do for the Yukon Country—Royalty Regulations will be Changed Establishment of a Canadian Mint.

Vancouver, Nov. 5.—Mr. Sifton's practical property addresses to the people of Victoria on questions affecting trade with the Yukon greatly pleased all parties in the capital, and his speech at the Board of Trade of Vancouver yesterday had the same effect. Terse, practical and to the point, the Minister of the Interior displayed a grasp of the situation that met with general approval. In reply to the address of the Board of Trade, he spoke of the resources of British Columbia and the suddenness of the Yukon excitement. In order to enable the Government to act promptly and intelligently in the crisis he had made the present trip so as to deal in the best manner with the new and valuable territory. As to the question of issuing miners' licenses for the Yukon at Vancouver and Victoria, there were certainly arguments in favor of that policy. He did not feel indisposed to adopt that suggestion. The matter of a gold escort for miners returning from the Yukon involved the question of banking facilities. The Government had offered to provide an escort to guard the treasure where the banks would be arranged, and had offered to become responsible for the keeping of gold dust. It was not desirable for the Government to go into the banking business. There were enough enterprising banking corporations in Canada to look after that business. It would be so arranged that the miners would be given fair value for their gold in bills of exchange, which would cost nothing to cash in any Canadian banks. The question of a mint would probably be seriously considered in the near future. He was not able to say that there was any prospect of the abolition of the royalty. It would, however, not be practicable for the Government to reserve every alternate claim, but the same end could be served by reserving them in groups. When the question of the expenditure of millions of money came up it was absolutely necessary to make the people of Eastern Canada feel that they have an interest in the mining region.

There were three routes to the Yukon available, one by means of the Yukon River, the second by the passes at the head of Lynn Canal, and the third by the Stickeen River and Teslin Lake. He had sent a surveyor over the Chilkoot Pass and Dalton trail, and a preliminary report had been received. He would also have complete reports on the Chilkoot and White Pass trails. Mr. W. T. Jennings, a very able surveyor, and others had been examining Stickeen River district and Telegraph Creek trail. He would have accurate information of the river, the cost of the navigability of Hootalinqua River. He was not in a position to say now what route would be selected or how much money the Dominion Government would give in aid of it, but was prepared to say that he shared with his colleagues the determination to open a Canadian route to the Yukon—(Applause)—not from any prejudice to the United States, but from his duty as a member of the Canadian Government. (Applause.) As representing the people in the Cabinet, he would give his strongest support to the opening of any reasonable means of communication to the Yukon country at the earliest possible date. (Applause.) He could say, after taking his trip north and experiencing a taste of the hardship to be encountered, that it was quite useless to expect mining to be carried on in the Yukon without better means of communication. If in the spring another attempt were made to get a large amount of supplies by the Lynn Canal trails, the crush would result in it becoming impossible to keep the trails in order, just as was the case this year. He believed that a good summer route, open for four or five months in the year, would answer for freight purposes.

As to the question of trade, he shared the desire as to the outfitting for that trade being done in Canada. From information he had obtained he was led to believe that a great number of people would go into the Yukon this spring, and that the trade would become of great importance to British Columbia and to Canada. That being the case if his audience would forgive him for being frank, he would say that he had heard, though he did not vouch for the truth of the statements, that last summer it had not always been possible to get in Victoria all classes of goods required for the trade, and also that the goods were not always conveniently packed. So far as Canadian customs were concerned, they were liberally and strictly enforced at the various posts by which people had to travel to get into the Yukon. (Applause.) The Government would establish posts on the Dalton trail. There were already posts at Tagish Lake, where the people going through by Dyea or Skagway had to pass. Inside of three months there would be one on the Hootalinqua and Stickeen route. So that every road of ingress into the country would be protected, while strong detachments of mounted police, fully equipped and able to enforce the carrying out of the law, were at hand to assist the customs officers. In regard to the 100 pounds exemption, this had been simply temporary for this season, "but," added Mr. Sifton, "I think when the 1st of January comes you may rely on it the provision will not continue."

This evening, under the auspices of the Liberals, a very successful banquet was given at the Balmington Hotel. Mr. Sifton leaves to-morrow for the Kootenay country.

JOHN DRYDEN'S WORK.

Another Good Thing the Provincial Farmer-General Has Done for the Ontario Agriculturist

Toronto, Nov. 5.—The Ontario Department of Agriculture, when the dreaded San Jose Scale was ascertained to have obtained a foothold in this Province, instituted a most searching enquiry into all the facts of the case. The stamping out of the destructive insect was the object sought, and the first steps taken have been eminently successful.

It was ascertained that the pest was introduced by means of young trees imported from infected New Jersey nurseries. Then the department set about finding out where all the stock thus brought in had been taken, and this proved a heavy task.

The trees had been scattered over a considerable portion of the western part of the Province. The authorities proceeded along systematic lines. First, they found out how many trees were imported; next, among what centres of distribution these had been divided, and lastly, upon what farms they had been planted. This task was rendered more difficult by the fact that in many cases a fruit grower in one section would buy for himself and one or two neighbors besides. The necessary information has now been collected, and a determined effort will be made to stamp out the nuisance. Hon. John Dryden has already instructed Mr. W. M. Orr of Fruitland to make a personal inspection in each case, with a view to having all affected trees destroyed. Mr. Orr has also received authority to inspect any nurseries where the proprietors ask him to do so.

The Rails Spread—Four Killed.

Charlottesville, Va., Nov. 4.—The Chesapeake and Ohio vestibule express, known as the F. F. V., from Cincinnati to Washington, was wrecked near Old Shadwell, five miles east of this place, this afternoon. Four persons were killed and 17 injured. The dead are: Henry Burt, a negro porter, Keswick, Va.; an Italian woman named Merara and infant, believed to be from Cincinnati, and Phelix Mareno, died after removal to Charlottesville.

The cause of the accident has not been definitely ascertained, but it is believed to have been due to spreading rails.

A woman's attractiveness in the eyes of man depends largely on her physical appearance. Nature in order to preserve the race, guides mankind by the instinctive preference for a mate who is physically sound and wholesome.

If intellect alone were chiefly sought, the offspring might be a generation of Solomons for wisdom, but they would perish in infancy for want of physical stamina.

A weak or unhealthy woman is unfitted to fulfil her part in perpetuating the race; she is unequal to the demands of motherhood and wifehood, she is robbed of her natural womanly attractiveness.

Many a woman is cheated of life's choicest gifts by a dyspeptic, bilious condition of the system which shows itself in a pimply skin, sallow complexion, tainted breath, or thin emaciated form.

The most potent remedy for all the mortifying symptoms of malnutrition and impure blood is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Through its remarkable effect upon the liver and digestive organs it sweeps all impurities out of the circulation and creates a fresh supply of new rich, life-giving blood.

It gives clearness and bloom to the complexion; sweetens the breath; rounds out the face and form and invigorates the entire constitution with vital energy.

It restores the invincible beauty of wholesomeness and womanly capacity.

"I was a complete wreck; appetite gone, nervous system impaired, could not sleep and was so weak that I could not stand on my feet ten minutes," writes Miss Ella Bartley, of No. 2015 South Grant Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. "I only weighed 95½ pounds when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. After I had taken a half bottle I began to improve; I could sleep soundly the whole night, and would awaken with an appetite for breakfast which was a rare thing as I never had for two years back, eaten a hearty breakfast. I now have an excellent appetite and my friends say they never saw me looking better or in better spirits since they knew me. I tell them it is all due to Dr. Pierce's 'Discovery.'"

In all cases of obstinate constipation, the "Discovery" should be supplemented with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Oct. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." SUED THE PRINCE OF WALES

To Recover £80 000—A Mad Plaintiff in the Lord Mayor's Court

London, Nov. 5.—There was an extraordinary case heard before the Lord Mayor's Court, when a man named Hinde sued the Prince of Wales to recover £99,000, alleged to have been wrongfully paid him by the late Under-Sheriff Croll, who was the liquidator of the United Kingdom Electric Telegraph Company. The plaintiff declared the money belonged to a certain Mr. Allen, of whose estate he was the assignee, and he further claimed the sum of £150,000 from Lord Suffolk, alleging that the latter had suborned Croll to commit perjury before Lord Bramwell at the trial in 1877 in connection with the liquidation.

Sir George Lewis, on behalf of the Prince of Wales and the Earl of Suffolk, asked that the proceedings be quashed on the ground that the allegations were nothing more than a frivolous and vexatious tissue of nonsense, and he submitted an affidavit to that effect.

The plaintiff then addressed the court, declaring he had been told that the Prince of Wales received the money referred to, and then he proceeded to charge Lord Bramwell with defrauding Allen's widow out of $150,000 in order to obtain promotion and a peerage.

The plaintiff was here stopped by the court with the warning to speak respectfully of the judges. Finally the court stopped the case and dismissed the action.

SETTLING-UP DAY

Payments Very Good From Ontario and Manitoba.

Toronto, Nov. 5.—Yesterday was a settling-up day at the banks, although the amount of paper maturing was not particularly heavy. However, it was expected by bankers that with the recent improved trade conditions the paper would be taken up much more readily than has been the case recently, and from the returns made to the banks yesterday the proportion of notes taken up appears to be greater than the average. Payments from retailers to the wholesale trade has improved not a little, and this improvement was reflected in the promptness with which payments were made. A fair proportion of the paper that was met was on old renewals, and many retailers have been in a position to wipe off some old scores with the wholesale houses. From all accounts the returns made yesterday were in most instances highly satisfactory to bankers and wholesalers. The payments from Ontaro to Manitoba were particularly good, but British Columbia does not appear to be in as favorable a position as the two former Provinces, as payments especially from the mining districts are rather slow. Payments from the Province of Quebec are fair only.

DYNAMO CAUGHT FIRE

It Set Fire to a Car, Which Was Destroyed—Several Persons Injured.

New York, Nov. 5.—A special cable to the Sun from Johannesburg, Transvaal, says an accident occurred at the opening of the Buluwayo railway yesterday by which several persons were injured. An electric light dynamo placed upon the van of the Johannesburg and Eastern Province special train to Buluwayo, caught fire at Gaberenes, setting fire to the woodwork of the van, which was destroyed. The electrician and his assistants were severely burned, but as the fire was confined to the van, none of the passengers in the train were injured.

TO THE NORTH POLE

A Quebecer Wants the Government to Back Him in His Expedition.

Quebec, Nov. 5.—A certified captain of this city, supported by the Royal Society of Canada, will organize an expedition to the North Pole next spring. He is working entirely different from any other explorers who have tried to reach that point, but he will first apply to both Local and Federal Governments for assistance towards bringing his scheme to a practical end. He proposes, if aided by the Governments, to use one of their cruisers as far north as possible, when he will debark a skiff, which he has arranged to go over ice and up hills without the assistance of his seven men, who will compose the party. He has already chosen some of his men, but in a few days will make a public call, so that he may have broader opportunities for choosing those adapted for the journey. The medical examination which all will have to pass through is very strict.

Severe Asthma Relieved.

Dear Sirs,—We have used Norway Pine Syrup in our house a great deal. I have a little boy who has had asthma for five or six years (he is only 10 now), and during the severe attacks he would get great relief from using the syrup. For an ordinary cold it is ahead of any cough medicine I ever took.

THE PRICE OF FISH

Rose With the Change of Government in Newfoundland—Sir James Winter's Majority Is 10.

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 4.—All the returns in the general election are now in. The district of St. Barbe, the last to be heard from, has been won by Mr. Bradshaw, a member of the Opposition party, by a majority of 256 over Mr. Parsons, editor of The Telegram, the Government organ. This places Sir James Winter, the leader of the Opposition party, at the head of a following of 25 in the Assembly, as against 13 followers of Sir William Whiteway, the present Premier.

Fish has appreciated in value, 20c per quintal in the local market, and a further advance is in prospect. This will tend to make the new government still more popular with the industrial classes.

There will be a demonstration tomorrow evening to welcome the victorious candidates on their return to this city.

Trouble in Venezuela.

New York, Nov. 5.—A Herald despatch from Caracas, Venezuela, states that advices received from the States of Lara and Bolivar report troubles of a revolutionary character there. In Bolivar the trouble seems to be serious, as three companies of infantry have been ordered to leave Caracas for Ciudad, Bolivar. By order of the Governor many hundreds of persons, some men of importance, have been arrested for political offences. These arrests have been made in all parts of the Republic.

CATARRH! F. F. C. C.

Forsyth's Faultless Catarrh Cure.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR CATARRH AND COLD IN THE HEAD.

This effective remedy for Catarrh and Cold in the head is a fume inhalent—it goes direct to the seat of disease and gives relief in a marvellously quick time. It will cure the slightest cold in the head almost instantly, and if faithfully and persistently used it will cure the most stubborn and long standing cases of chronic catarrh of the head—it never fails to do its work—it is easily applied—it is harmless to use—you simply take a small portion of the remedy in the palm of the hands, rub the hands together, then partly open them and inhale the fumes from the remedy into the throat and nose, and rub a little of the remedy on sides of the nose and temples.

Dear Sir,—I have been using catarrh remedy of different kinds for the last fifteen years, but find "Forsyth's Faultless Catarrh Cure" the best I have used, and have no hesitation in recommending it to any one troubled with catarrh or cold in the head.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Sir,—I take pleasure in giving my testimonial to the efficacy and value of Forsyth's Faultless Catarrh Cure. AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM MR. WM. BAPTIE.

Written at Sheep's Camp, Going Over Chilkoot Pass--The Experiences He Had on the Trip--Lots of Snow--The Party Will Winter at Lake Tagish.

The following letter was sent to Miss Maud Baptie, Lakefield, from her brother, Mr. W. Baptie :

Sheep's Camp, Alaska,
September 28th, 1897.

MY DEAR SISTER,—We are camped at Sheep's Camp now. Strickland and I left Skaguay in a life boat for Dyea which is six miles, and the trip cost us $10. That night we slept in a tent on hay with a team of horses. It rained for three days (you can see by this paper.) In the morning two teams hauled us to Flinnigan's Point, at two cents per pound, and as we have 2900 lbs you can figure what it cost us. We put our tent up over a pool of water and covered our stuff up with rugs. Strickland went to Dyea to see Indian packers about taking our stuff in on horses. Each horse carries about 200 lbs. I got some brush, made a bed on poles to keep me out of the water, loaded my gun and went to bed. In the morning after breakfast Strickland came with the Indians and four horses. We pulled our tent down, and what we needed most we packed on the horses and left the rest of our stuff behind to be packed. We each started behind a horse with a stick. It was an awful journey, some places the mud coming up to the horse's girths. Then we would be up on the side of a mountain with a path eighteen inches wide. I counted twenty three dead horses on the trail which had slipped and fell down the precipice. There is not a place in Stony Lake as any one part of our trail. Some places it is so steep down the mountains that we have to put a rope on the horse's tail and hold it back to keep it from slipping down and in many places jump off rocks four feet high. We have to ford several streams and climb over dead horses. You must remember that we are in mountains the same as the Rockies. There are mountains on both sides covered with snow. Sometimes we are high enough to be in the snow and again we are so far down in the ravines that we cannot see the tops of the mountains.

HALF AS ROUGH

Well, we arrived at Sheep's Camp at dark, which is eleven miles from Finnigan's Point, and the point is five miles from Dyea. It was too late to pitch camp so we got sleeping room in another camp. We covered our stuff up with the tent. In the morning when I got up it was raining very hard, I pulled the tent off our stuff and found my grip gone, which I had brought along to carry our paper and small stuff in. Our paper was all wet. The stuff missing was my toilet set and several other things. We were one hour trying to find a place to pitch our tent. The ground is very mucky, and we had to pitch it over a pool of water, walk one mile to get poles and two miles to get wet wood; we had an awful time to get the fire started. I was blowing at it and Strickland was sitting on a box singing "Home Sweet Home." You have no idea the hardships we have to go through. After we got our tent up I had to go Dyea. I left Sheep Camp at two o'clock, had sixteen miles to go in the rain, mud to go through and and got there at 6.30 o'clock, very hungry. A man gave me tea and I slept that night in his tent with him. I went to the Indian's camp in the morning, but he was not up. I got him up and found out that he had his horses to be shod, but he had no money to pay for it. I told him to drop the contract and I would pay him for what he had done. I then gave the contract to a white man at the same rate as we had to pay the Indian. The white man is a hustler and we will have the stuff packed in to-day. From here we have to take it four miles to Scalls. Then we pay six cents for men to pack over the summit on their backs. It is a dangerous job, four feet of snow and no wood around. Then we ferry across Crater Lake for two cents a pound, and from there we pack to another lake for four cents a pound.

When we get to Tagish we intend to build a log hut and winter there. During the winter we will build a boat to run down the Yukon river. But we have a long and rough road to go over before we start to build a log cabin. Strickland and I intend to fry a quantity of bacon, and buy bread which costs 50c per loaf and take along with us from here. There is no wood along the trail, so we will have to strap a bundle of it on our backs and take along with us, for fear we are caught in a storm crossing the summit. It is snowing very heavy now.

We are camped in a place where a sad affair happened a week ago. So much rain had fallen that the water loosened part of the mountain and which buried up tents and killed several men and destroyed a great deal of stuff. We intend to move from here on Friday if all goes well and camp on the other side of the summit until our stuff catches us. Then we will move again. On Sunday when I was down to Dyea I called for mail, but none had come. We have hardships to no end to contend with. I have put in two days with one meal each day. I get so hungry and tired sometimes that I would give anything to be home for a good dinner. But then I cheer up and look ahead. When I get home again I will be able to tell you better about the trip. I have plenty of warm clothes, fur coat, and long rubber boots and everything that is needed. There are hundreds of men along with us, some of whom are getting discouraged and starting back, having no money to carry them through. It will cost about thirty cents per pound to pack our stuff before we get to the Lake.

October 4th.—We are still at Sheep's Camp, and I will tell you a little of my life here. You would naturally think is quite a town by this letter head. It is the letter head of one of two houses built of four logs high and an old canvas for a roof. They carry on a dry goods and groceries business. We have all our stuff packed up, and Strickland went over and got the paper for two bits (25c). We have eight loads of our stuff over the summit and are waiting for a fine day to take the rest over, which is now in camp, and we are rather crowded. We did our own baking, flap jacks and dried fruits. Sometimes we would get tired of our own cooking, and would buy some. It is cold and snowing. We woke up the other morning with the tent so we packed up our stuff ready for packers, left it in the tent, and moved over to the hotel. There were cracks in the floor and walls an inch open. Men were sleeping on the floor and we almost froze to death. Next morning we went to the bottom of the summit to get men to pack us over, but it was so rough no one would venture. There are drifts of snow eight feet deep, tents buried up and the horses have no feed and are freezing to death. It is a shame to see the poor animals. The men camped at the foot of the summit have to carry their wood four miles through four feet of snow. From there for twelve miles on our trail there is no wood. People have been frozen on the summit this fall. We intend to stay here till men pack our stuff over the summit to Crater Lake, two miles. Then we will start early in the morning with our knapsacks, blankets and tent, ferry over Crater Lake, where we can get wood, and camp there until we can get our outfit with us. Then we will move again. It is an awful journey, the same as mid-winter at home. We are thousands of feet up on the mountains without a a twig to shelter us. There is many a man selling out his outfit and going back—broke. The packers are selling some of the men's outfits to get their pay.

I often wish the people of Lakefield could see us. After tea last night it was a sight to see us getting our beds made. Strickland and I got three benches to sleep on to keep us off the floor. It was much better. You could not step on the floor for men lying around. They were even on top of the tables. There are all classes of men here, lawyers, doctors, preachers, clerks and men of all trades. It is a hard sight—they are sitting on the top of the stove to keep themselves warm, and I had to go over to warm myself several times while writing. Darcy Strickland is about sixty miles ahead of us.

Twenty miles from here where they build boats one nutmeg sells for $1, one pound of pitch $4, one candle 50c, there is no oil here and all gum candles. One pound of three inch wire nails $4, one meal $1 50. So you see it takes money to go through. Remember me to all the boys and tell them I will write whenever I can. I will write again to you when I get to Lake Tagish. So I will say good-bye for the present.

W. BAPTIE.

Do you Wish to Dye a Fast and Everlasting Black ?

It is only within the last few years that it has been possible for an inexperienced person to dye a black that would not crock, fade or wash out. Even blacks dyed by city steam dyeing establishments were seldom reliable and fast.

The advent of three Diamond Fast Blacks—for wool, for cotton, and for silk and feathers—has changed all this. With a ten cent package of one of these Diamond Dye Fast Blacks the first trial has given perfect success. The directions on the packages are so plain and simple that even a child can get better results than the experienced dyer of a few years ago.

Success in home dyeing is secured only when the Diamond Dyes are used. Do not be persuaded by any dealer to buy soap grease or imitation package dyes that have no past record to recommend them. The Diamond Dyes are the only warranted colours for domestic dyeing.

OCTOBER WEATHER NOTES.

October was generally a fine month, with a mean daily temperature of 3 degrees above the average.

The highest temperature was on the 15th, 83 degrees. This was the warmest October day ever known in Ontario. The lowest was on the 30th, 25 degrees.

Only on four nights did the thermometer go below freezing point, namely on the 8th, 10th, 18th and 30th.

The rainfall was 2 inches and 27-100, considerably less than usual. There was rain on 9 days; the heaviest fall was on the 12th, 1 inch and 6-100.

There was thunder on two occasions, and an unusually large number of foggy mornings and nights, the fog on several nights being particularly dense.

The following concerning October, 1896, may be of interest :—Highest temperature, 65 degrees on the 30th; lowest, 22 degrees on the 12th; rainfall, 3 inches and 50-100. There was light snow on the 17th and 18th of that month last year. Between 4 and 5 inches fell on the 18th at Bobcaygeon.

"I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. These pills gave me almost immediate relief, giving me healthful, refreshing sleep, and I am now strong and well."

Wild With Eczema

Hands and Limbs Covered with Blisters, and Great Red Blotches.

Scratched Until Almost Wild. Burned Like Fire. Sleep Impossible.

Cuticura Brings Speedy Relief, and a Permanent Cure at a Cost of $2.

I was a sufferer for eight years from that most distressing of all diseases, Eczema, but can now say truthfully that I am entirely cured. I tried some of the best physicians in the country, but they did me little good. The palms of my hands were covered, and would become inflamed; little white blisters at first would appear, then they would peel off, leaving a red, smooth surface which would burn like fire and itch; well, there is no name for it. On the inside of the upper part of both my limbs, great red blotches, not unlike hives, would appear, and as soon as I became warm, the burning and itching would begin. Night after night I would lie awake all night and scratch and almost go wild. I heard of CUTICURA remedies, got a box of CUTICURA (ointment), a bottle of CUTICURA RESOLVENT (blood purifier), and gave them a thorough trial, and after a few applications I noticed the redness and inflammation disappear; before I had used one box there was not a sign of Eczema left. I can truthfully assert that $2.00 worth of CUTICURA REMEDIES cured me. Any one I meet who has Eczema, I do not hesitate a moment in recommending your remedies.

Carpet Industry for the Town.

Under the above heading the Campbellford Gazette publishes the appended item, which is recommended to the notice of the Manufacturers' Committee: Last week Mr. C. L. Owen received a communication regarding the Routh mill, from a carpet manufacturing company who are looking after a site and water power. The company in question is the Armstrong Carpet Company of Guelph, Ont. They want to remove from Guelph and are looking for water power, and made inquiries regarding this property, which is now idle. Mr. Owen wrote the company giving what information he could, and at the same time notified Mr. Routh. Yesterday Mr. Owen received a reply from the carpet firm, saying that Mr Routh was asking too high a price for the property. We understand that it is the company's intention to buy the property outright, if it can be bought at a reasonable figure, and remove here about May next year. They have as yet asked for no bonus of any kind.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers that I written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but believe a firm belief in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, W. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 59, St. Henri, Que.

THE BROTHER'S DEED

Tom Nulty Murdered His Three Sisters and Brother.

SPECTLATION AS TO THE MOTIVE.

A Shocking Confession—Thinning Out the Family—He Wanted to Get Married and the House Was Crowded—Detective McCaskill Arrests Him, Secures His Confession and Lodges Him in Jail.

Montreal, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—Sullen and unconcerned, Tom Nulty lies in Joliette jail, the self-confessed murderer of his three sisters and young brother at their mountain home, near Rawdon. This startling and shocking denouement to Thursday's tragedy followed close on the change in public feeling in the district as the facts of the case became better known.

The murderer Nulty is a young man about 20 years old, and has worked in the lumber shanties. He has been home off and on, but quarrels have been frequent in the family, and there was bad blood between Nulty and his sisters. He returned to the house on the night after the murder, and claimed that he had not been near the house all day. He displayed the coolest nerve, surveying the bodies of his victims, which were laid out in the little farm house, and talking with the neighbors about the murder. Yesterday he attended the funeral of his victims and sat throughout the church service perfectly unconcerned. Detective McCaskill, who has been working on the case, had strong suspicions that Nulty was the guilty party, and decided upon his arrest. When he was arrested he broke down and made a full confession.

There had always been bad blood between Tom and the two eldest sisters. They had quarrelled often, dangerously, in the past, and more than once only prompt interference had prevented serious mischief being done, when either of them had snatched up a handy weapon. Once when the second sister, who bears the reputation of having been a fearless fighter, had seized the ax, Tom had armed himself with a lumberman's long-handled hammer, and blows had been mutually struck, which would have been fatal had not other members of the family dragged them apart.

On the day of the horror, another of these vicious quarrels had arisen between Tom and his eldest sister Elizabeth. Words had been succeeded by oaths, and blows, until Tom drove his sister out of the house. He followed her to the barn, threatening to murder her. The second sister, Anne, then took a hand in the quarrel. Arming herself with a keen-bladed ax, she followed Tom, resolved to protect herself from violence, even if she had to use it herself.

Tom had turned sharply round, and before she was aware he came suddenly upon her from behind the manure pile. A brief struggle for the weapon was followed by a piercing shriek, as Tom wrested the ax from her hands and struck savagely at her neck. His woodman's skill did not fail him. The keen weapon was buried in her neck, and with a choking sound, between a cough and gurgle, she fell dead on the manure heap, just as the horrified Elizabeth ran up to see what had happened. As she turned to flee, uttering scream after scream, the murderer remembered her as the first cause of his crime, and resolved to carry out his original impulse of revenge. He chased the shrieking girl to the barn and struck her also with the ax, felling her as he had done poor Anne.

Then he turned, still muttering with rage, to the house. When he reached it he found the door closed and barred. Fiercely he demanded that it be opened at once. The two children inside refused, crying out that he was a murderer. Straightway in fury he commenced to batter down the door. At last it yielded to his strokes, and rushing into the room, with two blows finished his fearful record of crime.

Nulty has been lodged in Joliette Jail. His confession has caused the greatest excitement in the district.

What could have been the motive for this butchery? He claimed that he did not know why he did it. A clue may be found on considering the circumstances of the family. They are miserably poor. The house has only one room within its four walls, and the family of seven, and sometimes more, all lived and slept there. They worked only to get enough to eat, and spent much of their spare time dancing while Tom scraped the fiddle. Tom will be 21 years old at Christmas, if he lives, and for some time back was anxious to marry a girl in the neighborhood. His father was opposed to the marriage, as Tom had no money and there was no more room in the house for an addition to the family. This aroused a good deal of ill-feeling in the household.

STR. IDAHO GOES DOWN.

Only Two of a Crew of Twenty-One Escape the Waves

AFTER TEN HOURS SUFFERING IN THE RIGGING.

The Story of a Survivor of the Terrible Struggle for Life Amid Inky Blackness, Shrieking Wind and Merciless Waves—Graphic Description of the Vessel's Flounderng in the Trough of the Sea.

Buffalo, Nov. 7. The following are the names of the sixteen of the nineteen men who lost their lives by the foundering of the Idaho:

Alexander Gillies, captain, Buffalo.
George Gibson, first mate, Buffalo.
William Clancy, chief engineer, Buffalo.
John D. Taylor, steward, Buffalo.
Nelson Skinner, first assistant engineer.
Louis Gilmore, watchman.
Richard McLean, wheelsman.
Robert Williams, wheelsman.
A. J. Richard, lookout.
Henry Thomson, lookout.
Conrad Blanker, fireman.
William Gregory, fireman.
John Healy assistant steward.
Frederick Miffort, oiler.
Edward Smith, deckhand, Rochester, N. Y.
M. Bell, deckhand.

The names of three of the men drowned are unknown. One was a fireman, another a deckhand and the third a porter. The hailing place of most of those lost is also unknown to the steamer's owners.

The Two Survivors.

The names of the two men saved are: Louis Laforce, jr., second mate.

The steamer Idaho of the Western Transit Company, caught in the fierce sou'wester of Friday night, foundered in eight fathoms of water at 4.30 o'clock yesterday morning, twelve miles above Long Point, which juts into Lake Erie from the Canadian shore about 65 miles west of Buffalo.

Twenty-one men were aboard the Idaho when she went down, and nineteen of them went down to death. Eight hours after the disaster the steamer Mariposa of the Minnesota Line sighted the single spar that marked the grave of the Idaho. Clinging to that spar, chilled and starved, almost to unconsciousness, and hardly out of the reach of a sea that was still fierce, were the two survivors of the wreck—one the second mate, the other a deck hand, William Gill.

After trying in vain to reach the exhausted sailors with small boats, and finding that the boats would not live in the sea, Captain Frank D. Root of the Mariposa tried to rescue the men by throwing lines to them. The effort was vain. The mate had not strength to seize the rope, and Gill's arms had stiffened around the mast. Then Captain Root worked the Mariposa up to the spar and dragged the sailors aboard. The Mariposa came into port at 11 o'clock last night, bringing the two men, both in a state of mental and physical collapse. The mate went at once to his boarding house, leaving neither his name nor address with his rescuers. Gill was cared for in the bunk room of the Mariposa, and was able after a time to give a detailed story of the disaster. It follows:

STORY OF THE WRECK.

Deeker Gill's Story in Detail of the Disaster—How He Fought for Life.

Buffalo, Nov. 7.—William Gill of No. 137 Kent-street, Rochester, was one of the two men saved from the wreck of the Idaho. He is a swarthy, well-built man, 23 years old, and he has sailed the lakes from this port since he was a youth. He signed as a decker on the Idaho last Friday morning and went out with the boat in the afternoon. He is single and lives, when he is at home, with his parents. He said:

"The wind was heavy when we left here at 2.3 o'clock on Friday afternoon, but we anticipated no danger and we thought at least that we could run into shelter if the weather got heavier. The sea was big and she struck us pretty high before we had gone many miles, but, so far as we knew, our craft was staunch, and, as I say, we looked for no serious trouble. We made poor time, owing to the run of the waves. They struck us forward.

"We hove by Long Point, I judge, about 9 or 10 o'clock at night, and there was some talk of running under the lee of the Point for shelter. The captain had a look about, examined the boat and found everything all right and he said we should go ahead. There was no danger, he said. Some of the crew thought different, but it was not their place to say so, and they took it as any sailor must.

"The waves at this time were hitting us mighty strong, but the boat held her own, and, save for a little wash that went down the hatchways, there seemed to be no difficulty. The sky was as queer-looking a thing as you could have imagined. The clouds were unusually black and once in a while the moon would peek out and light up the sea. The wind was almost south as I recollect, but it kept gradually swinging around till it got almost in the west. We got a mile or two above Long Point, when things began to look dubious. But the captain said keep going and go we had to. We went about as fast as a duck can walk and the engines worked harder every minute.

"We were about twelve or fourteen miles above Long Point, when all hands began to get frightened. Pretty quick we began to ship water and part of the crew was ordered to the pumps. The sea seemed to rise higher every minute and the roaring of the waves made me believe that we got out of our course and had run on a reef. After a little more time the water began to get into the engine room and the firehold and then, of course, the danger began. I heard the captain, standing forward, call out to the first mate, whose name I can't remember:

"'Turn her and get back under Long Point.'

"This was what we were glad to hear.

"We had got our nose pointed diagonally with the seas, when a roller that was a good deal higher than us swept over us and swung us into the trough so quickly that we were switched around like paper ones. I haven't any doubt that this one sea carried some of the crew off into the lake. I heard a scream and a howl as it was skimming along our decks, and I also heard the cracking of the front of the deckhouse and the smashing of some of the cabin windows.

"Once in the trough the waves had fun with us. They tilted us first one way and then another, and a good deal of water found its way into the engine room and the firehold. The captain managed to make himself heard between two waves and he ordered all hands to the pumps. I was one who went. All of us were there but one watchman and the wheelman. We pumped so hard that, despite the cold and the drenchings we got, we stripped off all our clothes but our coats and pants.

"It was an hour after we had turned about that we decided hailing was of no avail. The water was bound to get in at the fires. The firemen threw in coal and kept the beds as red and as fiery as they could, but the water bubbled up closer and closer, and finally made a dark line at the base of the fires. In a moment the black line got higher; in ten minutes it was making the fire-bed look like a dying fire, and soon afterwards but a small blaze flicked above the water. That was the end. The men rested, and while they did so the fire saw its last. The water had conquered it.

"About this time the captain appeared again and ordered most of us forward to get our anchors. We made our way to the fore-peak, clinging to the rail of the deck-house, or creeping along and sliding up to the rails and ducking when the waves whooped over us. I came near being washed overboard before I had gone twenty feet, and in hanging on to the roping of the side rail I was straightened right out. We all got safely to the front, though.

"A few minutes later the starboard anchor was dropped and that found bottom. It held us a little and it looked for a minute as though our stern would swing and leave our head pointed into the sea. We did get half way around, but another of those whoppers rolled down on us, skimmed past the rigging and left us again stranded in the trough.

"Just what happened aboard the boat after this I can't tell. You couldn't see anything. Once in a while you would hear a voice, sounding as though it were away up in the hills of Canada. What it said I could not tell. I suppose the friends were shouting back and forth. I had no friends in the crew, and I picked my own course. Everyone was hollering, I guess, but no one apparently knew what anyone said. Four or five of us were in the shelter of the fore-peak. We had to do something pretty quick, for, as I have said, the stern of the boat was sinking. She made one big dip while we were deliberating on what to do, and we were washed from our position. Smith, the lookout, a Pittsburg man, the second mate and myself, came near being washed overboard, but we caught hold of the fenders and saved ourselves.

"I don't know what became of Smith. I guess the poor fellow was washed overboard. Two waves doused us, and when they passed Smith was not to be seen. He had not hollered or I should have heard him. I was all alone. The stern then took another dip and I was forced from my position and I dropped down on the end of the deck house. Right above me, climbing up the rigging, was the second mate. He looked down at me and said to follow him. I started.

"The first thing I did was to stick my hand through a pane of glass and cut myself. I got hold of the rigging, however, before the waves got the best of me, and I went up slowly but surely. The second mate was just ahead of me. The water was all over us part of the time, and it was cold and hard climbing. Finally we got out of the reach of the waves and then stopped. From our perch we saw the stern of the boat sink and sink till she was on bottom. Then the bow began to lower, and before long the whole thing was on bottom and the waves were pouring over her as if she were a log.

"The boat sank very quickly after she started. I supposed we would have company in the rigging but we were the only two there. Some of the others, I dare say, tried to make it, but were washed away before they got to it.

"Daylight had not been with us an hour when we saw a craft on the horizon, coming down the lake. The mate actually smiled at the good luck. He took off his hat and waved it like a madman. The boat steamed on. We could see the smoke from her stacks rising and floating off in the wind. We thought sure her lookout must see us and we had not a thought that she would steam by. But she did. She went straight by and we were then downcast.

"After we had suffered two more hours another puff of smoke told us that another boat was coming and we tried a second time to be light-hearted. You can't imagine how we felt when she went on and on, never turning her bows toward us.

"It was 1 o'clock about when we saw a third stack and a puff of smoke up the lake.

"'This time,' said the mate, 'we must stop her or die.' With that he began to swing his hat. He told me to wave my arms, but it was impossible. The best I could do was to wiggle my left hand just the least bit, and this took all the strength I had and threatened to plunge me in the water. He did enough for us both, and got some exercise for it. He waved toward shore also.

"Sure enough the puff of smoke changed its course.

"Capt. Root did mighty well. He tried twice to run alongside us, but the sea was too heavy. Then he tried to run head on, but he missed. Four times his boat, the Mariposa, ran around us, and at last her nose bumped almost against me and the second mate. I found that I could not unfasten my hands. One of the men on the rescuing boat had to pull them off the mast like a lever and two others hauled me on the deck of the boat. Then the mate got down.

"We got a change of clothes the first thing. Next we got something warm inside of us, and the next my cut hand was fixed up. I feel pretty well knocked out just now, and who wouldn't?"

The Idaho was one of the oldest steam vessels on the lakes. She was built in 1863, and during the earlier years of her existence she carried freight and passengers.

Nervous Prostration

Sick Headache and Dizziness—All Cured.

Little Girl Has Grown Plump and Rosy Since Taking Hood's.

Nervous mothers and sickly children endure a vast proportion of the suffering which is caused by impure and impoverished blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla gives relief by purifying and enriching the blood. Read this statement:

"I was bothered with sick headaches and dizziness. I also had nervous prostration and weakness in my stomach, which made me feel very ill indeed. I decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, which was highly recommended by many, and by the time I had taken four bottles I was in perfect health. About a year ago my little girl, then six years old, had bronchitis and chicken pox. We were told that her was the careful treatment she might receive at the hospital. We took her there and for eight days they had no hope of her recovery, but later she had a change for the better. Her sickness, however, left her very delicate and weak, and she did not grow any for a year. It was then I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla, inasmuch as I had used it for myself and found it such a good medicine for building up a constitution. She had not taken two bottles before she had improved wonderfully. She has grown rosy and plump and is quite herself again. I have great faith in Hood's." MRS. M. HICKERSON, 938 Bloor Street, West, Toronto, Ontario.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

TALK about carrying coals to Newcastle! Two hundred tons of Nova Scotian granite, says an exchange, are about to be conveyed to Aberdeen, Scotland. Canada's resources are many and profitable.

THE transference of the mail subsidy from the Portland route to an all-Canadian one is another of the many pledges of its Canadian spirit which the Government is giving. It is a Government which carries through whatever it sets its hand to.

THIRTY-THREE thousand persons will be on the pay-roll of Greater New York, and twenty-two thousand more will draw pay indirectly through city contracts. So, although 235,000 voted for Tammany, nearly one in every four stands a chance of getting some substantial return.

MR. WHITNEY, according to the Mail and Empire, in order to "improve" our education declares for throwing more responsibility on the teachers. Teachers are, as a rule, poorly enough paid with their present responsibility, if it is increased one would not be surprised at, or even opposed to, their demanding larger salaries. Thus one of Mr. Whitney's first proposals is to begin the process of dissipating the Ontario surplus.

A letter from the British Consul at Barcelona, Spain, pointing out the excellent field there is in Spain for trade in Canadian lumber, is important. We want the best market for our forest products. We are shut out by an hostile and unneighbourly tariff from our most convenient market and on that account our best market, other things being equal. But Canadians are not the people to sit down and whine, they are looking for and finding good markets for lumber or other markets are demanding our lumber and timber. Our trade in lumber is improving in spite of our nearest customers practically refusing to deal with us. The American consumer is suffering more from the absurd tax on Canadian lumber than the Canadian producer.

THE Conservative organs are complaining that the Dominion Government subsidy to the Crow's Nest Pass Railway is excessive. If this were so, which it is not, the Conservatives are to blame. The chief part of the subsidy is the price required to repair Conservative bungling. It is the price paid for the surrender of monopoly privileges conceded by Sir John Macdonald sixteen or seventeen years ago. It cost a good deal to fasten the monopoly on the North west, and it naturally costs a considerable sum to free the farmers of Manitoba from the grip of monopoly. What money the Conservative Government spent in the construction of the transcontinental railway very largely went to providing high freight rates and handicapping the farmer in reaching a market for his grain. What money the Liberal Government has spent has very largely gone to reducing freight rates and giving the Manitoba farmer a higher price for his grain and cheaper prices for what has to be imported for his needs.

THE influence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's visit to England was not merely temporary. Lord Roseberry speaking recently at Manchester, the very home of free trade, quoted Sir Wilfrid Laurier as "a most illustrious authority sustaining the view that it is free trade which has preserved and consolidated the British Empire." Lord Roseberry declared that any deviation from absolute political and commercial freedom would only weaken the bonds holding the Empire together and that "anything in the direction of an Imperial zollverein would weaken the Empire internally and excite the permanent hostility of the whole world, already seriously excited by British prosperity under free trade." He said he "would tread softly in the presence of the idea of a zollverein" for he believed it already dead. It behooved them to walk strongly and warily in the path of the Empire, but such a zollverein would form a permanent menace of war.

THE TIMBER QUESTION.

(Brantford Expositor.)

Pending the settlement of the timber policy by the legislature the owners of timber limits should not be allowed to settle it to suit themselves. If they are making preparations for taking out an unusually large number of saw logs next winter, they should be required to limit their operations to something like what they have been doing of recent years, on penalty of having the license conditions changed to their disadvantage for the current year, subject to approval by the legislature when it meets.

In this matter the holders of timber licenses have been very fairly dealt with by the Government, and they should be expected and constrained to deal fairly with the Government in return. To suddenly double or treble their cut would savor of sharp practice, resorted to for the purpose of evading new conditions, should they be imposed. They must be reminded that it is quite possible to bring the new conditions into effect at once if nothing else can be done to prevent a wholesale denudation of our pine forests.

It is just as well for the limitholder to remember that he has not bought the timber on his limits. He has bought only the exclusive right to cut it. The pine still belongs, in part, to the people of Ontario, who have a right to say where it shall be cut, what shall be paid annually for a continuation of the privilege of cutting it, and what share of the selling price shall be reserved for the public use. It would be strange, indeed, if the reserve control of the timber by the government were inadequate to meet such a case as seems to have arisen. It would be much better for the lumbermen themselves not to test the matter.

RICHER THAN KLONDIKE.

Is the Strike Made by J. D. Ellis, of Niagara Falls—Costs Less and Gives Greater Returns Than Does Gold Mining on the Yukon.

Niagara Falls, Ont. Nov. 8—James D. Ellis, of this place, is convinced that he has made a richer strike than has any owner or prospector in the Klondike gold region. He is confident that the returns for his investment are better than can be got on the Yukon and that the lead will never play out. And thousands of persons on this continent heartily agree with him. Here is his story: "I have, for six years, suffered intensely from diabetes. I felt that I could hardly get along, but could get no relief. In despair I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was amazed at the benefit it gave. I have used three boxes, and am perfectly cured."

Indications of Another Strike.

New York, Nov. 5.—There are several indications of another big strike in the Cloak-Makers' Union, which may involve from 12,000 to 15,000 people. The cause of the strike is the alleged cut in wages, and the reported violation by the contractors of the new agreement made six weeks ago.

Two New York Clergymen Dead.

New York, Nov. 5.—The death of two prominent clergymen of this city—Rev. Edward Bradley, assistant rector of St. Agnes Protestant Episcopal Chapel, on 92nd-street, and Rev. Louis Halfmann, pastor of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church, at 89th-street and Lexington-avenue, was announced this morning.

CONFERENCE IS PROMISING

Presence of Premier Laurier and Sir Louis H. Davies May Improve Things

Washington, Nov. 6.—The Russo-Japanese-American treaty relating to Behring Sea has not yet been signed, the statement being made by officials that the formalities were not yet completed.

The meeting between the British and American experts looks more promising. The State Department is expecting Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier, and Sir Louis Davies, Minister of Marine in the Laurier Cabinet, the early part of next week. With them will come Prof. Macoun, the seal expert designated by the British Foreign Office to confer with the authorities here.

Although Prof. Macoun will hold the only credentials as delegate, yet the presence of the Canadian Premier and a member of his Cabinet is expected to have an important bearing on the Behring Sea question, as well as that of commerical reciprocity between the United States and Canada.

FAMINE ON THE YUKON

Appeal to the United States Secretary of War for Relief.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 6.—President Mason, of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, has sent the following telegram to Secretary of War Alger at Washington:

"Starvation and death confront the unfortunate miners on the Yukon through failure of the trading companies to get supplies into the interior before the close of navigation on the Yukon. The Chamber of Commerce of Portland has undertaken to relieve the distress which must appear before the ice fetters of the Yukon release the supply steamers, and for the purpose it will donate provisions and supplies. The Chamber of Commerce asks the co-operation of the War Department in transporting this relief from the City of Portland to the most accessible point on the Alaskan coast, whence the relief expedition may carry it to the imprisoned gold miners. Our duty to suffering humanity demands that the sacrifice that may be necessary to accomplish this end. Will you co-operate with us in this undertaking?"

PORTE KNUCKLED DOWN

Threat of Bulgaria Brought the Promised Berats to Bulgarian Bishops.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—A despatch from Constantinople to the Franfort Zeitung says that the Porte, under threat from the Bulgarian Government that unless the promised berats to the Bulgarian Bishops in Macedonia should be granted before 10 o'clock a.m. yesterday Bulgaria would declare her independence, finally acceded to the demands and granted the berats.

Sleeplessness is one of the most frequent symptoms of heart and nerve troubles. It affects all classes and all ages. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restore the nerves to healthy action and regulate the heart. Mr. Miles Boone, Fredericton, N.B., tells how they work. "I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. KILLED IN A SCUFFLE.

The Unfortunate Death of David Brodie Caused by Rough Play.

Cornwall, Nov. 6.—(Special.)—David Brodie, a fine young farmer living near Brodie postoffice, in Glengarry county, was killed as the result of an awkward Rugby tackle during a friendly scuffle with a farm hand the other day. Brodie and two men were working in a field removing stumps, and in a playful scuffle Brodie pursued Tom Borris. The latter turned and ducked and his head struck Brodie in the lower part of the abdomen, rupturing his bladder and causing inflammation. Medical assistance was at once procured, but Brodie died next day. An inquest was held by Senator McMillan of Alexandria and the jury returned a verdict of accidental death and exonerated Borris from all blame.

The Farmers' Loan and Savings Company Will Voluntarily Liquidate.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—George S. C. A full statement of the position of the company is now being prepared and will as soon as possible be submitted to the shareholders.

SIR WILFRID DENIES

The Story Originated by the Toronto Evening Star

THAT MR. LOUNT HAD A JUDGESHIP

Promised Him Before he Resigned His Seat in Centre Toronto—The Prime Minister Did Not Know That He Intended to Resign Until Informed of the Resignation by the Proper Official.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—The Evening Star in an article dealing with Mr. Lount's resignation of his seat in Parliament said: "One word on a question of principle. If, as is generally believed, Mr. Lount is to go on the bench, how can the Liberal Government and party evade censure for this direct violation of their past denunciation of similar infractions of the independence of Parliament by their predecessors in power at Ottawa?"

In reply to an inquiry as to the truth of this statement Sir Wilfrid Laurier wired: "Ottawa, Nov. 7.—I did not know of Mr. Lount's resignation until I was notified of it by the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. There is not the slightest foundation for the statement that he has been promised a judgeship. No such promise has ever been made. Wilfrid Laurier."

Revenue and Expenditures for the Last Four Months—The Premier's Washington Trip

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—The statement of the Dominion revenue and expenditure issued by the Department of Finance shows that the revenue for the four months ending October 31st was $11,446,611, as compared with $11,951,731 for the same period last year. The revenue for the month of October, however, was somewhat in excess of that for the same month in 1896. The expenditure for the four months is over $700,000 more than for the same time last year, but the expenditure for October shows a decrease of $40,000 as compared with October, 1896. The fact that there was no supply bill for the first part of the financial year of 1896 affects to a considerable extent the expenditure for the present year. During the last four months the expenditure on capital account amounted to $1,296,065, against $742,954 for the like time last year.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies were at the Cabinet meeting yesterday, and leave for Washington tomorrow. Despite despatches from that city to the contrary, there is no change in the arrangements for the conference of sealing experts, in which only Canada, represented by Sir Louis Davies, and the United States are to take part.

The appeal in Goodwin v. the Queen, which is the last case on the Ontario list in the Supreme Court, was taken up yesterday. As the Chief Justice, Sir Henry Strong, did not wish to sit on the case for personal reasons, the hearing is proceeding before the remaining five judges, His Lordship Mr. Justice Taschereau presiding. The claim is under a contract on the Soulanges Canal, made in 1893. The appellant asks now for a declaration of his equitable right to $73,260, or at least to $50,760.

Miss Annie Sievert of Arnprior has entered a breach of promise of marriage suit against J. P. McKerracher, also of Arnprior. She has retained Mr. A. E. Fripp, and the writ has been issued. Miss Sievert claims $10,000 damages. Miss Sievert claims the engagement was made in August, 1896. In December of the same year Mr. McKerracher was married. Miss Sievert claims to have many letters which will prove Mr. McKerracher's alleged promise of marriage.

BIG BLAZE AT GODERICH

Three Hundred Yards of Wharf, Grand Trunk Elevator and a Lot of Grain Gone Up in Smoke.

Goderich, Nov. 7.—The fire which took place at the dock yesterday morning was, beyond doubt, the most disastrous of any that have occurred during the history of the town. The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is generally believed that it originated in the upper part of the G. T. R. elevator, and, being fanned by the heavy wind which was blowing at the time, soon got beyond control.

The loss will easily reach $100,000, a very small proportion only being covered by insurance. The wheat was owned by James Richardson & Sons of Kingston and was insured in the Manchester Insurance Company for $25,000, and in the Alliance for $15,000. The elevator is insured in the Alliance Insurance Company for $3000. The schooner Tolman was not insured; damage $300. Rutson & McVicar's loss on lumber $6000, no insurance; Dyment & Co.'s loss on lumber $30,000, no insurance.

BURNED TO DEATH.

A Young Woman of 20 and an Infant Burned to Death in a Midnight Blaze Near Halifax.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 7.—The house of George Tulloch, on the Coal Harbor road, was destroyed by fire last midnight. A sister of Mrs. Tulloch, a young woman of 20, named Maria Walker, and an infant child of the Tullochs' perished in the flames. Mr. Tulloch made an heroic effort to drag Miss Walker through the flames to an open window, but his strength failed, and he barely succeeded in reaching the window; also James Harrison, standing on top of a ladder, pulled him across the window sill and their combined weight broke the ladder, Tulloch being seriously injured by the fall. Mrs. Tulloch escaped by jumping from an upper window, and her husband saved their 2-year-old boy by dropping him into the arms of a man below before returning to attempt to save Miss Walker and the baby. Mrs. Tulloch was badly hurt, but will recover.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 88, St. Henri, Que.

Washing Day.

The drudgery of housekeeping for the workingman's wife comes on washing day, when there is no washing machine or wringer in the house. It's killing on women who are raising a family, especially at this season of the year when blankets and other heavy articles of the home must be cleaned for winter. Washing and wringing makes more aching arms and tired bodies than anything else a woman can do. Husbands might be a little more thoughtful. In hundreds of cases they could buy a new washer and wringer every year for what it costs to pay for doctor's bills and servants for their tired-out wives, whose health has been run down over the washboard and washtub. Take a hint, you men, and make time to see the two kinds of labour-saving washing machines made by G. Walter Green at his pump factory on Dickson's race. If you can't make time, ring up telephone No. 93, or address box 362, and have him send one over to your house.

INLAND REVENUE SEIZURES.

Should Innocent Neglect of the Provisions of the Law be Summarily and Severely Punished and Without Warning?

Preventive Officer Floody, whose duty it is to visit the districts in order to see that the Government is not defrauded in the matter of Inland Revenue to be collected, recently visited this vicinity. A part of his duty is, and has been for the several years he has been engaged in the work, to see, among other things, that tobaccos offered for sale are kept in the original packages and that cigar boxes are so destroyed as not to be used again for packing cigars.

During his recent visit to town, in connection with the prosecution of charges in connection with an illicit still, Inspector Floody noticed the contents of a box of tobacco exposed openly in the window of Talbot Bros. tobacco store and made a seizure of it. Similar seizures were made in the establishments of Charles LeGros, James Dolan and others and two seizures were made at Bridgenorth, and in all about a dozen seizures were made. In one case a single plug of tobacco was seized.

Now while ignorance or forgetfulness of the law is held in law to be no excuse, it does seem a little like over zealousness on the part of officials who have had frequent opportunity to make similar seizures and have not taken advantage of these opportunities, to suddenly and without warning make such a descent upon merely formal offenders. There is no evidence that any of the persons named had any intention, or had made any attempt, to defraud the revenue. What they did was done innocently, and without any intention or desire of evading the payment of Inland Revenue duties. As a matter of fact the articles seized had all paid the tax required, and if there was any breach of the law it was purely technical, and part of a practice that has been followed for years, with no idea that anything wrong was being done.

While zeal in revenue officials is generally commendable, especially in cases where there is shown a disposition to evade the payment of duties, it would seem that in cases like those mentioned, it would have been sufficient to have firmly and, if necessary, sternly warned the parties technically offending, of the breach of the letter of the law they were making, instead of at once making seizures and subjecting the goods to confiscation and the owners to fines; and it would not appear that the interests of the revenue would suffer or future observance of the law be imperilled by reconsidering the cases, and, instead of making the seizures absolute, converting them into the warning suggested.

It certainly seems hard that persons who had no intention of defrauding the revenue, and were innocent of any intention of wrong doing, should be so sternly dealt with. It is not denied that the removal of excisable goods from the original packages was done merely for the purpose of exposure in order to facilitate sales by bringing the goods to the attention of the public. If the letter of all our laws were to be as rigourously enforced and without warning, half of the population of the town would be in danger of being in jail before the week is out, and why an exception that works particular hardship on innocent persons, should be made in the matter of the Inland Revenue law, is difficult to understand.

While there is no desire to animadvert upon the official who made the seizure, the opinion is ventured that he would have been discharging his duty efficiently by intimating to the persons concerned that they were transgressing the law, and then, if the practice of technical breach of the law were continued, to take as severe measures as necessary to ensure respect for the provisions of the law. The local officials were aware that the package from which the contents had been removed bore the necessary stamp to indicate that the duty had been paid.

OBITUARY.

Thos. White, who was Killed at Uxbridge, was Well Known Here.

Thos. White, the Lindsay brakeman who killed at Uxbridge, was well known in Peterborough, as for a number of years he was on the same run with Conductor Russell.

In the smash-up near Fraserville, three years ago this fall, he was brakeing on the train and got off without a scratch, although two others of the train's crew were killed. Only recently he was breaking on the train which was derailed at Raeboro by a horse and again escaped, only to step down between the cars at Uxbridge and have his life crushed out.

His funeral yesterday at Lindsay was a very large one, being attended by all the trainmen running out of the town. He was interred under the auspices of the Oddfellows.

PETERBOROUGH WINS FROM TORONTO AGAIN.

THE T.A.C.-LORNES ARE BEATEN BY THE SCORE OF 11-5.

The Champions of the Ontario Rugby Football Union Should be Brought Down for a Game to Close the Season.

Amidst the sleet, rain and snow of a cold November afternoon the Peterborough Rugby team won its third consecutive victory by defeating the T.A.C. Lornes, of Toronto by the score of 11 to 5, after the closest and most exciting match of the season.

The attendance was discouragingly small, the rough weather detaining many from being present, as the lowering skies looked very threatening all afternoon, and at intervals sleet, rain and snow almost drove the players from the ground.

It was expected that the T.A.C. Lornes would send down their intermediate team, but the overwhelming victory of the local fifteen over Trinity a week ago was apparently a lesson by which the other Toronto teams profited, as the supposed intermediate team was reinforced by nine players, who had figured in senior matches earlier in the season, including Males, the Dragoon, who played a superb game for the visitors.

The only thing the Peterborough's regret now is that the T.A.C.-Lornes did not bring down their although the victory as it was, is certainly a most creditable one.

The game was called at 3 27 o'clock, and the visitors winning the toss, decided to play with the wind, which gave them a tremendous advantage, as every strong punt was almost certain to score a rouge, the ball being caught by the gale and carried against the fence in such a manner as to render futile almost every attempt to stop it. The Peterboroughs relized this very quickly and kept the ball in scrimmage as much as possible, very little open play being seen in the first half. The visitors adopted the same tactics in the second half when the wind was against them, consequently all the play was along the side lines, where Peterborough's strong scrimmage showed up to great advantage. The teams lined up in the following positions:

T. A. C.-Lornes.		Peterboroughs.
Mills	back	Andy Scott
Males	halves	Hollingshead
Arkles		Letellier
Gzowiski		L-fevre
McGregor	quarter	Garnet Bell
Lucas	scrimmage	A stethem
Love		H Burnham
Gray		E Rutherford
McKenzie	wings	Bradburn
Kent		McClelland
King		Austin
Marks		Rickey
Wright		Bird
Boyd		Thorn
McGregor		Montgomery
Leslie Forbes		Referee
Chris Graham		Umpire

THE T. A. C. TEAM

started in briskly, and with the advantage which the wind gave them, pushed the Peterboroughs hard, forcing them gradually back to their twenty-five yard line, when from a scrimmage the ball was passed back to Males, who kicked it against the fence, scoring first blood for the visitors by the rouge. Score 1—0.

Peterborough's kick-off was quickly returned, as the ball could not rise against the wind, and the local men were seen working hard on the defensive again. Wales again got the ball from the scrimmage and was brought down only a few yards from touch. Arkles had the ball first and was sharply tackled by Lefevre just as he passed it. In the fall he dislocated his shoulder and had to retire, being succeeded by Kingsford. Peterborough was awarded a penalty kick on the T. A. C. off-side, and Burnham punted well up the field with a long low kick. The local team now began to warm up to its work and gained ground steadily by a succession of scrimmages along the sideline. Rickey finally got the ball and breaking through made a magnificent run before he was brought down. Lefevre got the ball from the ensuing scrimmage and gained several yards by bucking the line before he was brought down. Letellier did the same trick a few minutes later, and the ball was in dangerous proximity to the visitors' touch line when they were awarded a free kick on Peterborough's off side. Lefevre caught the ball, however, and returned it well up the field again. The ball went to the same player from and he and Hollingshead made a good run together before the combination was broken up. Letellier got the pigskin from the next scrimmage and, dashing through the line, got over for a touch down, scoring four points for Peterborough. Lefevre missed the goal, leaving the score 4—1 in Peterborough's favour.

The wind carried the ball from Males' kick-off all the way down the field to the fence, scoring another rouge. Score, 4—2.

Just a few minutes later and the visitors were awarded a free kick on Peterborough's off-side, and Males scored a goal from the field. Score, 4—4.

Another rouge for the T.A.C.'s brought the score up to 5—4 in the visitors' favour. No more tallying was done in the first half, although Letellier and Hollingshead made a fine run together before time was called.

In the second half the Peterboroughs, now having the wind in their favour, went on the field feeling very confident of winning the game and started off

WITH A RUSH,

Lefevre opening the proceedings with a fine run with the ball from the first scrimmage. A hand-out from the next scrimmage by the visitors gave Peterborough a free kick which was so well placed to score a rouge by striking the fence. Score 5—5.

Four other penalty kicks were given the opposing sides in quick succession as penalties for offside play, and on the last one Peterborough again scored a rouge. Score, 6—5, in favour of Peterborough.

The kick off was caught and returned by Hollingshead almost instantly, and the ball was once more driven to the fence for another rouge. Score, 7—5.

The kick-off by Males was a magnificent one right in the teeth of the wind, the ball travelling an incredible distance up the field under the circumstances. Before it could be returned the T.A.C. wings were on top of Lefevre, and for a few minutes it looked dangerous, but out of the scrimmage the ball went to Letellier, and he and Lefevre carried it down the field together in dashing style, the latter getting over for a try. Score, 11—5. Burnham failed to convert the try.

Although there was no more scoring done, yet the rest of the play was all in favour of the local team.

NOTES.

The visitors expressed their wonder, as do all visiting teams, that Peterborough does not join the League, as their chances of winning the intermediate championship would have been more than fair.

Andy Scott made some beautiful plays during the afternoon from his position as full back.

Bird left town after the match and his place will be hard to fill on the inside wing.

Montgomery had again donned the padded trousers, and showed to in fine form on Saturday.

Hollingshead is missed on the wing, but he fills King's place on the half-back line admirably.

It was very few chances that Letellier or Lefevre missed during the day.

Peterborough's scrimmage is showing up better at every match. It would be hard to find their equals in the Intermediate League.

Rickey is developing into a great wing man. He is strong and very fast.

Garnie Bell is making a great success of it at quarter.

Bradburn makes an ideal man for outside wing. His height is a great advantage. Austin proves to be one of the hardest workers on the team. McClelland is a lightweight, but it takes a fast wing man to hold him. Thorne is showing up well this year.

In the last three matches the Peterboroughs have scored 72 points to their opponent 5.

The Toronto boys say Peterborough was slow in not putting its team in the intermediate series of the O R F.U. 'Varsity won the round from the T.A.C.-Lornes by a small margin—the combination team winning the first game in the round by six points; but 'Varsity managed to pull out ahead in the second game. 'Varsity, after winning from Brockville, met and defeated the London team by 65 points to 5. The T.A.C.-Lornes team which played here on Saturday, was stronger than the regular intermediate team—Kent, Love, King, Lucas, and "Soldier" Male of the senior team being much in evidence. On paper at least Peterborough seems to have as strong a team as any of them, and had the team entered, it would undoubtedly have made a big fight for the championship.

The boys have good offers to go out of town on Thanksgiving Day—one from Kingston, the other from Brockville. The citizens, however, hope to see the boys arrange a home game for that day.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

The Monthly Song Service—A Large Attendance.

The monthly song service and song sermon was held and given in the Charlotte street Methodist church on Sunday night by the pastor, Rev. D. O. Crossley. There was a very large congregation, many being turned away for lack of seating accommodation, and a most interesting service was held and sermon preached. The preacher's subject was the importance of having a definite object in secular as well as religious life, and the voyage of a ship was used to illustrate his meaning. The ship was provided with a chart, which typified the Bible; with a pilot, the Lord Jesus Christ; with an anchor, the sure and steadfast Hope. The ship had a definite object, and directed her course to a particular haven. This was used to illustrate the conditions and course of action that should characterise the voyage of a Christian over the sea of life on the way to the port of Heaven. The subject was tunefully illustrated by the singing of specially appropriate hymns at intervals, and though the pastor was suffering somewhat from a severe cold he was greatly assisted by the choir in the special songs incidental to the service. These were all new and appropriate to the subject of the discourse, the first being "Jesus, Saviour, pilot me," and the others of a similar character.

During the day special collections were taken to provide for the coal supply for the church during the winter. The pastor intimated that $100 would be required for this purpose, and at the morning service two thirds of this sum was contributed, and a similar sum at the evening service, the two collections, therefore, totalling considerable in excess of the amount required.

Gentlemen, Does Your Bald Head Make You Susceptible to Cold?

Just think of how quickly the lost hair can be replaced. Prof. Dorenwend can do it in five minutes, and do it so perfectly that no falseness is recognisable. Leading citizens everywhere are wearing them and none would be without them. If you are partly or wholly bald, you are making a big mistake if you neglect to get one of these Art Hair Coverings. They are not to be compared to the old fashioned wigs that some would-be wig makers construct. Prof. Dorenwend's skill in this line is unprecedented, and he invites you to call for a practical demonstration at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Wednesday, Nov. 17th. 6d2w

CURLIANA.

Sporting Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—As the mover of the resolution to reduce the weight of stones at the recent meeting of the association, I have read with some interest Mr. Russell's letter on the subject. He has, however, set up for the purpose of knocking them down again like so many nine pins, some claims upon which, as he states, the movement is based. I do not recognize the claims Nos. 2 and 4 in the form stated, as having been used by me or any other supporter of the resolution, while claim No. 3, if referred to at all, was used only by way of illustration. The movement is based entirely upon claim No. 1, but, perhaps, in a slightly different form, and as Mr. Russell admits that claim, it does not seem to me to be necessary to follow him further. Curling is a game in which all men, young and old, weak and strong, heavyweights and lightweights, active and inactive, rich and poor, meet under conditions more nearly equal than in any other game, except perhaps, its summer substitute, lawn bowling. The supporters of the movement to reduce the limit of weight seek to remove the advantage which rinks using heavy stones have over those using the stones of ordinary weight. And they do so, not because they think it requires an unusually strong man to use the heavy stones, for every one knows the contrary to be the fact, or because the Royal Caledonia Curling Club, of Scotland has made the reduction, or because the number of clubs having such stones is smaller or larger than the number of clubs that do not possess them, but because common consent and common practice have long since established the normal weight of stones used by the average player, whether lead, second or third stone, or skip, at about from 38 to 43 pounds and because the use of stones up to 50 pounds weight in such company for lead or second stone, for the purpose of endeavouring to secure an advantage, is contrary to the spirit of fairness which should characterize the game. Why fix any limit if it be not intended to produce equality? And why fix 50 pounds if it fail to accomplish the object intended?

The claim of "vested interests" is the only claim that has the appearance of anything to support it. But "vested interests" should not stand in the way when the fairness of the game is at stake, when those "vested interests" have been acquired solely or largely to secure an advantage, or to get even with those who previously had the advantage. For if all clubs were now to procure the heavy stones the advantage to one club over another would partially or wholly disappear, and all of the clubs would be ready enough to discard them. But why put the clubs that have not yet procured the heavy stones to the useless expense of buying them unless it be to benefit the manufacturer or seller of curling stones? My argument at the meeting was that it was better to make the change now rather than later, when the number of clubs having the stones may be larger. Mr. Russell has apparently misunderstood me.

The fact stated by Mr. Russell that the use of the heavy stones has largely arisen within the last ten years, and the further fact that they have generally been bought by the clubs for use in special matches rather than by individuals, for their ordinary play tends to confirm the position taken by the supporters of the amendment.

In giving notice of renewal of the motion for next April, I have done so in response to the suggestion of some members, who stated they would support the motion if it were to come into force at a time when they could get their heavy stones cut down.

Yours truly,
E. B. EDWARDS.

TWO JOLLY PARTIES

Left To-day to Hunt Deer in the Vicinity of Stony Lake.

Mr. Harry LeBrun and a hunting party left this afternoon for the north where quarters will be taken up at snug Bellechasse, Mr. LeBrun's Stony Lake cottage, which will make an ideal hunting lodge. The party is composed of Messrs. H. LeBrun, W. D. Parker, H. M. Allen W. H. Bradburn, R. B. McKee, E. B. Stone, Dickson Hall and C. LeBrun.

Hullis yacht has been chartered for the week and will meet the hunters at Lakefield this evening and take them back to Bellechasse, remaining at the island to ferry them to their stations on the runways.

Quite a few of the party will devote their attention to partridge shooting, whilst others again are after deer only. Both hounds and spaniels have been taken back.

Mr. R. B. Rogers has opened up his houseboat for the hunting season and left this morning to occupy it with a large party composed of Messrs. Robert Fair, W. H. Hill, Arthur Stevenson and Dr Thompson, of Scotland, the latter of whom is visiting Mr. Fair. Within the next day or two Messrs. A. W. Spence, H. S. Greenwood and Alex. Gibson will join the others. As the steam yacht, Lenore, is attached to the houseboat, the party will find it very convenient to get to the hunting grounds.

MORE DEER HUNTERS RETURN.

Mr. T. Fitzgerald and His Nephew Get Four Fine Bucks.

On Saturday evening Mr. "Tobe" Fitzgerald and his nephew, Mr. John Fitzgerald, of Smith, returned to town after a three days' hunt on the old Scott limits, west of Gull Lake.

While in camp they stayed in the depot building and had rare luck. Fawn Switzer acted as guide, and a better one would be hard to find. He had two dogs, and Mr. Fitzgerald four more, which made a fine pack for hunting.

Few hunters this year will have the luck of this party, as the deer which they secured are beauties. Mr. T. Fitzgerald's two bucks weigh 420 pounds and his nephew's two weigh 350. Quite a bag of partridges were also secured. Neither of them ran across any of the other hunters from this section, as they hunted on the other side of the lake from the Ray-Rutherford party.

The pair are to be congratulated on shooting in a three-days' hunt what the majority of hunters would be willing to remain out two weeks to get.

SPENT HIS EMPLOYER'S MONEY.

And is Committed for Trial on a Charge of Larceny.

Samuel Lees, who has been employed by Mr. John Kincaid to purchase apples and turkeys in the country for him, got off on a spree on Thursday last on some money which was given him by Mr. Kincaid to buy apples with.

On Friday morning Lees went to his employer and told him he had lost the money, but afterwards stated that he had it and was going to spend it, shaking it in his face. Mr. Kincaid and Mr. R. H. Leary both tried to persuade the man to give up the money but he refused to do it. A complaint was then made to the police, and Constable Adams endeavoured to get Lees to do what was right before he took any further steps. His persuasions, however, were of no avail and so he arrested his man. In searching him $7.25 was found.

This morning, in the Police Court, Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for the defence and Mr. R. E. Wood for the Crown.

Lees' defence consisted mainly in the plea of irresponsibility, occasioned by drunkenness. The magistrate was prepared to deal leniently with the case, but the prisoner had not the money to pay the costs, although he offered to work out the sum he owed Mr. Kincaid. As the costs amounted to about $20.00 Mr. Wood declined to withdraw the prosecution, and the prisoner was committed for trial, bail being fixed at $100.

FLEECED WITH YELLOW DUST.

Farmers in Four Ontario Counties Swindled by an Alleged Returned Klondiker.

Toronto detectives are searching for a fakir who has been working the farmers in Oxford, Waterloo, Dufferin and Halton Counties during the past month with an up-to-date scheme, and who is now supposed to be living high in Toronto.

Mr. Fakir represented himself as a miner recently returned from the Klondike. He carried canvas bags which contained glittering yellow dust, which he said was gold dust. His face was deeply bronzed, and he dressed in a rough miner's outfit. He said he had made $50,000 in the Yukon district in ten weeks, but had tired of the hard life, and was now on the lookout for a good farm.

He stopped over night here and there, and, leaving a small quantity of the "gold dust," which he carefully weighed out on a delicate pair of scales, as security, he borrowed $10, $15, $25, or as much as the farmer's pocket would stand, and decamped as soon as a favourable opportunity presented itself.

SELF-DENIAL WEEK.

The Salvation Army Soldiers Preparing for the Event.

The annual self-denial week of the Salvation Army takes place throughout this territory from November 21st to November 27th, inclusive. Every Salvationist is more than occupied in preparations for this event. A wonderful testimony to the Army's development and activity has been paid in past years by the large sums of money that has been raised in this way. Each member of the Army, as well as the friends of its many social institutions, is asked to abstain from all luxuries, and in many cases officers and soldiers have actually determined to do without certain articals of food which are ordinarily considered necessary, in order that, by their acts of self-denial, they may add financial support to the Army and its many different branches of work.

WINTER MAIL SERVICE

The C. P. R. Object to Halifax as a Terminus—Mr. O'Shaughnessy Talks.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—Mr. T. G. Shaughnessy, Vice-President of the C.P.R., was yestreday shown an article from the St. John Globe upon the winter mail service, in which it was stated: "But the final acceptance by the Beaver Line of the proposition of the Government appears to depend upon the view which the C.P.R. Co. will take of the proposition. The subsidy of $140,000 is not sufficient without freights, and if the C.P.R. Co. is not satisfied to allow the Beaver Line steamers for which it provides freight, and which are now in a sense run in connection with that railway, to go into Halifax, the steamship line will be in an embarrassing situation. The railway company, so far as appears upon the surface, may not find any very strong reasons why vessels laden with the freight which it has supplied shall prolong the voyage by going into Halifax. On the other hand, it may take the patriotic view which we are all taking just now and permit some sacrifice of its own interests for the general welfare.'"

"That," said Mr. Shaughnessy, "is a matter bttween the Government and the Beaver Line, and to some extent, of course, between the Beaver Line and ourselves. But there can be and should be no doubt as to our position. We decidedly object to any service which will involve the addition of a day to the voyage between St. John and Liverpool. We must have a thorough service or none at all. We cannot allow our business to be handicapped by a mere fad. Goodness knows, the service will be slow enough already without drawing it out any longer. We stand for our own interests and those of St. John in asking for a through service between that port and Liverpool." It is understood that at view has been pressed upon the Government with considerable emphasis.

NEWS FROM ST. KITTS.

E. J. Musson, jr., Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills—He was Bedridden for Months and his Strength was Sapped by Diabetes—He Found his Cure in Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Le Goes Back to Cuba.

ALARM IN NEW YORK

Apprehension on the Stock Exchange—Chamber of Commerce Action.

New York, Nov. 6.—The course of prices on the stock exchange yesterday reflected an acute apprehension in the minds of traders and security holders that our relations with Spain were tending toward open rupture and war. The factors which awakened this apprehension seem to have been largely local. The action of the New York Chamber of Commerce in moving for an increase in the artillery force of the army, on the ground that the city and harbor are not protected, was the most potent factor in the case. The revelations of the United States Minister to Spain regarding the incidents of the diplomatic intercourse with that country, and his outspoken advocacy of intervention in Cuba, together with the added probability of aggressive action at the coming session of Congress, helped along the sentiment.

At the time of the opening of the stock market prices of Americans in London were slightly better than last night's close here, showing the absence of any fears of immediate complications between Spain and the United States in the usually well-informed financial circles of the British capital. This fact led to some hesitancy at the opening, but it was soon evident that there were very large orders to sell in the market and prices suddenly slumped. The first fall uncovered stoy-loss orders, and there was such a throwing-over of holdings as has not been seen on the exchange for many a day. The disposition seemed to be to sell at any price, and the buying power in the market was apparently insignificant. As a consequence, stocks were offered down large fractions, and even full points before meeting with any buying orders.

The decline came to a stop at the end of the first hour, the liquidation having apparently exhausted itself. Incidentally it is mentioned that this is the third time in the history of the Chamber of Commerce that such resolutions have been passed, and the warning is sounded that on each occasion they were issued before a great war. The first was adopted in 1775, and the second just before the war of the rebellion.

VAN ZANDT CONVICTED

Warrant Out for the Arrest of His Lawyer Mr. Robinette.

Toronto, Nov. 6.—Henry Van Zandt, the young man arrested in Buffalo and brought back to Toronto a week ago, was placed on trial before Police Magistrate Denison yesterday on a charge of having, in October 10, burglariously entered the residence of W. E. H. Massey, 486 Jarvis street, and on October 15, the residence of Mrs. Mary Booth, 282 Sherbourne street, stealing from both places a large amount of jewellery and money. At the outset there was a brisk discussion between the Magistrate, Crown Attorney Curry and Mr. J. M. Godfrey, counsel for the prisoner, over an application on behalf of the last-named for a further postponement of the trial. Mr. Curry resisted the application, and the Court was with him.

Mr. Godfrey, when asked for a reason for asking for a remand, said that he was waiting to hear from the prisoner's father, and that he was only acting for Mr. Robinette, who was not in attendance to-day.

"Well, I'll not wait for Mr. Robinette," exclaimed the Magistrate. "I've given that man warnings enough. I know very well why he is not here." The Court spoke with unusual warmth.

"More than that," adder the Crown Attorney, "I intend to lay a charge against him for tampering with a Crown witness, and I want the case to proceed because a determined effort is being made to get a Crown witness out of the way."

It may be stated here that a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mr. Robinette on a charge that he seized Edna Leslie, a woman of the town, who is also witness in the present case, that he tried to induce her to falsely swear to an alibi for Van Zandt and that, when she refused, he called her foul names and tore her clothing. He has not yet been apprehended.

After the evidence had been taken the prisoner was convicted on the first charge and acquitted on the second, and was remanded for sentence for a week.

FELL OFF A TRAIN

Brakeman Meets With a Fatal Accident—His Skull Fractured.

Uxbridge, Nov. 6.—Charles S. White, a brakeman on the G.T.R., met with a fatal acident here yesterday. When his train was pulling into the station he was on top of the cars and in stepping from one to the other he missed his footing and fell between them. Both feet were crushed. Dr. Bascom was at once called and did all in his power for the unfortunate man and accompanied him to Toronto, where he died shortly after admission to the General Hospital, where his legs were amputated. Deceased was a married man and resided at Lindsay. He leaves two children besides his wife. A warrant has been issued for an inquest.

Failure of H. A. Patterson

New York, Nov. 6.—The suspension of H. A. Patterson was announced on the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange. Mr. Patterson joined the exchange almost 20 years ago, previous to which he had been a member of the stock exchange. The failure was precipitated by the sudden drop in the market. Assets and liabilities are not yet known.

Shipwrecked Sailors Saved.

Havana, Nov. 6.—Nine wrecked men belonging to the American brig Aroladon, including the captain of that vesel, arrived here yesterday. The Aroladon was lost on October 25th, three miles off Cape San Antonio, at the extremity of the Province of Pinar del Rio.

CANADA'S BOOM.

Dun's Review Gives a Glowing Account From an All Round View—A Boom at Vancouver.

New York, Nov. 5.—Dun's Review of Canadian trade to-morrow will say: Canadian business has been somewhat improved by more seasonable weather in retail trade at Quebec, though less active at Vancouver, and collections are fair at Halifax and Victoria; good at Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver, somewhat improved at Quebec and Montreal. Without especial features business continues fair at St. John, and there is the usual fall activity in shipping of apples and other produce at Halifax, though the fish market has not gained. Montreal reports trade satisfactory, with heavy goods moving quite briskly, as winter rates go into effect on the 15th. At Toronto wholesale business is very satisfactory in groceries, hardware and leather, with fair sorting up orders in fancy goods and hosiery. At Winnipeg wholesale orders from the country are steady for staple goods, and clearings indicate a larger volume of business than any previous week. Retail trade at Victoria, except in boots and shoes, is less active and wholesale trade is quiet in groceries, drygoods and hardware, but October business on the whole exceeds last year's. Trade in all lines is generally good at Vancouver, with most encouraging prospects.

Bradstreet's on Canadian Trade.

New York, Nov. 5.—Bradstreet's will say to-morrow of Canadian trade: There is greater activity in agricultural operations in Ontario, owing to mild weather, which has interfered somewhat with the distribution of general merchandise. Less activity is also noticed in the Province of Quebec. Jobbers at Halifax report only a moderate business, due in part to mild weather. Trade is dull in New Brunswick, where the fish catch is reported disappointingly small and prices low. Bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal, Halifax and St. John, N.B., amount to $28,318,000 this week, an increase of 10 per cent. over last week, and 11 per cent. over the corresponding total one year ago.

I tried a great many medicines and different treatments, but received no benefit until I used Sloan's Indian Tonic. It relieved me at once and effected a permanent cure. It is a grand blood medicine and I am never without it in the house. TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

A sea-captain may navigate his ship safely across the ocean, but when he comes into port he must have a pilot who knows all the difficulties and dangers of that particular channel. In the voyage of life there are many perilous places where we need the help of a pilot who has a thorough knowledge of the special difficulties and dangers to be avoided.

In those delicate physical weaknesses and diseases peculiar to women a general practitioner or ordinary doctor has no opportunity to become thoroughly proficient. Still less to be trusted is the advice of any mere nurse or unscientific person.

Only a specialist who has given a life of study to this particular field of practice, is competent to treat the diseases of woman's intricate and complicated organism.

Any woman suffering from these delicate troubles may obtain the most eminent professional advice free of charge by writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. During nearly 30 years' at the head of his splendid staff of specialists, he has successfully treated many thousands of cases of obstinate feminine complaints.

His "Favorite Prescription" was devised for the sole purpose of curing the diseases and weaknesses of the feminine organs. No other medicine has been so marvelously successful in this particular field of practice. No other medicine so completely overcomes all the dangers and nearly all the pains of motherhood.

"It is with pleasure I recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to suffering ladies," writes Mrs. J. Ferguson, Box 39, Douglas Station, Selkirk Co., Manitoba. "After suffering untold tortures I thank God I found relief and cure in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

The greatest book for women ever published is Dr. Pierce's thousand-page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," sent free in paper covers for cost of customs and mailing only, 21 one-cent stamps; cloth-bound 50 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Child Desertions in Toronto.

The recent discoveries of babies on doorsteps have led to an investigation, and it is probable that an arrest will be made at an early date, and that a woman who receives $5 apiece for adopting babies will be the prisoner. The number of discarded infants received at the Infants' Home each year is startling, and the police think to reduce it by making an example.

Murder Trials This Month.

Two sensational murder trials will be brought off in Ontario this month. On Nov. 16 Mrs. Sternaman will be tried at Cayuga for the murder of her husband, and on the 29th young James Allison will face a jury at Berlin on the charge of having done away with Mrs. Orr at a farmhouse near Galt.

Britain's Old Fighters Dine.

The forty-third anniversary of the victory at Inkerman was celebrated in true British style by the Army and Navy Veterans in The Hub Cafe, Colborne-street, last night. Men who had drunk the health of George IV. gathered with younger comrades who had served in the Crimea and in later campaigns, around a table where noone but British dishes were served and British beverages quaffed, to tell over again the story of past campaigns and to renew their pledges of loyalty to the Empire.

The grand jury afterwards took up the Bessey case, but had not finished it when they adjourned. Chief Justice Meredith will preside next week.

At 11 o'clock to-day the ante-mortem statement of Mrs. Mary Fitzpatrick will be taken at 125 Edward-street by the Police Magistrate. The woman is very old, and at the point of death, from injuries alleged to have been caused by her granddaughter, Mary Burns. Dr. Todd says that Mrs. Fitzpatrick cannot live more than a few days, and Mrs. Burns is at present in custody of the police, charged with aggravated assault, but the charge will probably be changed to one of murder in the event of the old woman's death.

What Dodd's Kidney Pills Did For a Brockville Butcher—He Could Not Lift Without Great Agony—Now He Can Lift With Any Man.

Brockville, Ont. 25.—W. A. Stagg, a well-known butcher of this city, was the victor in a lifting contest a few days ago. What makes this statement one of unusual significance is the fact that for years Mr. Stagg has been a sufferer from kidney disease of a very severe type, and could not lift any weight without suffering the greatest pain. The change was caused by Dodd's Kidney Pills. "Dodd's Kidney Pills," he says, "have been the means of curing my disease. I can now lift with any man." This is only one of many startling cures those wonderful pills have made in this locality.

One Laxa-Liver Pills every night for thirty days marked a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

Cunningham and Mr. W. B. Chapman, Montreal; Mr. H. B. Whitney, Boston, Mass.; Mr. F. Pearson, New York, and Mr. James Ross, Montreal, have secured a charter and franchise from the Jamaica Government to build electric tramways on the island. The capital required is over $3,000,000, and will be furnished by Montreal and Halifax capitalists. Construction will commence at Kingston, where the old tramway system is to be converted into one of the latest improved electric roads.

Montreal News Notes.

It appears that the Canadian Pacific Railway are adverse to giving their European freight to vessels calling at Halifax, and this may cause a hitch in the arrangement which the Beaver Line are now making with the Government.

A shooting accident is reported from Rawdon. H. Riopel, a young man of 23, went out on Saturday hunting, and his body was found yesterday with a bullet through the heart. His gun seems to have gone off accidentally.

It is stated that Mayor Wilson-Smith will be knighted either at New Year's, or in May Next.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

A Murderous Soldier Wanted to Kill President Moraes of Brazil.

London, Nov. 6.—A despatch to The Times from Rio Janeiro, says: "At 1 o'clock this morning (Friday), a soldier of the 10th Battalion, which constitutes a part of the local garrison, attempted to shoot President Moraes with a pistol. The President was just landing at the Marine Arsenal after visiting the steamer, on which General Barbosa, Minister of Marine, had returned from Bahia.

"The bystanders frustrated the attempt, but Col. Moraes, the President's nephew, was slightly wounded in disarming the soldier. General Bittencourt, Minister of War, then interfered and was himself stabbed. The wound was so serious that he died soon afterwards. The attack has caused the greatest agitation throughout the city."

Berlin, Nov. 5.—A despatch from Constantinople to The Frankfort Zeitung says that the Porte, under threat from the Bulgarian Government that unless the promised Berats to the Bulgarian bishops in Macedonia should be granted before 10 o'clock a.m. yesterday, Bulgaria would declare independence, finally acceded to the demands and granted the Berats.

French Soldiers as Anarchists.

Paris, Nov. 5.—It is announced in a despatch from Nancy, capital of the Department of Meurthe-et-Moselle, that a number of soldiers have been arrested there for distributing Anarchist literature among the French troops composing the garrison of that place. The authorities seized a quantity of revolutionary documents.

The Queen Did Not Send Congratulations.

London, Nov. 5.—The Chronicle says that, being convinced, by the most unqueenly language of the Queen's alleged congratulations to ex-President Cleveland upon the birth of a son, that the report that she has sent such congratulations was untrue, it investigated the matter. As a result it has obtained a personal denial that Mr. Cleveland has received a message from the Queen.

YELLOW JACK'S RAVAGES.

Seven Deaths Yesterday—Is It the Dying Kick of the Pest?

New Orleans, Nov. 5.—The community was somewhat shocked this morning over the announcement of seven deaths from yellow fever by 10 o'clock. It is generally conceded, however, that it is the fever's 'dying flicker.' Only two new cases were reported up to the same hour.

TWENTY-ONE WERE KILLED.

The Body of Felix Balta of Montreal Found in the Hudson Near Garrison.

Cold Spring, N. Y., Nov. 4.—There is little doubt that Felix Balta of Montreal, who was found dead in the Hudson River on Monday, and whose body is now in a vault in Peekskill, was a passenger on the New York Central train which was wrecked near Garrison two weeks ago. His watch had stopped at 5.50, which was precisely the time the disaster occurred. The coroner's jury, which held an inquest last night, found that Balta came to his death by drowning at a time and place unknown to the jury. Coroner Apgar, who has charge of the case, received a telegram to-night from Balta's wife, dated Montreal, stating that she would come to Peekskill to-morrow to claim the body. The finding of Balta's body increases the death list of the disaster to 21.

The most intractable and distressing skin diseases which defy all manner of treatment—even the best medical skill—are readily cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. MRS. JOS. QUERIN, hotelkeeper's wife, at Ethel, Ont., was troubled with Eczema of the Head and Face for about 9 years, and was so bad at times she could not go near the hot stove to do her cooking. Her head was one mass of scabs, and although she treated with doctors it kept getting worse. On hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment, she got some, and was delighted to find the first application do her good. She used two more boxes of the Ointment, is now free from disease, can do her own cooking, and would not begrudge $200 for the good it has done her.

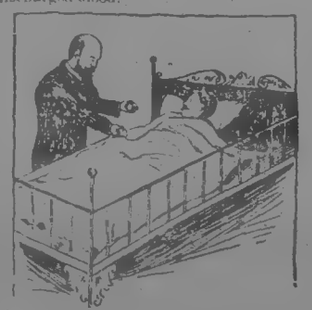
Mr. Jas. Barry, 28 Hunter Street E., Hamilton, Ont., says: "For the past five years I have had Bright's disease of the kidneys in its worst form. My kidneys were in such a frightful condition that they discharged blood.



"I was unable to work, and most of the time could not sleep. I became so excited and suffered such fearful pains in my back, that I was unable to do the least thing. I was in the hospital, where I was treated by several physicians, and I also took many kinds of medicine, but without relief until I commenced taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Spackman's drug store last January.

"Since taking them I have been getting better rapidly. I can now work without inconvenience. They restored my strength, removed the pains from my back, made my kidneys healthy and strong, so that they are able to perform their work easily and well, thereby carrying off all the poisonous secretions which before used to mingle with my blood, and became diffused through my entire system.

"I am only too happy to give this testimony as to the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills, so that others may be benefited by their use as I have been" 289

CHURCH CHIMES.

Mr. Fred Bell presided at the George street organ yesterday in the absence of Mr. Geo. Schneider.

"Be Still and Know" was the title of an anthem in which Mrs. Seward took the solo in the George street Methodist church last night.

Mrs. (Dr.) Scott sang "Nothing to Pay," as a solo in excellent voice at the Murray street Baptist church morning service yesterday.

The power almost left the organs in the George street and St. Paul's churches last evening, as the C.P.R. locomotives, during the services, made several heavy draughts on the water.

Miss Vair gave an excellent solo at St. Paul's church yesterday morning. It was entitled "The Plains of Peace," and received an artistic rendering. It is to be regretted that Miss Vair was unable to give (by request) "Satisfied," by Graham, last evening owing to the failure of the water power at the organ.

Mr. A. Davis, the organist of St. Luke's church, had the misfortune to sprain his ankle last Saturday, and was unable to preside at the organ yesterday. His place was very acceptably filled both morning and evening by Mrs. Grasett.

Next Friday evening Rev. H. Symonds will commence a series of short expository addresses on the Epistle to the Philippians. The service begins at 7 45 and lasts until 8.30 a.m.

On Sunday next Rev. Henry E. Benoit, of the Sabrevois Mission, will preach in St. Luke's church in the morning. Mr. Benoit is highly spoken of as a preacher by those who know him. The evening service will also be of a special character. It is intended on the second Sunday evening of each month to have a special service of praise, together with a special sermon. Next Sunday evening the music will be of a bright and hearty character, and an address on the work of men in the church will be delivered by Rev. E. V. Stevenson, M.A.

On Monday, Nov. 15, at 8 p.m., Rev. Henry E. Benoit will deliver his lecture on "The Humourous Side of Life in Western Equatorial Africa," in St. Luke's school house. The lecture is well spoken of as both instructive and amusing, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. Mr. Benoit gives this lecture on the generous condition that the proceeds shall be devoted to the Widows' and Orphans' Fund of the diocese. Admission 10c.

St. Luke's parochial organizations are busily engaged in preparing for the annual sale of work and tea, which will be held on Thursday, Dec, 2nd. Of late years the school house has proved two small for the comfortable accommodation of those who attend this most popular event, and it has been decided this year to hold it in the Ashburnham town hall.

The Men's Chapter of the Guild have arranged a series of meeting to be held during the winter for the discussion of matters of interest to the congregation and for the encouragement of greater sociability amongst the men. The first meeting will be held at Mr. R. B. Roger's house on Wednesday, Nov. 24th, to which all men who attend St. Luke's church are invited.

The congregations at St. Luke's yesterday were large, and the Rector in the morning congratulated the church on the recent improvement in the finances, which he hoped would be sustained.

Care of the Complexion.

It is a well-known fact thatt a torpid liver produces a sallow hue and a dull yellow complexion if the blood is rendered impure by a sluggish action of the liver, which cannot properly perform its function of purifying and filtering all impurities from the blood. Ladies, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is an invaluable remedy, for by their action on the liver blood they promote true beauty by rendering the blood pure. This is the secret.

SPORTS OF A DAY

Daily Record of Prominent Events at Home and Abroad.

The Osgoode team defeated the Tigers at Hamilton on Saturday by a score of 6 to 2. The score at half time was 2 to 0 in favor of the Tigers. The match was a poor one, there not being a single brilliant run in it. Courtney King tone made two clever kicks, and they were the features of the game. The ground was in bad condition, being wet, from the rain which fell up to a short time before the play began, and this favored Osgoode, its wings being the heavier. The Tigers were crippled by the absence of Ripley and Counsell and the poor shape of Big McAuliffe, the crack wing man. Kilvert and McCarthy were the new men on the team and they did poorly. There were 34 penalty kicks in the match and Osgoode had a majority of them.

Varsity II. now hold the intermediate cup. They defeated London in the final game on the campus by 64 to 5 on Saturday. The half-time score was 19—1. The game not only gives them the championship, but the record for the largest score made this year. The game was, as will be seen by the score, very one-sided, but was an interesting game to watch, as the home team put up as pretty football as was ever seen in Toronto. The work of the wings and scrimmage was good, and the combination of the halves was perfect. It was this that made such a show of the Forest City players. They were never in it any stage of the game, and Varsity scored as they pleased, in fact, their opponents were pewitered by the brilliant play of the halves, and on two occasions stood and watched them go over the line.

The results in the Hamilton District Association football matches Saturday were: Normal College 3, Waterdown 0. St. Matthews 3, Victorias 0.

St. Matthews has won the Spectator challenge cup: none of the other teams can now tie them.

In the junior final at Petrolia Saturday Varsity III. won the championship by defeating the home team in a close contest by 9 to 5. The score at half time was 1—1.

Ridley College defeated Upper Canada College at St. Catharines on Saturday in their final match by 13 to 10.

Ottawa City and Ottawa College played a draw game Saturday. Each team scored 8 points.

Montreal defeated McGill by 11 to 8. The score at half time was 6—5.

On Trinity campus Saturday afternoon the Old Orchards defeated the Nelsons by 6—5. The half time score was 3—2.

The Scots defeated Parkdale on Saturday afternoon on old U. C. C. grounds, Toronto, by 1 goal to 0.

Peterborough defeated T.A.C.-Lornes II. at Peterborough by a score of 11 to 5.

At Combridge, Mass, Harvard freshmen 52, University of Pennsylvania 0.

At Philadelphia—University of Pennsylvania 20, Carlisle Indians 10.

At New Haven—Yale 16, Chicago A. A. 6.

At Hartford—Wesleyan 6, Trinity 4.

At Newton—Brown 24, Newton 0.

At Princeton—Princeton 57, La Fayette 0.

In the cricket match between Captain Stoddart's English eleven and an eleven representing the colony of Victoria, at Melbourne, the latter at the close of play Saturday had scored 273 runs for six wickets.

Murdered Captain and Mate.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 8.—The United States cruiser Lancaster has dropped anchor in Hampton Roads from Bahia, Brazil. Confined on the warship are six men of the crew of the schooner Olive Pecker, whose captain and mate were murdered at sea in August last. The cook, whose name is unknown, is in irons on the warship, being held as the ringleader of the mutiny. After murdering the officers, the mutineers set fire to the ship, and, taking to a small boat, landed at Bahia, where some of the men told the authorities of the tragedy, and all were arrested and turned over to the Lancaster for transportation to the United States.

Farmers Loan & Savings Company.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—Mr. Bethune, manager of the Farmers' Loan and Savings Co., states that, owing to the depression in real estate existing in Toronto, and to the facts that considerable unproductive property has come into the hands of the company and the margin of profits has been greatly reduced, the directors have decided to recommend to the shareholders the gradual winding-up of the company by means of a voluntary liquidation.

Baby Eczema and Scald Head.

Infants and young children are peculiarly abject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. Dr. Chase made a special study of Eczema and disease of the skin, and we can confidently recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure all forms of Eczema. The first application soothes the irritation and gives the little sufferer rest.

EMEMY'S LOSS HEAVY

Sir William Lockhart's Foraging Expedition Attacked.

POPE'S VIEWS ON MANITOBA SCHOOLS

Joseph Chamberlain Contrasts Municipal Government in Great Britain With That of New York—Alarming Reports From Madagascar—Large Increase of British Imports From Canada—Cable News.

Simla, Nov. 8.—Various reconnaissances and foraging expeditions from the camp of General Sir William Lockhart in the Maidan Valley yesterday captured large supplies of provisions and forage without opposition, until they were retiring, when the insurgent tribesmen adopted their usual guerilla tactics, with the result that the British forces lost three men killed and had 17 wounded. The loss of the enemy was heavy.

A HORRIBYE RUMOR

To the Effect That Tribesmen Have Massacred Some British Troops.

Simla, Nov. 8.—A rumor has reached here that a native officer and 35 Sikhs belonging to the Kurram column have been intercepted by the tribesmen in a ravine and slaughtered, but the rumor is not yet officially confirmed.

THE POPE'S VIEWS.

Right of Catholics to Religious Teaching to be Vindicated Archbishop of Montreal in Rome.

Rome, Nov. 8.—The Pope granted a lengthy audience to-day to the Archbishops of St. Louis, the Most Rev. John J. Kain and the Most Rev. Paul Napoleon Bruchesi. His Holiness informed the latter that he would shortly publish an encyclical addressed to the Canadian Episcopate of Manitoba on the Separate school question, in order to vindicate the right of Catholics in that province to religious teaching.

MUNICIPAL GOVERNMENT.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain Vigorously Contrasts British and New York Methods.

London, Nov. 8.—The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, who was installed last Wednesday as Lord Rector of Glasgow University, speaking this evening at the banquet of the Glasgow corporation, contrasted municipal institutions in Great Britain with those in the United States. He said that in New York the government of 3,000,000 of people had been handed over for four years to a party whose object is avowedly to get the greatest amount of spoils. The success of the British system and the failure of the American, he continued, were to be found in the different ways in which officials were treated. It was necessary, in order to have the best possible officials, that they should be "irremovable except for gross proved offences." They must be "selected absolutely without regard to their political opinions, and must be paid the market price for their services."

OUR TRADE WITH BRITAIN.

A Large Increase in the Value of Products Imported During October.

London, Nov. 8.—(Telegram Cable.)—During the month of October there has been a large increase in the value of imports from Canada. There were imported 17,698 cattle, for which was paid £287,239. The number of sheep was 13,473, and for these was realized the sum of £20,162. Bacon to the amount of 36,101 hundred weight was imported, at a cost of £64,480. There were imported 1,490,000 pounds of ham for £80,691; 22,154 hundred weight of butter, for £92,355; 242,840 hundred weight of cheese, for £514,488. Eggs to the amount of 123,435 crate hundreds were imported, at a cost of £41,743. Horses imported numbered 1021, valued at £25,116. These figures represent an increase of £213,628, as compared with October, 1895, and £74,794 compared with the same month in 1896.

RIO JANEIRO IS NOW QUIET.

President Moraes Says He Will Not Swerve From Duty a Hairbreadth.

London, Nov. 8.—The correspondent of The Times at Rio Janeiro, cabling further particulars as to developments since the attack on President Moraes and the killing of General Bittencourt last Friday, says: The city is now quiet and orderly. The streets are strongly patrolled and the garrison is held in constant readiness. President Moraes has issued a proclamation, lamenting the crime, but declaring that it will not cause him to swerve a hairbreadth in the fulfilment of his constitutional mission.

The name of the assassin is Marcellino Demello. He has been associated with the Jacobins, several of whom have been arrested.

WHOLE FAMILY FOUND DEAD.

A Man Named Dreyfus Who Could Not Stand Disgrace to His Name.

Paris, Nov. 8.—A man named Dreyfus, who is believed to be a cousin of Capt. Dreyfus, the deported artillery officer, imprisoned on an island off the coast of French Guiana; his wife, formerly the Countess Ohlenserty, and their three daughters, aged respectively 13, 11 and 7, committed suicide this morning, or last night, at their residence, on the Avenue Marceau. The porter of the house found their bodies in their apartments early to-day. They were lying on the floor, in the bedroom of the youngest child. Dreyfus left a letter for the Commissary of Police of that district, enclosing 400 francs, with which to defray the expenses of the funeral of the family. The deceased husband and father was so terribly upset by the sentence imposed upon Capt. Dreyfus that he changed his name to that of his wife.

It is believed that the suicides were committed because of recent losses of Dreyfus on the Bourse.

BRIGANDS IN BRAZIL.

An Italian Colony Attacked and Six People Killed Italy Demands Redress.

Rome, Nov. 8.—A cable message received here to-day from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, announces that a band of forty brigands has been overrunning the State of Espiritu Sancto, murdering and pillaging on all sides. The despatch adds that the band recently attacked an Italian colony in that State, killing six of its members and wounding four others. The Italian Consul has demanded of the Government of Brazil the immediate despatch of troops to protect the colonists and punish the offenders.

ALARMING REPORTS.

Large Bands of Rebels in Madagascar Cutting Off French Detachments.

London, Nov. 8.—A special despatch from Paris says alarming information from the Island of Madagascar has reached the French Colonial Office. Large bands of well-armed, disciplined rebels are scouring Madagascar and cutting off isolated French detachments.

Clothing for Thessalians.

Athens, Nov. 8.—The British Minister to Greece, Mr. E. H. Egerton, has returned here and is distributing clothing, etc., to the destitute Thessalians. It has been decided to appeal to Europe and America to raise the sum of $100,000 with which to relieve the terrible distress existing in Greece.

HARD TIMES IN VENEZUELA.

Government Employes Cannot Get Their Salaries and No Money is Afloat.

Caracas, Venezuela, Nov. 1.—A severe financial crisis now exists in Venezuela. The payment of the coupons of the German loan has been postponed, the pension of the widows and some of the veterans is suspended and the salary of the Government employes has been reduced 30 per cent. In fact nobody has been paid, nobody imports, and the banks refuse to discount or advance money. The Carenero Railroad & Steamship Company has suspended traffic.

New Lord Mayor Installed.

London, Nov. 8.—The new Lord Mayor of London, Mr. Horatio David Davies, M. P. for Chatham, was formally installed in office at the Guildhall to-day, with the usual ceremonial, succeeding Sir George Faudel Philips.

Mount Vesuvius Active

Naples, Nov. 8.—Mount Vesuvius is in great activity. A mass of lava is pouring out of the Atrio del Cavallo crater, which opened in 1895. Two wide streams are flowing down in the direction of Vittova.

China to Use Gold Money.

London, Nov. 8.—According to a special despatch from Shanghai, the Emperor of China and a Board of Revenue have approved a memorial presented in favor of establishing a gold standard and prohibiting the export of gold. It is doubtful, however, whether this will have any practical result.

Big Harvest in Queensland.

Brisbane, Queensland, Nov. 8.—A record wheat crop is expected in this colony. The area of plantings is double that of last year, and many crops, it is estimated, will yield forty bushels to the acre.

EXPLOSIONS AT HAMILTON.

Hand's Fireworks Factory Buildings Blown to Smithereens.

Hamilton, Nov. 8.—Shortly before 6 o'clock this evening there were two terrific explosions at Hand's fireworks factory, on King-street west. The first explosion was in an isolated shanty, in which Fred Marks, George-street, was at work mixing high explosives. The place was blown to atoms, but, strange to say, Marks was not killed. His face and hands were badly burned and his clothes were destroyed. The concussion caused an explosion in another shanty, in which J. Powell was working. As soon as Powell heard the first report he ran out, and when his shanty was blown to pieces, flying wood struck him in the body, injuring him seriously. The explosions shook the western portion of the city, and a large crowd gathered. Workmen soon put out the fire which started. The fire department was called out.

Victims of the Idaho.

B. Williamson, the Hamilton man who went down in the Idaho, was a member of the Battery here. He was a brother of R. Williamson, the ice dealer, and another brother is ex-Ald. Williamson of Niagara Falls. He leaves two boys behind him.

Louis Gilmore, the boy who was also drowned, formerly hailed from Hamilton.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT

To be Sworn in Next Week as Lieutenant-Governor

AND OPEN THE ONTARIO ASSEMBLY.

Hon. David Mills Will Go to Ottawa as Minister of Justice Senator McInnes as Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia and Mr. Wm. Templeman as Senator Ottawa Topics.

Ottawa, Nov. 8. (Special.)—It is understood that Sir Oliver Mowat will resign the Ministership of Justice and leave Ottawa on the 17th or 18th inst., and will at once be sworn in as Lieut.-Governor of Ontario. He will read the speech from the throne at the opening of the Assembly on the 30th inst. Close upon the heels of Sir Oliver's resignation Hon. David Mills will go to Ottawa as Minister of Justice. Within a day or two official announcement will also be made of the appointment of Senator McInnes as Lieut.-Governor of British Columbia, and of Mr. Wm. Templeman of The Victoria Times and President of the British Columbia Liberal Association as Senator to succeed Mr. McInnes.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

Hon. R. W. Scott, as Secretary of State, has been asked to take part in a matter of a somewhat international nature. William Gowrie was a master mechanic on the Guantano Railway in Cuba in October, 1895, where he was arrested by the Spanish authorities, imprisoned for six weeks, without any charge being made against him, and only released eventually upon the intervention of the British Consul at Santiago de Cuba. He was, however, compelled to leave Cuba immediately, and is now at Santo Domingo. His father, Mr. David Gowrie, an engineer, living at Hamilton, is now claiming $25,000 indemnity for this treatment, and the Secretary of State has been requested to forward the affidavits and papers in the case to the Spanish Government.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, Sir Louis and Lady Davies and Miss Davies, accompanied by the private secretaries of the two Ministers, and Mr. J. A. Macoun of the Geological Survey, and Mr. R. N. Venning of the Marine and Fisheries Department, left for Washington on the 2 o'clock train this afternoon.

The Russell County fire fund now amounts to $27,237, but the committee say that much more is still needed for the proper relief of the many sufferers.

It is said that so far the number of homestead entries this year is 35 per cent. larger than in 1896, when 1857 had been taken up at the end of December.

Mr. J. P. Beauchamp of the Inland Revenue Department has been appointed excise inspector at Montreal, in succession to the late Mr. Vincent.

Mr. H. J. Beemer, President of the Ottawa & Gatineau and Pontiac & Pacific Junction Railways, has sent copies of the plans of the Nepean Point bridge to the various bridge contractors in Canada and the United States, and will ask for tenders at once. Mayor Bingham says that the tenders have practically been asked for from all parts of Canada and the United States, and that whenever the tenders are in, the contract for the bridge will be awarded and the work commenced. He thinks that inside of six weeks the bridge will be in course of construction.

Alex. McCuaig and Henry Hawes of Carleton Place, the engineer and conductor accused of having caused the death of James Hastey at the C. P. R. wreck at Stittsville, appeared before County Magistrate Smith to-day. The defence was not ready to proceed, and the case was remanded until Friday at 10 a.m. Bail was accepted from the prisoners at $1000 each. Besides this Mr A. J. Barr and John M. Dudley, engineers on the C.P.R., went bail for McCuaig to the extent of $500 each. William Anderson and William Flagg, conductors on the C.P.R., each gave $500 bail for the appearance of Conductor Hawes.

F. X. Lemieux, M.L.A. for Bonaventure and Levis, has been appointed a judge of the Supreme Court of Quebec for the Arthabaska district, in the place of Judge Plamondon, who resigned. This leaves a vacancy in Levis and Bonaventure for the Quebec Legislature.

The Government have taken steps to stamp out the tuberculosis at the Experimental Farm. Out of 28 cattle infected nearly 20 have been killed. The Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Mr Scarth, being asked to-day what was to be done with the balance of the infected cattle, said he believed it was the intention of the Minister to keep them, with a view to making a series of tests Mr. Scarth said Mr. Fisher is in Montreal to-day, consulting with Dr. McEachran, the Dominion Veterinary Inspector, as to the best means of carrying on the tests.

The petition for the release of W. A. Grenier, convicted of libelling the Minister of Public Works, was received this morning by the Secretary of State. It bears over one thousand signatures, and at the head of the list appears the name of Hon. A. R. Angers and ex-Ministers Atwater and Beaubien of the late Quebec Administration.

Handsome Gift to Quebec.

Quebec, Nov. 8.—The late Hon. Theodore Robitaille, ex-Lieut.-Governor, has bequeathed his library to the Provincial Legislature. A number of immense chests, containing the books, have been received at the Parliament library where they are being classified and placed in order.

He Writes About His Condition—Wife and Children Helped.

WALLACEBURG, ONT.—The following letter will prove of interest to working men and others who may be in a condition similar to that of the writer:

"For three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I have been working at the barber trade for about 20 years and for the last four years I have been very closely confined and have had my meals very irregularly. I was taken with a and the doctors said it was caused by my stomach troubles. I lost flesh and became so weak I was hardly able to stand up to the chair to work. One day I happened to be looking over some testimonial letters and I thought I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before I had taken two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt finely and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I have taken nearly five bottles and now I feel like a man again. I am than I have ever been in my life. My wife and children have also taken Hood's Sarsaparilla for a blood medicine and realized much benefit from it. As for myself I cannot say too much for it. FAKE "FACTS."

Opposition journals are not at all particular as to the reports they circulate with a view of prejudicing the Dominion Government in the minds of the public. With a great parade of patriotic indignation the Government was condemned for ordering American locomotives for the Intercolonial Railway, and the Hon. A. G. Blair, as Minister of Railways and Canals, was very severely castigated in connection with the alleged transaction. The Kingston Whig, with more local patriotism than discretion, took the false statements of the journals opposed to the Government at par, and founded no mild remarks thereon in the interest of the Kingston Locomotive Works. The Whig only a day or two ago published the following news paragraph flatly contradicting the rumour upon which such indignation had been founded:

"The Hon. A. G. Blair was seen regarding the contract for locomotives for the Intercolonial railway service, and stated that the public were under a wrong impression, that contracts had not been given for the engines, as announced, though the report was based upon a letter from the department and supposed to be from the minister direct. A new set of drawings for engines was being prepared, and the Kingston locomotive and engine company would be asked for figures. Mr. Blair also stated to the delegation in regard to one of the officers of his department having exercised a prejudice against Kingston engines, that he had himself interviewed the engineers in charge of the locomotives of the line, and that their report upon the Kingston engines was most satisfactory. Forty locomotives have been built for that road by the Kingston works, and, therefore, there was ample opportunity to judge their quality."

We sometimes hear Liberal papers quoted as writing in criticism of the actions of the Government. It is probably newspapers which, like the Whig, have an affectation of independence and inadvertantly comment on "facts" supplied by Conservative journalistic pirates. If one believed even the one hundredth part of the absurd yarns invented as to the doings of both the Dominion and Ontario Governments, this circumstance would argue the possession of credulity equal to the acceptance of the theory that the moon is made of green cheese.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

TORONTO'S high rate of taxation is a boon—to some of the citizens. The list of lands for sale for taxes takes twenty columns of the Toronto Star. At ten cents a line this is a good thing for the proprietors of the Star.

THE Monetary Times has this summer published interesting tables from time to time, giving the cheese transactions of the previous month. But by no chance has the Peterborough Board, one of the most important in the province, been mentioned. Have the Toronto papers any combination with a view of keeping Peterborough in the back ground? It looks like it.

"SPEAKING of criminals," says the London News, what a sensible watchword that is of the Children's Aid Society. "It is cheaper to save the child than to punish the criminal." This society is quietly doing a great deal of good amongst us and is deserving of the hearty support of every well wisher of his race.

THERE is a debt of $12,000 on the Y. M. C. A. building, Kingston, and an effort is being made to wipe off what a local paper calls "an unsupportable burden." Half of the amount necessary to remove the deal has been promised and it is understood that unless the full amount is pledged within the next month or two the whole undertaking will fall to the ground, the work of the Association on the present scale dropped and the building sold. This is in dark contrast to the position of the Association in Peterborough with its splendid new building paid for and fairly well furnished and equipped, and membership and interest in the work increasing in a gratifying manner.

SHIPPING CHEESE TO ENGLAND.

(Montreal Herald.)

At the Frontenac Cheese Board the other day a lively debate took place and both sides were heard. The majority of the factorymen who had cheese on hand were disposed to club together and ship their stock, believing that the banks would help them out. This was in the face of several statements made by people who have already been "bitten" by shipping direct and who knew from experience that it was not the paying enterprise that a good many imagined. The plan proposed is to get in all about 10,050 boxes of cheese together and send them along, probably in the charge of some agent. If the shipment be made, the result will undoubtedly be watched with a good deal of interest. On a small scale direct shipments have been tried before with varied results. There are obviously a great many stumbling blocks in the way, and, apart from the actual risk taken by the factorymen, there is the difficulty of raising money and obtaining satisfactory agents on the other side. When cheese is sold to exporters, payment is usually cash, and the responsibility rests entirely with the buyer. It is only natural that factorymen often regret the sale of their cheese at the wrong time and believe that exporters have made a good thing out of them. But how often is it just the other way, and the latter have had to stand the loss? However, the factorymen will better appreciate the shippers' end of the business when they have seen by actual experience just how it works.

A Boasted Advantage Proves to be a Source of Weakness and Worthlessness.

Makers of crude and imitation dyes must of necessity claim some advantages for their common productions in order to attract consumers. Amongst the deceptive and sweeping claims put before the public by a certain maker of dye, one in particular must attract the attention of even those who are novices in the art of home dyeing; we refer to the statement, "Will not soil the hands."

This claim is a direct acknowledgement of weakness and worthlessness as far as colouring is concerned. Any wise woman will readily see that a dye that will not stain the hands is of little use in the work of dyeing. Such dyes may give to light and flimsy fabrics a show of tint or colour, but it soon vanishes from the materials when they see the light of heaven.

The Diamond Dyes, no matter how much water is added, have colouring power to stain the hands. A bath prepared for one ten cent package for dyeing six pounds of goods a light colour, will give as durable a shade as if the bath had been prepared for dyeing two pounds of goods a dark colour.

It is colouring power that home dyers look for and must have, colours that will stand sunlight and washing with soap. As two sticks can be used for moving the goods about in the bath, there is no necessity to have the hands or arms in the dye. Diamond Dyes are true and powerful agents, always doing the best work, and never make false and misleading claims.

QUEBEC SCHOOL REFORM.

cipated, that the Education Department is to be placed under the control of a responsible Minister, who will probably be the Hon. Mr. Robidoux, but there will still be a Council of Public Instruction, divided as at present into Roman Catholic and Protestant sections. It will, however, be rather advisory than executive, and the distribution of the school moneys will be retained by the Government. It is probable that the council was not abolished entirely owing to the opposition of the clergy, but, shorn of its powers, it will be unable to block the work of reform which Mr. Marchand is pledged to carry out.

A London Man Murdered at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Nov. 6.—Harry Richardson, 37 years old, the buyer for Kellett Bros., cattle merchants of London, Eng., was shot down in the office of the Crandall House at East Buffalo, at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon, by Timothy Morley, a porter and bell boy employed in the hotel. The men quarrelled behind the railing in the hotel office, Morley claiming that Richardson had not paid him for shining his shoes yesterday. Richardson will die. Morley was turned over to the police of the William-street Station.

THE DEAD MEAT TRADE.

Mr. John I. Hobson Gives Some Interesting Information About British and Canadian Prospects.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—The President of the Dominion Cattle Breeders' Association, Mr. John I. Hobson of Guelph, has returned from a visit to England and Scotland, and in an interview yesterday talked interestingly upon Canadian prospects in those countries.

He took in Scotland in a general way with particular attention to the stock farm of William Duthie, upon whose farm and those immediately adjoining most of the shorthorns imported into Canada have been bred. In London he spent 16 days and in Glasgow and Liverpool a short time. He attended the thoroughbred sheep sales at Kelso, where some animals went as high as $350 per head, and also took in St. Boswells, where 32,000 sheep were sold in two days.

Asked as to the possibilities of Canada's meat trade with the Old Lands, Mr. Hobson said that the future of the traffic would depend upon the care and attention devoted to the production of a better class of stock, and to the trouble taken to place it on the market in uniformly better shape. He had met Mr. William Cooper, chairman of the Metropolitan Meat Market Association, and of the meat section of the London Chamber of Commerce; he had talked with the officials of the Deptford Live Cattle Market, and also with the largest retail dealers in London, and he had noticed that there was no feeling whatever against Canadian meat. It was simply a question of putting on the market meat equal in quality to the best from England, Scotland and United States, and a market would be secured. The whole thing was that Canadians must breed better and feed better.

While he was in London there was not much Canadian beef on the market, but he saw a lot of Canadian live cattle at Liverpool. Dead meat from the United States, however, was plentiful. It consisted chiefly of hind quarters, and was equal to the best English or Scotch, and realized a good price.

Mr. Hobson came to be a great believer in the possibilities of the shipment of beef in cold storage if properly carried out. The journey across the Atlantic does not hurt the beef, but in fact makes it more acceptable to the London dealers, who prefer meat eight or ten days old, and if they buy it fresh from Deptford, have to keep it that length of time at their own expense.

"I believe Canadian beef is equal to the best English or Scotch, but at present there is too much inferior stuff sent over with the excellent. For one thing too many forequarters were being sent over.

Mr. Hobson says there is no use in Canada trying to compete with the cheap mutton sent over from New Zealand and Australia. The fine Australian mutton is sold in London by the carcase at three pence-farthing, or 6½ cents per pound, and Canada need not think of trying to build up a mutton trade in competition with such cheap stuff.

James Dobell Found Guilty

The story of a bailiff's raid and a shooting case resulting therefrom, was told in the Criminal Assize Court yesterday when James Dobell was put on trial charged with shooting with intent at Bailiff Anderson. The trouble occurred in the Ontario Chambers Building, Church-street, where Dobell and a friend, Alexander Shaw, roomed. Alexander Shaw, who is alleged to have done the shooting, was not called, as he is dying in the jail hospital of consumption.

Judge Meredith summed up strongly against the prisoner, pointing out that although the bailiff would not have been justified in breaking open the door, he was within his rights to force his way into the room once the door was open. His Lordship dismissed as idle the excuse that Dobell did not know that Anderson was a bailiff. The jury found Dobell guilty.

A Body From the Bay.

The body of a man about 5 feet 9 inches tall and about 50 years of age was found floating in the bay opposite the Cobban Manufacturing Company's premises, on Lake-street, early yesterday afternoon, and it has not yet been identified. The man has evidently been in the water for some weeks. His hair is very dark, and he has a short grey beard and dark moustache. His clothing consists of a black tail coat, under which he wore a double-breasted suck coat and vest and a black cotton vest. His pants are also black, and covered by a pair of overalls. His shoes have thin soles and square toes.

Huton Murder Case To-day.

The court will reopen this morning at 9 a.m., when James Huton, charged with manslaughter, will be put on trial. Should the defence be not ready, then Wilbur Ryan, charged with aiding to administer noxious drugs to Maggie Gammage, will be put in the dock. The defence in this case is that the girl took the drugs herself and so confessed to Drs. Lynd and Spence.

A STATESMAN'S AIMS

To Remove All Unnecessary Friction in Legislation

BETWEEN CANADA AND THE STATES.

A Number of Important Questions to be Discussed Behring Sea Arrangement—North Atlantic Fisheries and the Alien Labor Laws Special Reference to the Mining Situation.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—The authorities here have been advised that the arrival of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Louis Davies and other officials of the Dominion of Canada is to have an important bearing not only on the Behring Sea settlement but on all the pending questions which have been sources of international complications between the United States and Canada, namely, the passage of alien laborers to and from Canada, the North Atlantic fisheries question, the presence of many Americans in the Klondike territory belonging to Canada and in the mining regions of British Columbia, the fisheries trouble along the Great Lakes, the bonding privilege granted Canadians, the controversy over rights in the Fraser River, British Columbia, and in the Puget Sound, and also the question of a reciprocity arrangement between the United States and Canada. There is direct and definite information that Sir Wilfrid comes prepared to take up all these questions, and, if possible, include them in one general settlement, whereby the constant friction they have engendered may be overcome. On some of these subjects he will confer with President McKinley, and on at least one of them, that relating to alien laborers crossing the border, he will suggest such mutual modification of present restrictions as, in his opinion, will be of material advantage to the thousands of Americans now in the Klondike and British Columbia mining countries, and at the same time will be of advantage to Canada along the eastern border.

The essential features of Sir Wilfrid's mission were communicated to the officials here by persons fully advised of the Premier's plans, and it can be said that the suggestion that the decks be cleared of existing disputes between Canada and the United States met with the favor of the administration.

While the Behring Sea settlement occasioned the visit of the Canadian Premier, the Canadian authorities attach much less importance to it than they do to the other questions mentioned. They say that the Canadian sealing interest is confined almost entirely to the far western territory, where the sealers fit out, and that even there a considerable percentage of the so-called Canadian sealers hail from Seattle, San Francisco and other American ports, who fit out in Canadian ports under the British flag. What basis of settlement can be reached is not disclosed, but little doubt, it is said, is felt by the Canadians that an amicable adjustment can be reached.

Among the plans suggested is that of an indemnity large enough to permit Canada to buy out the sealers and retire them from business. With this one, the United States, Russia, Japan, Great Britain and Canada would be together in a suppression of pelagic sealing. There is no determination, however, to advance this plan in preference to others, and the scope of the settlement will remain in doubt until the negotiations open.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his associates will urge strongly that the border immigration question be settled, and on this point will confer with the President. Under the Premier's direction the Canadian Parliament passed an alien immigration law last spring, by which American contractors and American labor were barred from competing in the work on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, a Government undertaking in Western Canada.

On the other hand, it is claimed by the Canadians that about 50000 Americans are on the Klondike territory belonging to Canada, and that fully 10,000 American contract laborers are working in the mines of British Columbia. The United States immigration laws, it is asserted, are administered with harshness along the Canadian border and are a daily source of irritation. Sir Wilfrid therefore suggests that the causes of irritation be removed on both sides, and it is understood that he is prepared to offer a repeal of Canadian restrictions in the Klondike and other regions if the administration of the American law is made more lenient.

On the matter of reciprocity the general purpose of the negotiations will be to give the United States the benefit of the minimum clause of the present Canadian law in exchange for the 20 per cent. reduction allowed under the Dingley law. The desire of Sir Wilfrid and his associates will be to confine the arrangement to a few important articles, allowing time to develop its usefulness and extend its scope. On the part of Canada, the articles likely to be proposed for reciprocity are: Fish, coal, lumber and barley. On the part of the United States the articles likely to figure in the negotiations are coal, coal oil, corn, railway and electrical supplies, machinery of all kinds, agricultural implements, native woods, watches, clocks, cotton and certain forms of iron and steel. The Canadian law permits a one-eighth reduction of duties this year, and one-fourth reduction next year, to such countries as give advantage to Canada. At present British goods get this reduction, while American goods do not.

The North Atlantic fisheries controversy is of long duration. It took a menacing aspect some years ago, and at that time a fisheries commission convened at Washington and made a modus vivendi, serving as a temporary settlement. The modus is still in operation, and under it American vessels must pay a license to the Canadians for the privilege of trans-shipping at Canadian ports, taking bait, etc. The license system has proved to be a hardship, and efforts will be made to reach a more satisfactory system.

It has been known to the officials here that the Canadian Premier comes to Washington desirous of adopting a plan once proposed by Mr. Blaine, viz.: That of lumping the controversies into one general settlement, the details to be settled by a commission representing both countries. He and his party are expected to reach New York to-night and to come on here to-morrow.

Some of the Premier's closest friends were at the State Department to-day arranging for his visit, and indicating the foregoing broad scope of the questions desired to be brought forward.

Fairly Staggered.

Mr. Samuel Humphries, retired carriage manufacturer, Strathroy, Ont., says: "For a long time I have had kidney troubles and pain in the back. I could not straighten up and often had to sit down until the pain and weakness went away. I have taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and must say they are a great kidney medicine, because they have entirely removed all pain from my back, curing the urinary difficulties and benefitting my general health in a remarkable degree."

Health of King Christian I

London, Nov. 8.—In Copenhagen there has hung in the balance all the week the life of King Christian I. His health is of the gravest importance to Europe, for on it has depended a score of times the war or peace of this whole restless continent. His life, spent in the narrow confines of a little court, has yet been gifted by the fate of history to shed its influence on the kings and emperors who hold the destinies of the old world in the hollow of their hands.

Stoned the Minister.

London, Nov. 8.—The German Minister to China, and the captain of the German gunboat Cormorant, were attacked by a mob at Wu-Chang in the province of Hou-Pee, on the Yang-Tsee-Kuang river. The Minister was stoned and the flag insulted. Punishment of the offenders has been demanded.

Railroad to Zambesi.

London, Nov. 8.—A despatch received here from Buluwayo, Matabeleland, to which place the railroad has just been opened, says that Mr. Cecil Rhodes, the resident director of the British Chartered South African Company, announces that he has decided to extend the railroad to Zambesi without delay.

The Canadian Institute.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—The Canadian Institute opened for the season of 1897-8 on Saturday night, under auspicious circumstances. There was a good attendance of lovers of science, and all showed great enthusiasm for the winter's work. Addresses were delivered by the president, Prof. A. B. MacCallum, Hon. G. W. Ross and Dr. Ryerson. A short conversazione was afterwards held and a luncheon was served.

It Was a Sad Case.

The Clouds Were Darker When Medical Effort Was Unsuccessful.

Paine's Celery Compound Brought Joy and Happiness to an Anxious Family.

The use of Paine's Celery Compound, that wonderful modern prescription of Professor Edward Phelps, M. D., has brought more happiness and sunshine into sad homes in Canada than all other agencies in the world. It has saved fathers and mothers to young and helpless children. It raised up weak and dying children to anxious parents, and has caused rich and poor to sing its praises.

Mr. A. Forsyth, Manvers, Ont., in his time of danger was advised to use the medicine that makes people well; he, like thousands of others in the past, was cured, and gratefully writes for the benefit of other sufferers. He says:

"For two years I was in a low condition of health, suffering from nervousness, fainting spells, pain in the head, stomach troubles and loss of appetite. I was under the care of two doctors, but received no benefit from their treatment. I also used two bottles of a recommended patent medicine, but no good results came. I was then advised by a neighbour to use your wonderful medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. The use of this marvellous preparation soon produced the very best results. I am glad to report that my health is improved in every respect; I am stronger, sleep better, and my appetite is good and natural. I am pleased to recommend Paine's Celery Compound to all sick people, as I believe it is the best medicine in the world."

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Jessie Minorgan, eldest daughter of Mr. George Minorgan, foreman of the moulding department of The Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company, took place from the family residence, 121 Stewart street, yesterday afternoon. The very large attendance and the profusion of floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which the young lady and family are held. The Peter Hamilton Works were closed as a mark of respect to the bereaved father who has occupied for so long a time an important position in that establishment and the William Hamilton Works also closed down during the afternoon. The pall bearers were Messrs. F. Turner, W. Squires, W. Hamilton, J. F Allin, J. Wharton and R. Scott. The death of Miss Minorgan may well be called untimely. Under the happiest auspices she went to live with her aunt in London, England, but while there contracted a severe cold which resulted in a pulmonary disease that brought on the close of a promising young life. The deceased young lady was much beloved and esteemed for the many excellent qualities of character she possessed.

THE LATE THOMAS BROOKS.

A Prominent and Highly Esteemed Citizen Passes Away.

A good citizen is gone. Last night about five o'clock Mr. Thomas Brooks, managing director of the Peterborough Lock Works Company, passed away at his residence, 21 Scott street. As the public are well aware, Mr. Brooks has been dangerously ill for the past seven weeks. He was stricken with apoplexy and, though he received every attention that the best medical skill, careful nursing and family devotion could supply, all was unvailing to ward off the stroke of death which fell last night.

Mr. Brooks was a native of Richmond, Vermont, where he was born in March, 1835. He was of Scotch extraction, a son of the late Christopher Brooks. He was the youngest of a family of eight, of whom two brothers are still living, Mr. C. C. Brooks, of Montpelier, Vermont, and Mr. John J. Brooks of Watervliet, Michigan. He received his early education in the school of his home, and early in life entered into mechanical employment, with which he has been associated all his life since, and in which he was unusually capable an expert, for he has always occupied a prominent and supervisory position in whatever he was associated with. He was connected with the tool-making and die-making business previous to his engaging in the lock works industry, which he began at Meriden, Connecticut, thirty years ago, and which he has followed ever since. After pursuing the business for some time there, he removed to Cleveland, where he remained till 1885, when he came to Peterborough, where he was instrumental in forming the Peterborough Lock Works Company, of which he was managing director till the time of his last illness. It may be said that Mr. Brooks died in harness. The day of his attack he was in his office till the ordinary time of retiring, and was stricken with his fatal illness on his arrival home. It was to his intimate knowlege of the business and his unremitting attention to the promotion of its interests, that was largely due the success of the Peterborough Lock Works, which under his management expanded into a very important industry. And no doubt a good share of this success should be credited to the relations that existed between Mr. Brooks and his employees, who speak in the warmest terms of his kindness and consideration, both in their personal and business relations. That he was an unusually good employer may be inferred from the fact of the great length of time some of his workmen have been in his employment. Mr. J. S. Judge has been constantly employed with Mr. Brooks for the long period of a generation, thirty-two years, and Mr. M. Riley has been with him for twenty-six years.

Twenty five years ago, come next Christmas Mr. Brooks was united in marriage at Chester, Conn., to Miss Julia K. Hotchkiss, of Meriden, a daughter of Mr. M. L. Hotchkiss, a prominent official of the Congregational Church; and one sad element of the bereavement of Mrs. Brooks and family is the circumstance that the celebration of the twenty fifth wedding anniversary was discussed and looked forward to at the coming Christmas. Mr. Brooks leaves behind him two sons by a previous marriage, Messrs. Frank S. and Arthur M. Brooks, of Meriden, and Mr. Burton Brooks, Walter T., Grace J., and Florence M. Brooks, all of Peterborough.

Mr. Brooks was of a quiet unobtrusive disposition. While in Peterborough he sought no position of prominence outside of his business, but contented himself with the performance, in an exemplary manner, of the duties of citizenship. He was distinguished for his fidelity to principle, and in an especial manner for his kindness of disposition and charitable instincts. His oldest employee relates with sad pride that at a time when Mr. Brooks' distance from his home required that he should have luncheon at his office, he has been known to go without a meal in order to feed some hungry wayfarer, and local evidences of his great kindness of heart are by no means few.

In all the relations of life Mr. Brooks was held in very high esteem and respect, and during his twelve years residence in Peterborough he has established a record of good citizenship, which, as far as such human considerations, avail is a source of consolation to his unusually estimable wife and family, who have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

The remains will be removed to Meriden, Conn., for interment. This evening at 8 o'clock a religious service will be held at the residence, 21 Scott street, and to-morrow morning the funeral will take place to the C.P.R. station in time for the 7.10 a.m. train. In addition to other tokens of respect received, the directors of the company and the employees of the works sent beautiful floral wreaths.

Shot a Lynx.

The Lynx, or what is commonly called wild-cat, is very rarely met with in this district, but on Friday last Mastery Harry Reid, of Bobcaygeon, distinguished himself as a hunter by bringing in a specimen of the critter. He was down by Nogev's Creek bridge looking for partridge, when he spied four or five somethings prowling around. He was not quite sure what they were, but as he had never seen anything of the kind in a domesticated state, he made up his mind to have a blaze at them anyway. The shooting iron that Harry had was not exactly an up-to-date arm, but it was considered good enough for partridge. It opens at the butt much like a bank safe, and when you know the trick of closing her down, there is a fair working chance of the charge coming out at the right end. It's risky, but Harry is not the boy to be daunted by a little risk. The gun, of course, was only loaded for partridge, but that was nothing to Harry. With five wild cats around him, he picked out the nearest, drew a steady bead on the front part of the animal's shoulder, and let her go. She went. So did the cats. Four of them to the swamp, as fast as they could go, and one, much quicker, to the happy hunting grounds. Harry shovelled another load into the vault of his shooter, and partridge being scarce, he tucked the animal under his arm and made tracks for home. The Canadian lynx is described in the books as being of grayish colour with dark markings, bob-tailed, strong limbs, large velvety paws, average height 2 ft., length 3 ft. 4 in., and weight 25 lbs. The lynx breeds once a year, in may or June, and has two or three at a time. Harry's was under the average and plainly demonstrated the scarcity of partridge.—Bobcaygeon Independent.

GOLD MINES GALORE, RICH ONTARIO HOLDS.

A HALIBURTON KLONDYKE DISCOVERED.

In Cardiff Township—A Mine Reputedly Rich in Gold and Copper—Also Iron and Mica Mines—The Great Deloro Mine in Hastings—Rich Yields of Gold Under Improved Processes.

Ontario can boast of being the fruit field and the grain and dairying premier Province of the Dominion, and there soon will be no place to dispute her claim to being the mining Province par excellence. The Rainy River District, the Michipicoten gold vaults are being pressed in the matter of precedence by the Hastings gold deposits, and now we have rocky Haliburton coming to the fore as a gold dust depository.

Mr. S. D. Carver, of North Monaghan, returned yesterday from a partridge hunting expedition to Haliburton, where he spent a week. Deer he reported abundant, though partridge were not plentiful; but Mr. Carver came across something of more value than many partridges, that is to say a gold mine, as well as other mines.

A Mr. W. Austin with whom Mr. Carver came into contact, is a mighty hunter, who has not confined his attention to animated game, but is also a prospecting miner of some experience. Mr Austin informed Mr. Carver that he (Mr. Austin) had discovered in Cardiff township, near Clear Lake, a very promising gold mine, and he loaded down Mr. Carver with a basket of specimens which, to the uninitiated seem to be very valuable. Mr. Austin has located the mine and taken out a lease in the regular way. The vein is on the side of a hill, and Mr. Austin has had surface specimens assayed in Toronto, and the yield was $16 80 of gold and $24 of copper, which is considered a very rich assay for superficial quartz. The vein is not far from the Irondale, Bancroft & Ottawa railway, and can be very advantageously worked.

Close to the gold and copper find is an extensive deposit of very fine magnetic iron ore, which Mr. Austin values as worth from $70 to $80 per ton, and in the same vicinity is an extensive deposit of mica, which, from the surface specimen shown by Mr. Carver, promises at a proper depth to be productive of an excellent quality and large quantity of mica of commercial importance.

Mr. Austin is represented as a man of reliability and sufficiently expert in mining to understand the value of the deposits he has found, and if they are even approximately as rich as he thinks they are, his discovery is one of great importance.

In connection with this discovery the success that has been developed in the Deloro gold mine in Hastings by the English syndicate, would seem to indicate that the Haliburton find will, under improved methods of treatment be of as great importance as of which the Toronto World has the following:—

While public attention is largely directed toward the mining areas of the West, a good deal of interest is yet taken in the development going on down in the mid-eastern portion of this province. Now it is conceded that the future of the Hastings County mining district depends almost altogether upon the measure of success attained by the big English corporation which has for two years been carrying on operations on a large scale at Deloro—the Canadian Gold Fields, Limited, to wit—and the public will therefore be glad to learn that the syndicate's work has been attended with the most encouraging results. This journal has from time to time tried to keep the public informed as to what was going on at Deloro, but heretofore it has been impossible to secure any from the reticent officials of the company. In response to all questions these officials always replied that the Gold Fields, Limited, were a private enterprise, that none of their stock was for sale and that therefore what they did was none of the public's business.

This reticence was no doubt due to the heretofore experimental nature of their work, but now the syndicate's property seems to have got beyond the "prospect" stage, for Mr. A. J. G. Swinney, general manager of the mines, has no hesitation in describing as successful the treatment of the Hastings Mispickel ores by the bromo-cyanogen process, and this, of course, settles the whole question, for the extent of the deposits has for some time been known.

Mr. Swinney has lately returned from London, Eng., whither he went to submit reports to his directors, and he returns with plans for development operations on a greatly extended scale.

Mr. Swinney told the World on Saturday that the syndicate has already actually expended $500,000 in securing control of several square miles of territory, in opening up the same, sinking shafts, installing machinery, etc. With this as a respectable beginning, the company will not cease their outlay until the mines have attained a producing

CAPACITY OF $5000 OR $6000 PER DAY.

The underground work done on the property at present consists of two shafts, located a mile or so east of the reduction plant at Marmora Station, on the Central Ontario Railway, but four additional shafts are forthwith to be sunk—two near the old shafts, and the other two a mile to the north and a mile to the south thereof respectively. In order to carry on this work expeditiously, Mr. Swinney has arranged for the immediate installation of a twenty-drill air compressor.

And when, with this extensive mining plant, a big ore reserve has been obtained, the capacity of the bromo-cyanogen mill will be increased so that it will treat 400 tons per diem.

Mr. Swinney says that the mispickel averages $15 per ton in gold, and that the new process saves 85 per cent., or over $12 of this. This means, as stated above, that the enlarged mill should turn out between $5,000 and $6,000 in bullion each day.

It is also learned that the same money that is invested at Deloro is behind the re-opening of the Belmont gold mines, located nine miles to the northwest of Marmora village, and formerly owned by Mr. A. W. Carscallen, M. P. The Belmont ore constitutes a concentrating proposition, and a stamp mill is being erected upon the property.

THAT ILLICT STILL.

The Charge Against Michael Conway Dismissed This Morning.

County Magistrate Edmison gave judgment this morning in the case in which Michael Conway, of Smith, was charged with allowing an illicit still to be maintained on his premises.

He found Conway "not guilty" on the technical ground that it was not proven that he had the control of the premises on which the still was found, the farm belonging to his father.

There are still three other charges against the defendant in connection with the matter.

MARTIN NOT GUILTY.

He is Discharged But Warned to Get Out of Town as Quickly as Possible.

Charles Martin, the second of the two tramps who were arrested on the charge of stealing a coat from John Mowry at the Southern Hotel last Thursday, was before the magistrate.

John Kelly, who had pleaded guilty to the charge, was up as a witness against Martin, but testified that he was wholly to blame in the matter, himself, having taken down the coat from a nail in the barroom whilst Martin was outside. He then put the coat on under his own and at the station gave Martin the latter, keeping the one just stolen for himself. Martin knew nothing of the circumstances.

The charge as against Martin was dismissed, as was also a charge of vagrancy, although he had a package of fake cards on him bearing the following appeal:

In this world of care and sorrow
With its shadows and its frown,
In the midst of the great army,
I am battling with the throngs;
Young and almost rendered helpless,
By misfortune's cruel sway,
These few words I tender to you
As a deaf mute's plaintive lay.

In the race for earthly honour,
Some will prosper, some will fail;
In the strife the friendless deaf mute
Will find his efforts of no avail;
So to smooth life's rugged journey,
This my song I offer thee,
Hoping after its perusal
You will not forget my simple plea.

Gentlemen, Does Your Bald Head Make You Susceptible to Cold?

Just think of how quickly the lost hair can be replaced. Prof. Dorenwend can do it in five minutes, and do it so perfectly that no falseness is recognizable. Leading citizens everywhere are wearing them and none would be without them. If you are partly or wholly bald, you are making a big mistake if you neglect to get one of these Art Hair Coverings. They are not to be compared to the old fashioned wigs that some would-be wig makers construct. Prof. Dorenwend's skill in this line is unprecedented, and he invites you to call for a practical demonstration at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Wednesday, Nov. 17th. 6d2w

CATHOLIC ASSOCIATION ENTERTAINMENT.

An Excellent Programme and a Large Attendance Present.

The lecture hall of the Catholic Association was crowded to the doors last evening, the occasion being the first entertainment of a series to be held in the rooms during the season.

The programme presented was a excellent one in every particular and the differ. numbers received hearty encores. Owing to the unavoidable absence of Ven. Archdeacon Casey the address of the evening was cancelled.

Mr. T. J. Begley, president, occupied the chair and briefly explained the aims and objects of the society, and urged upon the young men the necessity of becoming members and assisting in the work.

The first number on the programme was a brilliantly executed piano solo by Miss Maggie Butler. This was followed by a chorus by the members of the C.L.A. Glee Club, which was rendered in such an excellent manner as to earn hearty applause. These choruses promise to be one of the features at future entertainments.

Mr. Sam. Gordon, in his vocal solo, did himself credit and, of course, had to respond to an encore. His number was rendered with excellent effect.

Miss Lillian Hurley and Mr. Jas. Brown, in their vocal duet, introduced a number that was exquisitely rendered. Their voices blended beautifully and they certainly earned the encore they received.

Miss E. Primeau, the clever young elocutionist, acquitted herself in a very creditable manner by her rendition of a courting scene; and also her encore number, "The Hunchback."

Miss Christie sang very sweetly, and with excellent expression a pretty ballad, and was rewarded with a hearty encore.

Misses Maud and Fox in their violin number, played with excellent taste and expression. This number was very warmly received, and an encore also demanded.

Mr. Jas. Browne, in his vocal solo, showed the richness of his fine voice to perfection; and his number was a delightful one.

Miss Jennie Riley, in her rendition of her vocal number, sang with a sweetness of expression that made her solo one of the features of the programme. Her encore number was a catchy ditty that pleased all.

"Dick" Simons, however, sprung a surprise on the audience by his clever rendition of "Kelly's Dream." He convulsed the audience with laughter by his impersonation of the different characters in the dream.

The chairman announced that the next entertainment would be held two weeks hence, at which Mr. J. Hampden Burnham would deliver an address. After thanking those who contributed to the evening's programme, the entertainment closed with the National Anthem.

The accompanists of the evening were Misses K. Hurley, H. Lewis, L. Hurley, M. McCabe and M. Begley.

THE NEW DIOCESE.

It Will be the Chief Subject of Discussion at the Archdiaconal Conference.

The archdiaconal conference of the archdeaconary of Peterborough will meet at St. Paul's church, Lindsay, on Nov. 16th and 17th, when the division of the diocese of Toronto will be the chief subject of discussion.

It is proposed to form a new diocese of the counties of Durham and and Northumberland, Victoria, Peterborough and Haliburton.

Mr. Wm. Grace, of Lindsay, will have charge of the financial problem, and his duty will be to explain how the sum of $10 000 can be raised for the purposes of the new diocese.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John Nugent was in Lindsay yesterday.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey has gone to Ottawa for a few days' vacation, as he has not been feeling well lately.

Mr. Robert Hall, representing the Confederation Life Insurance Company, was in Lindsay on business yesterday.

Mr. J. H. Hart, of Lindsay, is spending a day or so in town with his father. He is accompanied by Mr. Wes. Greer.

Mr. A. P. Morgan passed a rather restless night, but is feeling somewhat better this afternoon. He was very bright and cheerful yesterday.

Mr. George Schneider has returned from Toronto, after an absence of several weeks. He has been studying optics and also taking advanced lessons in music.

Mr. W. R. Tiffany, Superintendent, and Mr. Arthur White, District Freight Agent, of the Grand Trunk, were in town to-day on one of their periodical visits.

Mr. Orville Shortly, travelling representative of the Evans & Dodge bicycle, arrived in town this morning after having spent a couple of weeks at Windsor, getting "pointers." After three months on the road Mr. Shortly will take the management of the Montreal agency for the summer.

MIDLAND DISTRICT COLTS.

REORGANIZED FOR THE SEASON YESTERDAY IN PORT HOPE.

The Association is in a Prosperous Condition and has a Neat Balance on the Right Side of the Ledger—Jack Hart, of Lindsay, is the President.

The annual meeting of the Midland Curling Colts' Association was held last evening in the Queen's Hotel, Port Hope, Peterborough being represented by Messrs. Dickson Davidson, G. S. Matthews and Alf. Terrill. The other clubs were represented as follows:—Lindsay, Mr. J. H. Hart; Norwood, Mr. F. Ashe; Belleville, Mr. T. W. R. McRae; Cobourg, Kingston and Port Hope were unrepresented, and Mr. Geo. E. Clarke, of Port Hope, was present as a delegate from Campbellford.

Mr. Dickson Davidson, president, occupied the chair.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read and approved Secretary McRae stated that he had been in communication with Napanee with the object of inducing them to join the association, and that the probability was that they would be in line next year. He had received the resignation of Port Hope on June 7th, but had asked that club to reconsider the matter. Since then he had received no word from them.

MR. GEO. E. CLARKE,

of Port Hope, who was present as representing Campbellford, stated that he had succeeded Mr. Campbell as Secretary of the Port Hope Colts and the club wished their decision in the matter of withdrawing to be considered final. He did not wish to go into the matter of the reasons for the resignation of the club, as he was not present as a representative of Port Hope but of Campbellford.

Messrs. McRae, Hart, Matthews, Davidson and Ashe all strongly urged that Port Hope reconsider its decision.

Mr. Clarke said that he was not empowered by his club to do anything in the matter, although he was so impressed with the sincere expressions of regret at seeing Port Hope drop out that personally he would be in favour of remaining in the Association. There could, however, be no rink in Port Hope this winter, but he thought that by next year any grievances which existed would probably be forgotten.

On motion of Messrs. Ashe and Hart, Port Hope's resignation was not accepted.

The question of the place of the next annual meeting was then brought up, and its was decided to go to Lindsay, the three older clubs, Campbellford, Belleville and Peterborough, all having enjoyed the distinction.

Mr. Hart urged that Fenelon Falls and Uxbridge be asked to join the Association as they had a number of young players on both clubs.

The secretary was instructed to write to the secretaries of the two clubs mentioned.

THE OFFICERS.

The following officers were then elected:
Patron and Patroness—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Biggar, Belleville.
President—J. H. Hart, Lindsay.
1st Vice-President—F. Ashe, Norwood.
2nd Vice-President — Geo. E. Clarke, Port Hope.
Executive Committee—G Allen, Kingston; G. S. Matthews, Peterborough; F. J. Smith, Campbellford; Frank Gowans, Cobourg.

The Secretary-Treasurer reported that in 94-5 there was a deficit of 49 cents; in 95-6 a surplus of $10.45, and in 96-7 a surplus of $39 09, which would be increased to about $37.50 when this year's dues were paid in. He then offered as a suggestion that the Peterborough Colts, who had last year won the trophy for the third consecutive time and were now the permanent owners of it, put it up for competition again.

On behalf of the Peterborough Colts, Mr. Dickson Davidson gave a brief summary of the games played in the last three years which, in order to win the cup, Peterborough had been forced to win. After having made such efforts to win the cup, he did not think the Peterboroughs should be asked to put it up for competition again. Port Hope, he understood, was dissatisfied with the manner in which the final match had been won by Peterborough last year. The facts of the case were that Port Hope and Peterborough had been ordered to play off at Lindsay. This was Port Hope's suggestion. On the date set three of the Peterborough colts went over to Lindsay in the morning, taking all the stones with them. Just as the remaining players were preparing to leave a telegram was received from Port Hope, stating that they found it impossible to play the game. The Peterboroughs followed their curling stones and went to Lindsay as ordered, and claimed the game by default.

Mr. J. Hart, who had just previously been escorted to the chair, stated it as his opinion that if a game ever was to be won by default this was certainly one of the cases, and he could see no room for a grievance, but if Port Hope had one the matter could have been brought up for the officers of 1896-7 to deal with, and he ruled the discussion out of order.

The Campbellford Colts protested against the Peterboroughs holding the trophy, but as they gave no reasons whatever for their action, their protest was not considered.

Mr. Ashe considered that Peterborough had won the cup fairly and squarely and advised that in the interests of the Association, they consider the matter of putting it up again for competition.

The Peterborough representatives promised to lay the matter before their club, and in the event of the trophy not being put up the secretary was authorized to purchase a new one at a cost of $25.

THE GROUPS.

There will be four groups in the Association this year, and they are drawn to play as follows:

Group 1—Cobourg vs. Port Hope, in Cobourg.

Group 2—Campbellford, Kingston and Belleville, at Belleville. Campbellford drew the bye.

Group 3—Lindsay, Norwood and Peterborough, at Lindsay. Peterborough drew the bye.

Group 4—Fenelon Falls vs. Uxbridge.

The winners in Groups Nos. 1 and 2 play off on neutral ice; F. Ashe, convenor.

The winners of Groups No. 3 and No. 4 play off on neutral ice; T. W. R. McRae, convenor.

In the event of Uxbridge not coming into the Association, Fenelon Falls plays off with Peterborough in the first round at Lindsay.

The meeting then adjourned.

The visiting representatives were most hospitably entertained by the Port Hope Colts during their stay in town.

A NEW EDUCATIONAL STAR.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—I notice in the Mail and Empire of Saturday, a communication from Mr. J. W. Garvin in regard to Mr. Whitney's educational policy. Mr. Garvin's generosity in coming to the aid of Mr. Whitney is all the more commendable when it is remembered that, as is well known in Peterborough, Mr. Whitney's latest champion held and promulgated the opinion that he was the most fitting (and at one time) the most probable successor of Hon. G. W. Ross as Minister of Education; a fitness that is not at all lessened by the fact that the public school teachers of Peterborough, who had the pleasure or serving under his inspectorate, will as a practical tribute to Mr. Garvin's abilities, heartily support him as an excellent Minister of Education upon the basis of their experience of his excellent qualities as inspector. If the Board of Education were pulled upon the subject, it is perhaps doubtful whether they would unanimously vote for Mr. Garvin as a substitute for Hon. Mr. Ross. But doubtless the School Board is prejudiced—they are level headed officials who know what they are doing and who do it well, and are, moreover, interested in our schools.

My dear Garvin, it is cruel in you to work this game on some of Mr. Whitney's recognized lieutenants. It is the voice of Whitney, but the hand of Garvin. It is your own modest trumpet that sounds in your column of ponderous twaddle in the Mail and Empire. You, no doubt, feel that the guileless children of the province are crying for you as the educational Castoria, the parents of the province, the School Boards of the province are pining for your distinguished services. They recognize how extremely kind and condescending it is in you to set forth with such superiority of intellectual flapdoodle the educational needs of the day, and if I were not such a humble co-worker, I would beg the favour of following in your footsteps—at an exceedingly respectful distance.

Now, Mr. Editor, I make no apology for the space I have taken. Peterborough has produced a new star and my local patriotism, not to speak of the interests of the province, impels me to give him every opportunity to shine.

Yours truly,

ONE DAY IN TORONTO

The Happenings at the Capital During the Past Twenty four Hours

Toronto, Nov. 8.—There are four names before the public as candidates for the Mayoralty, Mayor Shaw, Ald. McMurrich, Ald. Scott and Ald. Preston.

The Imperial Bank, of this city, on account of extension of business has established an agency at Montreal.

A shipment of bacon and hams has been passed through the Customs House of this city by the W. Davies Company. It was valued at $50,000, and was for export to Southampton.

The T. Eaton Co. are negotiating with the Niagara Falls Council to remove their whitewear and cloak factory to that town.

Sherman E. Townsend has commenced actions against Eugene O'Keefe, the well-konwn brewer, and Frank Rolph, of the big lithographing firm, for alleged slander.

The Toronto district A.O.U.W. held their annual church parade yesterday afternoon to the Bond street Congregational Church. Fully one thousand members were in attendance.

Director Stupart, of the Meteorological Observatory, has returned from Ottawa, where he has been several days. The Government have decided not to remove the Observatory from Toronto, but the electrical apparatus will be located where the many electric wires will not affect it.

The rumor is being revived that Mr. O. A. Howland will at the next election run in North Toronto and Mr. J. J. Foy will run in the Conservative interests in the South.

The latest suggestion is that the old City Hall should be utilized as a theater when the new buildings are occupied.

The Army and Navy Veterans' Association, to the number of 100, held a church parade to St. Michael's Cathedral yesterday afternoon.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Nervousness, sleeplessness and pain harrass her and life seems hardly worth the living.

Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for ills distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favourite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood.

Compressed Air on the G.T.R.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—A revolution of much moment is being rapidly accomplished on the Canadian portion of the C.T.R. system. Within a short space of time compressed air will have taken the place of steam as a motive power in many of the most important tasks on railways. The idea is that of Mechanical Superintendent Robb, whose headquarters are at the Union Station.

Whether the locomotives of the company will ever be driven by compressed air is a matter which has not yet been approached.

Mr. Gladstone Very Feeble.

London, Nov. 8.—A visitor who has just paid a visit to Hawarden states that Mr. Gladstone is just as keen and active in his intellectual appreciation of all that is passing in the world around him as he ever was. But age is beginning to tell upon his robust constitution. He is no longer able to take his favorite walks. He cannot climb a hill without difficulty, and in other ways he is showing that his physical powers are not what they once were. The radiancy of his mind is still undimmed and his sympathies with the great cause that make for progress are just as warm as ever.

Always Felt Tired.

"I suffered with severe headache and loss of appetite and I always felt tired. I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and after taking one bottle my headache disappeared. I continued taking it until now I am never troubled with headache and my appetite is good." LAURA GARLAND, 247 Claremont St., Toronto, Ont.

ST. JOHN AND HALIFAX.

Both Satisfied With the Freight and Mail Deal—Millions for the Northwest.

Montreal, Nov. 7. (Special.)—While St. John will have the heavy freight landed on her docks Halifax will receive the mails. Mr. D. W. Campbell, manager of the Beaver Line, returned from Ottawa to-day. He states that the matter was discussed with the Ministers on Saturday, and that all parties, including the Canadian Pacific Railway, are now satisfied. The first mail steamer sailing under the new arrangement will be one of the Cunard acquisition, the Gallia, and she will probably leave Liverpool Saturday next, calling at Halifax with the Canadian mails, and thence to St. John, N.B., with the heavy freight. Thus the new weekly mail service, as promoted by the Beaver Line, will be inaugurated.

Mr. J. E. Steam of The Winnipeg Commercial, who is in the city, says Manitoba and the Territories will be paid $16,000,000 this year for wheat alone, and an additional $8,000,000 for other grains, furs and hides. He adds that the area under wheat alone was 1,500,000 acres, and that this will be largely increased next year.

Mr. T. D. Perry, an English mining expert, who is here on route for home, says British Columbia will be the future copper-producing country in the world.

A DIVIDED ENEMY.

The Orakzais Want Peace, But the Afridis Give No Sign of Yielding Yet.

Simla, Nov. 7.—Official despatches from Maidan, in the Maidan Valley, where the British column under Sir William Lockhart is encamped, say that a large deputation of the Orakzais have entered the camp to treat for peace, but that as yet the Afridis give no sign of yielding. Meanwhile the tribesmen cut the telegraph wires nightly, persistently harass the expedition, fire at long range on every baggage conveyor crossing Arhanga Pass, and attack every foraging party. One of the latter narrowly escaped massacre. Several have been killed or wounded in these desultory encounters. Among the killed was Lieut. Giffard of the Northamptonshire Regiment. Lieut. Sullivan of the Sikhs was badly wounded.

Critic Wounded Author.

Paris, Nov. 7. A duel was fought in the Garches Forest, near this city, yesterday, between M. Armand Silvestre, the author of the new play, "Tristan de Lamore," now being performed at the Comedie Francais, and M. Henri Bauer, the critic. The weapons were swords. M. Silvestre received a severe a wound in the arm during the first pass that he was unable to continue the combat.

TROUBLE AT ATHENS.

Delyannis and His Supporters Threaten to Overthrow the Government.

Athens, Nov. 6.—Threats have been made by M. Delyannis and his supporters that they will attempt to overthrow the Cabinet at the first opportunity that offers after the re-assembling of the Boule. The Government seems to be assured of a majority of all the Parliamentary groups, except the Delyannists, who are pledged to co-operate in the solution of the national crisis. Should the Ministry be defeated, King George, it is declared, will hesitate to re-summon M. Delyannis to form a new Cabinet.

Reforms for Cuba Approved.

Madrid, Nov. 6.—The Cabinet has approved measures for giving to the inhabitants of the Islands of Cuba and Porto Rico the same constitutional rights as are enjoyed by Spaniards, for the bestowal of the right of suffrage upon all who have attained the age of 25 years, and for the same census basis in municipal, provincial and parliamentary elections. The Chambers of the islands will be permitted to modify the scheme if they shall deem it advisable.

DIANA BACK AGAIN.

Explorations of Hudson Bay Coast Have Been Completed for This Season.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 7.—The steamer Diana, which has been employed on the Hudson's Bay coast since last spring with a party of explorers, to ascertain the feasibility of that route for trans-Atlantic steamers, passed through the Straits of Canso to-day on her way back to Halifax.

RICHER THAN KLONDIKE.

Is the Strike Made by J. D. Ellis, of Niagara Falls—Costs Less and Gives Greater Returns Than Does Gold Mining on the Yukon.

Niagara Falls, Ont. Nov. 8—James D. Ellis, of this place, is convinced that he has made a richer strike than has any owner or prospector in the Klondike gold region. He is confident that the returns for his investment are better than can be got on the Yukon and that the lead will never play out. And thousands of persons on this continent heartily agree with him. Here is his story: "I have, for six years, suffered intensely from diabetes. I felt that I could hardly get along, but could get no relief. In despair I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was amazed at the benefit it gave. I have used three boxes, and am perfectly cured."

TOWN IN BANKRUPTCY

Toronto Junction Must Settle or Have the Sheriff In.

Toronto Junction, Nov. 8.—There is a crisis pending in Toronto Junction affairs which will be settled one way or the other in a few days. Either the bondholders will put the sheriff in charge of the town or the Junction government will come to a compromise with the bondholders.

In case the sheriff is put in charge it will require an army of baliffs, and, before the people would submit to the suzerainty of the bailiffs, a general exodus would take place, and a depopulated town would be left on the bondholders' hands.

Another alternative, which is looked on with much favor, is government by a commission, appointed by the Ontario Legislature.

The crisis is brought about by the dismissal by Chief Justice Meredith and Justice MacMahon of the appeal brought to set aside the order to pay $144 interest on the bonds to Arthur Park and Jacob Vipond, two Montreal brokers, who, in their fight, were backby the greater bulk of the bondholders.

WEYLER'S BRUTALITIES

Caused Mutiny and Bloodshed on Board the Montserrat.

Matanzas, Cuba, Nov. 8.—The Spanish transport Montserrat, upon which General Weyler left Havana for Spain, and which put into Port Gibara in eastern Cuba in distress, is reported to have had a serious mutiny aboard. She sailed with over 600 returning military invalids and wounded privates, in addition to the retiring Captain-General's personal staff and upwards of a hundred army officers. The soldiers had made open protest when, before going aboard, they had demanded their salaries, six months overdue, in gold but were forced to accept depreciated flat bills of the Havana Bank at par. Once embarked, they were huddled below like so many sheep, in order to leave the decks free for their gold-laced superiors. Even the Government health officers predicted that dozens would die on the voyage daily unless better facilities were provided, but their suggestions were unheeded.

The feeling against Weyler grew rapidly, and it is understood trouble occurred during the second day out from Havana. The men insisted upon their right, in view of the cramped condition of the hold, to come up on deck. Weyler ordered that they be driven below, when a serious encounter is reported to have occurred, in which a number were killed on both sides. This is not the first time that returning Spanish troops mutinied during the past six months.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

"To tell the truth my mother has lived with one foot in the grave," writes Mrs. Eugene Stantzenberg, of No. 1604 Walker Ave., Houston, Texas, in a letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y.

"With a most thankful heart I will tell you about the wonderful cure effected in her case. She has been a perfect wreck for seven long years. No words can describe what she has suffered. She could not sleep on account of severe pains. She tried every doctor around here and spent hundreds of dollars without benefit. After hearing of your wonderful remedies I wrote to you. My mother has taken six bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and six of the 'Favorite Prescription,' and is now perfectly cured. Please receive the heartiest thanks and blessings from my father and seven children for saving the life of dear mother. May God bless you and your institution, is the wish of your friend."

Tens of thousands of women have found complete and permanent relief from obstinate and seemingly incurable disease by using the wonderful remedies referred to above. The "Golden Medical Discovery" possesses the peculiar property of nourishing and vitalizing the blood with the life-giving red corpuscles which build up healthy flesh and muscular strength.

In the special weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organs the "Favorite Prescription" is a perfect and positive specific. It is the only scientific medicine prepared for that purpose by an educated physician and specialist in that particular field of practice.

For weak and nervous women these two medicines taken conjointly constitute the most marvelously successful course of treatment known to the medical profession.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., at the head of a splendid staff of associate specialists, graduates from the leading medical universities of America and Europe.

Napanee, Nov. 7.—(Special.)—A sad fatality occurred at Lansdowne this morning, whereby Dr. H. B. Wray, a popular resident of Napanee, was instantly killed and Mr. R. F. Bicknell of Camden East seriously injured. Mr. Bicknell left Napanee on Saturday evening, en route for Montreal, with a carload of cattle, and Dr. Wray accompanied him. At Lansdowne the engine stopped to take on water and another engine dashed into the caboose. The conductor and Mr. Bicknell miraculously escaped, but when the debris was cleared away the mangled remains of Dr. Wray were found. The deceased was about 45 years of age and leaves a wife, but no family. Mr. McBride of Cobourg, who was in the caboose, was slightly injured.

CONQUEST OF THE AIR

RECORDS OF THE ATTEMPTS MADE SINCE 400 YEARS BEFORE CHRIST.

A Curious Compilation From Original Sources—Curious Though Ancient Facts—Queer Methods Pursued by the Savants of Olden Days.

THE great geometrician, Archytas, four hundred years before Christ, according to Aulus Gellius, constructed a "wooden pigeon which could fly by means of mechanical powers and an aura spirit," the latter probably referring to magnets. During the reign of Nero in B.C. a man is recorded as flying high in the air above the city, but he lost his life in the descent.

Regiomontanus is said to have constructed an "artificial eagle" at Nuremberg which flew out to meet Emperor [illegible] V. and accompanied him back to town.

It is also stated that about the same period a monk named Elmerus flew about a furlong from the top of a tower in Spain.

A person named Dante, of Perouse, "was enabled to fly by means of a pair of wings," but while amusing the citizens with his flight he fell on the top of St. Mary's Church and broke his thigh.

Cuperus, in his treatise on the "Excellence of Man," asserts that Leonardo da Vinci, the great painter, successfully practiced the art of flying, but his account is not well authenticated.

In John Wilkins' work, "The Discovery of the New World" (about 1650), he mentions the belief of Albatus de Saxonia that some part of the air is navigable, because an iron or brass vessel whose substance is much heavier than water, if filled with air, would swim upon it and not sink, this leading him to suppose that a vessel in the atmosphere would act in the same way if the outward boarder could be reached.

For about 400 years before 1700 one generation after another conceived more or less fully the principles and truths of the theory of flying without any real success toward putting it practice.

Burton, writing about 1650, believed that "some new-fangled wit will some time or other find out this art," arguing that the flying artists of his time only lacked experience.

Roger Bacon was probably the first person to discover the principle of atmospheric buoyancy, though he did not know how to apply it to the art of ballooning. His principle was kept sight of by his successors in the pursuit of this subject until it consummated in the trial by the Montgolfer brothers, in Paris, in 1782.

Francis Lana, a Jesuit, deduced from the new discoveries of the nature and pressure of the atmosphere that a vessel exhausted of air would weigh less than when full; but he discovered nothing to fill the resulting vacuum.

About 1670 Lana proposed to prepare four hollow globes of copper, each twenty feet in diameter, and so thin that they would weigh less than an equal bulk of atmosphere when exhausted of air. These globes were to be attached to a car and lifted into the air, but when the air was exhausted the globes collapsed.

The Torricellian tube or barometer, discovered in 1643, by which the pressure of the atmosphere was ascertained, was, no doubt, the stimulus to Lana's proposition of the copper globes.

In The Journal des Savans, September 12, 1678, published in France, an account is given of Besnier, a locksmith, who succeeded in flying by means of two rods, with rectangular surfaces at each end, attached to the feet and hands. His first pair of wings were purchased by a Mr. Baldwin, of Guibre, who, it is said, used them with remarkable success.

Besnier did not pretend that he could fly a long distance, but would raise himself from one height to another until the top of a building was reached, from which he would sail over neighboring houses.

In 1709 Bartholomew de Gusman petitioned the King of Portugal to prohibit all persons from copying his flying machine, which petition the King granted by ordering that any infringer be put to death.

Joseph Gallien published a book in 1755 in which he asserted that a bag of cloth or leather filled with air lighter than that of the atmosphere might be used for the purpose of the aerial voyages, but no one knew how to obtain the lighter air.

In 1782 Stephen and John Montgolfer, without previously studying the matter, decided, after seeing smoke rising from a chimney, that if a light paper bag were filled with the smoke or hot air it would rise also. The experiment was successfully made with a bag of forty cubic feet capacity, after which larger bags were used until one with a capacity of nearly 23,000 cubic feet and a lifting capacity of 500 pounds was made.

Husband—Why, of course not. See how much I save every month.

Wife—Yes, I know that, but then Willie is always around when you shave and he is learning too many bad words. —Ohio State Journal.

"Why, dear me, there goes Johnsbury and his wife. I really don't know him since he has got a different cut to his hair."

"And hers has a different hue."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"There's no reason why young Jibson should hold his head so high."

Fatal Railway Smash.

Napanee, Ont., Nov. 8.—A terrible accident occurred on the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday morning at Lansdowne Station, near Brockville, when a freight train standing on a siding was run into by a following freight train, and Dr. H. B. Wray, dentist, of this town, instantly killed, and three other occupants seriously, if not fatally injured. One of the injured men is Mr. R. F. Bicknell of Camden East, who, in company with Dr. Wray, left here on Saturday night with a couple of cars of stock for Montreal. An inquest is being held at Lansdowne, when the cause of the accident will be discovered.

Mr. F. B. Bicknell, the other injured man, is a resident of Camden East, and a well-known cattle buyer. A later report says he is not so seriously injured as at first reported.

Quebec School Reform.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—The outlines of Premier Marchand's bill for school reform have been made public. The most important change is, as anticipated, that the Education Department is to be placed under the control of a responsible Minister, who will probably be the Hon. Mr. Robidoux, but there will still be a Council of Public Instruction, divided as at present into Roman Catholic and Protestant sections. It will, however, be rather advisory than executive, and the distribution of the school moneys will be retained by the Government. It is probable that the council was not abolished entirely owing to the opposition of the clergy, but, shorn of its powers, it will be unable to block the work of reform which Mr. Marchand is pledged to carry out.

To Meet January 20th.

Toronto, Nov 8.—A despatch to the Mail and Empire from Ottawa says: Several Liberal members of Parliament who have been visiting the Capital during the last few days, have been given to understand that Parliament will be called to meet on January 20th. The Cabinet has not yet passed upon the matter, but the Ministers are giving out that that is the date they expect the session will begin.

BE WISE.

Try a Proved Medicine on the first DANGER SIGNAL.

On the first hint of heart or nerve trouble try a proved medicine, one that has cured others, and will cure you. Don't wait for the second danger signal, but take the right remedy in time.

Mrs. E. James, 36 Arcade St., Montreal, Que., says, "For several years I have been troubled with my heart and nerves. My heart would palpitate terribly, and when it did so, I could not go up-stairs without resting. I would have severe attacks of despondency, and got so bad at last, that for two weeks I could not go up-stairs to my room. My blood became weak and impoverished, due to an attack of la grippe. I would have a dull heavy pain in my heart, together with terrible headaches, and took remedy after remedy, but without avail.

"Then I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and started taking them. From the very first I gained rapidly, and am now better than I have been for years. My heart and nerves are all right, and my whole system thoroughly toned and invigorated, the distressing symptoms from which I suffered having completely left me. I cannot too highly recommend these wonderful pills as they have made a perfect cure in my case." 220

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. ☞ Write us for designs and estimates.

—The latest "kicker" amongst the Ottawa Ministers is the Solicitor-General, the Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick. He is an old Rugby player, and the manner in which he kicked the pigskin out to the referee, at the opening of the match between Osgoode and Queen's in Toronto on Saturday, elicited the wildest enthusiasm. —Quebec Chronicle.

—Shippers will all be interested in the following for which the Kingston Whig is responsible:—"A Kingston business house is shipping regularly quantities of its manufacture to Montreal and paying eighteen cents per hundred pounds freight. Lately it has come into competition with with Chicago houses and the freight quoted to Chicago houses by the same railroad, the Grand Trunk, from that distant city to Montreal is just eighteen cents. "Canada for Canadians is a far off cry."

—To-night, Lincoln J. Carter's greatest comedy drama and scenic production, "Under the Dome," will be presented at Bradburn's Opera House by a company of superior merit. Some extraordinary scenic effects are promised, also some beautiful scenes in and about Washington. "Under the Dome" is said to be the strongest dramatic production ever written by Mr. Cartier. The prices are 25, 35 and 50c. Don't fail to attend the Opera House to-night, if you do you will miss a great treat.

—Fresh fruit and flowers may be preserved by immersing them two or three times in a solution of gum arabic and water, allowing the solution to dry between each dipping. The surface is thus rendered imperrious to the air. To be successful the surface must be entirely dried. In preserving fruit, stem and all must be covered. Wind a thread of silk about the stem and sink the fruit slowly into the solution, which should not contain a particle of undissolved gum. When the operation is successful, the fruit or flowers will be covered with a coating of gum so thin and transparent as to be almost invisible.

—The Lindsay Post says:—"An announcement was made by the pastors of several churches in town Sunday, stating that the Ministerial Association of the district had, in view of the seemingly increasing Sunday freight traffic, determined to petition the Dominion Government to have such open desecration of the Sabbath stopped, as the majority of business men would much prefer having their freight delivered in their respective towns and villages in the six working days of the week. Our merchants will be called upon during this week by a couple of our local clergymen and asked to sign the said petition.

MAJOR HAY DEAD.

A Well-Known Toronto Merchant Dies Suddenly of Apoplexy.

Toronto, Nov. 9.—Torontonians were shocked last evening to hear of the awfully sudden death of Major John D. Hay, at his late residence, 45 St. George street, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Major Hay had been ailing somewhat since Saturday, but nothing serious was anticipated. About 4 o'clock he complained of not feeling well, and decided to go to bed, instead of visiting a friend, as he had arranged. Shortly afterwards a blood vessel burst, and in less than an hour the end had come. The cause of death was apoplexy.

John Dunlop Hay was the second son of the late Robert Hay, M.P. for Centre Toronto. He was born in Toronto 42 years ago. His education was received at Upper Canada College. After leaving college he joined his father in the lumber business in New Lowell, where he remained some years. On the death of Mr. Pitch he went into partnership with Col. John I. Davidson, forming the wholesale grocery firm of Davidson & Hay (limited), 35 Yonge-st. In a short time he became vice-president of the firm.

His wife was Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. William Hendrie of Hamilton, who he leaves with three children, all boys.

During the Riel rebellion in the Northwest he was distinguished for bravery, earning the medal and clasp. He was also mentioned in the despatches. He was in the engagements at Fish Creek and Batoche. In January, 1890, he was appointed captain, vice John I. Davidson, who retired, retaining rank. On the 10th December, 1892, he was appointed major, vice A. B. Harrison, retired. About a year ago he was relieved.

In social circles there was no more prominent figure than Major Hay. A good singer and story-teller, he was welcomed everywhere. He was a prominent member of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, the Toronto Rowing Club, the Ontario Jockey Club, the Military Institute and the Victoria Club, in all of which he had a host of friends.

POLITICAL CIRCLES EXCITED.

The Annexationists are Getting In Their Work in the Newspapers.

Havana, Nov. 8.—There is a great deal of excitement here at present in all political circles. This is due to increasing lack of confidence in the ability of Spain to establish an autonomous form of government in Cuba, and to the apprehension that the Spanish troops will not be able to suppress the insurrection by force of arms. This causes a feeling of uncertainty in the future, which increases the business depression which has existed for over two years past, and on the other hand, it increases the desire among the more level-headed of the population for the annexation of Cuba to the United States.

BLANCO ISSUES AN EDICT.

The New Captain-General Will Commute Sentences of Rebels to Some Extent.

Havana, Nov. 8.—Marshal Blanco has issued the following edict, officially described as "expressing the magnanimous sentiments of the Queen Regent and the firm determination of the national Government":

"I pardon, in full, all those who have been prosecuted for the crime of rebellion. Rebels prosecuted for common crimes, independent of rebellion, such as spoliation, immorality and the like, will be pardoned as rebels, but judged for other offences committed by them.

"Those suffering sentences imposed prior to the date of this edict will have their sentences commuted to a certain extent, and perhaps in some cases in full."

Care of the Complexion.

It is a well-known fact thatt a torpid liver produces a sallow hue and a dull yellow complexion if the blood is rendered impure by a sluggish action of the liver, which cannot properly perform its function of purifying and filtering all impurities from the blood. Ladies, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is an invaluable remedy, for by their action on the liver blood they promote true beauty by rendering the blood pure. This is the secret.

TOM NULTY'S MOTIVE

The Awful Murder Was Coolly Premeditated.

A TALK WITH ROSA LESPERANCE.

A Remarkable Criminal Who is Entirely Undisturbed by His Terrible Predicament—No Thoughts of His Awful Deed Interfere With His Cheerful Demeanor—He Had No Accomplice

Montreal, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Tom Nulty is a remarkable criminal. Though unable to read or write, he has some natural shrewdness and cunning, and the more his crime is probed the more evident is becomes that it was not the result of a mad freak or ungovernable rage, but was coolly premeditated. He is still as unconcerned in the jail at Joliette as he was when first brought there on Saturday night. The murder of his three sisters and little brother does not appear to affect him in the least, but, on the contrary, he has actually lost the sullen demeanor which first characterized him, and has become quite cheerful. Since the visit of his lawyer he has become reticent about discussing the details of the murder, but does not attempt to retract his confession.

He repeated to-day that he had no quarrel with his sisters. Sometimes they had a little family spat, but it did not amount to anything. When asked whether he killed the family so that there would be more room in the house, and that he could get married and bring his "Galley" home, he said that he never intended to marry Miss Lesperance, or any other, for some years, and that he was not engaged to her; but the story of the girl, Rosa Lesperance, is different, and appears to make it plain that that was the motive of the crime.

She is a little girl of 18 years, pert, pretty, quick-witted, with large dark, brilliant eyes, a smile that discloses pearly teeth and witching dimples, and a superiority of manner, acquired by a few years of city life, which fascinated an ignorant country youth like Tom. He knew her only two weeks and in that time he had visited her eight times, and this means something when it is known that each time he had to walk about 5 miles each way, over the most fatiguing roads anyone could imagine. She did encourage him, no doubt, in a sort of way. He seemed a pleasant visitor, and she is evidently fond of admiration, but her words and behavior showed that she never gave him seriously to believe that their friendship would ever ripen into anything more important. Yet he intimated to her that in a month or so he would ask her to marry him.

"Id he ever ask you to marry him?" she was asked.

"Not directly," replied the girl, "but he said to me in a rather significant way, on Thursday night that he intended to go to work in the shanties for about a month and that he would be ready to get married after that at about Christmas time."

"Id you take him seriously at that time or show him that you would be ready to marry him?"

"No. I laughed it off in a sort of a way, but my grandfather told me only yesterday that he expected the young man to come around to settle the bargain."

Now he knew perfectly well that he could not marry her in his present circumstances. He had no place to bring her to and no prospects. If the other children were out of the way he could bring her to his father's house, and if the latter died he would probably be his sole heir. It seems a fact that he expressed himself to that effect. Once he was asked why he did not marry, and his reply was that it was impossible for him to get married till the children had been cleared out of the house.

The poverty and crime-stricken farm does not belong to Michael Nulty, but Tom did not know this. Tom did not understand that the $200 it represented had long since been borrowed and spent, that the mortgage had been foreclosed and that the father had not one cent. of interest in the place so far as ownership was concerned.

rage, but was coolly premeditated. He discussing the details of the murder.

"Did he ever ask you to marry him?"

"Did you take him seriously at that Tom did not know this. Tom did not cent of interest in the place so far as

Detective McCaskill's efforts were directed towards three things: The settling of the question whether Tom Nulty had an accomplice, the fixing of a motive for the crime and the breaking down of the idea that the criminal was insane when he committed the awful deed.

The first of these efforts has resulted in a pretty strong conviction that he was alone. The theory of an accomplice was held chiefly by Cure Baillarge of Rawdon, but after a visit to Tom in the jail at Joliette the cure was satisfied that it could be no longer held. There seems no doubt that the motive outlined above is correct, and a thorough inquiry among relatives and all who knew Tom fails to show any reason for considering him insane. Detective McCaskill also discovered the shirt Tom wore the day of the murder, carefully stowed away above the rafters of the hovel where the family lived. It was carefully looked over, and only one little bloodstain, was found upon it. The right wristband was a little stained, but beyond this there was absolutely not a stain of blood. It was, however, very dirty, and showed signs of much rough usage. In a comparatively new and cheap tin trunk his coat and waistcoat were found. These were the clothes he wore when he returned to commit the crime.

HAS MRS. NACK CONFESSED?

Her Counsel Says So, and That She Will Become State's Evidence Against Martin Thorn.

Long Island City, N. Y., Nov. 9.—Martin Thorn was exceptionally cheerful this morning. He ate a hearty breakfast and bestowed his customary care on his toilet, and seems to share with his lawyers confidence in the jurymen. District Attorney Youngs said that after he had presented the case he would produce as the first witnesses the persons who found the several parts of the body in the order that they were picked up. Thorn was brought into court at 10 o'clock and was greeted with a warm shake of the hand by Lawyer Howe. The judge then entered and the jury filed into their places. As soon as the names of the jurors were called the District Attorney presented the case.

The first witness called was John McGuire, who was examined by Assistant District Attorney Davidson. He described the finding of the bundle by his companion McKenna and how he cut open the bundle and found the upper portion of a body, with a piece about eight inches square cut off the breast. The young fellow identified the piece of oilcloth produced in court, and also a photograph of the portion of the body. James McKenna corroborated McGuire in every detail.

The Herald will to-morrow publish an interview with Emanuel Friend, counsel for Mrs. Augusta Nack, in which he states that Mrs. Nack has made a full confession and will to-morrow go on the witness stand against Martin Thorn. Mr. Friend declined to give out the particulars of the confession.

The Herald further says:

The story that Mrs. Nack has told and that she will be called upon to repeat to the jury, is full of dramatic interest. She has described at great length her life with Guldensuppe in the little flat on Ninth-avenue, near 34th-street. She quarreled with him frequently after Thorn appeared upon the scene. Guldensuppe was violent and abusive, and to rid themselves of him she and Thorn determined to kill him. She induced him to go to the outside to inspect a cottage which she had hired, as she told him, to conduct her business as a midwife. She sent him upstairs alone, and when she heard shots she knew that Thorn had carried out his promise.

The greatest difficulty was to obliterate the traces of murder. The only plan that appeared safe and sure was to cut up the remains into fragments small enough to be carted away without suspicion. When the packages had been prepared, Mrs. Nack and Thorn hired a surrey in this city and drove to Woodside. They threw some of their bundles into the East River, but were then frightened by the approach of deckhands on the ferry boat, and they drove on until they found an unfrequented spot to leave what remained. The discovery of the body was followed within a few days by her arrest.

Paper Pillows.

Paper pillows are a recent invention. The paper is torn into very small pieces, and then put into a pillowsack of drilling or light ticking. The pillows are very cooling in hot weather, and are said to be superior to feather ones. Newspapers are not nice to use, as they have a disagreeable odor of printer's ink, but brown or white paper and old letters or envelopes are best. The finer the paper is cut or torn the lighter it makes the pillow.—Good Health.

AN INDIAN RISING.

Trouble Among the Regans In Assiniboia.

AN OUTBREAK FEARED AT ELKHORN.

The Death of Children Attending the Industrial School There, Who Were Attended by White Doctors Said to be the Cause of the Trouble—A Late Dispatch Says the Report is Untrue.

Winnipeg, Nov. 9.—(Special.)—A Qu'Appelle, Assa., despatch received by The Free Press to-night reads: "It is reported here on what seems good authority that a rising among the Piegan Indians is imminent. The trouble arises out of the belief that a number of children attending the Industrial School at Elkhorn have died while under the treatment of white doctors. It is feared an outbreak will occur at Elkhorn first, followed by a general uprising throughout the Territories. A young runner passed through on a visit to the reserves this morning. The trouble is said to be mostly among the young men."

Despatches from Regina and Elkhorn to-night say there is no truth in the reports of the Indian uprising. There are no Piegan Indians in the locality nearer than Saskatchewan.

In the Northwest Assembly at Regina yesterday Mr. J. H. Ross announced that Mr. Chalmers, who had been sent to make a rapid exploration of the country between Edmonton and Peace River, had just returned and had reported by telegraph that a good road was practicable from Fort Assiniboine to Peace River. The Government would, therefore, make arrangements for constructing such a road. This announcement was received with much cheering.

JURY PLEADED FOR MERCY

For Huton Although They Found Him Guilty of Killing His Son With the Shears.

Toronto, Nov. 10.—Yesterday James Huton, charged with killing his son, John C. Huton, was at the Criminal Assizes found guilty by the jury, with a "very, very strong recommendation to mercy."

James Huton, the accused, a man 63 years old, worked as a tailor with his son, John C. Huton, at 21 Richmond-street east. The wife of the latter also worked with them. Her story at the trial was that on Oct. 30, about 5 o'clock in the evening, the three were working, when a friend, James Black, went in. The son, John Huton, asked him to go for a pail of beer. While he was out the son told his father to hurry up with a piece of work, and the latter replied, "Go to ——!"

She was sewing at the machine, when she heard a scuffle, and, turning, she saw the old man stab her husband with the shears. He fell over on to one side and turned on his back, his arms stretched out and blood all over his guernsey. The old man went down, too, and she pulled him off, when the shears dropped out of his hand. She asked him what he had done, and was threatened with the same sauce. Then she ran out of the room.

Cross-examined by T. C. Robinette, Mrs. Huton, jr., told a story showing that her husband has often thrashed and abused his father, and had even struck her, when she interfered to protect her father-in-law.

The jury were out about an hour, and returned with the verdict of guilty and a strong recommendation to mercy. Huton showed a few signs of emotion, passing his hand over his eyes and shedding a few tears. Then he pulled himself together and walked out of court as one who is glad that a severe ordeal is over. He will be sentenced most probably on Saturday.

Dead Man Not Yet Identified.

The body of the man found in the bay on Monday remains in the morgue still unidentified, although many morbidly curious people visited the dead house yesterday and viewed it.

Coroner Young has withdrawn his warrant for the inquest which was to have taken place this afternoon.

The grand jury, after many hours' deliberation, threw out the bill for murder against Dr. W. E. Bessey, and found one for abortion. The case will come on to-day.

MARKLE LOST HIS THUMB.

The Catcher of the Hespeler Baseball Club Met With a Misfortune.

Hespeler, Ont., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Gilbert Markle, an assistant engineer in the R. Forbes Company's big woollen mills here, had the thumb of his left hand cut off at noon to-day, while running the engine in the absence of the regular engineer. The air valve in the dash pot refused to work properly, and Markle put his hand on the suction spring to move it.

Mr. Sifton a Tourist.

Kaslo, B.C., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—Hon. Mr. Sifton arrived here last evening and was received at the station of the Kaslo & Slocan Railway by a large crowd of citizens and accompanied to the hotel by a torchlight procession. Here the Minister made a speech, in which he declared it to be the policy of the Government to promote an all-Canadian route to the Yukon, which sentiment was cheered. The reception was very hearty. Mr. Sifton left this afternoon by boat for Nelson, where he will spend all to-morrow.

Almost Distracted

Dreadful Suffering by a Newmarket Woman.

The Bones in the Nose Affected—Face Would Swell Until Her Eyes Were Closed—How Relieved.

NEWMARKET, ONT.—"I have had a good opportunity of noting the great medicinal powers of Hood's Sarsaparilla. My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years, and the disease had gone so far that the bones of the nose had become affected and particles had come away through an opening in the left side. Her eyesight was also affected to the extent that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered and at times was almost distracted. She was treated by four different doctors, one of whom was a specialist. They all said they could not do anything for her, as the disease had gone too far. Her nose would swell about every three days until her eyes would almost be closed. Then it would break through and the swelling would subside for a day or two. About Christmas she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has not been troubled with any swelling since, and the sore on the side of the nose has all healed. She is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it to any person who is suffering with catarrh." W. H. FURSIER.

Severe Pains in the Head

EDITORIAL NOTES.

MONTREAL'S foreign trade was over two million dollars greater in the month of October than in the corresponding month last year. The Liberal Government, remarks the Montreal Herald, is making producers, consumers, exporters and importers all rich.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Mail and Empire writes of the "underlying principles" of the great Conservative party. What these under-lying principles are is not very clear, but the public can gather a fairly correct idea of the over-lying principles of the party in this province from the campaign speeches of the Opposition.

YESTERDAY, Nov. 9th, was the fifty-sixth anniversary of the birth of Albert Edward Prince of Wales. Of the seventeen Princes of Wales, but one has borne the office, previous to resigning, so long as Albert Edward. But George IV during his fifty-eight years was Regent for some years, so that in fact the present successor of Edward of Carnarvon holds the "record," and only fourteen of the sovereigns of England and Great Britain have exceeded his years—fifty-six yesterday—at the time of their death.

RUDYARD KIPLING is, it seems, responsible for the fall of the great winter carnival. His "Lady of the Snows" aroused Canadians to the absurdity of calling public attention in an especial manner to the wholesome vigour of two or three of our winter months, through winter carnivals. The newspapers of Montreal and Ottawa have thrown cold water, in fact, ice water, upon proposals for winter carnivals for the coming winter. While our crisp, bracing winter prepares us for a proper appreciation of the beauty of our sudden spring, it is perhaps desirable that the shivery features of our climate, delightful as they are in their proper place, should not be placed more strongly in evidence than the course of nature calls for. We must defer to the prejudices of our British cousins who, accustomed to smother half the year in an atmosphere of fusty fog, and in their insular prejudice and ignorance, object to the jolly pastimes of a Canadian winter of clear air, crisp frost, and inexpressibly delightful enjoyment.

CANADA AND THE DEAD MEAT TRADE.

OPINIONS OF MR. JOHN I. HOBSON, OF GUELPH.

A Permanent Supply of the Very Best Products Required for the English Market.

Mr. John I. Hobson, of Guelph, president of the Dominion Cattle-Breeders' Association, reached Toronto after a tour of some months through Scotland and England. Mr. Hobson is one of the most successful breeders of stock in Canada, and is much respected in the community. He is a remarkably well-informed man, and endowed with a quick intelligence and keen powers of observation—qualities which he has exerted in the past to the great advancement of the cattle interest in this country. During his absence in Great Britain Mr. Hobson enjoyed exceptional opportunities of noting the prospects of developing Canada's dead meat trade and accumulated considerable information of interest to stock raisers, which he will impart to them through the medium of the societies with which he is connected as soon as the occasion offers.

In and interview with a Mail and Empire reporter Mr. Hobson spoke in a general way upon the prospects of obtaining a larger share of the English Market for Canadian meat products.

A QUESTION OF QUALITY.

"First of all," Mr. Hobson observed, "let me say that there is not the slightest prejudice or feeling against Canadian meat products. It is simply a question of quality. The English people have developed an exceedingly fine taste in the matter of food products. If we can supply them with products which come up to the English standard of quality and are equally as good as the domestic products, we shall be able to obtain just as satisfactory prices as the home producers.

"English consumers have acquired a liking for the very best of American hindquarters of beef. The quality suits them, and the supply is uninterrupted. The difficulties in the way of creating a demand for Canadian beef are the irregularity in supplying a really good article, and a want of uniformity in the quality. There is no better beef to be had anywhere than the best Canadian. We know that, and I do not doubt the English people are beginning to realize it too. But before the retailer can be induced to work up a demand for the best Canadian beef he has to be convinced that there will be no difficulty in obtaining a requisite supply of the right article. In order to place the Canadian meat trade on a solid and substatial basis it is above all things requisite that there should be a permanent supply of a really first-class article.

THE RIGHT KIND OF CATTLE.

"The kind of cattle we want for the English market are well bred and well finished animals. One advantage the Americans enjoy over Canadians is that they use a larger proportion of fore-quarters at home, the demand being poorer in England in the summer months, and the prices relatively lower, for this class of meat. If we could find a way of utilizing a larger percentage of the fore quarters in this country our stockmen would derive a greater amount of profit than they do at present.

"It is a difficult matter to understand why Canadian stock men do not finish their cattle better than they do, or why Americans find it profitable to visit Toronto market, buy tens and thousands of cattle, take them to the United States and finish them, and then ship them to the English market. I repeat, there is absolute necessity for greater attention in breeding suitable animals and sending only the best to the markets of the Mother Country."

A DEAD MEAT BUSINESS.

"Is it your opinion that Canada will find it most profitable to go in for exporting dead meat?"

"That is the tendency at the present time—towards a dead meat business allied with cold storage. The meat from cold storage compartments is actually in better condition for putting on the market than that from cattle which have been slaughtered alive at Liverpool and Deptford. In England they do not use meat freshly slaughtered, as we do. They prefer it after it has been in the cold storage department for about eight or ten days."

AUSTRALIA LEADS IN MUTTON.

"Is there any chance for Canadian mutton in England?"

"I do not think that Canada can compete with other countries in the matter of mutton. I was shown in the Metropolitan meat market—the greatest meat market in the world—some New Zealand mutton in the carcase. It was as good as any mutton of the same class that could be got, had come out of cold storage in prime condition, and was sold to the retail dealers by the carcass at 3½d. per pound. Neither the Australian nor Canadian mutton will compare in quality with the English or Scotch, but for all practical purposes the workingman can get supplied with really good Australian mutton at surprisingly low prices. I do not think there is much use in our trying to compete with our Australian neighbors in the matter of mutton, but we should rather concentrate our efforts along other lines."

NEWS FROM ST. KITTS.

E. J. Musson, jr., Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills—He was Bedridden for Months and his Strength was Sapped by Diabetes—He Found his Cure in Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

HERE'S A FINE ELECTION CRY.

AND A MIGHTY GOOD THING FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Important Change in the Curriculum to be Made—Agriculture in the Country, Mechanics in the City.

Toronto Star.

It has been learned on pretty definite information that soon there will be quite a decided change in the public school system in Ontario.

The change will be in the curriculum of the schools and branches hitherto untaught will be introduced into the schools of the province. The change will be in the form of the practical.

In country schools agriculture will be taught, not the smattering of agriculture which is imparted in an indifferent way as an optional subject as it is at present, but a thorough, scientific course in technical agriculture.

In city schools more technical work will be taken up. In fact, an amount of thorough mechanical education is to be supplied.

For some time Hon. G. W. Ross has been contemplating this innovation. His numerous visits to the various schools in the United States had this object in view. Mr. Ross, I am told, was well pleased with his observations, and will inaugurate a thorough change almost immediately.

Baby Eczema and Scald Head.

Infants and young children are peculiarly subject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. Dr. Chase made a special study of Eczema and disease of the skin, and we can confidently recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment to cure all forms of Eczema. The first application soothes the irritation and gives the little sufferer rest.

Can't You Sleep?

Sleeplessness is one of the most frequent symptoms of heart and nerve troubles. It affects all classes and all ages. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restore the nerves to healthy action and regulate the heart. Mr. Miles Boone, Frederickton, N.B., tells how they work. "I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. These pills gave me almost immediate relief, giving me healthful, refreshing sleep, and I am now strong and well."

LORD MAYOR'S SHOW

An Immense Crowd Witnesses the Procession.

LORD SALISBURY ON FOREIGN POLICY.

His Speech at the Guildhall Deals With British Interests in West Africa—Her Rights There Must Not Be Over-Ridden His Lordship on Eastern Questions.

London, Nov. 9. In spite of a thick drizzle and a heavy fog, the ancient custom of presenting the elected chief magistrate of London to the representatives of the sovereign and to the people was observed to-day with success. Throngs of people lined the route and decorations were more ambitious than usual. They consisted mainly of triumphal arches, Venetian masts, floral festoons and a liberal display of bunting. But, in spite of the weather, a more stirring proof of the popularity of London's yearly pageant known as the Lord Mayor's procession has not been given in a long time, due very largely to the conspicuously brilliant year of office of the retiring chief magistrate, the Right Honorable Sir George Faudel Phillips, Bart., K. C. C. I. E. Even the Radical critics, who annually protest against the existence of the corporation of London within the area dominated by the County Council, had nothing but praise to-day for the altogether admirable official career of Lord Mayor Phillips, which has given the quietus for years to come to any attempt to abolish the corporation. It was not surprising, therefore, that the procession passed through dense masses of cheering people, while windows, balconies and roofs were utilized to a surprising degree and the larger open places, such as Trafalgar-square, were crowded to their utmost capacity.

GUILDHALL BANQUET.

Lord Salisbury Explains Things in a Way Which France Cannot Mistake.

London, Nov. 9.—The brilliancy of the gathering at the Lord Mayor's banquet at the Guildhall this evening was somewhat marred by the tokens of mourning for Her Royal Highness the late Duchess of Teck. A majority of the ladies present wore gowns of black or dark gray.

The entrance of the Marquis of Salisbury, the Prime Minister, and Mr. Arthur Balfour, the First Lord of the Treasury, was the signal for loud applause, but the reception tendered the foreign diplomats was of the tamest character, as compared with the enthusiasm which last year greeted the then Ambassador of the United States, Mr. Thomas F. Bayard.

After the usual loyal and formal toasts, the Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, responded for the "Army." In the course of his speech he eulogized "the gallant work being done on our Indian frontier, especially by the troops of those native rulers who have long wished to stand shoulder to shoulder with us." He then proceeded to point out the necessity of an increase of the army to meet "the requirements of Imperial expansion."

The Marquis of Salisbury, on rising, was greeted with several minutes of continuous cheering. He began by deploring the engineers' dispute, which, he said, "involves the future prosperity or disaster of the country," but added that he was glad to say there was a "renewed prospect that the Board of Trade's intervention would prove successful." His Lordship read a telegram from the Queen, asking him to express how deeply Her Majesty felt the marvelous display of loyalty to the Crown and to her person at the Diamond Jubilee festivities.

After referring to the conduct of the troops on the Indian frontier, in terms similar to those used by the Marquis of Lansdowne, and warmly praising the conduct of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition in the Soudan campaign, the Premier came to the leading passage in his speech, introducing the tangled question of the Niger, and the conflicting claims and interests of Great Britain and France in that section of West Africa. He said: "It might not achieve the general conciliatory process desired if I entered frankly into all the negotiations between the powers respecting Africa. We are all aware of the great extent of territory cast loose during the last twenty years in Africa, and put up as the object of acquisition for several enterprising Governors. The negotiations that are proceeding will possibly continue a long time. We desire that territory to be governed on strict principles of right, and with a constant regard to its prosperity and to the interests of the Empire. We do not desire unjust and illegitimate achievements, and we do not wish to take territory simply because it would look well to paint red on the map.

"Our objects are strictly business. We wish to extend commerce, trade, industry and civilization, to throw open as many markets as possible and to bring together as many consumers and producers as possible, and to open the great natural highways and waterways of the continent. We wish trade to pursue an unchecked course on the Niger, the Nile and the Zambesi, and, in doing these things, while we wish to behave in a neighborly manner, and to show due consideration for the feelings and claims of others, we are obliged to say that there is a limit to the exercise of this particular set of feelings, and we cannot allow our plain rights to be overridden." [Prolonged applause.]

His Lordship then passed on to speak of the situation in the east. He said the history of the past year was that the European concert had failed to prevent Greece from going to war, but had succeeded in preserving the peace of Europe. It was, he submitted, a great and praiseworthy achievement, for the concert to avert that calamity. He continued:

"Had the concert exerted all its force to prevent Greece from going to war, the responsibility might have rested upon it of erasing Greece from the map."

With reference to the Cretan question, His Lordship observed that this was still unsettled, but added:

"The concert of Europe is like a steam roller, with great power, but little speed."

In concluding his speech, Lord Salisbury said:

"One hope we have of preventing the competition of armaments among European powers ending in a terrible effort for mutual destruction fatal to civilization, is that the powers may gradually be brought to act together in a friendly spirit as to all questions that may arise, until at last they shall be welded in some international construction, which will give the world, as the result of their great strength, a long spell of unfettered commerce, prosperous trade and continual peace."

Among the guests was the Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian Minister of Finance.

A DENIAL FROM ROME.

A School Statement Seems to Have Been Manufactured by Somebody to Knock Down.

Rome, Nov. 9.—The Vatican officially contradicts to-day the published report that the forthcoming Papal encyclical on the subject of the Manitoba school question would undertake to accept the compromise suggested by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Premier of Canada, namely, neutral schools, with religious instruction after school hours only.

THE POPE IN POLITICS.

His Holiness Will, it is Said, Participate in Elections in France.

Rome, Nov. 9.—The official journal of the Vatican recently declared that the Pope would seize every occasion to re-unite all Frenchmen on a constitutional basis in the interests of religion and society, the declaration having been brought out by a report that His Holiness intended to participate in future elections in France.

In pursuance of this intention, the Pope has despatched two special agents to convey instructions to the French electors, enjoining them to frankly accept the republic, and to oppose monarchical aspirations in the approaching elections.

AN INSOLVENCY LAW

Is One of the Things Needed in Canada to Help Trade With Britain.

London, Nov. 9.—(Montreal Star Cable.)—Hon. W. S. Fielding expects to sail on the Parisian, Nov. 18. He says there is no truth in the published statement that his visit to England is in any way concerned with the military defences of Canada. The Finance Minister is impressed with the importance of the British demand for an effective insolvency law. It is the one remaining obstacle to a greater Anglo-Canadian trade.

Comment is aroused here to-day among Canadians, who saw that in the Lord Mayor's show, despite the outcry against Kipling's "Our Lady of the Snows," Canada is represented on the Greater Britain car by a snowshoer, in heavy furs. It is remarked that Cecil Rhodes is represented among the founders of Greater Britain. Why not Sir John A. Macdonald?

Crispi Won This Time.

Rome, Nov. 9.—The Court of Cassation has nullified the action of the Judiciary Council, which in June last rejected the demand made by ex-Premier Crispi that the charges against him in connection with the Bank of Naples scandal be tried by the Senate, and directed that he should be prosecuted by the ordinary courts of justice.

Signor Crispi appealed from this decision to the Court of Cassation, which has just decided in his favor, declaring that he cannot be tried in the ordinary courts. The procedure of the Senate in the case of Signor Crispi now depends upon political considerations.

Duchess of Teck Made No Will.

London, Nov. 9.—The Duchess of Teck, whose death occurred on Oct. 27, from heart failure, following a surgical operation, died intestate. Her possessions will probably have to be sold at auction. What is left after her debts are paid will go to her husband. It is expected that he will receive very little.

RICHER THAN KLONDIKE.

Is the Strike Made by J. D. Ellis, of Niagara Falls—Costs Less and Gives Greater Returns Than Does Gold Mining on the Yukon.

Niagara Falls, Ont. Nov. 8—James D. Ellis, of this place, is convinced that he has made a richer strike than has any owner or prospector in the Klondike gold region. He is confident that the returns for his investment are better than can be got on the Yukon and that the lead will never play out. And thousands of persons on this continent heartily agree with him. Here is his story: "I have, for six years, suffered intensely from diabetes. I felt that I could hardly get along, but could get no relief. In despair I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was amazed at the benefit it gave. I have used three boxes, and am perfectly cured."

One Laxa-Liver Pills every night for thirty days marked a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

Fairly Staggered.

Mr. Samuel Humphries, retired carriage manufacturer, Strathroy, Ont., says: "For a long time I have had kidney trouble and pain in the back. I could not straighten up and often had to sit down until the pain and weakness went away. I have taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and must say they are a great kidney medicine, because they have entirely removed all pain from my back, curing the urinary difficulties and benefitting my general health in a remarkable degree."

THE KURRAM COLUMN

Loses a Native Officer and 35 Sikhs Who Were Intercepted and Slaughtered.

Simla, Nov. 9.—The report that a native officer and 35 Sikhs belonging to the Kurram column had been intercepted by tribesmen in a ravine and slaughtered is officially confirmed. It appears that they were assisting in a reconnaisance up the Kurmana River. Taking a short cut down hill, they came to a ravine, where the grass of the jungle was burning. The flames spread so rapidly as to completely cut off their retreat, and the tribesmen, seeing their predicament, swarmed on the higher ground, hurled down rocks upon them and closed round the men until the whole 36 were shot or cut down. The Sikhs fought heroically until the very last, their officer killing two rebel chiefs with his own hands before he fell.

Victoria Cross for Bravery.

London, Nov. 9.—The Gazette announces that the Victoria Cross has been conferred upon Lieut. Adams and Lieut. Fincastle for their gallant attempt to rescue Lieut. Graves of the Lancashire Fusiliers, who was killed during an engagement between the troops of General Sir Bindon Blood and the tribesmen in the Swat Valley on Aug. 17 last, and also upon Lieut. Costello for a successful rescue during an engagement at Malakand last July.

SIR WILFRID AT WASHINGTON.

Quartered at the Shoreham Hotel—Declined to be Interviewed

Washington, D. C., Nov. 9.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and party arrived here at 4 o'clock to-day and took quarters at the Shoreham. The members of the party are Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, Sir Louis and Lady Davies, Miss Ethel Davies, Prof. J. M. Macoun, Mr. R. M. Venning, Mr. R. Boudreau and Mr. E. B. Williams.

Sir Wilfrid asked to be excused to all interviewers. During the evening Prof. Thompson, the British seal expert, called on the Premier and his assistants. The British Ambassador and his staff will call to-morrow morning, and at 11 o'clock the Ambassador will escort Sir Wilfrid and Sir Louis to the White House for a call of courtesy.

New Racing Cutter for the Prince.

Glasgow, Nov. 9.—The Hendersons have booked an order for an 80-ton racing cutter for the Prince of Wales, who has just sold his yacht Britannia to Mr. John L. Johnstone of Kingwood, Kent. The designs of the new yacht were drawn by George L. Watson, and it is believed she will be of the type of Bona, the cutter of the Duke of Abruzzi, nephew of the King of Italy. The Prince has retained the services of Capt. Carter, the late commander of the Britannia.

The Grand Trunk Blamed.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 9.—At the Inquest over the death of Dr. Wray at Lansdowne, the jury rendered a verdict declaring that the collision of the trains would have been prevented by an operator being stationed at Lansdowne. The Grand Trunk Company was held criminally negligent in not supplying sufficient help to manage their trains. R. F. Bicknell, the injured man, may not recover.

Prince of Wales' Birthday.

London, Nov. 9.—The birthday of the Prince of Wales was celebrated to-day with the usual flag hoisting, bell ringing and artillery salutes. He was born Nov. 9, 1841.

Millinery.

The Millinery Season is now at its height. The styles have reached their full development. The ripened fruit of our best Millinery efforts is now laid before you in assortments that any store may justly be proud of, and at prices that are enticingly low. We can satisfy your every possible want, for there is practically nothing really desirable in the Millinery world that you will not find on our tables. We are now offering some values that fairly sparkle with attractiveness, establishing in many cases a new standard of prices, which are unapproachable elsewhere. We are impregnable in our fortress of prices. If others meet our prices they do not come up to our quality.

Revival Services.

The revival services in the Mark street Methodist church are taking a strong hold upon the people. On Sunday evening the church was crowded, and several persons evinced a desire to flee from the wrath to come. Rev. A. L. Sager, of Penfield, Pa., is visiting his relatives here and has ably assisted the Rev. Mr. Moore for a few evenings.

Mr. Moody's Book.

It will be remembered that at Mr. Moody's closing meeting he took the names of a number who wished to receive a free copy of his book, "The Way to God." After some delay they have arrived and the secretary of the Y.M.C.A. would be pleased to have all who are entitled to them call at his office to get them.

Another Feather in His Hat.

Some time ago the readers of THE EXAMINER might have noticed that Mr. S. R. Since then Mrs. Payne has presented him with a pretty pair of baby boys that are well worthy of another red ticket, and he may now put another feather in his hat.

Fine Scenic Effects.

The presentation of Lincoln Carter's latest play, "Under the Dome," the Bradburn Opera House last night, was without doubt the premier attraction of the season so far. The company was well balanced throughout, and the scenic effects were by far the finest ever scene here. Three scenes in particular deserve especial mention—that in which the Hoboken ferry boat is approaching New York at night, when the lights of the city grow more and more distinct as the boat approaches; that of the representation of three ships of war in Apia harbour, firing their salutes at intervals, and that of the awful and historical storm scene in the same harbour at Samoa.

THE LATE THOMAS BROOKS.

The Religious Services at the Residence — The Remains Removed to Meriden for Interment.

Last night at the family residence a solemn religious service was held, preliminary to the removal of the remains of Mr. Brooks to the station this morning for conveyance to Meriden, Con., the place of interment. There was a large gathering assembled. The service was conducted by Rev. D. O. Crossley, Rev. Dr. Torrance offering prayer. Rev. Mr. Crossley gave a very appropriate and sympathetic address. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful and included the following:—Pillow from employees of Lock Works, pillow from Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stenson; spray from Junior Endeavour Society of Charlotte street Methodist church; bower from Sunday School and Endeavour Society of Charlotte street Methodist church; cross from Ladies' Aid Society; anchor from the Locke Works Company; anchor from Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Cox; wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Cox.

This morning the funeral took place to the C. P. R. station. The employees of the Lock Works formed in procession at the residence and marched in a body to the station. A number of citizens also showed their respect for the deceased and family by joining the procession. The pall bearers were Messrs. M. Riley, Anthony Buxton, Thos. Fortye, Aaron Cox, J. R. Stratton and E. B. Stone. In addition to the members of the family the remains were accompanied on the sad journey by Mr. M. Riley.

ALMOST RUN DOWN.

Mr. Jas. Stubbs has a Narrow Escape From Being Hurt.

City Lodge, I. O. G. T., came very near losing the services of its Chief Templar this morning, as Mr. James Stubbs had a hairbreadth escape from a very serious accident.

He was walking north on George street and was just in the centre of the Hunter street crossing when a runaway horse came dashing down from the direction of the post office and almost ran him down. Mr. Stubbs was looking in the opposite direction at the time and never noticed the horse until it was almost on top of him. He stepped back just in time to save himself and the escape was indeed a hairbreadth one, as the animal was close enough to touch him. It belonged to Mr. Robert Gibbs and was taking a morning frolic on the streets, having slipped his halter.

—Extraordinary assertions continue to be made as to the ability of Dr. Emmens to transform silver into gold by means of a mechanical treatment. A London paper says that Dr. Emmen's results have been verified by well known English chemists, and about three weeks ago M. Tiffereau, the famous French chemist, endorsed the conclusion. Dr. Emmens is now preparing a machine for subjecting silver to a pressure of 8,000 tons per square inch, and hopes to produce 50,000 ounces of gold per month. He is also experimenting as to the transmutation of other metals into one another.

—Recently Mr. A. P. Poe, Cobourg's town treasurer, took a walk through the eastern portion of the town in search of suitable stone for street purposes. During his walk he came across some 21 lots that assessors have failed to assess for the past 20 years. The lots were once used to pile quarried stone on which was to be used for street purposes. Instead of assessing them and remitting the taxes they were dropped from the assessment roll and the lots have consequently been overlooked. If succeeding assessors had been in the habit of taking a plan of the town, and proving their roll by comparison with the plan such a bungle would have been detected long ago.

—Farmers who keep large sums of money in their lonely rural homes should take warning by what befell one of their number in New York state recently. His wife had $1,000 in money locked in her trunk for safety. One day a tramp came along begging for food and work. The good farmer and his wife pitied the poor starved tramp. They bought him a new suit of clothes. They hired him to work and treated him as one of the family. They were kind-hearted people this couple. One morning the family went out early on business. The poor tramp came into the house, knocked the mistress of it down and bound and gagged her and threw a bag of apples upon her back. She was seventy-two years old, this woman who had been so kind to the stranger. Then the man whom the farm people had helped broke open the aged lady's trunk, took her $1,000 and made off with it.

KILLED BY A FALLING TREE.

GEORGE SMITH, OF HARVEY, WAS THE VICTIM.

He was Returning From the Pasture Field With the Cows When he was Suddenly Struck Down.

The township of Harvey was robbed of one of its most respected citizens yesterday, when Mr. George Smith was fatally injured, through a large tree falling on him when he was returning from the pasture field.

Mr. Smith resides on lot 4, concession 15, of Harvey, and, accompanied by his dog, left home to hunt up some young cattle which had strayed yesterday afternoon. The cattle came to the barn without him and a few minutes afterwards the dog rushed to the house in a fearful state of excitement. It turned and ran out the lane again and as no one followed it ran back again more excited than before. This alarmed the family and the lane leading to the pasture field was hastily followed. Mr. Smith was found lying on the side of the path partially unconscious and almost covered by the falling snow. On being assisted to his feet he explained that a heavy tree which lay across the road a few yards distant had struck him a glancing blow on the head as it fell; that he had tried to get to the house but his strength had given out. He was unable to walk any distance and asked that his brother John and the boys be sent for. They were quickly summoned and the injured man was placed on a sleigh and taken to the house.

He did not complain of being very badly hurt. No great danger was feared and a doctor was not summoned, but when his head was being bathed Mr. Smith suddenly expired. Although his head felt sore, it was not badly cut, but his heart seemed to trouble him the most. His brother had just raised him in his arms in order that the cut might be dressed when he died.

The tree was a rotten one, which had been decaying for years and it is thought the extra weight of the snow, combined with the high wind, was sufficient to cause it to fall.

The deceased was one of the best known and most respected residents of Harvey. He was fifty-seven years of age and leaves a widow and seven children, the youngest of which is quite young.

A NEW BUILDING.

An Iron Power House Being Erected for the Electric Works.

The Canadian General Electric Company is erecting another large building and the foundations are already under way.

The building will be of iron, 40 x 60 feet in size, and will be used as a power house. The present power house is too far removed from the other buildings, and it as is desirable to have one at the centre of distribution and adjacent to the departments using power, a new and more permanent edifice is to be erected for the accommodation of generators, boilers and big engines.

There is also another reason which calls for the erection of the new building. The company is putting in a system of automatic sprinklers in order to lessen the liability of fire and consequently reduce the insurance rate These sprinklers, which are now in use at the Auburn Mills, are so arranged that when the temperature of any apartment is raised to a certain degree, indicating danger from fire, the sprinklers operate automatically and flood the premises effected and special engines are needed for the system.

The company will also erect a reservoir or a series of tanks capable of holding several million gallons in order that there may be more than one source of supply in case of the waterworks being incapacitated at the time of an outbreak of fire.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL VACANCY.

It Will be Filled at the Coming Municipal Elections.

The much lamented death of Mr. John Moloney, one of the representatives of the Lakefield division in the County Council creates a vacancy in that body. There will, however, be no bye-election, properly so called, to fill the vacancy. The County Council Act of 1896 provides that in case of a vacancy occurring before the annual June session of the County Council an election shall be held, if there is time before the session, if not, the election is postponed till the following annual municipal election, when the same procedure will be followed generally as in the case of the biennial election for County Councillors. The same applies to vacancies arising after the June election. Therefore, the election to fill the place of Mr. Moloney in the Lakefield division will be held at the next annual municipal election. So far as is now known, no names of candidates have been formally announced, though it is probable that there will be two or more candidates placed in the field.

Gentlemen, Does Your Bald Head Make You Susceptible to Cold?

Just think of how quickly the lost hair can be replaced. Prof. Dorenwend can do it in five minutes, and do it so perfectly that no falseness is recognizable. Leading citizens everywhere are wearing them and none would be without them. If you are partly or wholly bald, you are making a big mistake if you neglect to get one of these Art Hair Coverings. They are not to be compared to the old fashioned wigs that some would-be wig makers construct. Prof. Dorenwend's skill in this line is unprecedented, and he invites you to call for a practical demonstration at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Wednesday, Nov. 17th. 6d2w

MARRIED IN THE WEST.

Dr. Hilliard Wasson, Formerly of Town, Wedded Recently.

The Oakland Saturday Night of Oct. 23rd, contains the following reference to the wedding of Dr. Hilliard Wasson, brother of Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, and Mr. E. Wasson, of town:

"A very charming home wedding took place last Wednesday, at Linda Vista, when Miss Ethel Harte Wyman was married to Doctor Hilliard Wasson, at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. J. Taylor, of Linda Vista. The decorations were extremely pretty, the bridal party standing in an exquisite arch of pink and white cosmos,—while the colour scheme generally was in pink and white.

The bride is a very beautiful girl, and made a specially pretty picture in a handsome gown of white silk; she carried a bouquet of white roses. Her little niece, Miss Margaret Taylor, the bridesmaid was also gowned in white, carrying a bouquet of pink roses. A wedding breakfast was served, and with the bridal party were only a few old friends of the family—among others, Mr. and Mrs. A.P. Brayton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Percy, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Munson, Mr. and Mrs. John Gilcrest, Mrs. Emma Shafter Howard.

The groom, a very successful young physician, being stationed at present at the Wellington coal mines, Nanaimo.

The bride is a niece of Brete Harte, for whom she is named, and the youngest daughter in the Wyman family, once so prominent in the social history of Oakland.

The wedding was extremely pretty, and the bride and groom take away with them best wishes and sincere congratulations from many warm friends."

Hilliard has many friends in Peterborough who will extend congratulations.

A DOUBLE WEDDING

Celebrated in Ennismore on Tuesday Morning by Rev. Father McColl.

Two very pretty weddings were celebrated at Ennismore on Nov. 9th, when two charming daughters of Mr. Jas. Scollard were united in the holy bonds of wedlock—Miss Clara, until lately organist of the parish church, to Mr. John Flood, and Miss Ellen Jane to Mr. William Cavanagh.

Both young men are residents of this township.

The first named couple were attended at the altar by Mr. Frank Scollard, brother of the bride, and Miss Katie McPherson, of Peterborough; the latter by Mr. Thos. Cavanagh and Miss Katie Scollard.

The bridal parties arrived at the church at 9 a. m., where the marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McColl, parish priest, who immediately afterwards celebrated mass for the happy couples, at which they were given the nuptial blessing and received Holy Communion.

Many friends accompanied them to the church to witness the sacred rite, and pray for their future happiness and prosperity.

All then repaired, amidst the congratulations of those present, to the house of the brides' father to partake of the sumptuous dinner there prepared for them.

The both brides were modestly attired in very neat but appropriate costumes. These two young ladies are among Ennismore's fair daughters, while their husbands are very highly respected and esteemed by the whole community.

Much happiness and prosperity are prophesied for the two young couples.

WEDDING BELLS.

Nuptials of Miss Annie Platt and Mr. Wm. McColl.

The wedding took place on Wednesday last of Miss Annie Platt and Mr. Wm. McColl, at the residence of the groom's father Mr. J. A. McColl, Lasswade.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Radcliff, the bride being assisted by Miss Maud Dingman, and the groom by his brother, Mr. A. McColl.

The bride, who is most highly esteemed by all who know her, was most beautifully costumed for the occasion.

Their friends express the hope that the married life of Mr. and Mrs. McColl may be as cloudless and sunny as the day on which the ceremony was performed.

THE LATE REV. JOHN EWING.

Death of a Venerable Minister of the Presbyterian Church.

On Tuesday, Nov. 9th, Rev. John Ewing, of Mount Pleasant, passed away from the labours of the church militant to the victory of the church triumphant. The deceased minister was for a period of forty-four years minister of the Mount Pleasant, Bethany and Omemee charge. He was a native of County Antrim, Ireland, where he was born about seventy-five years ago. He was minister of a charge and married the first time before he came to Canada, which he did 44 years ago. On his arrival he received a call to the charge of what was then known as Emily, which included Mount Pleasant, Bethany and Omemee. He was minister of that charge up to about four years ago, whe the infirmities of age caused his resignation. During his pastorate Lakevale was substituted for Bethany as part of his charge, the former place wishing to separate from Springville about 1870, when that charge was vacant. Rev. Mr. Ewing was a man of first rate abilities, and he possessed that thoroughness of education characteristic of graduates of the Old Country universities. He was a sound and able preacher, his discourses being marked by the thought and solidity of the old school and by sound doctrine and lucid exposition. He was very much beloved and esteemed as a faithful and affectionate shepherd of his flock. He was a man of sterling integrity of character and principles, and was a strong Liberal in politics. Mr. Ewing was married three times. By his first marriage he had one son and two daughters; by his second one son, and he leaves behind him a widow and one son. About four years ago he resigned his charge, but still retained his connection with the Presbytery of Peterborough, whose meetings he attended as often as it was possible to do. He was however, able to preach occasionally, and with as much acceptance as in former years. He was regarded as one of the few ministers who could please all classes and tastes by his sermons. The funeral takes place to-morrow, at 2 o'clock, from Mount Pleasant. A conveyance will be at the Omemee station to meet the 8.30 train to convey members of Presbytery to Mount Pleasant.

A TIN WEDDING.

The Congregation of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Remember the 10th Anniversary of Their Wedding.

On the evening of the 4th inst., a number of the members and adherents of the Presbyterian church, Warsaw, quietly made their way to the manse. The pastor's wife, hearing the sound of voices, opened the door, and to her surprise saw quite a company of the congregation standing near, while others were wending their way up the hill leading to the manse. The visitors were invited to come into the manse, but the only response given to the invitation was to tell Mr. Hyde that his presence was required.

The summons was immediately obeyed. Mr. and Mrs. Hyde took their position at the western end of the manse, when lo, a strange and pleasant sight loomed in view. Four teams were attached to four grain waggons, heavily laden with all the necessaries of life, and each person carrying a basket or parcel in his or her hand. As the pastor, with his wife and family, stood gazing at the unexpected sight, they were suddenly informed that the members and adherents of the congregation intended to remind the pastor and his wife of the fact that this was the tenth year of their married life, and hence commonly called a tin wedding. Mrs. John Wason then stepped to the front, and with the aid of light reflected from a lantern, which one of the elders carried, read the following address:

DEAR MRS HYDE.—We, the members of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society, have decided, after much thought and prayer, to mark this, the tenth anniversary of your coming amongst us, by holding a donation party, and calling on the members and adherents of the church to join us, and to spend the evening in a social manner. We have long felt that we would like to express our hearty approval of your kind and Christian demeanor towards all, and under all and every circumstance, while your partner has left no opportunity unimproved that would tend to the building up of our church. We pray that he may long be spared to labour to advance the Master's kingdom in our midst as faithfully in the future as he has during the past eleven years of his work in our midst.

We all join in asking you both to accept these small free will offerings, which has brought us together this evening to offer you, also our company for the evening in social and friendly intercourse with one another.

Signed on behalf of the Ladies' Aid and Missionary Society.

(MRS.) JOHN WASON.

The pastor replied to the address, thanking the ladies for their kindly words and prayers, and also thanked the members and adherents for their kindly remembrances of himself and family on this the tenth anniversary of their married life, and trusted as they had invited themselves to the manse this evening they might enjoy themselves to their hearts' content, and that all may be the better of the evening's celebration. The company then entered the manse, when the ladies got to work and made all necessary preparations for the successful carrying out of the social and intellectual portion of the evening's entertainment. During the evening several members of the choir attended to the intellectual part of the entertainment, vocally and instrumentally. The company retired to their several homes about 11.15, highly pleased with the success of their plan, and left their pastor and his wife bewildered with their gifts, the cellar being well stocked with all kinds of vegetables and fruits, pickles, etc up a couple of turkeys, and the larder stocked with flour, tea, coffee, sugar, butter, etc.

ST. ANDREW'S Y. P. S. C. E.

The business meeting of St. Andrew's Y. P. S. C. E was largely attended Monday evening. The topic, "Influence," was ably exhausted by Mr. Gladman, he showing that influence is a power and if transmitted in the right direction, what a world of good we might all exert. He likened it to a rivulet on the mountain top, which, when it expands, becomes an immense river. So we who have this light imparted in us, God expects that we let it shine where we are, so that it will have a marked impression upon all with whom we come in contact.

A number of committees reported good work done during the month, showing a greater interest, and also that the society is in a thrifty condition. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Burnt Clay Roads.

The utilization of burnt clays as a road material is mentioned in the last Missouri Geological Report as the subject that should be fully discussed. Some of the railroads are already using burnt clay for ballast in preference to rock, sand or gravel, with good results, so that the extension of the use of this material for roadways is in reality beyond the experimental stage. Professor Wheeler says, in his report on clays, that while it is not so good as tough rock for the heavy traffic of cities, it would be desirable for country roads, where the teams are few and the loads light. It can be prepared wherever the clay is, and often by the roadside, and as the heaviest roads are those in clay soils these may be made to furnish the material for their own improvement.

Rheumatism & Dyspepsia Cured

571 ST. PATRICK STREET,
OTTAWA, July 31st, 1896.

To the Phrenoline Medicine Company, Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.

GENTLEMEN,—On the advice of a friend I tried one bottle of your famous rheumatic remedy, Phrenoline, and to my surprise it cured me of rheumatism, from which I have suffered for many years.

It also cured me of dyspepsia, from which I was suffering at the time, so that I feel now like a new man

I have tried several remedies for rheumatism, some of which did me a certain amount of good, but nothing that I have taken has done so much for me as your Phrenoline, and I have much pleasure in recommending it to other sufferers.

Yours very truly,

MEASURES BRAIN FORCE.

Various Emotions and the Degree of Intensity Indicated on a Disk.

In London there is in modest operation a hospital under the direction of Savary d'Ordiardi, a Frenchman who essays to cure many diseases which have been pronounced beyond human assistance. Until now but little has been heard of the man, but all accusations of charlatanism are eloquently answered by two medals he displays; one, the Medal of Honor awarded by the French Humane Society for "devotion to humanity," the other from the National Commission for National Rewards as a recognition of the "modest savant," the indefatigable worker and inventor.

A correspondent of St. Paul's visited the hospital, and what struck him as the most remarkable was the "cerebral force machine." It consisted of a pedestal upon which, under a glass bell, stood a metal disc, inscribed with degrees, over which was hung a sensitized needle, something the shape of a small hatchet. M. d'Ordiardi, says the correspondent, directed me to fix my eyes steadily on the point of the needle. It swung toward me, and then slowly swung back.

"Will, will strongly, to hold the needle facing you," said M. d'Ordiardi.

I did so. Once again the needle slowly swayed toward me, and for a brief moment I held it before me by force of will.

"To hold it thus for long requires strong concentration," said the professor. "It is an excellent exercise in strengthening the will, and I use it in mental diseases."

He went on to explain that, according to the temperament, the needle swayed either to or from the gazer. "Every emotion affects the needle," he said. "Love, hatred, joy and sorrow, it responds to and registers by different movements. Good-will draws it toward the gazer; ill-will repels it."

"Every cerebral radiation is registered by the needle, with or without the volition of the gazer, for, as you know, there is always unconscious cerebration. The condenser below the needle regulates its movements by absorbing all forces other than cerebral emanation. Idiots and persons addicted to drink or the taking of drugs hardly deflect the needle. The brain power has become paralyzed. Dr. Luys, in his photographic experiments, has also discovered that with such persons the emanations are feeble, or nil. I was glad to hear this as corroborative of my discovery. The first idea for this instrument came to me seven years ago, when studying the movements of a sensitized needle suspended to show earthquake oscillations. I noticed then that the needle would be deflected by the approach of an individual. The first instrument, which was on a much smaller scale, was presented to the French Academy of Sciences."

There are 12,000 cabs and 2500 omnibuses in London.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Nervousness, sleeplessness and pain harrass her and life seems hardly worth the living.

Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for ills distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favourite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood.

THE NULTY MURDERS.

The Prisoner Shows Signs of Remorse—The Detective Obtains Some Corroborative Evidence.

Rawdon, Que., Nov. 8. —(Special)—Detective McCaskill has been at work all day in the Nulty murder case, and he has succeeded in corroborating much of the confession of the young murderer. In the rough attic of the one-roomed house on the Nulty farm he found the shirt which Tom wore when he committed the dreadful crime. It had one or two spots of blood on the right wristband. The detective called on Miss Rosa Lesperance, granddaughter of Louis Beaudry, to whose home Nulty paid a visit on the night of the murder, as told in his confession. She denies, however, that she said to him that he looked dull, as he claimed. There is undoubtedly a feeling growing in this village that when Nulty is brought here to-morrow to the inquest he will meet with some trouble at the hands of a mob. McCaskill says however, that he will take good care that his man is handed over to the authorities to meet his punishment as the law demands. A wire just received from High Constable Levesque at Joliette says that he will arrive at 10 to-morrow morning with the prisoner.

Joliette, Nov. 9.—Yesterday afternoon Tom Nulty, the self-confessed murderer of his three sisters and brother, began to show the first real signs of remorse that he has manifested since his arrest. When he came forward to the door of the cage this afternoon his demeanor had changed from that of the morning and yesterday, and he is evidently just beginning to realize his act and his position.

"I am heart-broken," he said, in reply to a question, and he looked it, as he puffed quietly at the pipe which he had. Nulty still says he can give no explanation of his crime. The impulse came over him, and when it had passed the deed was committed. He now says he had no quarrel at all with his sisters and brothers.

There is comparatively little excitement here over the presence of the murderer, and no talk anywhere of lynching.

D. M. FRASER SHOT.

An Almonte Barrister Met With a Fatal Accident in the Woods.

Almonte, Ont., Nov. 8.—D. M. Fraser, barrister, and proprietor of a large knitting mill, was fatally shot on Saturday.

He, with a party from Almonte, was hunting at Burns' Lake, in the Township of Griffith, Renfrew County.

Mr. Fraser, having shot at a deer, which disappeared, got upon a log to be able to see farther, standing his gun on the log, holding it with his hand. The gun slipped off and the hammer, striking against the side of the log, discharged the ball, which passed through his arm near the elbow, shattering the bone.

After the accident Mr. Fraser walked nearly half a mile, to where Mr. A. Loggie of Hamilton was placed. Mr. Loggie then took him in a boat to a house across the lake, where medical aid was sent for.

Nothing more serious was thought of than, perhaps, the loss of the arm. When the doctor arrived, upon opening the bandages to examine the wound, Mr. Fraser fainted, and died in a few moments from heart failure.

He was 37 years of age and leaves a widow and four small children, a widowed mother and a sister.

He was a prominent Liberal in politics, and contested North Lanark against Joseph Jamieson in the Dominion elections of 1891.

A LOYAL SCHEME

Will be Subverted by the Beaver Line Contract The Gallia.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—(Special.)—Mr. D. W. Campbell of the Beaver Line was asked to-day if the steamers would land any freight at Halifax

"Have you made arrangements for new boats yet?"

"Yes, we will have the Gallia during the winter. We will arrange to have additional summer boats as soon as we need them, which I suppose will be in the spring."

WILL HELP ENGLISH STRIKERS.

Success of the Employers There Would Mean Death to Unionism Everywhere.

New York, Nov. 8.—The extension to Scotland and Ireland of the strike of the English engineers is looked upon as a serious affair by the unions in this country. Talk of an international strike has been indulged in again, and Delegate Johnstone of the Amalgamated Engineers, in making a report to the Central Labor Union yesterday, said that if the British strike failed it would be a death blow to trades unions everywhere. He made a strong appeal for aid for the strikers, and asked for the seal of the C. L. U. for the purpose of collecting funds. His request was granted.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia---Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

When a woman falls overboard she sometimes drowns when there is a life buoy just within a few strokes of her—all because she doesn't happen to see it. Sick people often perish in the same way. Help is within reach, but they don't know just where it is. They become discouraged and disgusted with taking medicines and give up in despair.

Mrs Mary J Stewart, of Saratoga, Santa Clara Co., Cal., in a letter to Dr R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., says: "I suffered for fourteen years with female weakness, nervousness and general debility, trying everything I could find to help me, all to no avail. Although I was thoroughly discouraged and disgusted with medicine when I heard of Dr Pierce's medicines, I thought I would try once more to find relief. I took the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and 'Favorite Prescription,' and honest praise cannot be given for the rapid relief they gave me. I am now free from the former troubles, and may God bless Dr Pierce in all his undertakings to cure suffering humanity."

Thousands who had reached this forlorn and hopeless condition of body and mind have found new hope and rescue in the use of these marvelous remedies.

Dr Pierce's great thousand-page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" is sent free in paper covers for 21 one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only; or, cloth-bound for 10 stamps. Address, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Rev. J. K. Thompson of Pine Grove, Washington Co., Vt., writes concerning this great work: "I am charmed with the style and general subject matter of the entire work. I consider it a valuable addition to my carefully selected library. The purpose to set men right physically is a noble one. I am also pleased with the refined and at the same time fearless way in which you handle those delicate subjects pertaining to biology, thus making the work admirably fitted for the young."

THE LATEST FASHIONS.

Bustles Will Be Features In Autumn Modes Hints on Freshening Up.

Smaller sleeves are undoubtedly coming into fashion. The latest creations in Paris show scarcely any fullness. At present the most popular sleeve has a small puff at the top, and it is plain from the puff to the wrist. The puffing may be provided by the sleeve itself or by an additional piece of material. A modern model is made perfectly plain, except for a few plaits set in the shoulder seam. Sleeves continue to be cut long, but the point over the hand is not frequently seen. Lace frills over the hand, however, are much in vogue, and they are seen in most of the smartest toilets. Sleeves are also made with puffs and ruffles at the elbow. The autumn coat sleeves will be diminished in width, but a certain breadth will be allowed at the top to accommodate the inside sleeve. Bustles are coming in again; in fact, they are now worn by the most up-to-date women. They are very moderate affairs, and they will prove a boon to many slender women. The newest bustle is constructed in sections—that is, the hip pieces are cut out and padded to fit the figure. They are intended to be worn under the corsets. It is rumored that white stockings will be worn again. Clocks are also in fashion. Designs in stockings are much more elaborate than they used to be. Ribbed effects in black, alternated with colors, combined with embroidery, are deemed very smart. Scotch plaids in lisle and silk mixtures are especially attractive. Plain boot patterns in black, with colored tops, are among the novelties, as are also medallions of lace inserted in the insteps. It is stated that gloves will be worn with embroidered armlets, but they will have but a short life.

Biscuit colored linen is one of the most popular fabrics of the summer. A pretty model has a skirt wrought around the hem, with tall tapering sprays of white braiding and cording, the material being sufficiently heavy to hang well and show the embroidery.

A short tight fitting coat is drawn closely into the waist at the back, and also braided and corded in white. The coat opens slightly in front and has wide revers, one faced with tucked white muslin and narrow valenciennes lace, the other braided and corded with white embroidery. The chemisette is of tucked white muslin, which is set off to advantage by a waistcoat of scarlet cloth, richly embroidered in an oriental design in gold, silver, blue and yellow. The Russian blouse or moujik is much worn. One built of white cashmere, to be worn with a skirt of the same material, has long bands of cream guipure insertion let in at intervals in the body of the coat, which are lined with green silk. The collar has similar decorations, and in front is a lace jabot over green chiffon. There is a basque of long tabs, all finished with bands of lace insertion. The belt is of green lizard skin, with an old silver buckle in the Persian pattern. Lace insertion is extensively employed in various ways. It appears on skirts as well as on bodices, and on silk and woolen fabrics as well as on thin fabrics. When used on skirts the lace is let into the material in waved lines from hem to waist, or it is used as a heading to flounces. An attractive bodice decoration has the insertion used in lengthwise strips down the center of the blouse and a scroll pattern on each side of it. Insertions an inch wide are arranged in scrolls and bow knots and applied to muslins; lace braid used in the same manner is very effective. A pretty bodice of pink silk has a yoke striped with lace, and the sleeves are of lace and close fitting.

Parasols are more elaborate than they have been for many years, and special attention is given to their linings. The linings are often of chiffon, ruched, puffed or kilted and finished at the edge with lace frillings and flounces. A novel and charming hat is made of soft rose-colored tulle over a wire frame. The front and top of the hat is entirely covered with a large pink silk poppy. It is finished in the back by a large black velvet bow. Fair dames are already adding bright notes of color to their hats that hint that autumn is not far distant. It is naturally a bit early to mention the season of crimson and russet leaves, with a full month or more of warm weather yet to come, but there is a practical view to take of the matter. By this time the early summer hat has done good service, and its decorations are doubtless a little faded and worn. Large leghorn or cream straw hats that have been embellished with tulle and garlands of flowers can now be made to look very smart with a twist of black velvet about the crown, a smart bow at the side and a bunch of black plumes. Nothing looks worse than a mussy summer hat.

Among the elegant gems for dress occasions are those in princess style, open at the back and finished with Marguerite sleeves, and the bodice cut half low to admit of a pretty French chemisette of some rich material. Dainty gowns of white crepe de chine and of chiffon are tucked straight across the bodice, front and back and at intervals up the entire length of the sleeve, the tucks turning upward. The narrow girdle is trimmed with gold galloon, this garniture also finishing the flaring Medici collar, with plaited chiffon falling from it. The bodice fastens on the left shoulder and under the arm, leaving the tucks unbroken across the front. Many of the new tucked evening gowns of this material have rows of Valenciennes lace insertion on bodice and skirt. Accordion plaited skirts of black silk grenadine, canvas, tulle, black muslin dotted in silk and similar diaphanous fabrics are built over foundations of brilliant red and yellow silks and satins. Lace waists made with basque effect, both in black and white, bee one more popular as the season advances. Entire gowns of white lace are much in vogue. They are built of flounces of lace, sewed on sheer net, the flounces put on to overlap one another, so that only the lace is seen. Both wide and narrow lace is used. The bodices worn with the ruffled skirts are either entirely of lace or of lace over the insertion and net. A new model of crepe de chine, in a figured green and white pattern, has a yoke of lace at the top of the skirt, which fits perfectly over the hips, and there is a yoke on the bodice to match. Corselet lace pieces also adorn many of the new frocks. A black and white mull, worn at a dinner given at one of the country clubs this week, had a corselet of black French lace, which held the full blouse in place. The skirt was plain, except for a ruche of black lace at the hem. The sleeves were also of the black lace over white silk.

A recently imported frock in green cashmere veloute has a little blouse, cut in long points, trimmed with a pattern in black lace embroidery. The bodice and sleeves are of plaid silk in blues, greens and white. Another chic French costume is of white Swiss over a silk slip. The body is composed of bands wide yellow ribbon, with lace. The vest front is trimmed on each side with three full plaitings of the dotted Swiss, very wide at the top and covering the shoulder and most of the sleeve. The plaitings are finished just above the belt with rosettes of lilac velvet with jeweled buttons. The sleeves are made of ribbon and lace insertion, and finished at the wrist with a full of lace. The belt and collar are of violet velvet. The skirt is gilt with a deep Spanish flounce of Swiss, with ribbon insertions, and a full ruching at the top of the flounce.

Short Cuts in Baking Bread.

Do not sift flour; use dry hop yeast; set sponge in the morning and place in the range oven, shutting the door tight to keep temperature even. By 4 o'clock p.m. the sponge will be light. Now add one teaspoonful each of salt, sugar and butter, or lard, and flour enough to form a hard loaf, turn out on board and knead vigorously ten or fifteen minutes. Mold into loaves of equal size, placing each in a separate pan, rub the tops of loaves with butter, let rise until the loaves are level with top of this, and bake in hot oven about twenty minutes or half an hour. By using light wood and not lighting fire until the bread is very nearly light, you need not have a fire more than forty minutes. While the loaves are rising in the tins, prepare everything you wish to cook for supper, and also have plenty of water in tank or on top of stove, and by the time your bread is baked supper will be ready and water hot for washing the dishes. If your oven is large enough bake a fresh jelly roll for supper, made in this way: Beat three eggs very light, add one cup of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and one of flavoring extract. Beat again and add one cup of flour and one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder, sifted together; bake in long tin, turn out on towel, spread with jelly and roll at once. With good management one can make one fire do a lot of work and save not only on the fuel bill, but much discomfort from an overheated house. When you make short cake do not roll out on molding board; this way is quicker and the cake just as good. Take two cups sour cream, two teaspoonfuls of saleratus, two of sugar and one of salt; stir all together briskly for a minute or two, then stir in enough flour to make a good, stiff batter, spread smoothly on tin and bake. When done, split with a thin, sharp knife, butter, spread with berries or hot apple sauce, put on a liberal dressing of sugar and cream. For the best cookies you ever ate, stir together one cup sour cream, one cup sugar, one teaspoonful each of salt, flavoring extract, and saleratus. Mix with just flour enough to handle nicely, roll thin, and bake in quick oven. One can make a variety by adding fruit, nuts or cocoanut before rolling out. Keep these in a tin case such as grocers have for fancy wafers, and the last one will be as good as the first.—Mrs. J. E. Morse, in Practical Farmer.

Origin of Potato Bugs.

The Colorado potato beetle receives its common name from the fact that its native home was at the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, where it fed upon a species of wild potatoes quite common to this region, known as the Sandbur (Solanum rostratum). It was collected there and described by Thomas Say in 1824. It was first mentioned as an injurious insect in 1859, when some of the early settlers of Western Nebraska reported it feeding in large numbers upon the Irish potato.

Wise Men Know

It is folly to build upon a poor foundation, either in architecture or in health. A foundation of sand is insecure, and to deaden symptoms by narcotics or nerve compounds is equally dangerous and deceptive. The true way to build up health is to make your blood pure, rich and nourishing by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Blackberry Flavoring.

How many housekeepers have ever used blackberries as a flavoring—not by the direct use of the fresh fruit, but by means of an extract that can be kept the year round? Probably there are comparatively few who know what palatable flavoring can be accomplished with extract of blackberries. This extract can easily be prepared by the veriest novice who will closely adhere to the following directions: Weigh out exactly one pound of fruit, and place in a preserve jar. Care must be taken that it is ripe, juicy and of the best flavor. Crush this mass pour six ounces of 95 per cent. alcohol. Now seal the jar, as in preserving. Let the jar stand two days, or, better still, three. Shake well three or four times each day. On the second or third day unseal the jar, and throw the contents into a muslin strainer. Strain carefully until all the fluid has passed through. Next, gradually pass water through the strainer, letting it trickle through the fruit pulp until an exact pint of extract in all has been obtained. If these directions are implicitly followed, failure is impossible. The extract, if kept tightly stoppered, will remain good the year round. Take pains to see that none of the fine seed of this fruit gets through the strainer. Owing to the presence of alcohol it is well to remember that this extract, as well as all others, is to be bottled and stoppered as quickly as possible after making. Is the flavor of elderberries pleasing to a family palate? If so, a very strong extract may be made if the elderberries used are of the best by following the same proportions given in the preceding recipe.

For Disagreeable Odors.

Disagreeable odors arising from decaying vegetable matter are dangerous to tolerate at any period of the year, but most so during the height of warm weather. They can be destroyed at once by pouring over the heap two pailfuls of water, to one of which has been added one pint of the liquor of chloride of zinc, and to the other one pound of chloride of lime. Remember, this is something not to be neglected. Delays here are especially dangerous.

Pigs on the Dairy Farm.

Dairymen who keep swine, and they always should, unless all the milk is sold, should mix grain of some kind with the skim milk or whey that goes to the pigs. Corn meal and skim milk in proper proportions cannot be excelled as pig feed. It is improvident for a dairyman to grow hogs on the waste from the dairy without any grain; yet the only way to prove this to some men would be by the use of the scales, in tests with mixed rations.

WET WEATHER.

The dangers of exposure to cold and damp vividly portrayed by one who has experienced them.

Mr. John Conboy, 250 Sidney Street, St. John, N.B., talked to our reporter about his experience with kidney trouble, and his recent remarkable cure by Doan's Kidney Pills. Mr. Conboy's statement reads as follows:—

"For a number of years I have been troubled with kidney weakness, brought on by heavy lifting and exposure to wet and cold; also a heavy strain whereby I wrenched my back. I experienced great pain in the chest, extending through to the small of my back and around the loins.

"Before taking Doan's Kidney Pills my blood became vitiated, and my kidneys were greatly deranged in their action. I suffered also from nervousness and general debility, and I am thankful to say that by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, assisted by Laxa-Liver Pills, I am wonderfully improved. I also suffered from constipation and liver complaint, but found Laxa-Liver Pills an excellent remedy, aiding Doan's Kidney Pills in their splendid work.

"I am glad to testify to the wonderful curative powers of these great remedies, especially when they are used in combination, and feel assured that anyone trying them will not be disappointed in the result.

High-Grade Cemetery Work

AT A MODERATE PRICE.

The element of permanence which attaches to the erection of any memorial to the dead renders it highly desirable that no mistake be made in the selection either of design or of materials.

A mistake is a serious matter. Let us help you to make a right decision. Our specialty is the erection of monuments which are unique without being grotesque, and artistic without being over-decorated.

We manufacture from all first-quality granites, and as WE SELL DIRECT TO CUSTOMERS, we save the latter all agents' profits. Then, too, there is a decided advantage for the buyer in dealing with one responsible firm for both the manufacture and the setting of a monument.

All our work is guaranteed, NO CHARGE being made if not strictly according to contract. Write us for designs and estimates.

Fur-Lined Cloaks

A VERY SHORT STORY

A Montreal wholesale manufacturer who had a small lot—small for him—of beautiful Beaver Cloth Fur Lined Cloaks, wanted to get rid of them in a lump. He got rid of them. The difference betweea our selling price $15.00 and the usual price $20.00 represents the sacrifice he made to do it.

Beautiful Warm Cloaks they are :—

—Black, Dark Green, Navy Blue, 25 inches long——Ripple Skirt, with box pleated back, good——quality Beaver Cloth outside. Lined with——the best Hampster Fur Lining throughout.—
—Large Pointed Storm Collar of Electric Seal—
—and trimmed with same down front. Superb—
—for street and evening wear.—
—Price only $15 00.—

Ladies' Neckwear

Very taking and effective are the Capes, Collarettes and Neck Ruffs of Mink, Sable, Grey Lamb, Marten, etc.

No one thing gives such pleasant variety—nothing so beautifully completes a Ladies' General Dress as a fluffy, furry Neck Ruff or Collarette.

We have Ruffs at $2.00, better at $5.00, and as high as $20.00.

Collarettes at $6 to $35.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

That Rugby football may deteriorate into nothing more than an excuse for prize fighters to indulge in their propensities without fear of arrest is shown by the result of a recent game at Ottawa, of which the Free Press speaks as follows: —

The indignation of the people has been righteously excited over the disgraceful doings at the football match on Saturday and opinion is freely and generally expressed that in the interest of sport, respectability and civilization the time has arrived to cry, Stop. It would seem this kind of "play" may arouse that mysterious and evil element which seems to be lurking somewhere in the human frame, so recently demonstrated in the Rawdon murder. It is absurd to tolerate offences under the pretence of sport which are against the law and under ordinary circumstances would bring the perpetrator within the operations of the criminal code and entitle him to more or less common jail or penitentiary, if not worse. Are we going to wait for some such tragedy as put the Romans to shame and stopped the gladiatorial sports of Rome? It looks like it. We are playing something of the hypocrite in the matter of the illegitimate proceedings witnessed at times in connection with "sports" of various kinds. The very mention of a kinetoscopic representation of a prize fight lashes the goody goodies into a fury and all the machinery of the law is brought into operation to stop it. Compared with such doings as were witnessed at the football match under consideration prize fighting is a "gentle and joyous" sport indeed. It is at least above board and there can be no foul play, no hitting below the belt and nothing more than an exhibition of athletic skill in which the best man wins. Such doings are never seen in the yard of the school after which the game is named. A Rugbyan would blush to have the name of his school associated with such a butchery as was seen on Saturday.

An effort should be made to keep the game up to its standard, while it is still devoid of the rough element in Peterborough.

THE WHEEL.

It is said that the first time a bicyclist appeared in China the natives of that interesting country endeavoured to the best of their ability to slay him forthwith. Their excuse for this inhospitable intention was that the bicyclist was palpably a devil, since he rode along on a cart-wheel, and the simple heathens argued that such was an impossible motion without extraneous aid frrm below. All of which clearly shows that even if the natives of Cathay are ignorant of the principles of mechanics, and burdened with a cumbersome if picturesque mythology withal, they possess a faculty of observation which is distinctly meritorious. Here the bicycle is much too common an object to excite even interest on the part of spectators—much less hostile intentions—and the general public, although understanding as little as the Chinese the reason why a bicycle remains upright, from the familiarity with the phenomenon, are content to accept it without comment or any desire to understand the principles which underlie it. Cyclists themselves are singularly remiss as regards this question. One would naturally expect that, even apart from its scientific interest, the problem as to how a machine stands upright, seemingly in defiance of the laws of gravity, would from it practical importance, receive at least a little attention from cyclists—particularly learners. That it does not is undeniably a fact. Cyclists know that after a little practice their machines stay upright beneath them, and they accept the fact without comment. Occasionally an individual of an enquiring turn of mind endeavors to sift the question, but such efforts are generally not conspicuous by their success. A brief explanation of the true reason why a bicycle in motion stands upright may therefore be of use by instilling knowledge into the unlearned and correcting the errors of those who have solved the problem to their own satisfaction.

It is necessary to commence by referring to one of the dynamical laws formulated by Newton. This law (which is, generally known as the first law of motion) states that every body remains in a state of rest or motion, unless compelled to change that state by some force. It is unnecessary to devote space to a dissertation on this law. The reader may safely take it for granted, and in any case a little reflection will convince him that a contrary state of affairs would be unthinkable and impossible. For the present purpose it is unnecessary to take into account any considerations as to the duration of motion, all that is necessary to remember is that a body in motion will continue in motion and in the same direction, unless acted on by force. If a body in motion be considered, and a certain force be supposed to act on it in any direction, it will at once be perceived that if the body was free to move it would move in the direction of the which acted on it. As, however, it is already in motion and possesses a consequent inertia, the resultant obtained from compounding the original velocity and the new velocity will represent the path of the body. As this resultant is obtained by completing the parallelogram, of which the two velocities are the sides, it may at once be deducted that the greater the original velocity of the body, the smaller is the deviation of path produced by any definite force. In the limit when the original velocity is taken as infinite the deviation produced by an impressed force becomes zero, that is to say, the stability due to motion is, under such circumstances, infinite.

So far we have arrived at the conclusion that the behavior of a body in motion differs essentially from its behaylor when at rest. The case of a bicycle may now be considered. If the bicycle is at rest, it is a necessary condition to the maintainment of its equilibrium that the centre of gravity of the whole mass should be directly above the point of support. If the machine is at rest the whole mass is manifestly in a state of unstable equilibrium, and the smallest push will upset it. If the same conditions prevail when the machine is in motion, it will proceed in a straight line. Immediately, however, the least force acts on the machine in any direction other than the sense of its velocity it at once tends to make the machine topple over, by causing the centre of gravity of the whole mass to assume a position not directly over the point of support. As, however, the machine is in motion it does not fall over, but the front wheel turns to the side to which the machine is inclined and causes it to describe a portion of a circle. Now, when any body is subject to circular motion, a force termed centrifugal immediately acts on it, and tends to drive it from the centre of the circle round which it is rotating. Therefore, the centre of gravity of the bicycle and rider is under the above circumstances subjected to two forces—a force tending to drive it away from the centre of the circle it is describing, and the action of gravity tending to pull it down to the ground to the inside of the curve. Of these two forces the centrifugal must be the greater if the machine is to be forced into perpendicular position. Immediately this is done the machine ceases to describe a curve, and proceeds in a straight line. It is interesting to note that this centrifugal force which renders bicycling a possibility is much greater at a high speed than at a low one. As a matter of fact it increases directly as the square of the velocity, which means that if the speed of a machine going round a curve be doubled, the centrifugal force is not merely doubled also, but quadrupled. The radius of the curve has also an important bearing on the subject, the centrifugal force obtained on a curve of 50 feet radius would be twice that existing on a curve of 100 feet radius—the same speed, of course, being maintained on both. These two facts explain a circumstance well known to cyclists—the difficulty of steering a straight course when going at a slow pace. The slow pace entails the taking of sharp curves in order to obtain the necessary centrifugal force.

When a machine is ridden "hands off," the method of balancing is precisely the same. The front wheel swings round as the machine tends to fall over and a perpendicular position is thus maintained. It is interesting to note the method by which a rider steers without making use of the handles. When the handles are used the rider, when he wishes to turn a corner, turns the wheel in the direction he wishes to go, and the machine rounds the curve inclined to the inside of it. On the other hand, when his hands are off the handles, he inclines his body on the side toward which he wishes to go, and the machine immediately moves in that direction. The process is, in fact, the reverse of what takes place when steering in the ordinary manner.—London Field.

TERRIBLE HUMOR

A Little Boy's Sufferings. Covered with Sores and Raw from Scratching. Cured by Cuticura.

About eighteen months ago my baby boy (now three years old) broke out with horrible sores all over his body, which tortured him night and day. He would scratch to such an extent, that his face and such parts of his body that he could reach with his hands were almost raw from scratching

After being under treatment by doctors for three months the child got worse, and there seemed nothing that would relieve him.

He had wasted away to a mere skeleton, from want of sleep. A Mr. J. G. Ahern, of the Gate City Loan Co., who happened to call at our residence, was attracted by the fearful screams of the child, and asked if he might see him. He was brought in, and upon seeing him, Mr. Ahern said, that "while it was the worst case he had ever seen, he felt satisfied that it could be speedily cured by the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES." I finally consented to try them, purchasing the CUTICURA SOAP, CUTICURA ointment, and CUTICURA RESOLVENT, and used them according to directions. Before we had been using them three weeks, we noticed a decided change for the better, the itching began to subside and a healing process had set in. In seven weeks from the time we began with CUTICURA REMEDIES, my little one was completely cured, and without a sign of the trouble left. It is over a year since he has been cured; there has been no return of the trouble, and the little man is now fat and hearty, with a beautiful, clear skin.

WESTWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Nature has tried to put on her winter apron, but it fell off.

Mrs. Croft, Peterborough, was the guest of Miss Lottie Blezard last week.

Miss Maggie Cardwell has returned home from Otonabee.

Mr. Wm. Davidson, Zion, Otonabee, was the guest of Mr. M. Breckenridge on Sunday.

We are glad to learn that Miss Mary Slade has recovered from her severe illness.

The Methodist church had a tea meeting on Tuesday last. Particulars later.

The W. F. M. S. annual thank offering meeting in the Presbyterian church here last Wednesday afternoon was an unqualified success. There was a large turnout, and the programme, which was an unusually interesting, entertaining and instructive one, was exceedingly well carried out. This is the first year men were admitted to these meetings, and quite a number availed themselves of the opportunity. Next year the church wont hold the crowd, as everyone was so delighted. The collections amounted to over $22. Miss M. A. Forsythe, of Peterborough, gave an excellent address on "An enduring mound and how to build it." The readings were all good, well rendered and along the line of missionary work. The singing was unusually good, all being in good voice. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Miss Forsythe and the W.F.M.S.

Last Sunday evening a union meeting of the Y.P.S.C.E. and Epworth League was held in the Presbyterian church. The topic—"Influence: How to use it and how to get it," was very plainly discussed by the Rev. Mr. Thompson, Hastings. He showed that influence was not to be considered as concerning the effect upon ourselves, but more so upon our neighbours. Influence grows with us and the higher rank we take in society the higher responsibility rests upon us, on account of the greater influence. How careful, then, we should be to exert an influence for good upon others and hence revert good to our own souls. A vote of thanks was then tendered to Mr. Thompson for his able address.

Care of the Complexion.

It is a well-known fact that a torpid liver produces a sallow hue and a dull yellow complexion if the blood is rendered impure by a sluggish action of the liver, which cannot properly perform its function of purifying and filtering all impurities from the blood. Ladies, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is an invaluable remedy, for by their action on the liver blood they promote true beauty by rendering the blood pure. This is the secret.

The Striking Engineers.

London, Nov. 8.—While an early conclusion of the engineering disputes is doubtful, the air has been partially cleared by the disclaimer of the intention of the employers to break up the union.

Strike pay to the amount of £41,000 was distributed last week to 84,000 engineers. It is reported that the German engineers will take advantage of the large influx of English orders to demand higher wages and shorter hours, and will strike is their demands are not conceded.

A large mass meeting was held in Paris on Saturday evening in support of the British engineering strike, at which resolutions were adopted assuring the strikers of the moral and financial support of their French brethren. There was also passed a resolution demanding the adoption of an eight-hour working day.

AUTHORITIES DEFIED.

A Case at Powassan, Ont., in Which the Attorney General Has Been Asked to Interfere.

Powassan, Nov. 9. (Special)—About six weeks ago one Haggerty was brought before a local magistrate here charged with using threatening language towards a man named [illegible] Hanrahan. A fine of $10 and costs was imposed and Haggerty was bound over to keep the peace for a year and furnish sureties in the sum of $200. He refuses to enter pay the fine or furnish the bonds, and the magistrate either cannot or will not have him arrested. The papers were given to a special constable, there being no one in regular authority, but the special constable absolutely refuses to arrest Haggerty. Hanrahan is mortally afraid of Haggerty and is in constant dread that some of his threats will be put in execution. It is understood that the matter has been brought to the notice of the Attorney-General.

Deputy Attorney-General Cartwright yesterday stated that he had received a communication in this same matter, but his data was yet very incomplete. The department has no authority over the special constable, but, if necessary, a regular constable can be sent in from outside to apprehend Haggerty.

Important Decisions of the Queen's Bench Divisional Court at Toronto—$3.00 From G.T.R.

Toronto, Nov. 10.

In Anderson v. G.T.R., the appeal is by defendants from the Q.B. Divisional Court. The action is by the personal representative of William M. Kenzie, deceased. McKenzie had a ticket from Allan Craig to London and return. On the return journey it was a stormy night in winter and, having left his wife in London, he was anxious to get home to his children—he got off at Lucan Crossing, a station without access, except by the track, or across private property. While walking along the track to the highway, a freight train came behind and killed him. The Divisional Court reversed Chief Justice Meredith and held, that, as deceased was lawfully on the track, he was entitled to the warning by whistle or bell, required by sec. 256 of the Railway Act, to be sounded 80 rods before a train reaches a crossing. Judgment was entered for plaintiff for $4000. The appeal was dismissed with costs.

In McKellar v. Michigan Central Railway, and Bayne v. M.C.R., the alleged neglect of an engineer to whistle when his train was approaching a highway is the cause of a verdict for $500 and $3000 damages in favor of the respective plaintiffs, who were driving across the track when struck by an engine. The defendants appeal. The court hold that the jury intended by their answers to find defendants guilty of negligence and dismiss the appeal with costs.

Bechuanaland Chief Punished.

300 Convicts Mutining.

Montreal, Nov. 6.—The insubordination in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary was resumed last night, when 300 convicted criminals banged so hard on the doors with buckets about 1 a.m. that the town was aroused. The disturbance lasted until 4 a.m. Hon. C. H. Fitzpatrick has arrived from Ottawa to investigate. A later report is to the effect that No. 6 company, 65th Batt., has been called out to co-operate with the guards.

CARVED THE BODY UP IN SECTIONS.

A Decided Sensation in the Court House at the Guldensuppe Murder Trial—The Female Accomplice of Thorn Tells the Whole Story in the Witness Box.

New York, Nov. 11.—Yesterday, in the Thorn murder trial Judge Smith, accompanied by District-Attorney Walter Jay Cox of Suffolk County took his seat on the bench at 9.30 o'clock. The twelve jurymen then took their respective places in the jury box, and a few minutes later Thorn, handcuffed to Captain Methven, came in and shook hands with his counsel. The latter informed the prisoner, for the first time, of the confession of Mrs. Nack, and Thorn's face flushed.

Then Mrs. Nack entered the court room.

She was accompanied by her lawyer and Deputy Sheriff Debragga. She walked up the centre of the court, and when she reached the district attorney's table she stood within three feet of Thorn, who eyed her closely, but his face had lost its sudden flushed appearance and took on the same pale color which it has borne since Monday last. His face was a study. His lips were closely compressed, but otherwise he did not show concern.

Judge Weller began the direct examination of the woman as soon as she was seated in the witness chair. She began by telling her name, age and where she was born, and by degrees she was led up to the time that she had left her husband and was living with Guldensuppe at 439 Ninth-avenue. Guldensuppe was known there as her husband. Thorn came there to board. Thorn and Guldensuppe had a fight and Guldensuppe kicked Thorn. Guldensuppe kicked Thorn downstairs. Thorn pulled a revolver and fired one shot at Guldensuppe, but did not hit him.

The witness, proceeding: I then had a talk with Thorn about hiring a house at Woodside. We went out to see the house and Thorn offered the woman who had the key, money but she would not take it. We then returned to the saloon in New York. This man owned the Woodside house and Thorn paid him $15 in cash for one month's rent of the Woodside house. I think Thorn gave the name of Braun when he hired the house. Thorn took the receipt and told the landlord he did not know when he would move in.

"Then Thorn told me that he would kill Guldensuppe in the Ninth-avenue house and put his body in a trunk and send it away. I said: 'No, don't do this.' Thorn then told me to bring Guldensuppe to the Woodside house and he would kill him there. I had to do all that Martin told me to do."

Gradually the lawyer led the witness up to the morning of Friday, June, 25, the day that the crime was committed. She said she and Guldensuppe left New York between 9 and 10 o'clock that morning, and after they had crossed the ferry they boarded a trolley car, which left them at the Woodside cottage. "I had the key of the house," she said, "and I opened the front door. I told Guldensuppe to enter and examine the house, while I went into the yard. He went upstairs and I heard a shot. Martin Thorn then came running down, and when he met me he said: 'I've shot him; he is dead.' He was very excited and I was half dead," said the self-confessed murderess, breathlessly.

"What did you do then?" asked Judge Weller.

"He told me to go home and come back at 5 o'clock. When I came back that evening Thorn had everything packed up in bundles. He handed me a bundle, which he said contained Guldensuppe's clothes; he took another bundle, which was wrapped in grey-colored paper. He said that that was Guldensuppe's head and that it was done up in plaster paris. We took the trolley car and went over to New York on a ferry boat."

Before the close of the direct examination, Surrogate Weller showed Mrs. Nack four photographs. She identified them as those of Guldensuppe.

Surrogate Weller then asked: "Why do you make this statement?"

Mrs. Nack replied: "I don't want to have it on my mind," and then began to cry. It was some minutes before she resumed her testimony, and then she said: "I make this statement of my own free will. I want to get it off my conscience. No promise of mercy has been made me. I wanted to clear my mind. I don't care what hangs over me, or what they do with me."

Mrs. Nack's tears had no effect on the prisoner, and, if anything, he seemed to enjoy her discomfiture, as the old-time grin played around his mouth.

Mr. Howe began his cross-examination of the murderess in a very insinuating way, and soon made the witness acknowledge that the house in Woodside was rented for the sole purpose of killing Guldensuppe there; that she decoyed him there; that when she bought the oilcloth and other wrappings, it was for the purpose of packing up the portions of his body after Thorn should have finished his murderous task.

Mrs. Nack, in reply to Mr. Howe, acknowledged that while in the Queen's County Jail she wrote a letter to Thorn.

"I did everything I could to satisfy him," she said. "I gave him every cent of money I had."

Mr. Howe changed his tactics after this, and turning suddenly, he shouted at the top of his voice:

"Mrs. Nack, was it not you who shot Guldensuppe?"

The woman was startled, but regained her self-possession in a moment, and half shrieked: "No, I did not."

"Was it not you who cut up the body?" was the next question.

The woman frantically yelled back a defiant "No."

"Did any one tell you to say you did not shoot Guldensuppe?" "No, I have never spoken of it."

During recess, District Attorney Olcott of New York made the following statement: "If it were not for the legal requirements that the confession of an accomplice must be corroborated before it can go to the jury, I would now advise Mr. Youngs to close his case at once, so thoroughly am I convinced that the jury, as well as everyone else, realizes that Mrs. Nack is telling the truth. The confession is sound and true in every particular, and amply settles the evidence which we already have. But all of the witnesses will be called whom we have expected to use, so as to make assurance doubly sure and to furnish the corroboration of an accomplice's testimony, which the law requires. This is the culmination of the hard work of my assistants, as well as of the District Attorneys of here. Everything I could say would be but congratulation to those who have handled and are handling the case for the people that punitive justice will be done in full measure. It is laughable now to think of those who tried to bluff us with the story that Guldensuppe is alive and well."

New York, Nov. 11.—When the court re-convened Thorn took the seat allotted to him and Mrs. Nack resumed her place in the witness chair. In reply to Judge Weller's first question, she said that Martin Thorn had a long-bladed knife.

The telegram, said to be from Guldensuppe, which was introduced earlier in the day, was again brought up by the people. It was handed to Mrs. Nack.

She failed to identify the telegram, and it was not admitted in evidence.

After a few more questions, the witness left the stand and was provided with a chair a few feet away.

It was with a big sigh of relief that she got down from the witness seat. She occupied it from 9.30 in the morning until 2.07 in the afternoon, with the exception of the adjournment for lunch.

Coroner Tuthill of New York was then called to prove that the several portions of a human body found in the three bundles belonged to the same person.

In cross-examination by Mr. Howe, the coroner said that a saw was certainly used in the severing of the legs and there was every indication that one had been used in beheading the body.

After Mrs. Nack left the stand she said to her lawyer, Emanuel Friend, that she had gone through a dreadful ordeal and was glad that she had relieved her mind. "I felt that the eyes of every person in the court room were on me," she said, "but I felt particularly the eyes of Martin Thorn going through me as I gave my story of the whole business. I am glad to be allowed to come into the court room; it is much better to see people than to be locked up."

Frank Gardiner, a masseur, employed at the Murray Hill Turkish Bath, described the different marks by which he identified the parts of the body at the morgue as those of Guldensuppe, who used to work beside him.

William [illegible], another bath attendant, gave similar testimony.

August Peterson, a nephew of Guldensuppe, told of the marks on Guldensuppe's body and mentioned a scar on his right knee, which he remembered well, having bandaged the wound when it was made.

Hermann Speck and Alf. [illegible] Baedeker, Turkish bath rubbers, gave additional confirmatory testimony.

Bernard Banks, the owner of the Woodside cottage, followed the bath attendants on the witness stand. He identified Thorn and Mrs. Nack as the two persons, who, representing themselves as Mr. and Mrs. Braun, hired the cottage from him last June. He also identified a note signed F. Braun, cancelling the lease of the cottage. The note was admitted in evidence.

At seven minutes past 4 Judge Smith granted a recess of five minutes.

Before the five minutes had expired Juror No. 6, Nicholas Larson, became ill and two physicians were called to his aid. Mr. Larson said he thought he would be all right by to-morrow and court adjourned.

Thorn's lawyers have decided to put him on the stand when the proper time comes, and they promise that when he tells all he knows, the court and jury, as well as the spectators and reading public, will be treated to another sensation. The evidence for the people will probably be concluded early to-morrow afternoon, but Thorn may not be examined as a witness in his own behalf before Friday.

CANADA'S OWN HERD

Of Tuberculous Cattle at the Experimental Farm

WILL BE SUBJECTED TO EXPERIMENT

Under Hon. Mr. Fisher's Direction—A Plain Statement of Value to Every Farmer in the Dominion of Canada Present Discovery of the Disease Due to Accident.

Ottawa, Nov. 11.—Hon. Sidney Fisher, yesterday gave a lengthy statement concerning the recent outbreak of tuberculosis at the experimental farm.

The present discovery of the disease was due to the following circumstances: The Jersey bull had been a little off his feed and was given by the herdsman a dose of what was supposed to be glauber salts; unfortunately saltpetre was accidentally used instead of glauber salts. The next morning about 10 o'clock the bull showed signs of pain and by 1 o'clock, before the veterinary could get there, died. A post-mortem examination was held, when he was found to be tuberculous. In consequence of this discovery it was decided to immediately test with tuberculin the whole of the herd. The result was that out of 55 animals tested 26 reacted and two were declared suspicious. The latter were killed, one being found healthy and the other tuberculous. Of the 26 which reacted 10 were reserved for experiment and 16 were slaughtered. Of these 15 were found to be undoubtedly affected. The sixteenth showed some signs which were probably the disease, though there was slight doubt in the minds of the veterinaries who examined if whether it positively was tubercule or not. Afterwards the five head of Guernseys, recently imported, were also tested and all found healthy. This leaves 32 head of tested sound animals on the farm, and there are three young calves which it was not thought advisable to test just now in consequence of their being so young. It is noticeable that of the diseased animals only three are younger than three years old.

He further said all cattle recently purchased had been tested and found free from disease before importation, and that he had decided to use the tuberculin test on all animals purchased while he was in office.

Mr. Fisher also outlined a series of exhaustive tests, with the objects of first to try and supplement the experience of investigators in other countries and to add Canada's quota to the proper scientific treatment of a very important subject. Furthermore, I feel that the report of results found under the management of our own trusty officials, will bring home to the people of this country more strikingly and effectively the truths that may be shown in regard to this disease.

He said, in conclusion: I believe that the public opinion of the country will sustain me in such an outlay, and that it is necessary in the interests of the public health, not only of our live stock, but also of our people in Canada, that everything that can possibly be found in connection with this disease should be worked out and laid before our people. I have, therefore, come to the decision to carry out this line of experiment and thus reap some advantage from the deplorable state of affairs that was found in the herd at the Experimental Farm.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—The Crown was not ready to go on with its cases yesterday, and Justice Meredith promptly discharged the petit jury, and so ended the present Assizes. Then James Huton, who had been found guilty of manslaughter, was arraigned for sentence. The old man, who was terribly agitated, said before sentence was passed that he did not intend to commit a crime. In passing sentence Justice Meredith said:

A meeting of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council is to be held on November 17. The dispute between the Canada Atlantic and the New York & Ottawa Railway Companies respecting the use of the former's tracks by the latter for the purpose of entering the Central Station is expected to come up for discussion then.

The contract for the carrying of the British mails by the Beaver Line was signed this afternoon. The service is a weekly one between St. John and Liverpool, calling at Halifax. It was signed after the St. John delegation had a long interview with Messrs. Scott, Borden and Blair.

JUDGE DON'T LIKE SLOTH.

He Dismisses the Petit Jury, Sentences Huton and Fixes Dr. Bessey's Bail at $4000.

Toronto, Nov. 11.—At the Criminal Assizes to-day James Huton, convicted of manslaughter, was brought up for sentence. The old man said he did not intend to commit a crime, but Justice Meredith in passing senetence said:

"In consideration of the jury's recommendation to mercy, your son's brutality and your advanced age, the court has decided to inflict as light a sentence as possible, having regard to the nature of the crime. The sentence of the court is that you be imprisoned in Kingston Penitentiary for five years."

Huton took the sentence calmly.

James Dobell, convicted of shooting with intent at Bailiff Anderson, got off with one year in the Central Prison.

Mr. Faulds then asked for bail for Dr. Bessey, and His Lordship fixed it at $4000. The grand jury at that moment came in and reported true bills against Edward Lyons and William McCay, charged with rape on Jessie Carey.

Mr. Corton lost no time in engaging the fishing boat Germania, commanded by Captain Lowe.

GOOD REASON.

The recent declarations of Mr. Whitney and his lieutenants must be the excuse for dealing once more with the old subject of the Ontario surplus. It is difficult to say how many people are impressed by the mere iteration of a statement, however erroneous, which has been confuted again and again. The statement that the Provincial surplus has disappeared crops up at every election and is not laid until the incontrovertible proofs in black and white are furnished. It then disappears for a time, but only for a time. In the fulness of the years it bobs up again, timidly at first, but ever increasing in boldness until it becomes necessary to produce once more the refutation. The argument lately has taken the form of a question, namely, if the Government has a surplus, why does it not clear off its obligations? Mr. Whitney has more than once asked this question. The answer is that even if it were possible it would be neither wise nor prudent to employ the money for that purpose. The Province is the gainer to the extent of nearly $30,000 a year by not doing so. The following figures will make this plain:

Ontario has the following investments, which, in part, constitute her surplus:

U C Grammar School fund		$ 312,769 04
U C Building fund		1,472,391 41
Land Improvement fund		124,685 18
Capital under award, 1884	$2,848,289 52
Less estimated balance due the Dominion	2,000,000 00
		848,289 52
Common School fund	1,520,950 24
Collection by Ontario paid over to the Dominion after deducting land improvement fund	936,729 10
	2,457,679 34
Ontario's share		1,441,882 90
Surplus		$4,200,018 05

Our liabilities are:

Railway certificates, present worth, Dec. 31, 1896	$ 1,402,800
Annuities, present worth, Dec 31, 1896	1,566,200
	$2,968,500

On our investments we receive interest at the rate of 5 per cent., while on our liabilities we pay at the rate of a fraction under 4 per cent., but we will it four. The interest may be thus stated:

Interest at 5 cent. per annum on $4,200,018	$ 210,000
Interest at, say, 4 cent per annum on $2,968,500	118,740
Net income in interest per annum under present arrangement	$ 91,260

Assuming that the railway aid and annuity liabilities could be paid off now (which is not possible), the result would therefore be a loss in interest to the Province of nearly thirty thousand a year, thus:

Amount of investments as above	$4,200,018
Less liabilities as above	2,968,500
	$1,231,518
At 5 per cent. per annum		$ 61,575
Interest under present arrangement		91,260
Loss in interest if the railway aid and annuity liabilities were paid off out of investments		$ 29,685

Mr. Whitney's assertion that Ontario should apply her surplus to the paying off of her liabilities does not speak well for his financial knowledge, as the above statement of the situation will show.—Globe.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE Opposition orthigraphical equivalent for patriotism is, o-f-f-i-c-e.

SOME of the Toronto newspapers are comparing the Ontario Government to Tammany. The only representation of the Tammany element in Toronto is supplied by some newspapers that represent the Opposition.

SOME people are so doubtful by nature, says the Dundas Banner, that they will believe nothing but what they can see with their own eyes. There are such people abroad in the province to-day. They will not believe there is any surplus in the Ontario treasury until they get their hands on it. But to let this happen would be rough on the surplus.

AMERICANS are wont to boast, and, indeed, not in whispers, of the superiority of their "institootions" over anything else in creation. The United States administration of the law is a point where our neighbours occupy an unique position. We all know how largely mob-murder in the United States takes the place of the the seemly and dignified processes of civilized justice. So far has the lynching practice gone that the Governor of the State of Georgia has prepared a message in which he asserts that many innocent persons are lynched and he, therefore, recommends that prisoners be armed in order to protect themselves against mobs. This is, indeed, a fine stage of civilisation.

IT is difficult to please the Ontario Opposition leaders and organs. An early session of the legislature has been called. It is asserted that the object of the government is to conceal something—for instance, to prevent the consideration of the public accounts. There would have been the same objection if the session had been called later. There would have been the same fault to find—something to conceal—that it was too late to give proper consideration to the public accounts and other important matters. They need have no concern. The Opposition will have every opportunity to criticize the administration of the government in every branch and if they succeed no better than they have in the past they will provide very scant justification of their claim to be entrusted with the government of the province.

THE writ for Centre Toronto for an election to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. William Lount, has been issued. Nomination day has been fixed for November 23rd, and polling, if any, will take place a week later, the day on which the Ontario Legislature opens. It is not yet known whether or not the Conservatives will contest the seat which Mr. Lount so gallantly won at the last general elections. He defeated Mr. G. R. R. Cockburn by a majority of 240 in a constituency where the Conservative standard bearer had a majority of 592 in the elections of 1890. The Liberal Government is now so popular—has developed such a broad grasp of the problem of administration and government, that with a good candidate on the Liberal side, it is extremely questionable whether opposition, even in this erst-while strongly Conservative constituency, will be successful.

MANY OLD PEOPLE SAY

That Paine's Celery Compound is the True Fountain of Health.

The Only Medicine that Makes Old People Happy and Well.

It should be remembered that when the feeling of old age comes on it is due to a weakened nervous system. One of the most prominent medical writers of the day says: "The various pains, rheumatic or otherwise, which old people often complain of, and which materially disturb their comfort, result from disordered nerves."

When you feel old, whether you are twenty or eighty, use Paine's Celery Compound, as it will assuredly strengthen and build you up. The great medicine has added years of peace, free from the infirmities of old age, to thousands of lives.

Old people should bear in mind that Paine's Celery Compound purifies the blood when it moves slowly and sluggishly, removing neuralgia, rheumatism, heart palpitation, nervous weakness, sleeplessness, and troubles with kidneys, liver and stomach. In a word, Paine's Celery Compound makes the old feel vigorous and young.

There was a large number of farmers at the Peterborough market last Saturday with potatoes, apples and fowl. Many people from this part will sell next Saturday to Mr. John Kincaid.

Baby Eczema and Scald Head.

Infants and young children are peculiarly subject to this terrible disorder, and if not promptly arrested it will eventually become chronic. The first application soothes the irritation and gives the little sufferer rest.

NEWS FROM ST. KITTS.

E. J. Musson, jr., Sings the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills—He was Bedridden for Months and his Strength was Sapped by Diabetes—He Found his Cure in Six Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Catharines, Nov. 1.—For several months E. J. Musson, jr., one of the most capable painters in the city, was confined to his bed, a sufferer from that painful disease—diabetes. The complaint sapped his strength, fed upon his muscles, and reduced him to a skeleton almost. Then, providentially, he heard of what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done in similar cases. He bought six boxes. This is what he says of their work:—"After using the third box I could lift light weights. I used the other three boxes and now I am well. I have tried many other medicines and consulted many doctors. All gave me poor encouragement. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Tasty Sardine Salad.

Very nice for lunch in summer. One box of sardines. Remove from the box carefully. Split each one from neck to tail. Use a sharp thin knife, and remove the bone without breaking the fish.

Place the halves with split side up. Dredge them with a little fresh grated lemon peel seasoned with pepper. Sprinkle them with chopped parsley, or you can omit the parsley if not liked. Divide each half with a clean cut into two parts.

Make the body of the salad from a small piece of lettuce mixed with chopped parsley and a little lemon pulp. Add a bit of cayenne, a tablespoon of lemon juice and a tablespoon of the oil of the sardines. Mix thoroughly together. Place this on a dish. Lay the sardines carefully over the top. Border with thin round slices of hard boiled eggs. Serve with toasted crackers. This is delicious.

Severe Asthma Relieved.

Dear Sirs,—We have used Norway Pine Syrup in our house a great deal. I have a little boy who has had asthma for five or six years (he is only 10 now), and during the severe attacks he would get great relief from using the syrup. For an ordinary cold it is ahead of any cough medicine I ever took.

A GUERILLA ATTACK

Of the Tribesmen Upon Gen. Westmacott's Force

CAUSED A BRITISH LOSS OF 50 MEN

The Tribesmen Showed Wonderful Audacity and Rushed Fearlessly Upon the Soldiers—Lieut. Waddell and Four Men Killed Lieut. McIntyre and Twelve Men Missing Cable News.

Simla, Nov. 10.—Official despatches received here to-day from the British camp in the Maidan Valley, tell of a reconnaissance in force by the British. The movement was commanded by Brigadier General Westmacott, and the British force engaged consisted of the Dorsetshire Regiment, the Northamptonshire Regiment, a regiment of Sikhs and two batteries of artillery. This column moved yesterday to Sir-an-Sar and reached the summit of the mountain with little resistance. There the troops found a hastily evacuated camp and soon after retired upon the main body. This movement, however, was attended by serious losses to the British. The insurgent tribesmen followed after the column in strong force swarming from behind the rocks, showing wonderful audacity and keeping up a heavy fire at short range upon the British troops.

Only the admirable disposition made by General Westmacott of his troops saved the rear guard. The General personally held the men together and saw all the wounded taken away before he retired himself. On the way back to camp the transport of the wounded was greatly hampered by the fact that the troops had to retire over fearfully broken country, surrounded on all sides by swarms of the enemy's skirmishers. The route was intersected every hundred yards or so by deep ravines, and it was while the troops were engaged in passing through this ground that the tribesmen rushed upon the troops, fearlessly making their way up the ravines to close quarters.

The Northamptonshire Regiment suffered the most, their casualties being mainly incurred while saving their wounded. All the wounded reached camp at about dark, and it is still hoped that a missing officer and twelve men will reach camp safely.

The loss of the British was about 50 men. Of this number, the Northamptonshire Regiment lost Lieut. Waddell and four men killed, and Lieut. MacIntyre of this regiment and twelve men are missing. The Northamptonshire also had Lieut. Trent and 30 men wounded. The Dorestshire Regiment had Lieut. Ingram, Lieut. Marcer and six men wounded.

The Sikhs lost two men killed and had six men wounded.

HOPE BEAMS AT LAST.

Employers and Strikers in the Engineering Trade Agree to a Conference.

London, Nov. 10.—The Right Hon. C. T. Ritchie, President of the Board of Trade, having submitted amended suggestions as the basis of a conference for settling the engineering strike, both the Employers' Federation and the Amalgamated Society of Engineers have assented to the holding of a conference.

The Employers' Federation stipulated that its concurrence shall be without prejudice to its previously expressed opinions concerning the question of working hours, while the Amalgamated Society stipulated that the lockout notices should be suspended, and the question of a reduction of hours be discussed by the conference. Mr. Ritchie's proposals virtually cover these stipulations, hence the conference is likely to meet forthwith.

GERMAN RUMORS.

Proposal to Have a Floating Dock Near Zanzibar Orders for Krupp.

Berlin, Nov. 10.—It is understood that the naval estimates, which will be submitted to the Reichstag when it opens on Nov. 30 next, ask for 8,000,000 marks, to construct a floating dock at Dar-es-Salaam, a seaport of Africa, 25 miles south of Zanzibar, and to repair the German African squadron.

It is announced that the firm of Herr Krupp, the great gunmaker, has been commissioned to modernize five Turkish men-of-war.

It is rumored that negotiations have been commenced between France and Germany for joint diplomatic action, and, if necessary, naval action on account of the recent outrages upon missionaries in China.

FORWARD POLICY IN INDIA.

Lord George Hamilton Says It Tends to Check Russian Advance.

London, Nov. 10.—Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, in a speech at Acton this evening, defended the "forward policy" pursued in India during recent years against attacks lately made upon it by Mr. John Morley, Mr. Herbert Asquith (Home Secretary in the last Liberal Government) and other Liberal leaders.

He justified this policy on the ground that, while checking the Russian advance toward India, it enabled Russia and Great Britain to arrive at an amicable understanding, by which their respective frontiers and spheres of influence were being fixed, each recognizing that there was ample room in Asia for the legitimate expansion of both Empires. He spoke very guardedly of the future of the frontier policy, urging that "our chief object is to concentrate our strength on essential routes and positions, accepting elsewhere the general submission of the tribes as an acknowledgment of British supremacy, interfering as little as possible in their local affairs beyond checking the traffic in arms and trusting for the rest to the civilizing influences of trade gradually to win the tribes from their predatory instincts."

Newspaper Comments.

The Times, commenting editorially on Lord George Hamilton's speech, will say to-morrow that it was the part of wisdom to "refrain from more explicit statements, which would only leave a loophole for Radical attacks," and will suggest as a means of attaining the desired ends, the extension of the Afghan frontier along the valley of the Cabul River.

The Daily Chronicle will express the opinion that "Lord George Hamilton means perhaps that we should slide by lapse of time into a policy of annexation on some unintelligible idea that we may thereby check Russia."

It will also comment on the fact that the tribesmen possess enough Lee-Metford rifles and ammunition to deliver a magazine fire, although the Lee-Metford has only been supplied to the Indian forces for about two years, a fact which, in The Daily Chronicle's opinion, calls for searching enquiry.

A Reception to Gen. Weyler.

Madrid, Nov. 10.—According to a despatch from Coruinna, the port at which the steamer Montserrat, with Lieut.-Gen. Weyler, will dock, a flotilla of steamers will meet General Weyler off the port, and he will be received with music and other incidents of an elaborate ovation. He will be tendered a luncheon immediately on landing, and in the evening there will be fireworks. The Socialists are said to be planning a counter demonstration.

Business Not Allowed to Go On.

Vienna, Nov. 10.—On the resumption of the sitting of the Lower House today, there was a renewal of the disturbances and conflicts which have marked the recent sessions of the Reichsrath, and the disorders finally reached such a pitch that the sitting was again suspended.

Here's Another Rumor.

London, Nov. 11.—The Financial Post professes to know that the Marquis of Salisbury, Premier and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, is about to resign the Foreign Secretaryship in favor of the Marquis of Lansdowne, Secretary of State for War, retaining, however, the Premiership.

Empowered to Grant Amnesties.

Madrid, Nov. 10.—It is asserted that the reply of the American Government to the last Spanish communication declares that the United States has made the greatest efforts to stop filibustering, and has employed many officials and expended large sums of money to that end.

The Cabinet to-day decided to empower Marshal Blanco, Governor-General of Cuba, and General Primo de Rivera, Governor-General of the Philippines, to grant amnesties. A proposal to build two ironclads was also approved.

TO SAVE MONEY.

Provincial Secretary Tweedie of New Brunswick Visits Montreal for the Benefit of His Province.

Montreal, Nov. 10.—(Special.)—New Brunswick is going to convert a portion of her bonded debt, which amounts to a little less than $3,000,000, and of this sum $1,200,000 is convertible, and with this object in view, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, Provincial Secretary of the province, is in the city interviewing capitalists and money lenders. He states that the province is now paying 4 per cent., but hopes by the new deal to reduce the rate to 3 per cent. The province has 7,000,000 acres of timber land, and of this there are yet 2,000,000 acres not under lease.

Government Takes the Canal.

Montreal, Nov. 11.—The Department of Railways and Canals has taken possession of that section of the Soulanges Canal which Mr. Archie Stewart of Ottawa had under contract. The Chief Engineer, Mr. Schreiber, found that the work on that section was not advancing with sufficient rapidity, and as the Government is determined to finish the Soulanges Canal as soon as possible the department took possession of Mr. Stewart's section and will finish the work.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor.—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially, I will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank Heaven I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy. Address with stamp, WM. T. MULFORD, Agents' Supplies, P.O. Box 56, St. Henri, Que.

Fairly Staggered.

Mr. Samuel Humphries, retired carriage manufacturer, Strathroy, Ont., says: "For a long time I have had kidney troubles and pain in the back. I could not straighten up and often had to sit down until the pain and weakness went away. I have taken one box of Doan's Kidney Pills and must say they are a great kidney medicine, because they have entirely removed all pain from my back, curling the urinary difficulties and benefitting my general health in a remarkable degree."

SEAL QUESTION FIRST.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Reply to Washington Callers—The Experts Met in Secret Conclave.

Washington, Nov. 10. — Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Louis Davies and the other prominent Canadian officials who are here to confer with the Government authorities, were busy to-day arranging for the Behring Sea meeting. The Canadian Premier received callers in very democratic fashion at his apartments in the Shoreham, but to all he gave the reply that it would be manifestly premature at this stage for him to discuss the outlook of the Behring Sea question, or any other subject which concerned the United States and Canada. He made it clear, also, that they would give their exclusive attention to this subject until some conclusion was reached, and that other questions, such as reciprocity, border immigration, etc., would not be referred to until the first purpose of the visit was accomplished.

General Foster called upon the Premier early in the day, and later Sir Wilfrid and Sir Louis Davies called on the British Ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, who accompanied them in a call on Secretary Sherman.

In accordance with the arrangement made this morning the experts representing the three governments—United States, Great Britain and Canada—assembled at the State Department at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon. They were Messrs. Jordan, Thompson and Macoun. In addition, General Foster and Mr. Hamlin were in attendance for the United States, and Sir Louis Davies for Canada. Sir Julian Pauncefote sent a note excusing himself from coming on account of illness. The meeting lasted for about an hour, and presumably the proceedings were mainly preliminary and designed to outline a plan of procedure. Mr. Hamlin was elected chairman. It was officially stated that the proceedings were secret in the sense that nothing could be given out for publication before the end of the deliberations. Another meeting will be held at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The treaty which was negotiated last week between the United States, Japan and Russia, for the further protection of the seals, was not referred to in to-day's meeting, although its general provisions are known to the British delegates. The feature of the treaty is said to be the short time it is to continue in force, the limit being one year.

New York, Nov. 10.—A special cable to The Evening Post from London says: "In view of the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies to Washington, it is understood that Mr. Chamberlain forwarded to Lord Aberdeen last week important recommendations on the future trade relations between Canada and the United States from the Imperial point of view. Though Mr. Chamberlain has abandoned his zollverein schemes, he would view with keen disappointment and grave forebodings the ultimate effect of the English attitude towards the Dominion of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's acceptance of any such trade agreement with the States as Mr. Blaine once proposed, involving discrimination against England.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier himself and Mr. Fielding, Canada's Minister of Finance, who is now visiting London, have given definite assurances that Canada never would consent to such a discrimination. They have not, however, disguised the fact that if the United States showed a neighborly attitude towards Canada, on outstanding trade and other questions, they would go a long way to meet Washington advances, short of discrimination. It is believed that they might even go so far as to place England and the United States on a tariff equality. This would seem to involve the abandonment of the policy of a preferential tariff for British goods, which, though not yet realized, created extraordinary enthusiasm here. Canadian ministers contend, however, that Canada can render no greater service to the Empire than by assisting to restore Anglo-American accord.

There doesn't seem to be very much the matter with your child. He doesn't actually lose weight, but there is no gain. He belongs to that large class of children that don't seem to prosper. You look at him a little more thoughtfully than you do at the rest and say "He is not doing well." Failure to gain in weight in a child is a danger signal. Scott's Emulsion should be taken at once. Ladies, He is Coming.

When bodily tired, a sleep is refreshing, but when that tired feeling is felt through dissatisfaction with our personal appearance sleep is not the remedy to employ. The hair plays an important part in this respect. One of Prof. Dorenwend's beautiful Bangs or Wavy Fronts will soften and refine the expression of the face, and a fine switch to coil or braid will give the head a beautiful shape. By wearing these goods you will feel better and look younger. Call on Prof. Dorenwend at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, Wednesday, Nov. 17th, and see the foregoing demonstrated. It will cost nothing. Thousands wear these goods with satisfaction. You can be beautified likewise. 6d2w

CHICKEN THIEVES ABROAD.

They Rob an Ashburnham Roost of No Less than Fifty-two.

There is an angry citizen in Ashburnham who proposes making it warm for someone, if there is law in the land to do it.

Up to Monday morning Mr. Beauvis, of Sophia street, had a fine flock of chickens, numbering fifty-two. On Monday night four of them disappeared, but he paid but little attention to the fact, thinking that they might have strayed, or been killed by dogs.

On Tuesday the family moved into one of the Dickson estate houses, but the chickens were left in their coop at the Sophia street dwelling until the next day.

When Mr. Beauvis went to get the fowl on Wednesday not one was left of the entire flock, the hen house having been robbed the night previous, and a clean sweep made of the entire flock. The theft was a cruel one, as the owner is not any too well supplied with this world's goods, and was depending a great deal on his chickens to help him keep his family through the winter.

A large quantity of feathers have been located, and through this clue a strong effort will be made to bring the guilty parties to justice.

LACROSSE SEASON OF '97.

A Brief Review of the Result of the Year's Play in Peterborough.

As the lacrosse season for 1897 is on the eve of being formally closed by the big smoking concert in the Opera House tomorrow evening, it may be considered an opportune occasion to review the work of the year.

The season opened with the following players as members of the first team:—Messrs. Fred Dobbin, Jack Brown, Fred Lynch, Jack Mein, Roly Glover, Jim McCabe, Will Borland, Will Galley, Jack McDonough, Percy Rubidge, Walter Phelan, Lionel King, George Lipsett, Jack McCabe, Andie Thompson, Larkins Craig and Lou Dobbin. All these participated in one or more games during the season and some of them took part in every match.

As all know, Lynch was lost early in the season by being offered a good situation in Waterloo, and that his absence weakened the team to a certain extent is generally conceded, yet that the team put up better lacrosse and made a better showing than ever before in recent years cannot be denied.

It is to be regretted that no junior team was formed and that many of the younger players dropped out, yet the prospects for a first class second team for next year are very bright.

The team made a great effort to please the public by playing clean lacrosse. Not a man was hurt on a visiting team during the season, and no Peterborough player was sent to the fence or even warned for rough play. Only Peterborough boys held positions on the team—no ringers were played.

The team won six matches and lost four. They tallied 52 goals to their opponents 31, and lost but a single game on the home grounds, which occurred on the occasion of the visit of the Tecumsehs.

WON FROM.		LOST TO.
Elms	9 to 2	Tecumsehs	4 to 2
Rosedales	7 to 1	Orillia	4 to 3
Orillia	7 to 2	Markham	9 to 2
Orillia	8 to 4	Port Hope	2 to 1
Markham	7 to 3
Port Hope	6 to 0

All of which would make a capital showing for a professional team and which reflects the greater credit on the Peterboroughs, inasmuch as they played not a man in a single match who was not born in the town.

A strong endeavour was made to meet all accounts as they came due, but the expenses proved too heavy to cope with and the balance is on the wrong side of the ledger to the extent of about $80. This being the case the club resolved on holding a smoking concert which is advertised to take place to-morrow evening and the receipts will be devoted to wiping out the indebtedness in order that the boys may have a clean sheet to start out with next year and to this end the best available talent has kindly offered its services. The excellent programme which will be provided will be found in another column.

The deficit this year was caused by an outlay on the grounds of $50 in repairing the fences and rebuilding the grand stand—also through the fact that the players were charged no fee and were furnished with sticks free of cost—a big item. The cost of bringing official C.L.A. referees and umpires for the league matches was also responsible to a large degree.

The team will not identify itself with the Canadian Lacrosse Association next year, as they do not consider it of any benefit to them, either financially or otherwise, but early in the season a series of exhibition games will be arranged with the best amateur teams in the province.

FIVE MONTHS IN GAOL.

George Covert Convicted of Cattle Stealing and Sentenced.

George Covert, of Havelock, who recently spent a term in gaol on the charge of stealing a yoke of oxen, is again in the toils, having neglected to profit by that experience.

He was yesterday sentenced to five months in gaol by County Magistrate Edmison on being convicted of having stolen a heifer from Mr. P. J. Hill, of Havelock.

After appropriating the heifer Covert drove it to Havelock and sold it to a butcher there.

VOTERS' LIST COURT.

The Peterborough List Finally Revised.

The Voters' list court in connection with the voters' list of the town of Peterborough was held at the Court House, Wednesday afternoon before Judge Weller. Twenty names were added and about 75 struck off—largely of persons who had died or left town. This completes the revision of the Peterborough list. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., appeared on behalf of the Liberals.

Presbyterian Mission Items.

At the meeting of the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Committee Tuesday, in Toronto, Rev. Dr. A. B. McKay, of the Crescent street church, Montreal, reported that his congregation has provided the necessary funds for the erection of an hospital and dwelling house for Dr. McClure, of Honan, China. Dr. McClure has been entirely supported in his work by the Crescent street congregation. Dr. Menzies reported that the officials in China are less friendly than formerly, and on that account more troublesome, especially in regard to their treatment of native converts. Provision has been made for the school at Alberni, B.C., which was left vacant by the resignation of Mr. John Ross. Rev. Norman Russell, at present home on furlough, is visiting congregations in the Hamilton Presbytery. Rev. Dr. Buchanan will soon return to England, as Mrs. Buchanan is improved in health.

BISHOP O'CONNOR'S SUNDAY IN KEENE.

HIS LORDSHIP IS PRESENTED WITH AN ADDRESS.

He Administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to Sixteen Children and Afterwards Delivered an Impressive Address.

His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, administered the sacrament of confirmation in St. John's church, Keene, to sixteen children and three adults on Sunday, Nov. 7th.

The church, which was artistically decorated, was filled to the doors with persons anxious to witness the ceremony and to hear his Lordship's interesting and impressive sermon, which he delivered at the conclusion of the mass.

The numbers contributed by the choir were creditably rendered, particularly the solo of Miss L. Bell.

After the Sacrament of Confirmation was administered his Lordship blessed the stations of the cross, lately purchased, and had them erected in their places, at the same time explaining the significance of each.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies T. J. Wallace, on behalf of the congregation, presented him with the following address of welcome:

To the Right Rev. R. A. O'Connor, D. D., Bishop of Peterborough:

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR LORDSHIP:

We, the congregation of St. John's church, Keene, extend to you a hearty greeting. We regret that ours has not been the good fortune to have this opportunity afforded us at an earlier date, yet we trust that the happy issues of this, your first official visit amongst us, will be all the more extensive and comprehensive in consequence of this delayed anticipated pleasure.

We have watched with earnest interest your indefatigable efforts to spread throughout the Diocese God's holy Word, and as a true shepherd to care for the spiritual welfare of your flock, even in the most remote and obscure parts, and feel assured that living, as it were, under the very wing of the Cathedral, we in an equal degree share your interest and care.

As you no doubt are aware, this church was erected through the efforts of a faithful few who, in years gone by, left the green shores of old Ireland, carrying in their staunch hearts the firm faith of St. Patrick. They carved for themselves homes in the forest, but did not forget to acknowledge their gratitude to God in erecting a suitable church wherein to worship Him. Many of these faithful souls have gone on the silent journey of death; and could the spirits of the departed condescend to partake of earthly happiness, then would these feel a thrill of joy to know that a Bishop of the Holy Catholic church in the person of a true loyal son of Erin, does this day grace the chapel of their construction. For the remnant of these we extend you a cead mille failthe.

We desire also to thank you for giving us as a guiding light in the straight and narrow way, one so able and faithful as our beloved pastor, Father Brown, and we beg that you in your wisdom and God in His infinite love, will be pleased to allow us to enjoy, for many years to come, his faithful stewardship.

We feel that the celebrating of these solemn ceremonies which chiefly brings you amongst us to-day—the blessing of stations that we may avail ourselves of devotional practices, and the confirming in faith of our little ones that while yet free from the contagion of sin they may be strengthened to better resist the power of satan. These ceremonies will give us an ardent zeal for the practices of our faith, that we may dutifously prove ourselves worthy members of the community in which we live and of the diocese over which God in His wisdom has placed you, and also that we may be loyal subjects of Her Gracious Majesty.

In conclusion we pray that the same Holy Spirit that governed the lips of your predecessors, the Apostles, may continue to strengthen you in your divine mission that you may be spared many years of health and happiness to execute God's holy will. In this we join and ask of you God's blessing.

TIMOTHY WALSH.

His Lordship made a happy and suitable reply, thanking the congregation for their kind words of welcome. While in Keene His Lordship was the guest of Mr. Wm. Foley.

Gentlemen, Does Your Bald Head Make You Susceptible to Cold?

Just think of how quickly the lost hair can be replaced. Prof. Dorenwend can do it in five minutes, and do it so perfectly that no falseness is recognizable. Leading citizens everywhere are wearing them and none would be without them. If you are partly or wholly bald, you are making a big mistake if you neglect to get one of these Art Hair Coverings. They are not to be compared to the old fashioned wigs that some would-be wig makers construct. Prof. Dorenwend's skill in this line is unprecedented, and he invites you to call for a practical demonstration at Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Wednesday, Nov. 17th. 6d2w

THE WATER STREET SEWER.

Work on It has Recommenced and is Being Pushed Rapidly Along.

Sewerage operations have been resumed on Water street, and on Monday morning excavation was commenced at the manhole on the corner of McDonel, where work ceased last fall.

A big gang of men has been employed and already the street is opened up as far as London street, and pipe has already been laid and covered for twenty or thirty feet.

Some of the citizens are kicking against the rates charged by the contractors for making the connections with private drains. This morning Mr. D. H. Burritt called at the Town Treasurer's office and claimed that he had been overcharged to the extent of $5 60. The matter will be investigated and the distance measured by Town Engineer Belcher.

CAUGHT IN THE STORM.

The Steamer North Star has a Hard Time Crossing Rice Lake.

The North Star is not tied up for the season yet, but expects to work in a couple of more trips before navigation finally closes.

The little steamer had a rough voyage on Tuesday as she was crossing Rice Lake. A big barge load of wood was being brought to town and the scow was so heavily laden that it was within a couple of inches of the water.

The storm blew up shortly after the trip was commenced. The snow made it very difficult to navigate, as it blotted out all the landmarks, but the high wind was the chief obstacle. Fortunately the barge was alongside the steamer to leeward. If it had been out at the end of a tow line there would have been no use in trying to bring it to port, as the wind having a full sweep at the loaded scow would have speedily beached it in spite of the efforts of the steamer. As it was, the mouth of the river was made with difficulty, as at times the screw of the steamer was out of the water, the rocking of the big barge fairly lifting her into the air at one moment and almost submerging her the next. It was an anxious time for the crew, but they made the trip in safety.

OBITUARY.

The Late J. W. Moore Passes Away at the Age of 86 Years.

Last night, Mr. J. W. Moore, one of the pioneer residents of the county, passed away at his residence, 36 Union street, at the age of 86 years. He had just removed to Peterborough from Lakefield, where he had lived fourteen years. Mr. Moore has been a resident of Peterborough county for about 65 years. He was a native of county Monaghan, Ireland, and came to Canada in 1835, settling on a farm in the 13th concession of the township of Smith. He resided there till fourteen years ago when he took residence in Lakefield. Mrs. Moore preceded her husband to the Better Land about two months ago. Mr. Moore leaves behind him six direct descendants—four sons and two daughters. The sons are: Prof. John Moore, of Minnesota; Jeremiah, of Markham, and T. J. and Henry, of Peterborough. The daughters are Mrs. Wm. Belleghem and Mrs. Wm. Donel, town.

The late Mr. Moore was a Methodist in religion and a Conservative in politics. He was very much respected by the wide circle of friends and acquaintances he formed during his residence of three score and fifteen years in Peterborough county. KILLED IN THE WOODS.

A Ginseng Root Gatherer Meets Death in the Northern Forests.

From away back in the woods north of the village of Norland in Somerville township, comes a report of a mysterious fatality. In that district a man named Lee has resided for a number of years past on a government lot, and has managed to support a large family by cultivating a few acres and spending the winter months in the lumber camps. One of the sons, instructed by an old trapper, developed great skill in the collection of ginseng root and annually disposed of large quantities to Peterborough and Lindsay buyers at a fair price. Last week he announced his intention of going deer hunting, and as usual went off alone, having huts in various localities in which to take refuge at night. Yesterday a young lad arrived in Coboconk and stated that while in chase of an opossum he came on the dead body of a young man, with a bullet wound in the head, and from the description he thought the body was that of young Lee. Dr. Wood, coroner, of Kirkfield, was consulted, but it is unknown yet what action was taken.

In the Y. M. C. A. membership contest the Thistles still lead. At the close of the poll last night the score stood :—

Thistles	70½ points
Shamrocks	45½ "

PERSONAL.

Miss Jennie Archambault, of Lindsay, is visiting with Mrs. T. M. and Mrs. R. W. McFadden, town.

Rev. J. G. Potter, pastor of St. Andrew's church, went to Harvey this morning to conduct the funeral service over the remains of the late George Smith, who was killed by the falling of a tree on Monday.

A message reached town Tuesday evening announcing the serious illness of Mr. C. J. Pusey, at Baptiste, the terminus of I. B. & O. R. R., of which he is president. We understand he is somewhat better to-day.

Rev. R. Macknight, B.A., who for thirteen months has been in charge of the Harvey Mission, is in town for a few days. He goes this week to take charge of the Apsley and Clydesdale Mission till the end of the year, when he will probably return to Harvey.

Mr. W. S. Walker, of Montreal Advocate, has been appointed to a responsible position in the prothonary's office of the city. Mr. Walker is a prominent and active member of the Canadian Order of Foresters in the metropolis and his many friends in the Order will congratulate him upon his promotion.

ORDINATION SERVICE.

In St. Mary's Church, Campbellford, on Wednesday.

The following particulars concerning the recent ordination service in Campbellford is taken from the Herald :

Once more the people of Campbellford have had the opportunity of witnessing the ceremony of the ordination of a priest. On Wednesday, 3rd inst., His Lordship, Rt. Rev. R. A. O'Connor, Bishop of Peterborough, accompanied by Ven. Archdeacon Casey, arrived in Campbellford for the purpose of ordaining Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, son of Mr. Cornelius O'Sullivan, of Seymour.

The ordination took place on Thursday, 4th inst., at 9 a. m., in St. Mary's church. Bishop O'Connor celebrated high mass, assisted by Rev. Father Davis, of Madoc, and Rev. Father Larkin, of Grafton. Rev. Father Casey officiated in his office as Archdeacon, and Rev. Jos. O'Sullivan acted as master of ceremonies. The candidate for ordination was assisted throughout by Rev. Father Collins, of Brighton. The Bishop proceeded with the mass as far as the Tract, when, having taken his seat, the ordination commenced. After the ceremony of ordination and the imposition of hands by the clergy present, the Bishop conjointly with the young priest, continued the celebration of mass.

Father Casey then preached a very eloquent and instructive sermon, taking for his text the words of St. John :—"When he had said this he breathed on them, and he said to them : Receive ye the Holy Ghost. Whose sins you shall forgive they are forgiven them ; and whose sins you shall retain they are retained."—John xx., 22, 23. Father Casey spoke of the responsibilities and the great power which God has given to the priests of His church, and was listened to with marked attention by the large congregation present.

A great number of Father O'Sullivan's friends were present, among whom we noticed his father and mother, also his sister, Sister Antoinette, of St. Joseph's Convent, Peterborough, and his aunt, Mrs. Capt. O'Brien, of Picton. Before leaving the church most of the people went forward to the altar railing to receive the blessing of the young priest. The choir very ably rendered "Leonard's Mass," Miss Murphy, organist of St. Mary's church, Hastings, presiding at the organ, a number of the Hastings choir also being present.

The newly-ordained priest enters on his duties with the well wishes of a large number of admiring friends, as Father O'Sullivan is both well and favourably known in these parts, having lived here since his childhood with the exception of the years he spent in College and in the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He leaves here shortly for Peterborough where he will be stationed.

Bishop O'Connor and Archdeacon Casey returned in the evening to Peterborough.

Rev. Father McCloskey, the resident pastor of this place, deserves great credit for his painstaking care in making all the preparations necessary for the ordination. Credit is also due to the ladies who so beautifully decorated the altar for the occasion.

This is the second ordination which has taken place in Father McCloskey's church within the past year, Rev. Jos. O'Sullivan having been ordained here last December.

HUNTERS STILL RETURNING.

A Peterborough Party Returns with Twelve Fine Deer.

Another Peterborough hunting party broke camp yesterday and returned to town from the north.

The party was composed of Messrs. B. Larcque, John Clancy, Michael O'Brien, Dave Elliott, Frank Burdette, George Cochrane and R. Beaubien—seven all told, and they got 12 deer. They were camped on Bottle Lake and hunted in the district between there and Sucker Lake, arriving on the field a week ago last Monday. The camp was broken up yesterday morning, and it took all days yesterday to transport the tents, etc., to the road, where a team from Leary's was in waiting. There were five canoes in the party and each made three trips before everything was transported. On the first trip ice had to be cut all the way through Bottle creek, and the canoe occupied by Jack Clancy and R. Beaubien was cut through on both sides, but was patched up again with rags and tallow and made to do service.

One incident which will not soon be forgotten by the members of the party was when one of their number was lost, in the person of Mr. Dave Elliott. Fortunately it happened immediately after the heavy snow and Dave's footsteps were traced until he was found, about three hours after his disappearance, much to the relief of his friends.

Alex. Simpson acted as guide to the party.

On the way home Messrs. Alf. Parker and W. J. Wattam were seen at Guide Switzer's cottage.

The Gunsolus party from Peterborough were the only ones from here who have had poor luck.

The Tom Eastwood party of thirteen have had to break camp earlier than was proposed, as they have already secured the limit of deer, each man having two to his credit. Seven were shot by the party on Monday.

The body of Thos. Hendren, of Norwood, has not yet been recovered from the waters of Gull Lake.

BARRACKS IMPROVEMENT.

The Officers Quarters to be Moved at an Expense of $60.0.

The receipts of the Salvation Army week of self denial in Peterborough will not, as heretofore, be sent away to aid in the Army's social schemes, but a dispensation has been obtained from headquarters enabling the local corps to spend the money on improvements which are needed at the Simcoe street barracks.

The officers' quarters at the rear of the barracks are at present in a damp and unsanitary condition and it is proposed to move them to the front of the present building, which will be raised another story at a cost of about $600. The money collected in the town will, therefore, be devoted to this purpose.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

A Kingston lad accused of putting stones on the G. T. T. track was whipped at the police station with the cat-o-nine-tails. His father selected that punishment rather than take him to the police court.

A G. T. R. crew has been taking up the rails on the Toronto and Ottawa branch between Madoc and Bridgewater during the past week. This road will be abandoned for the future.

The Campbellford Herald says :—Last Sunday seemed to have been a special day for the clearance of freight over the Grand Trunk road, as trains were continually on the move over Grand Junction, making an average of one every hour. Fully twenty-five passed this station, going east and west, during the twenty-four hours, the first to arrive having whistled about half past one o'clock in the morning. At noon there were four trains standing at the station. It was a busy day for the relieving station agent.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The Brockville football club has received invitations for exhibition games from the Kingston Granites and Peterborough, but it is not likely they will be accepted, as the members of the team have practically gone out of training. Captain Richardson has resumed his law practice in Westport. From the present outlook, Brockville will have about the same team as last year. Gordon Watson will probably retire and Senkler, the star half-back, will be found with the Osgoode Hall aggregation, as he will attend the law school. 'Varsity II winning the intermediate championship was well received and on behalf of the club F. T. Ritchie, the secretary, sent a telegram of congratulation.—Mail and Empire.

The Chatham football team have served the St. Thomas Journal with notice of a suit for libel for some language that paper used in reporting a game between the clubs of that city and Windsor.

Mr. Andy Scott, of town, played with the Dentals against St. Michael's College in Toronto yesterday. He kicked a penalty goal from the field. The Dentals won by 17-0. The Mail and Empire speaks as follows, concerning Scott's playing : "Play was not long in progress before the veriest novice could tell that the team from the Catholic school had a hard row to hoe. Of course this is the first year they have played Rugby or have had a team entered, and they were pitted against a strong lot, too, therefore it is not surprising that they were defeated by 17 points to 0. But—St. Michael's should have scored. Three times did they get the leather over the D. D. S's. line, and fast following up by their line would have given them points. At the same time, Scott, at full-back for the Dentals, played a remarkably good game, and the way he saved his team when the ball travelled behind his own line brought tears to the eyes of old Rugby players present."

BEYOND THEIR POWERS.

Work That Can Only be Done by Diamond Dyes.

According to instructions issued by makers of crude and soap grease dyes they advise as follows : "Very large or heavy articles, such as tweed cloth, etc., should only be dyed by expert dyers."

It is really refreshing to occasionally find modesty and honesty going hand in hand as far as poor, weak dyes are concerned. Package dyes and other prepared dyes intended for home work that the ordinary housewife cannot use for dyeing a husband's overcoat or suit are not worth using for the colouring of the lightest fabrics or materials. Just think of it ; tweeds and cloths and heavy goods must go to professional or expert dyers, because they cannot be dyed with the common imitation or soap grease dyes !

When the Diamond Dyes are used for home dyeing, tweed and cloth overcoats and men's and boys' suits can be dyed easily and perfectly if the directions on the envelope are followed. Diamond Dyes have the necessary penetrating power to dye the very heaviest materials and to do the work well. Any person, man or woman, can dye any material, light or heavy, perfectly with the Diamond Dyes.

Moral : Use Diamond Dyes for all home dyeing work ; they are the most penetrating, strongest, purest and give the best results.

Shaving brushes before being used must be plunged into boiling water ; all barbers must wash their hands between customers.' How is that for local legislation ?

Had to Stop and Rest Because of Heart Trouble.

Mrs. Eliza Cook, 109 Palmerston Ave., Toronto, says: "Seven years ago I had the grip, followed by inflammation of the lungs. I have been afflicted ever since with heart trouble. To walk anyway fast would make me gasp for breath, and many a time I have had to stop on the street to rest and regain my breath.

I had bad smothering spells at night, and my nerves were much unstrung. Anything annoying or worrying me produced extreme weakness, and would set my heart beating so fast that I thought I was dying. Sometimes I would become so nervous as to tremble like a leaf.

I began taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills early last February, and have been getting better ever since. My nerves are much stronger. I can walk without difficulty, and the palpitation, fluttering of the heart, shortness of breath and nervousness trouble me no more.

I gladly recommend these pills as the best medicine I know of for heart and nerve troubles on account of the great good they have done in my case." 221

MAN OF THE FUTURE.

What His Head Will Look Like—His Mental Powers.

This is the way Dr. R. M. Burke, president of the psychology section of the British Medical Association, says the head of the man of the future will look.

The new race, he says, will use no language because it will need none. The interchange of thought between individuals will be simply a mental effort, on the part of each unaccompanied by any physical manifestation whatever. As one person involves his idea the other will instantly grasp it by means of a subtle telepathy, which even now is the gift in a more or less modified form of many people who are only vaguely conscious of their strange power, and, in many instances, too timid and fearful of ridicule to publicly confess it or attempt to develop it. With future generations this gift will become more and more frequent in individuals and of greater and greater power, until the silent interchange of thought is at last as common as is now speech and writing. Nor will his powers stop even there. He not only will be able to exchange thoughts with people thousands of leagues away, but will be able to see them as distinctly as though they were physically present and even see if he chooses what is passing anywhere in the world. There will be an end to eyes and ears, the gross physical channels through which sensations now must pass to the mind. They will all go, for they will be all useless—as useless as the mechanism of the voice, by which sensations and ideas are now conveyed from the mind outward. There may be some scar or meaningless excrescence where these organs once were, just as now they are physiological suggestions of man's ape origin—humiliating reminders of the brute ancestry from which the godlike being was evolved. But that will be all, and even this will melt away and disappear at last.

Sometimes it seems to weary woman that she must certainly give up. The simplest and easiest work becomes an almost insurmountable task. Nervousness, sleeplessness and pain harrass her and life seems hardly worth the living.

Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription was made for her. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery was made for her. The former is for ills distinctly feminine, the other for her general system. Together they supply a scientific and successful course of treatment. The "Favourite Prescription" restores healthy, regular action to the organs distinctly feminine. It forces out all impurities, strengthens the tissues, allays inflammation. The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes appetite, helps digestion, promotes assimilation, fills out the hollows in cheeks and neck with good solid flesh and brings back the gladsome glow of girlhood. Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, illustrated.

GETTING READY FOR WORK.

All the Parties to the Canadian, British and American Sealing Conference in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Sir Julian Pauncefote and Gen. Foster conferred today as to arrangements for the meeting of British, Canadian and American representatives relative to Behring Sea. A general understanding was reached that the arrival today of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, and party, would permit the meeting to open on Thursday, as to-morrow is likely to be given to an exchange of views between the Canadians and British. The British Ambassador will accompany the Premier to the White House to-morrow morning and introduce him to the President.

It is now definitely settled that the coming meeting will take a much broader scope than was first anticipated. At the outset there will be a comparison of notes between the seal experts, Mr. Hamlin for the United States, Prof. Thompson for Great Britain and Prof. Macoun for Canada. The Canadian Premier and Sir Louis Davies, Sir Julian Pauncefote and General Foster will be present in an unofficial capacity, ready to take up the larger phases of the question when the seal experts have concluded their exchange of technical information. It is said that the relations existing between Great Britain and Canada make it essential that all questions of an Imperial character should be concluded by the direct representatives of the Imperial Government. At the same time the presence of the Canadian Premier is expected to assist in reaching speedy conclusions, without the usual delays of acting through the British Foreign Office. The formal execution of these conclusions would devolve entirely on the Imperial authorities in London and their representative here, the British Ambassador.

"SOMEBODY SHOOT ME!"

Was Harry Elliott's Exclamation When He Realized That He Had Shot His Brother.

Bayfield, Ont., Nov. 9.—At the Elliott shooting inquest, held here before the coroner, Dr. Stanbury, at 1 o'clock this afternoon, the jury, after being sworn, went to the hotel and viewed the body. At 4 o'clock they again assembled in the Town Hall, and on receipt of a telegram from the County Crown Attorney adjourned until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

The shooting, which took place in the street in front of the Hotel Albion, was witnessed by the mother and sister of the principals, and also by Albert Woods and Lewis Dumart. The latter has gone out of town. All parties interested in the affair are very reticent.

A Few Details.

Goderich, Nov. 9.—So far but meagre details of the tragedy at Bayfield, ten miles south of this place, have reached here. It appears that the brothers Elliott, while under the influence of liquor, got into an altercation, which finally resulted in blows, and in the scuffle which ensued outside of the hotel Harvey, the younger brother, drew a revolver and shot his brother in the region of the heart, killing him almost instantly. So soon as he realized what he had done, he said: "My God, I have shot my brother; somebody shoot me." He then endeavored to get the pistol, which he had dropped in the excitement, but the weapon had been seized by his mother, who hid it from her son. Harvey was at once arrested by Constable Ferguson.

THE YUKON

To Be Reached by the Railway, Steamers and Barges of a Seattle Co.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9.—A formidable competitor for Yukon traffic is to be launched next spring. It will be equipped with both rail and steamer lines, covering the most practicable routes to the Yukon gold basin. The Yukon Company, by its president, Andrew F. Burleigh, has let a contract for 12 modern river steamers, 24 barges and 2 tow boats, to the shipbuilding firm of Moran Bros. of this city. The contract involves an expenditure of nearly $1,000,000. The boats are to be delivered at St. Michael for use immediately after the opening of navigation on the Yukon next spring. The company will not confine its operations to conducting a line of steamers between Seattle and the Klondike by way of St. Michael, but will build a railroad across the Chilkoot Pass, and over the Dalton trail to Five Fingers, on the Yukon, there connecting with a line of five steamers to the Alaskan gold fields. The capital stock of the Yukon Company is $10,000,000.

SPAIN DOESN'T WANT WAR.

Would Regard It as a Great Misfortune to be Given Occasion to Declare It.

Madrid, Nov. 9.—In response to a cable message from a non-official American source, Senor Sagasta, the Premier, has sent the following cabled despatch through Senor Dupuy de Lome, the Spanish Minister at Washington:

So far from seeking a pretext to declare war against the United States, Spain would regard it as a great misfortune to be given the occasion for such an unhappy resolution. Animated as she is by the most amicable sentiments toward the great republic, Spain hopes of America that the latter will do its utmost to fortify sentiments of friendship for the sake and welfare of both countries, while at the same time respecting the rights of Spain.

Situation Grave in Spain.

London, Nov. 10.—The Rome correspondent of The Daily Chronicle says: The Papal Nuncio at Madrid has been recalled to Rome by the Vatican and instructed to exhort the clergy and people of Spain to do their utmost to support the present dynasty. News has reached the Vatican that the situation in Spain is extremely grave. Carlist risings are imminent in the principal towns of Spain, and the Queen-Regent is continually receiving menacing letters from Carlists. I understand that Spain's situation is the subject of negotiations between the European Cabinets.

SLOAN'S INDIAN TONIC

THE ONLY PERMANENT CURE FOR INDIGESTION.

TRADE MARK.

This is to certify that I, James Ross, Tollgate Keeper, of the Town of Woodstock, Ont., have been a sufferer from indigestion and a very weak stomach for a number of years, and have tried a great many medicines of different kinds, but could only obtain temporary relief for a short time, but after using one bottle of Sloan's Indian Tonic I could perceive a great difference. My indigestion was better and my stomach was much stronger than before, and I found I had gained several pounds in flesh, where I was weak and thin in flesh before. I think I used nine or ten bottles in all, and I am now a healthy man, but still I do not want to be without the medicine in the house, and I procure one or two bottles every year, and I can truthfully recommend Sloan's Indian Tonic to others suffering from the same complaint.

Price $1 or 6 for $5.00. All Dealers or Address

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Sufferer Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So Says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly, it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his lives. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

The physical existence of mankind is something like an account in a ledger. Health on one side—disease on the other. All the pure air good food, rational exercise and sound sleep go on one side of the account. It sums up health and strength. On the other side, are bad air, poor food, overwork and worry. That foots up weakness and disease.

When your appetite or sleep is disturbed; when the stomach and liver are not working properly, or the bowels are not in regular condition; you are losing vitality and strength; figures are going down on the wrong side of the ledger. Unless this is stopped and the other side of the account is built up, you'll soon be a physical bankrupt.

The most profitable account a sick man can open in his Ledger of Life is with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a wonderful and scientific tonic which imparts a direct and healthy stimulus to the entire nutritive organism. It strengthens the digestive funds and the liver, and enables the blood-making organs to produce pure, red, highly vitalized blood.

It is not a mere temporary exhilarator. It feeds the constitution with genuine, permanent power. It writes big, round sums on the health side of the account, and wipes out the figures of weakness and disease. It annihilates the vital forces and builds up healthy flesh, muscular energy and nerve-force.

For nearly 30 years Dr. Pierce has been chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. His formulas are everywhere recognized as the most effective remedies in the world. His "Pleasant Pellets" are the most perfect and scientific cure for constipation ever invented. They are not violent in their action, but perfectly sure, and at the same time comfortable. Their great reputation has called out a score of imitations, which druggists sometimes try to substitute, but there is nothing "just as good."

COUNT SVEN LAGERBERG.

A Famous Swedish Soldier Who Has an Amusing Nickname.

One of the most conspicuous figures at King Oscar's jubilee is Count Sven Lagerberg, the junior commanding general of the Swedish army. By virtue of his position he is prominent in all the great celebrations, for he is really in active command of the army. The senior commanding general is Count Bjorstierna, but as he is 92 years old and incapacitated from active duty he will not be able to appear prominently. General Lagerberg is a great favorite in Sweden, both among the people at large and in the army. He enjoys the fullest confidence of the king. He was born in 1822 and comes from a distinguished military family. Among his other honors he has held every important military office in the king's gift. He is the military governor of Stockholm, chief of King Oscar's military staff and president of the royal court war tribunal. He became a general in 1889. Notwithstanding his high position and dignified manner he is popularly known among the Swedish people as "Sven in h—." The origin of the nickname throws amusing light on his character. While the general was a colonel he had in his regiment a young relative holding the rank of a captain. During a fierce manœuvre the young captain approached the colonel and in a familiar manner said: "Well, Sven, what shall we do about this?" referring to some regimental order. The colonel assumed his most dignified manner and roared out: "Sven in h—. Allow me to remind you, sir, that I am the colonel of the regiment, sir, and that no relatives, sir, are recognized in the regiment, sir." The story came out and ever since then the nickname has stuck to him.

COUNT SVEN LAGERBERG.

The Toposcope.

In the loftiest tower in the city of Vienna there is a novel instrument, known as the toposcope, constantly attended day and night, for the purpose of locating fires, says The New York Sun. It consists of a good telescope, which is solidly attached to an arrangement of levers, while graduated sections of a circle are arranged horizontally and vertically in such a way that the moving of the telescope sideways, or up or down, results in a change of position of the hands attached to the levers, in reference to the graduated scales.

Thus, the stability of the apparatus being assured by the firmness of the fastening, whenever the telescope is focused upon the same object, the hands will point to the same figures on the horizontal and on the vertical sextant; and, since an index of the whole city has been made, it is but a matter of a few seconds, when a glare is discovered at night, to direct upon the spot the toposcope on the side, to read off the numbers, to look upon the object, and to telegraph to the central station the details observed. Local conditions are, of course, necessary for the successful operation of such an apparatus, but in this case they are said to be almost perfect. The tower is over five hundred feet high, and an uninterrupted view of the great area of the city is thus possible to the watchman. The atmospheric conditions are also favorable.

TRAINED BEDBUGS.

Crowds Attracted by a Novel Sight in the French Capital.

An ordinary bedbug is not an insect that commands admiration on account of its surprising intelligence, and it is hard to believe that two of the species are attracting wondering crowds to see them go through a set of performances. But this is actually going on in Paris.

The owner of the two educated bugs is Victor Shumann, who calls himself "The Insect Tamer of Berlin." Shumann has taught the two bedbugs with which he is now amusing the Parisians to go through a performance in which a model of the great Nasmyth hammer at the works of Krupp, at Essen in Germany, is the centerpiece.

Shumann constructed this model only after many months of hard work, and in itself it is a great curiosity. The ponderous hammer of which it is a copy is of the pattern familiar to those who have visited works in which big machinery is made. The mass of iron that constitutes the striking part is moved up and down a framework above the anvil by means of a lever, which is so nicely balanced that the operator of the hammer can crack a hickory nut or crush masses of white hot metal with equal facility. The tiny model of this ponderous hammer Shumann constructed of solid gold, as far as the hammer and anvil are concerned, and of silver as to the iron work, the chain and gearing of that dearest of metals, platinum.

The hammer which Shumann took as a model weighs 400,000 pounds. The model weighs just a little more than half an ounce, but in spite of its microscopical size every portion of the machinery is as workable as in the enormous original. The frame work is so fine a reconstruction that it resembles the hair spring of a tiny watch, and the platinum wires of which the chains are made are of such thinness that they can only be seen with the aid of a microscope.

The operations of the bugs are surveyed through a number of magnifying glasses to which the eyes of the patrons of the queer little show are applied. At the word of command from the insect tamer the bugs issue solemnly from a little cozy apartment built for them under the framework of the hammer, and while one encircles with his fore feet the lever which raises and lowers the hammer, the other proceeds to place a tiny bar of metal on the anvil. At a second signal from Shumann, the bug at the lever raises the hammer to the top of the frame, and brings it crashing down on the golden anvil. At least the spectators can imagine they hear the crash, for through the magnifying glasses the tiny machine seems to be of enormous proportions, while the bugs are enlarged until they become frightful looking monsters.

TRIP-HAMMER OPERATED BY TRAINED BUGS.

The performing bugs and their golden hammer are becoming the talk of Paris, and the exhibit is pronounced one of the most remarkable that even that city of surprising shows has seen for some time. Shumann has become so enthusiastic over the success of his idea that he has promised the Parisians to outdo their wildest fancies in the training of his bugs, by making them so skillful that they will not only go through the mechanical work of raising and lowering the hammer, but will actually fashion the tiny section of wire on the anvil into geometrical figures.

Shumann claims that the bed bug is a much-abused insect. "I have trained many insects," he said, in a recent interview, "but for choice give me the despised and persecuted bed bug. I admit that a dead bed bug is not the most prepossessing of insects, but a live one properly treated is something to admire. Those bugs of mine will come at my call, and, as you see, will obey my commands instantly when ordered to work the hammer. I claim that they are possessed of unusual intelligence and have finer instincts than even the ant, which is usually considered the cleverest inhabitant of the insect world. I began the training of the bugs by placing their feet in position, and then moving the machinery or drawing the tiny bar of iron in the right direction. The bugs, of course, were for escaping at first, but they soon learned that no harm came to them by keeping where they were, and after a time the motion I applied came to be mechanical to them, and I had only to place the feet of one on the lever and place the other in the vicinity of the bar of iron to cause them both to go through the performance spontaneously. It was an easy matter after that to train them to come at the sound of my voice and go through the desired actions. I am quite attached to the insects and would not part with them for any money."

Best Button Bag.

The simplest and most convenient button bag I have ever seen was made from two circular pieces of goods of prettily contrasting colors, sewed together around the edges. Then a number of small brass rings were caught to the edge at equal distances and a piece of ribbon or tape run through these to gather and hang the bag by. When hung, the bag is closed, and the weight of the buttons keeps it in shape, and when a button is wanted, one has only to lay it upon the lap when, behold, it opens wide and the buttons may be looked over without removing them. The ribbon or tape should be long enough to admit of the bag opening flat when in the lap.

To Stop Squeaking Boots.

To bore a hole half way through the sole of a shoe is said to prevent its squeaking. The reason assigned for the cure is that the air between the layers of leather is released by the boring.

RICHER THAN KLONDIKE.

Is the Strike Made by J. D. Ellis, of Niagara Falls—Costs Less and Gives Greater Returns Than Does Gold Mining on the Yukon.

Niagara Falls, Ont. Nov. 8—James D. Ellis, of this place, is convinced that he has made a richer strike than has any owner or prospector in the Klondike gold region. He is confident that the returns for his investment are better than can be got on the Yukon and that the lead will never play out. And thousands of persons on this continent heartily agree with him. Here is his story: "I have, for six years, suffered intensely from diabetes. I felt that I could hardly get along, but could get no relief. In despair I bought a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and was amazed at the benefit it gave. I have used three boxes, and am perfectly cured."

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn., says: "Shiloh's Vitaliser 'saved my life.' I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For Dyspepsia, Liver and Kidney trouble it excels. Price 75 cts.

One Laxa-Liver Pills every night for thirty days marked a complete cure of biliousness and constipation. That is—just 25 cents to be cured.

Kissing the Book.

When the practice of kissing the book began is says The Law Journal, is undetermined. It has been stated that this form was first prescribed as part of the ceremony of taking the oaths of allegiance and supremacy. It is interesting and may be significant to note that Shakespeare only once alludes to the practice of kissing the book, and on that occasion turns it into ridicule. Wherever the origin of the practice, there can be no doubt that kissing the book was the ceremony that usually accompanied the taking of an oath in an English court of justice in the seventeenth century.

But in 1657 there occurred a case which is of some importance. It appears that on a jury trial Dr. Owen, vice-chancellor of Oxford University, being called as a witness, refused to be sworn in the usual way, by laying his right hand on the book and afterward kissing it, but he caused the book to be held open before him and he raised his right hand. The jury, doubting what credit they ought to give to his oath, the matter was referred to the Chief Justice, who ruled that Dr. Owen had taken as good an oath as any other witness." And then the Chief Justice added an observation which in "Cowpers' Reports" in "Macnally on Evidence," and elsewhere, is misquoted as follows: "If I were to be sworn I would kiss the book." Now that is not at all what the Chief Justice said. The words in Sherfin's report are these: "Il dit si il fait destre Jure il voilt deponer sa main dexter sur le liver mesme." Thus the Chief Justice says not one word about kissing the book.

New Meat Preserving Method.

Two Frenchmen, Revel and Campagne, have patented a novel process of preserving meat, doing entirely away with smoking and pickling. It consists in merely dipping the fresh meat into a strong solution of potassium iodide for 10 minutes, and then hanging up to dry. For a number of days the meat remains perfectly fresh, and after that it begins to dry, forming a hard crust, while the inner portions remain fresh indefinitely, so it is claimed.

HAVE YOU BACKACHE?

If you have, you don't need to suffer with it another day. Get Dr. Chase's Kidney Pills and they will give you relief as promptly and effectually as they did MR. D C. SIMMONS, of Maybee, Ont. He says his kidneys and back were so bad he was unable to work or sleep. His urine had a brick dust deposit, and he had to get up 3 or 4 times in the night to pass water. He has only taken half a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the back pain has gone, he sleeps well, and feels well enough to do any kind of work.

Can't You sleep?

Sleeplessness is one of the most frequent symptoms of heart and nerve troubles. It affects all classes and all ages. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills restore the nerves to healthy action and regulate the heart. Mr. Miles Boone, Frederickton, N.B., tells how they work. "I could never rest well, and often woke up with a start, and then sleep left me for the night. These pills gave me almost immediate relief, giving me healthful, refreshing sleep, and I am now strong and well."

Karl's Clover Root.

The great Blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the Complexion and cures constipation, 25 cts., 50 cts., $1.00. Sold by Jno. Nugent, 399 George street.

A Dinner Pill.

Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open secretions and convert the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

The Life-giving Pines.

The breath of the pines is the breath of life to the consumptive. Norway Pine Syrup contains the pine virtue, and cures coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, hoarseness and all throat and lung troubles.

MUST DIE TO-MORROW.
